FINLEY MCGREW WINS AD CONTEST

Corona Typewriter Is Given To Sophomore Who Secures Most Ads

CONTEST A SUCCESS

Finley McGrew, sophomore, won the Corona typewriter by securing seventy-five dollars worth of advertisements for the Register. The campaign lasted for three weeks ending Friday, at three. The typewriter will be presented at the next Mass Meeting.

One hundred and fifty dollars worth of advertisements were brought in. The campaign was boosted by many individuals and by the Speakers Bureau.

The contest was so close and exciting that many more advertisements are still expected to come in. The school used such an excellent system that the South side Times, Port Wayne, Indiana, wrote for particulars. They desired to know what methods were used to secure the typewriter and how the contest was carried through, for they wished to have the same contest in their school.

STUDENTS PETITION FOR NEW ELECTIVE

Study of Slide Rule Added To Mathematic Course of School

"We, the undersigned, are interested in having a class formed to take up the study of The Slide Rule. This subject may be elective in the Mathematics course of Omaha Central High School."

Such was the petition signed by twenty-two people which was presented to Mr. Woolery.

The request was granted, and a meeting was held Tuesday, October 9. At this meeting, it was decided that Slide Rules should be purchased from the Omaha Blue Print Company. There will be a discount of 15% on the rules, with text books included free of charge. However, if one dollar rules are bought, text books will be forty cents extra.

George H. Lorenz, presiding chairman, read a reply from a Chicago company acknowledging his letter asking for information regarding the Rules. A catalogue was sent containing lists of the different kinds of slide rules and the prices. The prices ranged from $1 to $8. This company offered a discount of 20%.

Two suggestions were made: one, that each pupil should designate what kind of rule he wished, and another, that pupils should bring their money Friday to the meeting of the Mathematics Club of which this class is a part.

PRINCIPAL MASTERS ADDRESSES SENIORS

"Personality is a matter of achievement," said Principal Masters in his address to the January seniors, Wednesday morning. "Cultured man is, also then, a matter of achievement," he continued.

Mr. Masters spoke of the development of mankind and civilization, pointing out the rapid progress of material things. "However," he said, "good-will has not been doubled and therein is the challenge to you."

The fact that each one must work to contribute something to the good will of the world was emphasized. "If our civilization is to exist, we must make those contributions." Mr. Masters pointed out the fact that people use their minds to justify their own selfish desires and not to reason the matter out.

"Growth and development," spoke Principal Masters, "are the big things in this world. Nine tenths of each person's education is probably gathered outside of school, but that other tenth is of momentous importance."

FIFTEEN BOYS FORM CENTRAL DRUM CORPS

Fifteen boys met Friday night after school to form a Drum corps under Mr. Dudley, Omaha drum teacher. More members are desired. Meetings will be held Tuesdays after school until further notice.

JANUARY "O-BOOK" OFFICERS

OTIS PEDERSON

RALPHA DAVIS

JANUARY "O-BOOK" OFFICERS Elected; Staff Appointed

Ralph Davis is Chosen Editor of the January "O-Book" and Otis Pedersen is Elected Business Manager by the January Senior Class

AN EFFICIENT STAFF IS APPOINTED

Ralph Davis was elected editor of the "O-Book," and Otis Pedersen, business manager, at a recent January class meeting. Ralph is very efficient in this line for she is one of the managing editors of the Register and is the reporter for the January class. Ralph has been a member of both the Student Club and the Lininger Travel Club.

Otis Pedersen was a prominent member of the Engineer Club last year. Upon him as business manager, rests the duty of overseeing the vast amount of business connected with the publishing of a book.

Ralph, as editor, has completed the list of "O-Book" appointments, which are as follows:

Art—Lydia Read, chairman; Len Evans. Whiteups—Frances Wilson, chairman; Ruth Crockett, Paul Mitchell.

Lydia Read has done artistic work in connection with the last June Annual—Frances Wilson is a member of the make up class, and Grace Rosenstein is on the Student Club cabinet.

In addition to the committees of last year, the feature committee and the typists have been added. Various new plans are being worked out and Ralph announces that the work has already begun.

FORMER CENTRALITE WINS NEW HONORS

Oscar Schlaikjer is Placed on Dean's List at Harvard

Oscar Schlaikjer, '22, a student at Harvard, has won a $400 scholarship since he has been there and has been placed on the Dean's list, which gives him more freedom in choosing his subjects.

While he attended Central he took an active part in school activities. In 1921 he was managing editor of the Register, and in 1922 he was its business manager. He was also a member of the Speaker's Bureau and Student Control. His parents firmly believe that it is due to his thorough preparation at Central High that he has been able to make such a good showing at Harvard.

Besides taking part in school activities and winning scholarships, he has time to work his way through school. He has made his own way since he was fifteen, working all the time he attended Central. He is a telegraph operator.

MR. CHATELAIN FORMS A SUPPORTING SQUAD

A debate squad was organized by Coach Chatelain, at a meeting last Friday after school in Room 440 for the purpose of supporting both the inter-class debate work and the regular debates of the season. Mr. Chatelain plans to select the debate team from this squad if it proves a success.

The squad plans to study the principles of debate and to hold practice debates within the class. The next meeting will be on Friday in Room 440. The meetings will be maintained on parliamentary order.

Mr. Chatelain plans to organize a Freshman squad to study the principles of debate and desires all that are interested to consult him in Room 440.

FINE ARTS LECTURE CONFLICTS WITH TEA

Student Club Cabinet Issues Announcement Postponing Faculty Tea

The postponement of the Faculty Tea until Thursday, October 24, on account of the interference of the first Fine Arts lecture of the year, which over half of the teachers attend, was agreed upon by the members of the Student Club Cabinet at the last meeting.

The first Vocational Mass meeting, to be held in the auditorium, is planned for the latter part of October. The speaker for the meeting has not been obtained as yet, but the talk will probably be on Vocations in general. Elizabeth Paffenrath is in charge of this committee.

The members were urged to buy tickets and send their fathers to the coming Father and Son Banquet. The Student Club is backing this move and desires all Central's girls to send their fathers to the Banquet.

There will be no Student Club meeting next Thursday, and no Cabinet meeting the Thursday after, the Faculty Tea taking its place. Girls are required to sign up with Miss Parker before asking teachers to the Faculty Tea.

AK-SAR-BEN SENDS PAYMENT TO BAND

A letter written by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben was received by Mr. Masters several days ago, with a check for $100 enclosed, expressing their appreciation of the band for having played in two Ak-Sar-Ben parades. The check has been duly deposited and the money will be used to pay the expenses of the members of the band on a trip with the football team, probably to Lincoln.

The two parades that the boys assisted in were the military parade and the historical parade.

THE OMAHA MUSICAL CLUB OPENS SEASON

Omaha Tuesday Musical Club Announces Opportunity For Membership

PRICES REASONABLE

Omaha's Tuesday Musical Club is announcing the opportunity for membership in the winter concert season. The greatest artists are to appear before music lovers at an exceptionally low price, a price allowing the poorest to revel in the ecstasy of perfect musical harmony.

The Musical Club first announces Sigrid Onegin, contralto, the Swedish prima donna, of whom it is said, "She came, she sang, she conquered." Her repertoire includes all of the great contralto and mezzo-soprano roles of the song literature of the world—her vocal range extends three octaves. Madame Onegin sings November 4, at the Brandeis Theatre.

Maier and Pattison, pianists, and Telmanyi, violinist, appear November 22, at the Brandeis Theatre; the Ukrainian National Chorus at the same theatre, December 29. The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will be presented February 6, at the Omaha Auditorium. March 6, Casals, cellist, and Thibaud, violinist, play at the Brandeis Theatre.

The following are the different modes of membership, the form desired to be turned in with check, full name, and address, to Mrs. Forrest Richardson, treasurer, 5215 Webster street:

Active memberships at $7.50, limited to 600; Balcony memberships at $5.00, limited to 250; Gallery memberships at $2.00, limited to 300. Student memberships at $3.00, limited to 25; Student membership certificates have been mailed to music teachers from whom their pupils may secure them, and by whom they must be signed. This form of membership is provided exclusively for those who study music.

Questions regarding any of the above arrangements will be gladly answered if Mrs. Walter Preston, Blackstone Hotel, Ha 0945, is called. Those of Central's faculty may simplify matters by placing requests for membership in the box of Miss May Somers.

BLUFFS HIGH SCHOOL TENDERS AN APOLOGY

Abraham Lincoln High School Apologizes For Action of Football Player

The Abraham Lincoln High School sends a letter, of apology to Mr. Masters in regard to an unpleasant incident which occurred in the Abraham Lincoln Central football game last week. The letter follows:

Principal J. G. Masters, Central High School, Omaha, Nebraska. Dear sir:

In behalf of the Abraham Lincoln High School we wish to express to you and the members of the Central High School football team our sincere regret for the unfortunate incident that occurred in the second half of the game Saturday. The Abraham Lincoln High School team was sent out on the field to play the best football that was in it, with fair play and good sportsmanship. We are sorry, therefore, that our Captain was sent out of the game for striking an opponent. We want you to realize that this is not the spirit of our team and does not meet with the approval of the team and of the school.

Sincerely yours, (Signed) J. Malcolm Patrick, Captain, Ivo Niggemyer, Coach, G. W. Kirn, Principal.

Columbus Day Commemorated

The flag was raised, Friday morning, in commemoration of the day, October 12, 1492, when Columbus first sighted land off the coast of America. Miss Field, chairman of the Patriotic and Flag Committee, had charge of the flag on this particular occasion.

FATHERS BANQUET TO BE SPONSORED BY CENTRAL HIGH

Fathers of All Students and Boys of Central Banquetted

GIRLS ARE BARRED

Parent-Teachers' Association Backing Entertainment For Father's Night

"One of the biggest and finest things ever put on at Central is the banquet for the fathers of the students which will be held in Central High School at 6:15, Friday evening, Oct. 26," enthusiastically exclaimed Miss Burns, chairman of the publicity committee.

"It is a wonderful opportunity for the fathers of both girls and boys to meet each other, and for the sons to become acquainted with the fathers of their fellow students. I find that everyone is very enthusiastic about the whole affair."

Although all girls are barred from the feast, their fathers may come and get acquainted with everyone, as the banquet will be fathers' night—not for fathers and sons alone, but for all fathers. Every member of the Board of Education will be present. Each boy and girl in Central is desirous of buying his or her father a ticket.

The menu, which will be unusually enticing to hungry men, will be followed by an interesting talk by Dr. Frank G. Smith.

The tickets are on sale for fifty cents apiece and are being sold in Room 111 before and after school. The sale will close Monday, Oct. 22. First come, first served, will indeed apply.

Mr. E. G. Solomon is president, Mrs. Pearl McGrew Harris, vice-president, and C. V. Nelson, treasurer of the Parent-Teachers' Association. The executive and program committee consists of Mr. J. G. Masters, Mrs. Ira W. Porter, Miss Belle Ryan, Mrs. Howard Saxton, and Mrs. Geo. D. Tunnickiff.

SPANISH CLUB GIVES PLAY AND PROGRAM

The Spanish Club presented an interesting program last Friday in Room 215. The main feature of the program was a play in Spanish, followed by a Spanish dance. Senor Reyna also gave a talk on his trip to Cuba this summer.

The play portrayed a newly married Spanish couple with their troubles and quarrels. Some Spaniards might have had a hard time to understand the dialect though it was fairly intelligible to the audience of Spanish students. Romaine Dickenson and Robert Sklenicka made the married couple, while Willela Payne took the part of a relative. Elna Norre was enthusiastically received in her character as a Spanish dancer, with the regular Spanish costume. Senor Reyna's trip formed a most interesting topic of discussion.

"I always hate to return to Cuba because conditions there are so changed," he said in the course of his talk. "The government there is very corrupt. The President of that republic is the crookedest man I ever knew. Since the government pays his expenses he incurred a bill of $40,000 in one month for flowers alone. His salary is only about $35,000 a year. The representatives who are paid $500 a month make several times that amount in bribes from wealthy manufacturers."

School teachers are very poorly paid in Cuba. Mr. Reyna's sister who has taught for twenty years there has been recently made principal with a salary of only $100 a month. This was the first regular meeting of the Spanish Club this year. Over forty members, both old and new were present. The president, Willela Payne, outlined the plans for the year and introduced the other officers. The club has decided to present a program every meeting with probably a short Spanish play.

Teachers View Pageant

The Misses Bertha and Matilda Becker, graduates of Grand Island High School, and Miss Linda Ewoldt, also of Grand Island, saw the pageant rehearsal Monday, October 8. They were in Omaha for the Ak-Sar-Ben Week.

According to Miss Ewoldt, Grand Island never produced anything like the pageant.

SCHOOL LEADERSHIP

There are only two kinds of students—those who do things and those who watch them being done. These two types of people are easily distinguishable in Central as they are elsewhere, but Central is made what it is not by those who participate, but by the spectators, for there are so few who endeavor to accomplish anything in school activities that they can accomplish nothing through themselves, but through those who look on. Those who go to football games and to mass meetings are doing something for the school, but they are not individually of any importance.

How about you? How much do you really count for in the school. Are you satisfied that you are denying yourself the opportunity of making what ever ability you have count? What you can do is what the school needs, and what you need. It is your duty to develop yourself in whatever line you have a predilection for. You may think that you have not the time—but if your day is filled with study and social affairs, there is something missing in your school life.

There may be something and there probably is something in the school with which you are dissatisfied. What are you going to do about it? If you have the right sort of spirit, you will set out to repair it in the only way possible—by acquiring the power to handle the situation. Power of this sort comes only through participation in activities, otherwise, as a spectator, you are helpless. Does it seem to you perfectly right and proper that you should be powerless to do anything, powerless to make yourself and that power which you undoubtedly have felt. Why not be one of those who lead? It is your choice—no one's else.

THE HONOR OF THE SCHOOL

During the last few years, books have been steadily disappearing from the library. Calls were made upon the students and it was pointed out how dishonest it was to take books from the library. All to no avail. Lockers were searched and books were found, but still the books continued to vanish. As last resort, guards have been posted at the doors of the library and every student must show that the books he takes from the library have been properly charged.

Now, what do you think of this proceeding? How would it look to an outsider who came to Central? Is it not admirable that a library should have to be watched like a collection of jewels? Does it not rebound to the honor of your school that the students should be watched like so many thieves? It is very probable of course, that those who take books from the library do not do so with the idea of stealing them, but merely of using them at their leisure. Nevertheless it is dishonest and it is a reflection upon you as a part of the school. Whatever may be said about the character of students—has it ever been said that they are without honor, that they cannot be trusted? Yet do you realize that, since this action has been necessary, that it can be said that the students of Central are not honorable. That they are no better than thieves that they must be watched at every moment lest they take advantage of the trust confided in them. Of course, if you are willing that this should be said—the fact that guards are necessary should be of no concern to you. It is true that it is annoying both to the guards and to you, but that is unimportant. It is the reflection upon the spirit of your school that you should resent. You can prevent the necessity for guards. Why not do it? The right spirit toward such conduct is the solution. It is in your hands.

Did you notice the "class" in the way the school was posted Monday morning?

In case of a future war, it is said that government experts desire to engage the services of some of Dr. Senter's chemistry students, as the gases coming from the laboratory would be enough to discourage any army.

Among the needed inventions of the world, it appears that a test indicator has been forgotten. Such an instrument to foretell the days on which a teacher intended to give a test might be very beneficial to our scholastic standing.

The sides have now been lined up on the question of final examinations. Affirmative, by those who give them. Negative by those who have to take them.

When teachers agree: it's a test.

No one has yet denied that bright chirp of Shakespeare's "Who steals my purse steals trash."

FREE SPEECH

To the Editor:
 It is disgusting to see students of high school age throwing paper wads and dropping pennies in a study hall. It might seem interesting to the student who practices this sort of thing, but it greatly disturbs the student who really wants to study. Furthermore, such a kindergartner will never make his grades. Others in the study hall strive for better grades and will not be able to attain them because of a few High school students are, or ought to be big enough to take care of themselves and to distinguish between the right and wrong side of the question.

NIECE OF AUTHORESS HAS UNIQUE HOBBIES

"My hobby? Well, I collect anything from teddy-bears to dogs," said Grace Adams with a characteristic grin when she was asked this question.

Grace is a senior this year, "chasing an elusive education" through Central with the University of California as her goal. She attended Walnut Hill grade school. She is prominent in Student Club work.

"I have at home a teddy-bear with illuminated eyes," she continued. "My dog has a corkscrew tail from sitting on it so much.

"Advertising forms a part of my collection. Some of the advertising I use in my art, and the rest I use for suggestions in my own drawing. Then sometimes I get a craze for movie stars and I simply must save their pictures," she continued.

Grace is proud to claim Kate Douglas Wiggin as an aunt, and has quite a collection of her autographed works. To this collection is added all her father's works and such articles as she herself is fond of writing. All the good stories, poetry, and books which Grace gets her fingers on find their way into the ranks.

"Languages are another of my hobbies." To the question how many languages she spoke, she replied, "I speak three languages: French, English, and slang, and can write one Latin. I am acquainted with the Greek alphabet, one Greek exclamation, one Spanish swear word, and one rule for Italian pronunciation." "But friends are what I like to collect best of all," Grace concluded.

STUDENTS'REORGANIZE ENGINEERING SOCIETY

A forward looking group of students met in Room 120 a week ago last Friday to reorganize the Engineering Society. This society will be, at some future time, one of the most influential groups in the school, if we can persuade the fellows interested in any of the engineering professions or architecture to come to the meetings and become interested enough to investigate what the club will have to offer. A tentative program for the coming year is a series of banquets, several excursions and the division of the club into the various sections. Last year the club started the radio classes, under Mr. Thompson's sponsorship, and the radio station 9XAR. The Engineering Society will endeavor to finish the financing of the station this year.

SHELF AND STAGE

Lady into Fox

After reading this remarkable little book by David Garnett, I happened to discover, pasted inside the front cover a clipping from a review by H. G. Wells, containing some highly exclamatory remarks, among them being something to the effect that the book was inevitable. Whereupon, immediately turning back through the story I endeavored to find something to prove the statement, believing that I had missed a great deal, only in the end to be truly puzzled.

The book is a fantastic tale of a husband, who, when his wife was turned into a fox before his very eyes, still continued to regard her as his worthy spouse and treated her as such. The story is told rather well, in a style interesting and highly satirical. It is unquestionably an unusual and clever piece of fiction. A book well worth reading, one would agree, but not one of the world's masterpieces—not inevitable. A book may be regarded as necessary and to be expected if it represents a time, if it is the product of an age. But Lady into Fox is far from being a product of the age—is rather incidental, an adventure by the wayside and therefore worthy of attention. That this book was adjudged worthy of Hawthendorn Prize was to be expected, but after all, one Lady into Fox is quite enough. Another such book would hardly attract so much attention or, indeed, deserve it.

Icebound

Icebound, written by Owen Davis, was the Pulitzer prize play for 1923 and consequently has been brought into great prominence, a prominence of which it is unquestionably worthy. The play is a study of a New England family and the return of a "black sheep." The craftsmanship is indeed excellent. The play is low-pitched, and the same tempo is preserved throughout. The brief bits of comedy are worked in carefully without destroying the effects of the scenes, and the character work is extraordinary. The situations are handled in an unostentatious manner, and it is the kind of drama one would expect to be obscured by the violent and colorful drama of today, but it is nevertheless remarkable and convincing. It depends neither upon originality of theme nor upon eccentricity of style. It is true that in various places, one is inclined to lift an astonished eyebrow. One smiles a little when the girl, in showing Ben Jordan the letter which his dead mother desired that he should never read, explains her act by asking that she feels that the dead mother is present and desires the act. The "God knows I'm not worthy of you" idea is introduced a trifle too often to produce an effect, but these are matters which one probably would not notice in a production of the play and merely prove that dramas are not ordinarily written to be read.

Extra! Girls!

There lives a man who has never had a date in all his eighteen years of life. There have been many girls and willing, but the young man always has to work. Keep up the good work. Otis.

Charles Baker has originated a new part in the "Merchant of Venice." In Miss B. Fry's third hour class the students were given a test on the memorizing of one of Portia's famous speeches. On Charles' paper was carefully written the first verse and chorus of the famous song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." The only part that was lacking was the tune.

Ramsay Chapman is very generous. In Miss Elliott's American History class, the question of a test arose. "You're so anxious, maybe I owe you one," suggested Miss Elliott. "Oh—the debt is cancelled," Ramsay said with a patronizing "rich to the poor man" gesture.

Helen Krug has proved to Miss Rooney's Latin class that she has a purely classical mind. When asked what Latin term a modern traffic policeman might employ, she serenely answered, "Parce."

OTHER SCHOOLS

"Keep to the right," urges Fort Collins High School, Fort Collins, Colo. They believe that difficulties may be lessened and time saved if such a motto is followed in the crowded halls and stairways.

An attractive dining room with flowers on the tables, fresh white curtains at the windows, napkins, and pretty girls in white caps and aprons serving—these are some of the lunch room attractions which the Kansas City Manual Training High School boasts of this year. The food, with the exception of meats and vegetables, is prepared by the students.

South Side High, Fort Wayne, Ind., will display a large flag, eight by twelve inches, in school colors, at their school games this year as additional manifestation of their school spirit.

The "Big Sisters" of the Polytechnic High, Santa Anna, Calif., gave a luncheon for the "Little Sisters" on the school campus. As a get-acquainted meeting, the affair was most successful, but the good "eats" seemed to be mainly responsible for the attraction of the "Little Sisters" to their big ones.

Due to the overcrowded conditions at Prep, Boulder, Colo., it has been necessary to hold more than one class in the same room at the same time. Imagine the harmony of a domestic science class and one in biology!

BOOKMAN OFFERS PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

Ten Prizes Offered to Pupils Under Fifteen Years of Age

CONTEST ENDS NOV. 1

Ten prizes are offered by The Bookman for the ten best essays of from 300 to 800 words, written by boys or girls fifteen years of age or under. The subject for the year is "A Book Play," but the choice of other topics is permitted.

The prizes offered are as follows: first prize, twenty-five dollars in cash; second prize ten dollars' worth of books; eight other prizes, one book each.

The manuscript, which must be addressed to "Children's Book Week Essay Contest", in care of the Bookman, must reach the Bookman office by November 1. The contribution should be written in ink on one side of the paper only, and should have the name, age, and address of the contestant in the upper right hand corner.

In the announcement of the competition, these suggestions are given: "Who are the ten or twelve characters from books that you have read who would fit well into a play? Choose your characters and write a brief synopsis of the play, giving some of the dialogue if you like. If this does not please you, write an essay or story on any subject you please, not necessarily connected with books—with life, with school, play, or nature."

Each manuscript must be accompanied by a statement from parent or teacher, vouching for its originality.

Two of the best essays received before October 15 will be printed in the Christmas number of The Bookman; the announcement of prize awards and the first and second prize compositions will appear in the January issue.

THIRTY-FIVE GYMITES WISH TO JOIN CLUB

Thirty-four new girls were introduced to the Gym Club, Thursday, in Room 425, as candidates for new members. From this number eighteen girls will be elected to fill the vacant places in the club.

The time was spent in dancing and in meeting the new candidates. Miss Bennett supervised in the absence of Miss Platt.

The Gym Club is one of the best standing organizations in the school. It is opened to all girls who have taken one year of gym and who intend to continue in the course. It takes part in all big events in the school such as Pageants and Road-Shows. The membership is limited to thirty girls. The standing membership consists of the following girls: Ruth Stewart, Laura Perkins, Lois Walmer, Phyllis Weberg, Dorothy Reuben, Helen Anderson, Kathryn Bullock, Ruth Cochran, Esther Ellis, Eloise Musselman, Faye Williams, and Letha Grant, an honorary member.

FIVE NEW MEMBERS JOIN RUFNEX SOCIETY

Five Junior boys were voted in the Rufnex Society at a meeting held in 119 last Friday. The new members are William Reed, Charles Dox, Dick McNamara, Stanfield Johnson and George Gessman. Five more members will be taken in after the football season.

Various uniforms for the members to wear at games were discussed, but the white trousers, purple jersey, white shirt and black tie, worn at the last game was decided upon as a permanent uniform.

PRINCIPAL MASTERS LECTURES IN STATE

Principal Masters attended the Boone County Institute at Albion, Nebraska last week where he delivered to the teachers and school officials four speeches. Two of these were on high school subjects generally, one on Moral Training in the Schools, and the fourth, on Vital Teaching.

On October 5, Mr. Masters delivered speeches to the Institute at Hartington, Nebraska. These Institute programs are similar to any teachers' conventions, but cover a smaller unit. They give the teachers a chance to broaden their views by seeing what other schools in the state are doing. Exhibitions of local training are made, and plans are discussed. Mr. Masters has been the leader of several of these programs and will attend others in the near future.

MISS HATCH IS PEPPY LEADER OF MEETING

Miss Hatch, the Girls' Work Secretary, led in the song-singing, reviewed the ideals of the club, and discussed the ideals for the officers at the Freshman-Student Club Meeting on October 8, at the Y. W. C. A.

The election of officers which was scheduled to take place was postponed until the next meeting to be held on October 22. It was decided that more time should be given for the girls to become more acquainted with each other. Mr. Bostwick, the photographer, took a flashlight picture of the girls.

All the girls who had enough money with them paid their dues, and all the others who wished to do so placed their name on the list with those who wished to become members. They spent the rest of the time playing games and dancing in the gymnasium.

If he fails to do this, it goes on sale.

A gold watch, a garnet ring, a pair of foreign drawing instruments, gold and silver pens and pencils, fountain pens, cuff links, and umbrellas are among the interesting things turned in.

Of the University's sophomore officers, two were students at Central; Perry Borcheding, president, and Helen Seanson, secretary, graduates in '22. Freshmen class officers who went to Central last year are Maxine Foshier, vice-president; Edwin Nellan, secretary, and Momer Schleh, treasurer. On the student council are Anne McConnell '21, and Doris Roberts '23.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU HAS ROW ELECTION

The Speaker's Bureau held election of chairmen for the respective rows during the past week.

This year the Bureau is meeting in room 129, and the members are seated according to rows. Each row has a chairman, and works competitively with the others for the winning of the silver loving cup.

The elections were carried on in true parliamentary style. The results are as follows:

The club, which met in Room 120 last Friday, discussed the question of dues, absentees and programs. It was decided that every student should pay fifty cents dues to be used for programs, socials and plays. A student will be allowed to be absent three times before his name is dropped from the list.

Jack Kerschner led in singing, Wilma McFarland read a French selection and Elizabeth Kaho read a French story.

CENTRAL TEACHERS ELECTED TO FORUM

Miss Lelia Bon and Miss Olive Bayles are the newly elected members of the Forum Committee from Central High School. The Forum Committee is a representative body of all the teachers in the city. Its duty is to look after the general welfare of the teachers. Miss Sarah A. Ryan is the third member from Central.

CIVICS CLASSES VISIT COUNTY COURT HOUSE

Members of the civics classes, accompanied by Miss Autumn Davies, instructor, visited the court rooms of the Douglas County Court House last Monday after school. They witnessed several trials.

After visiting the courts, the students gave a series of mock trials in Room 315 last week. The furniture was arranged to represent that of a court room. Several of the trials were first degree murder trials. There was no elimination of students, for each was able to prove an alibi. The Clerk of the County Court furnished the classes with warrants for arrest and subpoenas.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT RECEIVES SPECIMENS

Former Central Students Send Biology Department Collections

ON DISPLAY IN 345

A mounted Albino pocket gopher and a collection of cotton in the various stages of development have been added this year to the specimens in the Biology department.

The Albino gopher was presented to Central High by Richard Seartz, a former Central student. It is white instead of brown and was found when men were excavating for the North High School.

Art Ziebarth, also a former Central student, who now lives in Memphis, Tenn., sent the collection of cotton. He sent specimens of the cotton blossoms, the green boll of the cotton before it has burst, and a boll after it had burst, and examples of cotton which had been ruined or partly ruined by the army worm and by the cotton weevil. The cotton boll weevil causes great losses in the South, and much money has been spent trying to kill them.

Miss Stringer has both specimens in her room, 345, but has decided to place them in the hall cabinet outside 345 so that students who wish may look at them.

ART STUDENTS BOOST FATHER-SON CAMPAIGN

Posters which will be exhibited all over Omaha are being made by the art classes to advertise the National Father and Son Week, Nov. 11 to 18. The posters will be completed in a short time, when the best will be shown, and prizes awarded.

They demonstrate the advantages of friendship and understanding between father and son, and the ideas are derived not only from the present day in America, but also from other countries and from former times. Some very effective signs are expected.

The original plan was that all the city high schools make posters, but since the others have been unable to do so, the work falls entirely upon Central.

MISS SWENSEN TALKS TO TRAVEL CLUB GIRLS

"Of all the countries I visited in Europe, I enjoyed Sweden the best because my relatives live there," so spoke Miss Swensen at the Lininger Travel Club meeting in Room 235, Thursday. Miss Swensen recently visited Europe taking in Sweden, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, France and England. She crossed Germany on her way from Sweden to Belgium.

"At Brussels, I was very much impressed by the attitude of the Belgians toward Germany. I was able to get a better understanding of their hatred."

Miss Swensen had the thrilling experience of being stranded alone in a little Dutch village where no one could speak English. She went with a party through Switzerland and Italy, but went alone from Pisa to Paris. While she was in Paris she learned that the party she had just left were in an automobile accident and eight of the party were killed. She took a thrilling air-ride from France to England and later returned to America on a Canadian liner.

The meeting ended with a short business session.

CENTRAL TEACHERS WILL PRESENT PLAY

"Wappin' Wharf," a Frightful Comedy of Pirates, will be presented for the College Club program by some of the teachers of Central, Saturday morning, October 27, at the First Central Congregational church.

Miss Dumont, Miss Stegner, Miss Hetzel, Miss Griffin, Miss Holmes, Miss Anna Porter, a Central High Graduate, Miss Lena May Williams, Miss Frankish, Miss Mae Somers and Miss Bozell will assist, and Miss Parker will direct the play.

Charles S. Brooks is the author of the play which is a very clever take-off on the well known "Treasure Island" by Robert L. Stevenson. Frederick McConnell, an Omaha man of prominence, produced the same play at a theatre in Cleveland.

Sioux Wins Fast Game 9-3

IOWANS SHOW FINE BRAND OF FIGHT MARROW SCORES BY DROP KICK IN SECOND

Loss of Thomas Affects Central Line—Lawson is Main Factor in Defense—Passing is used Extensively

The Purple and White Grid Team was humbled 9 to 3 by Sioux City in a very swift game, held at Sioux City, last Saturday. Wally Marrow made the only Purple counters when he neatly dropkicked the ball 35 yards for a field goal. The team did not seem to have the usual amount of fight and spirit while the Sioux displayed a spirit equaled by few.

The loss of Thomas was keenly felt in the Purple line because the lighter Maroon backfield made long gains through Central's wall. The Sioux scored their touchdown in the first 5 minutes of play. After the first score, Central tightened up and showed some real playing. They were going good when the half gun sounded. The second half was featured by each side trying forward passes. Blue Howell and Marrow were the most consistent yard gainers.

First Quarter

Johnston kicked with wind to Marrow who advanced the ball to the 20-yard marker. Purple fumbled, recovered, and were penalized 5 yards for being offside. Howell punted and the Soos began their march for victory. Johnston went over for the first score. The kick for point failed. Central fumbled the kickoff and the Sioux recovered at mid field. Then Soo attempted some passes. The Iowans were again off sides; so they punted. However, Central was off sides and the ball went to Sioux City. A place kick bounced from the goal post so the ball reverted to Central on the 20-yard line. Robertson punted to mid field. Sioux had to punt because of a penalty and a touchback. The ball went straight up. Robertson and Howell gained, but the ball was lost on a fumble. End of quarter. Score—6-0.

Second Quarter

Punt to 45-yard line. Robertson and Howell gained 8 yards and Howell made yards through right tackle. Marrow, Robertson and Howell smashed off downs. Muxen subbed for Robertson. Muxen plunged 5 yards through right tackle. Egan took the ball to the 4-yard line, but the Iowans held on the next attempt. Ball to Sioux City on downs. Punt to Marrow on the Soo 40-yard line. Pass—Howell to Fetterman. Marrow went 5 yards through right tackle, and Howell advanced 4 yards through left. Muxen made downs. Blue and Muxen again made downs. Marrow drop-kicked the ball over for Central's only score. Howell kicked to Bradbury on the 35-yard line. Bradbury kicked to Egan on our 40-yard line. A pass, Howell to Fetterman netted 9 yards. A short pass from Howell made downs. Marrow made 9 yards around left end. Score, end of half—6-3.

Third Quarter

Howell kicked off to Brown who advanced to the 30-yard line. Soo made downs. Percival recovered a fumble. Pass failed. A pass from a fake kick formation failed. The Sioux had just made downs when Howell intercepted a pass on our 40-yard line. Marrow lost 5 yards. Brown intercepted a pass from Howell, gaining 27 yards. Soo fumbled on the Purple 15-yard line. Central recovered punt. Bradbury was substituted by Spencer. Quarter ended with ball on Central's 22-yard line. Score—6-3.

Fourth Quarter

Purple's ball on downs. Howell punted to Spencer at mid field. Gorton tackled Twogood behind the line, knocking the wind out of him. Punt to Egan on 20-yard line. Blue tore off 7 yards through left tackle. Sigiel intercepted a pass from Howell. Johnston placed kicked ball over for the last scoring. Howell advanced kickoff to 20-yard line. A pass, Howell to Robinson, gained 5 yards. Punt to 35-yard line. Johnston ran 20 yards. Time out on Sioux City. End of game. Score—9-3.

CENTRAL TO PLAY IN BIG DOUBLE HEADER

A double header will be played at Creighton Field October 19. Central will play Beatrice at 1 o'clock and then South High and Creighton will take the field. It is advisable to come to the field early because seats will be at a premium as the stands do not hold so very many. Another double header will be played later in the season. On November 9, Central plays Kearney and Tech plays Creighton. Central's all star seconds will play the school for the deaf October 25 at Fontenelle Park. They always put up a stiff battle, and their method of playing is alone worth the trouble of coming to the game.

HERE'S FOOTBALL TRAINING LAWS

1. Cut out tobacco in all forms.
2. Do not eat between meals.
3. Be in bed by ten o'clock each night except after a game.
4. Eat anything at meals but go light on ice cream, cake, and candy. Do not over eat.
5. Keep up in your studies.
6. Keep in the best mental and physical condition.
7. Work for better team spirit.

SPORTORIAL

For a long time Central has had the reputation of being one of the most courteous schools to the teams that visited us. This year the chairman of the Reception Committee has charge of the transportation and comforts of the visiting teams and also the transportation of our own team. In order to best take care of the teams, a number of fellows with cars are needed to take the football men to and from the stations and to the games.

The reception committee this year will be an important organization. The aim will be to entertain the visitors off the athletic field as well as they are entertained on the field by the team.

During the football season, fifteen to twenty visiting players will come with a team for a game. This means that about four or five cars will be needed to haul the men.

Kearney and Beatrice are the only visiting teams to come. If ten cars are offered to meet the players at the station, only five cars will be needed at one time. If you have a car and are willing to help Central out, write your name, address, telephone number and number of men that can be carried in your car, on a piece of paper and leave it at the Register office for the sport editor. If you can't make the team you can at least help out by offering it transportation. Let's see some spirit.

Touchdowns Scored by Van Buskirk, Caldwell and Bleicher

The Central Reserves swamped the Tech scrubs at Fontenelle Park last Thursday to the score of 27 to 0. The Central backs plowed through the Tech line almost at will for long, substantial gains. The Tech backs on the other hand were powerless as they bucked up against the strong Central line. The game was characterized by its numerous fumbles, most of which were made near the goal lines.

Jean Caldwell picked the ball out of the air and broke through with a run of twenty yards for a touchdown. Summers started for the Gold jersey gridsters.

Tech kicked to Chaikin who returned the ball to the 35 yard line. Central made yards on several line smashes. Tech got possession of the ball on a fumble. Chaikin tackled a Tech gridster behind the line for a safety. The penpushers punted to Jones who returned to the 50 yard line. Glade and Hamilton advanced the ball to the 2 yard line.

Van Buskirk carried the ball over for the first touchdown of the game. The kick for point failed. Coach Bexten sent in a whole new team composed of second and third stringers. Central kicked and Tech returned to the 30 yard line. Tech lost the ball through a fumble. Central made several long gains through plain tactics. A trick formation brought the pigskin to the 3 yard line. Bleicher crossed the Tech goal for the second touchdown of the game. End of Half.

The bookkeepers returned the kick to the 30 yard line. Tech attempted a series of passes, but were blocked. Coach White's men then punted. Horacek returned to the 50 yard chalker. A march down the field resulted in Caldwell's making Central's third tally. The kick failed. Tech returned the ball to the 35 yard line. Tech tried everything in the way of passes and line smashes. The Central line broke through and got the ball. Caldwell snagged a 20 yard pass and ran 10 more for a touchdown. The quarter ended in scrimmaging. Central in possession of the ball.

As soon as Central started on another march down the field, Tech intercepted a pass. They also attempted a flip which Summers snagged right out of a Techster's mitts. The ball reverted to Tech on a fumble. Passes and end runs were then attempted. The whistle blew with the ball in midfield.
