

Press Club to Banquet at Technical

First General Meeting of Year to be Tonight at 6:15

George Grimes to Talk

Inter-Council Elects Officers for the Coming Year

The first general meeting of the Omaha High school Press club to be given this semester will be held in the form of a banquet at Technical high school, tonight, at 6:15. George Grimes, a reporter on the Omaha World-Herald staff, will address the club on reporting. A burlesque on how to interview a person will be given by Bessie Star and Glen McGill of Technical. A toast by the chairman of the banquet, Anne Rothenburg, and a musical number will also be given.

Press Club Elects Officers

Anne Rothenburg of Technical was elected president of the City Press club for this semester at an election held during the Inter-Council meeting at Technical high school Thursday, April 15, at 4:15.

The new vice-president is Clifford Macklin 26, circulation manager of the Central high school Weekly Register; Beulah De Singers '26, a reporter on The Weekly Register staff, was elected secretary.

Club to Hold General Meetings

One executive meeting will be held each semester and one general meeting, for which each school will take its turn in entertaining the other schools, according to the change made in the constitution. The schools will hold this meeting in the following order: Central, first; North, second; South, third; Benson, fourth; and Creighton, fifth.

Delegates from the Omaha high schools who attended the Inter-Council meeting are Dorothy Dyhrberg and Carl Johnson, North; Beulah De Singers and Clifford Macklin, Central; Glenn McGill and Anne Rothenburg, Technical; Charles

Mrs. Carol Pitts Returns to School after Convention

Mrs. Carol M. Pitts, head of the music department, after attending the National Music Teachers' convention in Detroit, Mich., returned to school Monday with the greatest praise for the instrumental work done there.

One of the features of the convention was a national high school orchestra composed of members of high school orchestras from all over the United States, and according to Mrs. Pitts, the work of the orchestra was beautiful.

"The choral work in Detroit is good," said Mrs. Pitts. "There is a Girls' Glee club of 250 members and a Boys' of 200, composed of pupils of the eleven high schools."

One of the outstanding events of the convention was the speech given by Mrs. Levi Carter, president of the Hollywood Bowl. Edgar A. Guest, who also spoke, read some of his noted poems.

Music Department Adds Movie Proceeds to Fund

Clearing exactly $70.20, the music department added this sum to the fund to send Central's representatives to the state musical contest at Lincoln, Neb., April 30, according to the report made by the music teachers this week.

"We consider this a large amount in view of the fact that the film was shown at the Sun theater and several neighborhood theaters previously. This amount is all clear, and we thank the students for their co-operation," said Mrs. Elsie Howe Swanson, music teacher.

A dinner was served, prepared, and eaten by Miss Marian Morrissey's foods II class, yesterday during sixth hour. A thick, juicy pot-roast was chosen for the main dish on the menu.

Alfonso Reyna, Spanish teacher, will sing over WOWA next Sunday afternoon. Virginia Randall '26 will play his accompaniment.

Speakers' Bureau Banquets Tuesday; Feast Closes Drives for Semester

To the melodious strains of Robert Day's Lucky Seven orchestra, the members of Speakers' Bureau feasted at a banquet held Tuesday evening at 5:45 in Central's cafeteria. This banquet, following the Cleanup campaign, closes the season's drives.

A Russian play "Free Speech," directed by the Bureau's sponsor, Miss Floy Smith, was presented. Speeches by J. G. Masters, Miss Jessie Towne, and Paul Prentiss, and musical selections by Bettie Zabriskie and Edith Victoria Robins were other features of the program.

Individual place cards, designed by Dale McFarland, contained the printed menu and program. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, swiss steak, mashed potatoes, salad, and ice cream and cake.

The honored guests were Mr. Masters, Miss Towne, and the officers of last semester's Bureau, Harley Moorhead, president; Doris Seccord, vice-president; Gretchen Standev, secretary; Elizabeth Mills, treasurer; and Carl Sipherd and Margery Ackerman, sergeants-at arms. Keith Ray as the oldest member of the Bureau, also was an honored guest.

Richard Woodman, president of the Bureau, was toastmaster.

All arrangements for the banquet were made by the banquet committee which consisted of Adah Allen, chairman, Maxine Fowler, Jean Whitney, Kenneth Saunders, and Justin Wolf.

Circulation Head of 1926 O-Book Announces Sales

According to figures, and "figures don't lie," approximately 750 1926 O-Book tickets have been sold. This was revealed by circulation manager, Carl Sipherd, in 24E after school Tuesday. "We know that a large number of students still intend to buy, but if they don't hurry it is going to be too late," he stated.

The books will go to print the first week in May, and according to Miss Bertha Neale, sponsor, it will be necessary to know definitely by that time the number of O-Books to be ordered. The ticket sale will be informally closed on the first of May. Last year 1,400 were sold. The goal this year is 1,800. "We need the co-operation of every student to make our goal. How can we impress it upon them that the time is slipping fast?" queried the perplexed circulation manager.

Omaha Fine Arts Society Holds Exhibition of Print

Sixth International Print Makers' Exhibition, assembled by the Print Makers' society of California, is being held now at the Omaha Society of Fine Arts, Aquila Court Art Gallery. The exhibition will close May 5, 1926. Students of art and journalism are especially urged to attend this exhibit by Miss Mary Angood, art teacher, and Miss Elizabeth White, journalism instructor.

In the calendar of special events in the course of the exhibition an address will be given on Sunday, April 25, at 3:30 p. m., by Alfred DeSauty, on "The History of Book Binding."

Among the works shown at the exhibit are those in etching, aquatint, block print, an old but poor type of printing, mezzotint, lithograph, engraving, drypoint, and soft-ground etching.

School Has New Plan

A new plan of closing school this year has been adopted. The last day of school will be Thursday, June 10, when grade cards will be given out. Visitors' day at the Cadet Camp will be on Friday, June 11. Saturday, the cadets are to return from camp. Senior graduation will take place that evening at Technical high school. Summer school will begin the following Monday morning, June 14, at 7:30.

Pupils taking Spanish or French who are interested in attending a picnic to be given before the close of school in June, are invited by Alfonso Reyna, head of the modern language department, to attend a meeting after school, tonight, in room 215.

Pupils to Compete in Scholarship Test

Teachers Announce Names of Representatives Thursday

Students chosen to represent Central in Latin. English composition, civics, Spanish, and chemistry for the Nebraska Academic Scholarship contests at Lincoln, May 8, were announced yesterday.

Claude Mason and James Mason rank highest in Chemistry I and II. Robert Rix is alternate.

In plane geometry Mary McMillan and Philip Johnson stand highest. Grace Krop is the alternate.

Tom Gannett and Willis Dawson were first and second respectively, with Harriet Hicks as alternate in Latin VI. In the preliminary tests of Latin VIII, Frank Ackerman won first; Rita Starrett, second place; and Marlon Cosme, alternate. Preliminary tests for the first year Latin will be given in 120 Tuesday, April 27, during the VIII hour.

Candidates chosen from ninth grade English composition are Edith Copeland and Loraine Gregory with Maryetta Whitney as alternate.

From the eleven pupils contesting for Civics, Margaret McMahon and Jeanette Resnick, both of whom were civics students last semester, ranked highest. Lane Axtell, Richard Birge, and Floyd Wilson ranked so close as alternates that no one has as yet been selected.

Edward Rainey and Wallace Mace will represent second year Spanish at Lincoln. Dorothy Parmelee is alternate.

August Jonas and Katherine Edgill rank highest in botany, while Richard Peterson and Mary Elizabeth Jonas will contest in zoology. Physiology tryouts will be given later.

Teachers Hold Banquet in Honor of Dr. Knight

Putting the finishing touches to a series of six week-end lectures on the "Methods of Education," by Dr. Frederick B. Knight of the University of Iowa, the Omaha school teachers will hold a banquet in honor of Dr. Knight in the Brandeis Tea room next Friday at 6:15.

The banquet is open to any teacher. Reservations from Central teachers were handed to Miss Louise Stegner, Miss Helen Clarke, and Mrs. Bernice Engle, Central's Forum representatives, yesterday. The tickets are $1.50 each.

"Aspects of Arithmetic Needing Experimentations" will be the topic of the lectures this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

Library Adds Postcards

The two special sets of postcards which have been added to the library have proved of great value and assistance to the project workers and the project room is the opinion of Miss Clarke; one set, issued by the British museum, illustrates Medieval sports and pastimes, while the other set tends to show the character of the large, colored initials of Medieval manuscripts.

Three Smith awards were made in the type tests last Wednesday in room 11. Those receiving them were Bess Haspel, with 40 words a minute; Gerald Stafford, 37 words a minute; and Eddie Chambers, 31 words a minute.

Senior Class Selects Play "Seventeen"

Upperclassmen to Present Farce by Tarkington May 21-22

"Seventeen," a comedy and farce by Booth Tarkington, popular because of its amusing characters and ridiculous situations, has been chosen for the senior play, to be presented under the auspices of the senior class in Central's auditorium Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22.

Fourteen characters, eight boys and six girls, compose the speaking cast. A mob scene includes a large number of people. The play was selected, with the approval of the senior class, by a committee consisting of Henry Moeller, manager; Theodore Sanders, assistant manager; and the Misses Jessie M. Towne, Dorothy Sprague, and Floy Smith.

Four members of the cast have been definitely decided. They are: Joe Lawrence, Mr. Baxter; Irene Howe, Mrs. Baxter; Robert Rix, George Cropper; and Doris Hosman, Jane Baxter.

Tryouts were still open last night for the roles of William Sylvanus Baxter, Joe Bullett, Genesis, Johnnie Watson, Mr. Parcher, Willie Banks, Lola Pratt, May Parcher, Ethel Boke, Mary Brooks.

Individuals actually chosen for parts or doubles in later incomplete scenes are: Allen Meitzen, Sherman Welpton, Hugo Carroll, Carl Sipherd, Harold Thorpe, Helen Butler, Irene Reader, Dorothy Linaberry, Dorothy Parmelee, Faye Williams.

Complications!

Similarity of names! How they complicate our lives, sometimes for the better, sometimes for the worse. So think Billie Mathews and Billie Mathews, freshman and senior respectively.

Here comes a slip for Billie Mathews. It says, "Where were you sixth hour yesterday?" "Why, in my classroom," stammers Billie. After several periods of endeavoring to explain the situation, it is found that the slip should have been sent to the other Billie, not this one at all.

Report cards go out. "A" list is carried in the paper. "Why Billie, you are doing remarkably well. I see by the paper that you received four A's." No one knows of the other Billie who rightfully earned the good grades, and is perhaps at the same time being questioned as to the bad marks she supposedly received.

So the freshman Billie adopts a middle name, Jane, and the senior Billie tacks on Norma. But still, in most cases, the new names are forgotten, and Billie Jane and Billie Norma are just plain Billie. Perhaps they are exactly opposite in appearance, mannerisms, and hobbies, yet they are continually and everlastingly mistaken for each other.

Entries in Commercial Meet Leave Thursday

Entrants for Central in the State Commercial contest to be held next Friday will leave for Columbus, Neb. Thursday afternoon.

In novice spelling, Helen Hercht represents Central; Ruth Kastman '27, Dorothy Baird, '27, and Iris Kilgore '26 in champion typewriting; Morris Brick '27, Maurice Miller '26, and Max Rosenblatt '26 in champion typewriting; and Victor Clary in college typewriting.

Novice shorthand will be represented by Frances Zeigson '26, Marjorie Trott '27, and Ruby Kresoluv '28.

Girls to Return Bands

"Ask Me" bands belonging to the Big Sisters should be turned in to room 111 as soon as possible, according to Miss Julia Carlson, English teacher and faculty sponsor on the Big Sister committee. "I wish the girls could remember to bring the bands in," said Miss Carlson.

Junior Honor Pupils to Have Assembly

Mr. Masters to Announce New Members of Society

The names of students elected to the three chapters, Delta, Gamma, and Epsilon, of the Junior Honor Society will be announced at a mass meeting given in Central's auditorium next Friday, April 29, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Sarah Vore Taylor, head of constructive English, will give an address at the meeting on the responsibilities of the Junior Honor Society. Principal J. G. Masters will deliver the charge to the new members who will then take their places on the stage.

Special music by the members of the new honor society will be given; the band will play at the beginning of the mass meeting.

A large bulletin bearing the names of the new Junior Honor Society members which is now being made by Verne Reynolds, James Mason, and Claude Mason, will be posted in the west entrance after the mass meeting.

A meeting of the executive committee, Principal J. G. Masters; Miss Penelope Smith, English teacher; Miss Louise Stegner, English teacher; and Miss Bess Bozell, French teacher; was held in Mr. Master's office yesterday to arrange the program. J. F. Woolery, assistant principal and head of the mathematics department, and Verne Reynolds, president of the Junior Honor Society, were also present.

"The faculty have co-operated to make the fairest possible election to the Junior Honor Society," said Miss Bozell, chairman of Junior Honor Society committee. "The election committee has been faithful and tireless at their duties."

Omaha Woman Offers Grand Prize for Idea

A grand prize of $20 will be offered by Mrs. H. D. Jolley, in charge of the local educational campaign, to the Central student handing in an idea with enough human appeal to use for publication in local advertising. This prize will be in addition to the first prize of $10 in the Laundryowners' Educational Essay contest which began Monday, April 19.

Other prizes in each high school are second prize, $8; third prize, $3; and four one-dollar prizes. All essays by Central students are to be handed in to Miss Lella Bon, advertising instructor. Ruth Ziev '27 was appointed to aid Miss Bon in carrying on the contest.

Department Makes Profit

A profit of approximately $50 was made by the French and Spanish clubs in their presentation of the Modern Language Show in the auditorium Tuesday, April 13.

This money will be used to send to Lincoln those students representing the French and Spanish departments at the annual Nebraska Academic Scholarship contest.

A general excursion for the social science department, which includes civics, economics, and modern problems classes, was conducted to the Cudahy Packing company last Saturday by F. Y. Knapple, teacher in the department.

In the closest, hardest fought contest of the season, Technical high school debating team defeated the Central squad by a 2-to-1 decision in the district championship debate held in the Tech auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. This victory gives Tech the possession of the Reed Cup for the coming year, and the privilege of entering the state debating tournament at Lincoln.

Defending the affirmative of the question: Resolved, That the members of the President's cabinet should have the right to the floor of Congress, the Central team composed of Warren Creel, Fairfax Dashiell, and Byron Dunham submitted many strong arguments making the issue of the debate doubtful. The main strength of the Central squad lay in their constructive speeches while that of their opponents lay in their excellent rebuttal.

The star of the Central team was Byron Dunham with Fairfax Dashiell showing up well in the rebuttal and Warren Creel in the constructive arguments. Wesley Crow starred for the Tech squad.

The judges of the debate were L. J. Marti, University of Nebraska; Ernest A. Simmons, Superintendent of schools in Elliott, Ia.; and L. P. Spencer, Superintendent of Schools of Glenwood, Ia. Principal Dwight E. Porter of Tech presided.

The general management of the debate was in the hands of the debating clubs of Tech. The Senior orchestra gave a musical entertainment before the debate.

Seven Journalists to Aid in Publicity of Mother-Daughters

Seven Central journalists, selected last week by Miss Elizabeth White, journalism instructor, to aid Miss Gladys Shamp, publicity chairman, in putting over the first annual Mother-and-Daughter week, met in 32C last Wednesday after school with Miss Shamp to get instructions for their work.

Those selected are Miriam Wells, copy reader; Bernice Elliott, Elizabeth Jonas, Katherine Allen, Travilla Thomas, Nora Perley, and Tom McCoy. They are expected to attend several of the affairs at the different churches, lodges, woman's clubs, girl groups, schools, and Parent-Teacher associations in the city, write them up, and hand them in to the city papers for publication.

The reporters were also asked to call up certain organization leaders and get as much data as possible before the affair actually takes place. Feature stories are especially desirable, according to Miss Shamp.

Girls Attend Annual Girl Reserve Banquet

Fifty-three Central girls attended the Annual All-High School Girl Reserve banquet in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium last Saturday night. Central had the largest representation. Principal J. G. Masters, Mrs. J. G. Masters, and Miss Jessie M. Towne were guests at the affair.

Sue Hall, program chairman of Inter-Council Council, was in charge of the banquet. Marjorie Bailey, former Centralite, who now attends North high school, was toastmistress. Stunts were put on by the different clubs, and greetings were given by a number of the guests.

The national Girl Reserve honor ring was awarded to 13 girls. Five of the group were from Central. They are: Sue Hall '26, Katherine Allen '26, Ruth Manning '26, Nora Perley '26, and Margaret Wigton '27.

Pupils to Compete

The choral events of the State Music contest will be held at Lincoln, April 30, and the solo events on May 1.

Entered in the former, will be Central's Senior Girls' Glee club, Senior Boys' Glee club, and mixed chorus. In the solo numbers are entered Marjorie Smith, violin; Bettie Zabriskie, cello; Dorcas Jones, piano.

One other entry, which has not yet been decided upon, will be made.

Resodding and seeding of that portion of the lawn ruined by the bleachers erected for the American Legion parade during the national convention last October was begun Tuesday after the Board of Education set aside $475 for that purpose at the meeting Monday evening.

Three Parties Plan to Tour in Old World

Seven Faculty Members to Take Summer Course at Oxford

Parties to Sail in June

Oxford Course to Be in English Literature and History

A three week summer vacation course at Oxford and tours through England, France, Italy, and Switzerland are the plans of seven of Central's faculty members, the Misses Amanda E. Anderson, Mary A. Parker, Bertha Neale, Mary E. Elliott, Juliette Griffin, Bessie E. Shackell, and Elizabeth Kiewit.

Three parties are sailing at different times. Miss Anderson, Miss Shackell, and Miss Ellen Anderson of Lincoln high school will leave June 12 on the "Leviathan," the largest passenger steamer. Miss Parker, Miss Elliott, and Miss Irma Gross, former teacher at Central sail June 19 on the "Minnikahda." The "Homerick," sailing July 12, will take the third group over which is composed of Miss Bertha Neale, Miss Edith Neale, her sister, Miss Kiewit, Miss Bess I. Dumont, former executive secretary at Central, and Miss Griffin.

Teachers to Study at Oxford

Study of English literature and English history is the specialty of the Oxford course which is from July 10 to 28. Lecture will be delivered by well-known professors, lecturers, and tutors of the university and by other eminent men and women. Plays will be produced, and visits will be arranged to Oxford colleges, to Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of Washington, to Stratford-on-Avon. Other excursions are planned.

Before and after the three week course, the parties will see bright Paris, historical Rome, and the vastness of the Italian and Swiss Alps. The teachers will return in time for school in the fall.

Dr. Herbert A. Senter, chemistry teacher, presided at the fifty-fourth annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Nebraska held at Plattsmouth, Neb. last week-end.

Many positions of honor in Masonry in Nebraska have been held by Doctor Senter. He is past commander of Mt. Calvary Commandery No. 1, Omaha; past high priest of Bellevue Chapter No. 7, Royal Arch Masons, Omaha; and past grand master of the grand council of Royal and Select Masters in Nebraska.

He was recently appointed by the Grand Master of the Grand Encampment of Iowa at Spirit Lake, Ia., in June.

Intendant General, Division of Nebraska, for the Red Cross of Constantine is another of Doctor Senter's titles.

The first call for volunteers for the Cadet Band made by the officers and members in an effort to raise fresh material so that the organization might be strengthened and enlarged brought three boys to room 49 last Monday.

Henry Cox, director of the orchestra, said, "The summons that the boys sent out is a step in the right direction which will help to keep up the proper spirit and enthusiasm among them. I'm mighty proud of the band, for besides increasing in number they have a fine military aspect which is of great importance."

Members of Cadet Band Call for New Members

Books and magazines arrived at the Central high school library last Monday from the bindery. Books returned from the bindery totaled 155, while magazines numbered six volumes.

O. Lawrence Hawthorne, Omaha poet, recited some of his poems before the senior class in 215 last Wednesday morning.

EDITORIAL

DO YOU ABUSE BOOKS?

Two kinds of people hold two different opinions about books. One kind, which naturally includes a great many history-laden high school students, considers a book a necessary evil. The other kind considers a book as a friend and an equivalent to a human being.

A book in a high school library leads a life like that of a protestant in the hands of the Spanish Inquisition. It has its back broken by a feminine student's comb used as a bookmark, and its pages are stained by a plentiful sprinkling of greasy crumbs dropped upon it by a student whose thirst for knowledge is so great that he cannot stop reading even when he is eating lunch.

How many of you would deliberately cheat yourselves? "We're not dumb," you say. But do you know, that when you practice tortures on a defenseless book, you are calmly doing that very thing?

Do you see how it is? The Central high school library is given a certain sum by the Board of Education to cover expenses for a year. What can be spared from this money goes to buy new books. When the first student artistically alters the illustrations in a novel, the next turns down all the corners of the pages to mark his progress through them, and the next breaks its back, that book must go to the bindery.

By condemning a book to the bindery long before its normal time of life use is over, the student cheats himself in two distinct ways. He fixes things so that he, and the rest of the school, are denied the new book that could be purchased with the bindery cost. Then the book takes some two months to make its journey to the bindery, and therefore the students are deprived of its use for eight or nine weeks.

In the six months between December, 1924, and July, 1925, the bindery bill for the Central high school library was over $400, and most of these 639 books rebound were sent because they were worn, not with age and normal usage BUT WITH ABUSE.

If you don't believe all the trouble and expense your back-breaking and corner-turning does, take a look at those books the library is discarding because they are worn beyond all fixing.

"The quality of mercy is not strained! It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven!" sing those students whose teachers gave them C instead of D in that now ancient event, midterm report cards.

Have you written your ode to spring yet? With the midterm worries off your mind, you ought to be able to produce something. And remember, perhaps you can use it for your informal theme.

Famous hours: eleventh hour, witching hour, lunch hour, eighth hour.

OUR OWN LITTLE WORLD'S SERIES HAS BEGUN

"Swat the pill" has, or at least ought to have, succeeded "Hold that line," and your favorite basket ball yell as Central's war cry.

With spring fever, midterm report cards, new hats, and robins comes baseball, which is sometimes called "the king of American sports."

In spite of this baseball in high schools has been, as far as student interest and support is concerned, more or less of a flop.

Probably spring fever, which produces a lethargic effect on the busy Central brain, and intense application to study to raise midterm grades, (although it is not very likely that this is the cause) are some of the many reasons for this. Do you think Central has a punk team? You may have been right a long time ago, but not now. Central has as good team material this year as any high school in the city, and the players have already shown that they know how to do their stuff.

A most serious charge is laid to Central. Only 15 Central-ites were in the grandstand at the opening game of the season. Will all season be like this? Who could blame a team for being defeated when less than one percent of the students turned out to cheer it?

Dust off your student association tickets, get in line, and you'll get your time's worth of thrills.

SOME MEN OF LETTERS

"O's" and other letters so proudly worn on the sweaters of Central athletes reward some special prowess. They are not, as many people believe, to be earned as you earn a quarter for wiping the dishes every night for a week.

For some reason, many people believe that athletes win their letters by doing so much work for them, and that everyone who does the same amount of the same kind of work will get a letter. That is not the purpose of letters.

Letters are like medals. Of course, it is sometimes possible to win a medal by not being tardy once during your whole school career, but most medals are not won that way. They are to commemorate some special act or to reward some special talent or genius. Thus they are something to be treasured.

Don't you feel much more like cherishing something that says that you are a lot more brilliant in some way than someone else than something that says you did your duty for such and such a period of time? Well, that's the idea of letters.

Many Notebook Covers Show Artistic Talents; Only Teachers' Books Are Immune to Design

Oddly fantastic, strikingly clever, and unbelievably funny are the covers that enclose the notebooks of the versatile Centralites.

Dainty portraits, quaint sealing-wax flower motifs, and amateur cartoons adorn the regular sized notebooks. Neatly carved inscriptions involving hours of careful work are the choice of the painstaking. Then there is the usual run of colored stickers and stamps to cheer the gloomy lids. Athletes are partial to purple and white program slips.

Full length figures often grace the large sized physics notebooks. Unique indeed is the book bearing the sign: "Ye Olde Fiziks Buk."

Manilla biology covers wear anything from a human skeleton to a diagram of the digestive system. History covers are too limp to warrant anything but a modest line of explanation. Costume designing notebooks flash figures, gowned in numerous bizarre and daring fashions.

Assignment books vary in design from expensive leather and gold lettering to paper backed dime-store versions. They are invariably plastered with hastily scrawled hieroglyphics.

Only the teacher's revered grade book can boast an absolutely clean cover. Dog-eared and weather stained are the brown covers of the typewriting envelopes.

Gay dancers flaunt their airy draperies on the notebooks of frivolous minded misses. Geometrical

Positive Proof

For quite a while some folk have looked at me and sighed that such a feeble mind should be in one so young, all because I still maintain that I wrote Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. It is true. I did write it. I'll prove it to you. Even as it has been proved that Sir Francis Bacon did the work of the Bard of Avon, in the same manner I shall prove to you that my name should go down to posterity as the compiler of the American dictionary. If you will note carefully, you will see that I can prove my authorship by the noble science of mathematics.

To further this proof, just imagine that you have a dictionary before you and that you are turning the pages and paying close attention to what I say. If you will turn to page one thousand and sixty-two, you will find that part of your spiritual being known as EGO is listed as the ninth letter of the alphabet. Hold in mind the letter I and the number nine. Turn back in the book to page sixty-six and you will find the word which when added to the first word found will make the first two words of the quotation in the third chapter and the fourteenth verse of the book of Exodus. The quotation is "and God said to Moses 'I AM that I am'". The word am begins with the first letter of the alphabet; so again I ask you to hold in memory I am and the numbers one and nine. Now if you will turn ahead, you will find in the eighteenth division of the book the word responsible. The word for may be found in the sixth section of the book; and when it is added to the other words that you have found, the result is "I am responsible for—". Perhaps your curiosity will help you turn to the twentieth section to find the word this and then to page two hundred and fifty-three where you will see the word book. Nothing is proved however by this unless you look back to the ninth division to find at the bottom of the page the name of an ancient god of storm. I must have been of a dreadfully sweet disposition to be so named, but I couldn't help being named Ira for I really had no choice in the matter. On page one-thousand and six-hundred and seventy-eight can be found the reason why so many people, whose wit is equalled

Hats Off!

What if you are in a hurry not to get to school late? That's no excuse for running off and leaving your manners, forsaken, forlorn, and forgotten, on the dining room table. How'd you guess it? Of course, keep your hats off in the halls, boys! Use your head for something besides a hat rack.

Exchange

The Mothers' Guild of Father Flanagan's Boys' home is forming plans to install an exchange in an Omaha office building. The exchange will sell cakes, art work, painting, sewing, and other fancy work on a percentage basis for the benefit of the homeless boys.

Pastel gowns of blue, pink, green, and lavender have been chosen as the apparel of the senior girls for commencement exercises at North high school, Minneapolis, Minn. Each girl will carry an arm bouquet of roses. The boys will all wear gray suits with a tiny rosebud in the buttonhole.

"Red" Grange, famous gridiron hero, spoke at a Parent-Teacher association meeting at Nicolas Senn high school, Chicago, Ill., recently, and also distributed the pins among the athletes who won letters.

only by their lack of courtesy, call me George. The word Porter is found in the sixteenth section of the book which should bear my name upon the title page in a more important place than the name of the mere owner of it. In case that memory forsakes you, check back and realize that so far we have dug from the book the secret—"I am responsible for this book—Ira Porter."

When I wrote this book, I must have had misgivings about its popularity; so I arranged it so that the numbers of the sections containing the words put in the form of an equation would cancel out and the final result squared would equal my present age—the age at which I would publish the name of the real author of the Unabridged Dictionary.

When you recover from the shock of this most unbelievable proof, stop to consider the equation which proves beyond the shadow of a doubt that I deserve a niche in the Hall of Fame for my service to humanity. The numbers of the sections placed in the order in which they come are nine, one, eighteen, six, twenty, two, nine, and sixteen. If you place negative and positive signs judiciously, you can cancel the nines, cancel the two into the six (it will go three times by old-fashioned arithmetic). The next important thing to do is to take the three which you just wrote down and cancel it into the eighteen right to its left. To the left of your result, which is six, there is a one which can be conveniently subtracted from it and will at the same time leave you a perfectly good five which can immediately be divided into the twenty that is a short distance to the right of it—Henry James himself would have difficulty in writing a more intricate and more understandable sentence if he tried—The result of the last calculation leaves a four which can be divided into the remaining number—sixteen. The final result is four.

According to my formula the square of that result will be my present age. It is true for I am sixteen. Now that my positive and mathematical proof is finished, I will offer you the last straw which is intended to break your camel load of doubts. My middle name is

Mothers and Daughters Will Observe Week

Purpose Is to Encourage Closer Relationship to Church

Clubs Here Plan Affairs

Miss Gladys Shamp Heads Committee for Publicity of Work

First annual Mother-Daughter week in this city, suggested by the Girls Work group of the Council of Social Agencies, will be observed the week of May 3 to 8 including Mothers' day, Sunday, May 9, the purpose of which is to encourage closer relation of mother and daughter to the church and Sunday school, to help mother and daughter have a more sincere understanding of each other and the home, and to show them the responsibilities of citizenship.

Churches, Sunday schools, woman's clubs, Parent-Teacher associations, schools, girl groups, lodges, study clubs and any organization composed in whole or in part of women and girls are urged to join in this observation. Many of Central's clubs are already planning teas and banquets for the mothers.

Each organization is recommended to carry out the program best suited to its group, to serve simple refreshments whenever possible, to limit the age of girls to over ten years, to have music, a good song leader, a good speaker, and toastmistress.

A publicity committee is already established and at work under the leadership of Miss Gladys Shamp for the purpose of advertising the week. Detailed suggestions as to programs will be sent to all groups. Song sheets will be furnished by Thompson-Belden company.

The present plans call for an observance of Mother and Daughter week similar to that of Father and Son week.

Teacher and Former Student Are in Revue

Miss Dorothy Sprague, expression teacher, and Jack Kirschner '24 will sing solos in "The Dandy and the Belle" chorus of the Omaha School Forum "Jollies," "The Revue of Revue" to be given tonight and tomorrow night at the Technical high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Miss Sprague is also in the chorus of "Oh Boy, What a Girl."

Ruth Thomas '27 won second award in the Forum poster contest conducted to promote interest in the "Jollies." Winning posters are on exhibition in downtown store windows.

Tickets for 50 and 75 cents may be obtained at the office.

Boys in Latin II Classes Present Latin Play in 215

Experiences worse than an hour spent in room 117 awaited the little Roman boy in "Ludus," a Latin play given after school Friday in 215 by the Latin II students of Miss Ellen Rooney and Miss Lola Oliver.

Arthur Kreeck took the part of magister, or the teacher. The pupils, or discipuli, who took speaking parts were: Howard Kruger, Quintus; Donald White, Sextus; Douglas Abbott, Marcus; Ben Stein, Servius; Paul Grossman, Gaius; and Bernard White, Manius.

Other pupils in school in the play were Karl Larson, Donald Patrick, Harry Stafford, Harry Weinberg, George Oest, Fred Ackerman, Paul Prentiss, Joe Stein, and Eugene Pickard.

According to Mrs. Elizabeth Craven, the pronunciation of the students is to be commended. The play was directed by Miss Rooney and Miss Oliver.

Viola Forsell '23 was recently elected vice-president of the Associated Women Students of the University of Nebraska at the annual election of officers. Doris Pinkerton '23 was elected as one of the senior members. Katherine Douglas '25 was chosen treasurer of the sophomore members.

Only Girl Taking Radio at Central Desires to Be Wireless Operator

"To be able to show off for company when our radio broke down was my real reason for taking radio," laughed Joyce Hackett '27 the first and only girl to ever take radio at Central high. Joyce was found in 215 after school industriously studying her next day's English. She said that radio was "no snap" and that it took a lot of time.

"I always wanted to take radio and the thought that I couldn't because I happen to be a girl never entered my head. I tried to persuade some of the other girls to take it with me but they were too shy," she explained.

"The hardest part about radio for me is drawing those awful examples of audio-frequency by amplification by resistance coupling and"—and here she reeled off at random a dozen others completely overwhelming the reporter.

"My ambition? It really sounds rather odd but I'd like to be a wireless operator on a gigantic ocean liner. I've never heard of a woman being one, but I can't see why not." And C. H. Thompson, radio instructor, for whom the situation is quite

Applicants for Journalism Society Turn In Records

Applications for membership to the Quill and Scroll must be turned in to Miss Elizabeth White, journalism instructor, by 3:30 this afternoon.

A complete record of the work done and samples of news stories and features should be pasted on typewriting paper. All students now taking journalism II and those who were on last semester's Weekly Register staff are eligible to membership.

Instructor at Y. M. C. A. to Teach Boys to Swim

Boys who cannot swim will be given a chance to learn from competent instructors at the Y. M. C. A. pool from May 3 to 15, according to E. E. Micklewright, boys' work secretary. Mr. Micklewright expects 750 boys to enroll. This free swimming school, an annual event at the "Y," has been held for 15 years. Three hundred boys were taught to swim last spring.

Enrollments will begin Monday, April 26, and will continue throughout the week.

Senior Class Selects "Seventeen" for Play

Senior play staff, which is responsible for the mechanical work of the production, includes the following: Henry Moeller, manager; Theodore Sanders, assistant manager; Carl Sipherd and Keith Ray, costume managers; Harry Hansen and Claude Mason, ticket managers; Doris Hosman, makeup mistress; James Paxton, publicity manager; Robert Rix, program manager; Betty Furth, prompter; and Allen Meitzen, head usher.

Preliminary tryouts were held in the auditorium last week, and 35 people were selected to compete in the finals which took place last Wednesday after school.

Costumes for the comedy will be made by the costume construction class. Ticket sale for the senior play will start next week.

According to Miss Floy Smith, there was such ample material presented in the tryouts that any characters not co-operating, giving their best, or keeping up in grades will be dropped from the cast.

Teachers to Attend Tea

A tea will be given for the faculty and the wives of faculty members by Mrs. J. G. Masters, wife of Principal J. G. Masters; Mrs. Irene Jensen, and Mrs. Elsie Howe Swanson, music instructors; and Mrs. Carol Marhoff Pitts, head of the music department, at the home of Mrs. Pitts, 137 North Thirty-second street, tomorrow, from 3 to 5.

Wanted, snapshots of famous people in the senior class! Mary Claire Johnson, editor of the O-Book, urged all the seniors in homeroom 215 to bring all snapshots, comical or otherwise, to 24E as soon as possible for the snapshot section in the 1926 annual.

novel, declares that he doesn't see why either.

Joyce is taking an otherwise normal course which includes Latin VI, English VI, Spanish VI, and trigonometry. She is also quite active in school affairs, being a member of Lininger Travel club, Spanish club, Girl Reserve and the only member of the "fair sex" in the Radio club. Besides her school work and her activities, she also has time to study violin and guitar on which she is quite proficient.

Her influence has spread so far that several of her friends have decided to take radio "If Joyce can," and so farwell to Mr. Thompson's entirely masculine class.

"I certainly would like to be an announcer, but I guess it's time for me to sign off now," she laughed in closing.

Classes in English VI Present Two Comedies

Two English comedies, "The School for Scandal" and "She Stoops to Conquer," were presented by the members of Mrs. Fanny Davies' two English VI classes during third and sixth hours, last week in room 122.

Those taking the leading roles in the two plays are Adah Allen, Jayne Fonda, Janie Lehnhoff, Charlotte Loomis, Betty Clarke, Whitney Kelley, Lee Shepard, Doris Cramer, Cyril Davis, Frederick Hanson, William Ure, and Ben Cowdery, all of '27.

Readers will be voted by the classes for parts in a third play, "The Rivals," to be dramatized as soon as it has been studied in the classes.

Press Club Banquets at Technical Friday

Centralites to Attend Banquet
Members of The Weekly Register staff who are attending the banquet tonight are Ruth Manning, Miriam Wells, Nora Perley, Lois Horn, Elizabeth Jonas, Ruth Willard, Beulah De Singers, Pauline Lehman, Helen Peterson, Sophia Rosensteln, Katharine Allen, Hershel Soskin, Clifford Macklin, Robert Johnson, Rezin Plotz, Ruth Ziev, Nathalia Field, and Dorothy Saxton.

Former Weekly Register staff members attending the banquet are: Bernice Elliott, Nellie Thorsen, Alice Fitch, Mary Claire Johnson, Elaine Leeka, Billie Mathews, and Tobie Steinberg.

Six journalism I students who will attend the banquet are: Neva Heffin, Tom McCoy, Luther Munson, Tom Gannett, Cecilia Bemis, Anazillah Glaze, and Harriet Hicks. From the newswriting class Evelyn Simpson, Elaine Trahanas, Gorgene Rasmussen, Gertrude Marsh, Ida Tenenbaum will attend. Lilyan Haykin, who is neither a newswriting nor a journalism student, will also go from Central.

Central Debater Wins First Place in Contest

Another first place for Central! Fairfax Dashiell '26 member of the debate team, won first place in the district declamatory contest in the extemporaneous section last Friday at North high school. His speech was on "The Farm Question."

Schools from towns all over the district were entered in the contest. Fairfax was the winner of the extemporaneous section in Central's declamatory contest.

Pupils Sign Circulars

Summer school circulars were issued during the homeroom period Wednesday morning in order to determine the will of the students in regard to a free or paid summer school. In the vote of the first 220 circulars the will of the students was much against a paid session.

Of the 220, 148 voted that they would not attend a paid session while 80 voted that they would.

Mr. Masters Gives Talk at Faculty Meeting on James'

A globe-trotting book! Principal Masters' talk at a recent faculty meeting on the chapter "Habit" in James' "Psychology" revealed the story of the famous travels of Dr. Herbert Senter's "Psychology" by James.

Thirty-three years ago when Dr. Senter, chemistry teacher at Central, was a senior at the University of Nebraska he wished to see Joe Jefferson in Rip Van Winkle. He took along with him to the play James' famous psychology book. While waiting for the play to begin, he chanced to read in this book what Jefferson said about Rip Van Winkle. Then he saw Jefferson act the play.

When Dr. Senter returned to Germany, several years ago, the only book he took with him was James' Psychology. "I didn't even take a bible with me," said Dr. Senter, "because when I reached Germany I intended to buy a German bible.

Dr. Senter loaned the book to a student who took it back with him to his home in Dunedin, New Zealand. Then this same student went to the University of Edinburgh in Scotland and there kept it one more year. Finally, the book came back into Dr. Senter's hands after its strange travels. And, in due time, Dr. Herbert Senter returned to America and his highly traveled book returned with him.

Project Notes

The mystery is solved at last! The model of a Mediaeval ballista which was placed in the project room without identification has been claimed by its owner, Clyde Everett '29, through the aid of the article in The Weekly Register.

Carven prows and gaily colored oarlocks and sails, all typical of primitive ideas of decoration adorn the model of the Viking ship made by Sten Peterson, '29. This is very exactly and carefully made, and is a particularly excellent contribution to the project room according to Miss Clarke.

GREENWICH VILLAGERS
To draw up and adopt rules for the Greenwich Villagers annual art contest was the purpose of their last meeting in room 249 last Tuesday. Prizes or a partial scholarship good for any art school will be given to the winners of the contest.

The following are the rules of the contest:
1. Seniors graduating in 1926 may compete, provided they are members of the Greenwich Village society.
2. All kinds of work may be submitted.
3. Work submitted must have been done within the last year, that is during or after June, 1925.
4. The work must be entirely original, and done without any criticism.
5. No name must appear on the work. Entrants will be given numbers.

Choice of the best work will be governed by the following: Originality, 30 percent; composition, 20 percent; drawing, 20 percent; color, 15 percent; and executive, 15 percent. All work must be turned in to Miss Mary Angood, art instructor, in 249 not later than 4 o'clock, May 7, 1926.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU
Concluding the big drive on "cleanup" week in which speeches were made before all prominent city clubs, the Speakers' Bureau members made a campaign in the school last Friday.

Board of Publication Adds two Freshmen

The faithful work of two freshmen boys, Paul Prentiss and Donald White, recently won them the positions of assistant circulation managers on The Weekly Register staff. These positions were confirmed by the Board of Publications.

The work of these boys will consist of bringing The Weekly Registers from the Douglas Printing company every Thursday evening, of counting and distributing the papers and of helping Clifford Macklin, circulation manager of The Weekly Register.

No credit will be received for this work. "However," said Miss Elizabeth White, journalism instructor, "if the positions prove satisfactory this year, they will undoubtedly be added to the list of activities in the future."

Expression IV Class Present Comedy "Hearts"

"Hearts," a one-act comedy, will be presented today during the fifth hour by members of Miss Floy Smith's expression IV class. All students having a fifth hour study may attend, providing they secure a slip from Miss Smith in room 14A and show it to their study hall teacher before the beginning of the hour. Those attending should take first lunch.

Helen Butler '26 is the director of the play. Those taking part are Janie Lehnhoff '27 as Mrs. Thorne, a young actress who has been socially tolerated by society for her husband's sake; Frances Prendergast '27 as Mrs. Martingay; Irene Howe '26 as Mrs. Russell; and Dorothy Erickson '26 as Mrs. Puff.

Songs Entertain Students

Songs and Poems of Scotland entertained students of Miss Evelyn Dudley's second and fifth hour English VII classes last Monday.

Jean Ellington and Frances Wolfe sang "My Heart's in the Highland," and Frances Cunningham gave "Highland Mary" in Scotch dialect.

GIRL RESERVES

A taffey pull for the purpose of raising money to send delegates to the Okoboji conference this year will be held this evening at the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30. It was announced at the Girl Reserve meeting a week ago yesterday. Everyone is invited; the admission will be 20 cents.

Reports were given on the all-high school banquet given last Saturday night and on the tentative plans for a Mother-Teacher-Girl Reserve dinner to be given at the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday, May 4, at 6:30. This will combine the mother-and-daughter banquet and faculty tea of former years.

The title of the meeting was "The Land of Heart's Desire," with literature as the theme. Miss Helen Clarke, English teacher, gave a short talk, "Words," stressing particularly the value of poetry in making life happy. Betty Free '29 played a piano number, followed by a review of "Ben Hur" by Mary Thomas '26.

Purple Team Departs for Drake Relays

Schmidt Enters Teams in 440-Yard, Half Mile, and Mile

Entraining on the 6:30 Rock Island train this morning the Purple and White relay teams departed for the Drake Relays at Des Moines. The relays will be run off today and tomorrow. Coach "Papa" Schmidt hopes to place his artists of the cinder path in three events, the 440-yard, half-mile, and mile relays. Tryouts were held at the Nebraska Medical track during the past week.

The first event in which Central will participate will be the preliminaries of the class A high school 440-yard relay at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The second event, the half-mile relay, will be run off at 10:30 o'clock the same morning.

Included in the possible entries for the Purple and White are Hamilton, Nestor, Jones (captain), Liebon, and Mortensen. From these men the possible 440-yard and half-mile teams will be picked. Hamilton, who has been troubled with his legs, may not be able to participate.

Entries during the last two weeks have totaled from 50 to 100 colleges and universities, and about the same number of high schools. Forty class A high schools have been entered.

Following is the time schedule:

TIME SCHEDULE, SATURDAY, P. M.

1:30—Half-Mile Relay, High School, Class A.

PALMER GALLUP

last Friday. Palmer and Joe O'Hanlon '27 were the only candidates for captaincy, according to the decision made by the Athletic Board.

Before the election, swimming letters were awarded to nine boys: "Mike" Chaloupka, Paul Enger, Palmer Gallup, Charles Gallup, Fred Larkin, Roger Smith, Frank Mockler, Joe O'Hanlon, and Whitney Kelley.

According to Coach J. G. Schmidt, who presided over the meeting, the Athletic Board awarded the letters to those boys who have been consistent point winners throughout the season and have placed in either the city or state meets or in both. Points won in the easier dual meets were not taken into consideration.

Eleven boys were present at the meeting.

Girls to Arbitrate Grade School Games

Tryouts for feminine baseball umpires to officiate in the grade school baseball games were held during the week by Miss Ellnor Bennett, baseball coach, in room 425.

Margaret Thomas, Dorothy Zimmerman, Bonnie Somers, Elly Jacobson, Mary Boyer, Marjorie Dupin, Rose Weber, Mayme Straub, Nadine Shrader, Alice Mouser, Sue Hall, and Katherine Allen are the girls who will act as umpires.

Each girl will receive five points towards her "O".

Coach Bexten Has Thirty Candidates

Coach "Skipper Louie" Bexten's second baseball team number over 30 candidates at the present. Practice games with the first team have resulted in close scores, and competition for berths on the gold-jerseyed squad will be very keen this season, according to the reserve mentor.

Practice games have also been scheduled with other schools.

Schmidt Buys Equipment

Coach J. G. Schmidt, head football coach of the Purple and White jerseyed warriors, purchased equipment for his proteges last Tuesday when a salesman from Spaulding visited "Papa."

Central Defeats Ashland 23 to 3

Slugging their way to a 23-to-3 win over the Ashland high baseball team last Friday, Coach F. Y. Knapple's nine won its second scheduled baseball game of the season. "Chuck" Cox and "Heinie" Glade did the hurling for the Centralites and allowed but three singles and a double between them in the seven innings, while they and their teammates connected with the ball safely 16 times.

"Chuck" Cox slammed out a homer in the fifth inning with the bases "choked." Fouts, playing in the Purple left garden, slammed out a triple in the third with none on and "Smiling" Dave Bleicher with a two-bagger accounted for the other Central extra base blow.

The first two innings were fairly interesting, neither team scoring, but in the third inning Central crossed the plate five times and the Ashland crew did likewise thrice. From this inning on the game was never in doubt.

North and Central Golfers to Clash

Playing the second dual meet this year, the Central golf team will oppose the North high school foursome today at the Dundee golf club. According to Coach Andrew Nelsen, the niblick sharks will tee off at 3:15.

North high's team is composed entirely of new material, yet the Eskimos have a capable bunch of players. Carroll Young, a member of Central's squad last year, is school champion, having just recently won the North high tournament. George Bles was runnerup. Louis Bles, Ed Nordstrum, and the two named above will probably play against the Purple club swingers this afternoon.

Ralph Judson, Lowell White, and Francis Wall may also get a chance.

Central's golf crew lost their first dual match to South high Thursday, April 15, by a 7-to-4 score.

Central Team to Play Tech Next Tuesday

Tech and Central, traditional rivals in all athletics, will clash on the Fontenelle park diamond next Tuesday at 4 o'clock. Liley or Glade will probably be on the mound for Coach F. Y. Knapple's proteges.

The Purple squad has an unblotted record so far this season, having scored victories over North, Creighton Prep, and Ashland. The latter contest was annexed by the lopsided score of 23 to 3. Tuesday the diamond team will be out to keep their slate clean and add another victim to its list.

The Maroons do not boast such an impressive record as the Purple combination. Tech beat Creighton Prep 12-to-3, won over North 5-to-2, but lost a shutout contest to the Packers, 6-to-0.

At any rate the struggle will be hard fought from start to finish. No admission is charged and Coach Knapple would like to see a large crowd of Central supporters at the game.

Lettermen Elect "Missouri" Jones 1926 Track Pilot

Renewing the system of regular captains on the athletic teams, "Missouri" Jones '26 was elected captain of the 1926 track team at a meeting of letter men held in room 318 last Friday after school. Ray Lepicier and "Jim" Hamilton were the other candidates for the office.

"Mizzou," who is in his fourth year of track at Central, runs regularly in the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes and is trying out for the half-mile relay of the Drake Relays and for broad-jump on the team.

Jones, Reed, Hamilton, Nestor, and Lepicier were the letter men present at the meeting.

South and Central Have Best Record among City Teams

After two weeks of inter-city high school baseball competition, South and Central are the only two teams with a record of all victories and no defeats. Central has won three contests, one from an outside team, and the Packers have annexed two victories.

North high, city champions of the diamond sport last year, seem to have struck a snag. Coach Jackson's Eskimos have so far suffered defeats at the hands of South, Tech, and Central. The North siders miss the valuable services of West, star moundsman last season.

At present Coach Knapple's proteges are making a strong bid for the city title. The Purple team has annexed wins over North and Creighton Prep in the city scramble. In addition the Central crew slugged a 23-to-3 victory over Ashland high school at the latter's home diamond.

Tech is represented with a strong bunch of athletes, but the Drummond machine lacks the pep of former years. South whitewashed the Maroons in a 6-to-0 contest and the young Bluejays from Creighton Prep trounced the Techsters 12-to-3.

South bids to give Central the strongest opposition for the city honors. The Red and White team has played consistent ball and won two encounters, Tech and North being the victims.

Rhodes! Rhodes! Wonder if he's any relation to "Choppy" at the state university. Anyway he has climbed away up in Central's sport world for a Freshman. Don't you know him? Why he's the little lad that "shags" the bats for F. Y.

Central Crew Will Engage Packer Team

Contest Starts at 4 o'clock Thursday at Fontenelle Park

After encountering Tech on the latter's home grounds Tuesday, the Purple and White diamond crew will engage the Packer crew in a seven inning tilt Thursday at Fontenelle park at 4 o'clock. South conquered Tech two weeks ago, and subjugated North a short time after. Both contests were won by lopsided scores. Central beat North, Ashland and Creighton Prep.

Liley or Glade will probably be on the mound for Central. With Cox, Fouts, and Bleicher continuing their slugging feat, and with the first class fielding of the crew Central ought to be able to add another notch to their bat although the "packing house crew" is reputed to have a high standing in the high school and is even predicted by dopsters to cop the pennant.

Coach Knapple will probably start with the lineup used in the past two games. Following is the lineup:

CENTRAL		SOUTH
Charles Cox	1b	Ohnesorg	ss
Reynolds	2b	Wakefield	1b
Tollander	3b	Ashburn	2b
Staley	ss	Mader	3b
Fouts	lf	Matulka	cf
McCreary	cf	Joe Owens	rf
Turner	rf	Hughes	lf
"Bill" Cox	c	Hupp	cf
Bleicher	c	John Owens	lf
Liley or Glade	p
