

Seniors Hold Meeting on O-Book Problem

Hold Heated Discussion About Kind of Annual Class Wants

Reporter Elected

Heyn Selected as Class Photographer; to Take Pictures at Once

According to the ballots cast by the January and June classes after a heated discussion on Tuesday morning of this week in 215, the students have numerous opinions on the question of an O-Book for 1928.

Out of the 345 seniors, only 259 voted, and 40 of these refused their support. This makes a total of 120 who are not interested in the project. In answer to the question "Do you want a limited O-Book?" 107 voted 'no' and 128 'yes.' Yet 233 pledged themselves to pay individual expenses.

Problem Not Solved

"What then, do the students who voted against a limited book and assented to the payment of individual expenses want?" declared Miss Jessie Towne when discussing the outcome of the vote. "It is hard to say. I do believe, though, that the next step is for the students to make, and that the idea of a senior book only should be emphasized at the next meeting. Most of the students do not fully understand this new suggestion," she added, "since 11 voted 'yes', 196 'no', and 50 left it blank."

The problem is far from solved, and is to be brought up again at the next meeting.

Secord Elected Reporter

The other two issues considered Tuesday were a re-vote for reporter and a vote for senior pictures. Margaret Secord defeated Paul Prentiss for reporter, and Heyn received precedence over the other photographers by a large majority. Heyn's price is $5.00 for a dozen small pictures and one enlargement. This includes a glossy print for the O-Book without extra charge. Heyn has also made the conditions that he will take care of those who want Christmas pictures before December 1 regardless of number. After that, however they must come as announced later.

Many Centralites Spend Week-ends in Hunting Ducks

If on some Friday afternoon, you see several handsome boys striding around Central's halls with guns, ammunition and what not and dressed in high boots and heavy jackets, do not be alarmed for its not Daniel Boone or any other frontiersman come to life again, but some of Central's own huntsmen.

These boys have taken up this new hobby and strange to say have more than just a story to prove their ability as huntsmen. Wilbur Wilhelm, Dave Moriarty, John Kuenalds, and James McCreary have been spending their week-ends on the Elkhorn shooting ducks. Another group which has forfeited football games, dances, etc., to go hunting is Paul Gepson, Marvin Huffman, John Ralph John Clapper, and Boyd Reitz. These boys brought back many wild tales and also nineteen ducks to prove their stories.

The most famous of all our hunters are Dick Yant and Paul Morrow who captured two birds which so far are unidentified. These boys would like to have someone solve the great mystery which surrounds the identity of these birds.

Student Gains Honor

Jack Wickstrom '31 will have his model of a gentleman's flagship displayed in Mathews' Book store during National Book Week, October 29 to November 3. Along with this ship, Mathews' will show an illustrated book called "Children's Book of Ships."

As this ship will be on display during teacher's convention, special note will be made of it in the convention for the benefit of out of town teachers. According to Miss G. Clark, this ship is very exact in its construction.

Collection Grows

Daily Central's pay collection increases in size. Since the first of September many colorful volumes have been added to the pay circulation at the rate of about three a week. Among the new books are:

"Flame of the Desert" by J. B. Ames; "Ambition" by A. C. Train; "Sea Legs" by Loomis; "Mesquite Jenkins" by Mulford; "Hawk of Como" by Oxenham; "Snapshots of Science" by Slosson; "Battle of the Horizons" by Thompson; "Dog Puncher of the Yukon" by Walden; "Precious Bane" by Webb; "When West Was West" by Wister; "Jipping Street" by Woodward; and "Beau Ideal" by Wren.

These books, all of which have been reported very interesting, can be checked out of the library for the meager price of three cents a day.

Mrs. Irene Jensen Receives Telegram from Screen Star

Clara Bow's Latest Picture, "The Fleet's In" Comes to Riviera

"Greetings to Omaha's fairest re-heads. Know you will enjoy my latest picture which opens at the Riviera theater Friday."—Clara Bow.

This was the telegram received by the Titian club Tuesday night from the well known movie star. The telegram was addressed to Mrs. Irene Jensen, sponsor of the club. The Titians have been very prominent and have done much work in the last year. Besides ushering for all stage productions given during the past year, such as the opera, Senior and Junior Glee clubs, Senior play, and graduation, they ushered for all mass meetings and movies given at school.

The girls took care of a family at Thanksgiving, sponsored a highly successful book week, and started the plan of keeping the library supplied with flowers. Since the Titians furnished the library with flowers for two weeks, the various clubs have adopted the suggestion and now the library is never without the flowers.

New Plan Devised by Miss Shackell's Freshman Students

John Vogel, William Wood Paint Alphabet Letters for Class

In order to remember the third declension words, the members of Miss Bessie Shackell's seventh hour Latin II A class are mounting pictures taken from magazines which represent the words of this declension. For example, a girl in a bright native costume is used to represent a woman, a large clipper, a ship, and a clock represents time.

Almost all of the clippings are taken from magazines and are mounted on white pasteboard on which a letter of the alphabet has been painted. The painting of these letters was done by John Vogel and William Wood. Each student in the class was assigned a few letters for which to find pictures. The most colorful of the pictures were chosen since these are the ones that show up best. Oral drills are held with the cards in order to give the members of the class a better understanding of the Latin words.

Pay Collection Trial Found to be Success

As an experiment, the library purchased for the pay collection a copy of Edna St. Vincent Millay's new book of poems, "The Buck in the Snow." There was some hesitation in buying it as it was feared that not enough teachers and students would read the book in order to pay for the original cost.

The great surprise came when three people asked for the book before it had left the hands of the cataloger. These people showed more interest in the book than is usual for anything of this type. Now the question before the librarians is, do the faculty and students of Central high school want more poetry or is it Mrs. Millay's work that they desire? Read this new book and then give your opinion.

Mr. Frank Almy Presents Lecture on Primitive Arts

First of Series of Talks Given on October 18 in Our Auditorium

Mr. Frank Almy of the Art Institute, lectured in the auditorium on oriental and primitive art, on October 18. Mr. Almy showed many slides explaining his subjects. This lecture is the first of a series to be given by Mr. Almy.

Mr. Almy began showing and telling about the primitive art which was really the fashioning of weapons for use in securing food; next came the drawings on cave walls or rocks. These first drawings were all of animals, for, as Mr. Almy explained, man had not yet grown to observe himself as closely as he observed the animals. The next stage in the development of art was modeling. Primitive man modeled the animals and birds he saw. "Of course, these attempts at sculpture are not very artistic, but they show remarkable observation," said Mr. Almy.

"As soon as man learned the uses of fire, he learned also, that by burning certain clays he could make them hard, and so he began to make pottery. Some of the pottery has some very pretty designing on it, man was beginning to use dyes and was developing an eye for color," explained the artist.

After the slides of primitive art, came the slides on Egyptian art. Mr. Almy explained the temples of the early Egyptians, he showed slides of the pyramids, sphinx, temples, statues, and urns. He told about the early customs of burying the dead with all their wealth around them, and their servants near them.

Ex-Central Teacher and Daughter Killed in Automobile Crash

Dr. Harris M. Benedict, professor of botany at the University of Cincinnati and former teacher of Central, was killed in an automobile accident a week ago last Wednesday. Dr. Benedict came to Central in 1889 as a teacher of biology and physiology. In 1900 he was made head of the biology department.

He was often referred to as a Second Burbank because of his wonderful research work with plants. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Doane college, Crete, Neb., in 1894, his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Nebraska in 1896, and his Master of Arts degree in 1898.

Dr. Benedict's daughter, Jean, was also killed in the accident and another daughter was seriously injured.

The next meeting will be held November 6.

Assistant Superintendent Smith Advocates Adoption of Junior High School Idea Here

"The time will come when Omaha will be a back number, if the junior high school system is not adopted," declared Leon Smith, assistant superintendent of schools, when interviewed Wednesday afternoon at his office in the City Hall.

Mr. Smith further explained that this was true because most of the prominent cities have even now attained and are encouraging this new development.

"The junior high schools are certainly beneficial and worth while," he continued, "providing a diversification of subjects, an abridgement of the gap between grammar and senior high school, and the installment of a greater number of men teachers who are in demand at the present time. The average seventh grade student is not old enough to

Mrs. Jensen Leads Songs

Showing great enthusiasm, Central's student body held a mass meeting this morning in the auditorium to boost the team for the Lincoln-Central game to be played Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Creighton stadium.

Many High School Journalists Gather for Convention

Professor of Journalism at Iowa University Addresses the Group

"Because everyone uses words, and his use of them is an index to his social position, a turning point to failure, or a key to success, aspiring journalists should make an individual study of any unfamiliar word," said Professor F. L. Mott, director of the Journalism school at the University of Iowa in addressing the delegates of the third annual high school journalism convention at Iowa City, October 19 and 20.

Many of the professors of the university spoke to the 350 delegates on various subjects. Besides Professor Mott's speech "Making Words Work for You" there were addresses on "Getting a Job on a City Paper," "What a Student Learns in the School of Journalism," "What We Expect of High School Journalists," "My Experience in Journalism," by a former feature writer of a Des Moines paper and many others. The round table discussions for both students and teachers were to criticize the publications, making suggestions on circulation, advertising, annuals, magazines, details of newspaper publication, etc.

The convention was sponsored by the University of Iowa, School of Journalism, which provided sleeping quarters, entertained at banquets, and in many other ways honored the delegates. They were also given the opportunity of aiding in the publication of the Daily Iowan's Sunday morning edition.

Members of Stage Craft Class Build Useful Articles

Construct Speaking Platform, Megaphone; Repair Other Things in School

Members of J. J. Kerrigan's stage craft class have built many things for the various departments during the last two months. One of these is a new platform, much larger than the old one, which was made for the expression department and placed in room 140.

The new megaphone that the members of the varsity cheering squad have been sporting is also the work of the boys in this class. The foot lights on the auditorium stage have been rebuilt in order to prepare for the productions which will be given there during the coming year. Old scenery was remodeled and repainted in order to be used in the play, "Duley." Stands for announcements which may be used for musical programs or for the Road Show have been built and painted purple.

The stands for the silverware in the cafeteria are also the work of this group of boys.

Co-operation in Library Praised by E. Cauthorn

"You have a very fine school and I enjoyed especially seeing your library where the cooperation of the students is extraordinary," said E. B. Cauthorn, assistant superintendent of schools of Dallas, Texas, who visited Central last Friday morning. Mr. Cauthorn is making a three months' tour of the country to investigate the various methods employed in the schools in the different parts of the United States.

Mr. Cauthorn also commented on the regiment and was interested to note that drill has been initiated at North high school. In Dallas every school has drill and during the summer the boys have a junior department of the R. O. T. C.

Richard Walker, '24 Makes Outstanding Record at College

Achieving an outstanding scholastic record at Dartmouth college for the year 1927-1928 was the record of Richard Walker '24 according to an announcement sent by the college to Principal J. G. Masters. Richard's name is to appear in "Records of Men of Distinctive Scholastic Accomplishment," a book of the educational achievements of students at Harvard, Yale, William, Columbia, and Dartmouth.

During his four years at Central, Richard's record, both in grades and activities, was unusually good. Among his numerous activities were Senior Hi-Y, secretary (4); Group Picture Editor O-Book (4); Chairman Senior Banquet Committee (4); and as a recognition of his outstanding achievements he was elected to the National Honor society.

Richard specialized in languages during his four years at Central, taking four years of Latin and three years of French. "Because Dartmouth's scholastic standard is unusually high, we should feel especially proud of his achievements," commented Principal Masters.

During a recent storm, the radio in the Project room was damaged, but under the supervision of Thomas Organ, it was repaired. Brother of Mr. Barnhill Killed in Auto Accident

Mr. G. E. Barnhill, mathematics teacher, has been absent from school this week because of the death of his brother of Muskogee, Louisiana. Mr. Barnhill was killed in an automobile accident. Blinded by the bright lights of an advancing car, he ran into a ditch, and his car overturned. Miss Florence Steverding took charge of Mr. Barnhill's classes during his absence.

Sandor Harmati Wishes Every Student Could Attend Each Symphony Concert

"I only wish every Omaha school student could attend the concerts we are to give this winter," said Sandor Harmati, conductor of the Omaha Symphony orchestra, when interviewed at the close of a rehearsal of the orchestra, at the Omaha Musik Verein last Monday. Mr. Harmati explained that it was not for the sake of the orchestra that he urged students to attend but because of the educational value of the concerts.

"The entire season of the Omaha symphony includes six concerts—the first to be given November 1, at which Paul Kochanski, violinist, is to be soloist. The next two programs are to be entirely orchestral, and Elsa Alsen, dramatic soprano, is to be soloist on January 17, when a program of Wagnerian music will be given. The soloist for the last concert to be given is Marie Milkoga, a former Omaha girl, who has received very favorable press notices from Eastern critics."

Mr. Harmati is internationally known as a conductor, is a composer of symphonic works and songs, has been guest conductor of the Pasdeloup orchestra in Paris, the New York Symphony, and the St. Louis orchestra and has brought the Omaha Symphony to rank as one of the ten finest in the country.

Although very fond of his career and having attained great success, Mr. Harmati, in speaking of music as a profession, says, "To be a good musician, one must sacrifice so much in life that I never encourage anyone to make music his life work."

Mr. Harmati was born in Salisbury, England, is of Hungarian parentage, and from a slightly musical family. He has, he says, been deeply interested in music from an early age.

Mr. Harmati is of medium height, has light hair and grey-blue eyes, a musical voice with slight foreign accent, a delightful smile, and expressive hands. He is a man whose personality is striking, and who, when once met, is not forgotten.

Fun for Everyone at S. B. Initiation

Marriage, Proposals, Football Games, Fake Quartets at Speakers' Fest

"I'm sorry, but I don't believe I'd care to marry you!" was the astonishing answer made by Marjorie Beauschne to the proposal offered by Dick Kent at the initiation of the new members of Speakers' Bureau in room 140 last Friday. So Dick got off his knees, and dusted off his trousers, while Marjorie was helped from her seat (the speakers' stand!) by no less than three gallants!

Amid blushes and much laughter the initiation continued to the confusion and consternation of the "freshmen." Imagine staid Madeline Johnson standing on tiptoe in an attempt to keep her nose in a circle drawn near the top of the blackboard! The old members of the bureau were entertained further by the song sung by Marjorie Beauschne, "Buzz" Cowdery, Madeline Johnson, and Dick Kent. The only trouble with the song was that each member of the quartet sang a different number, so naturally the selection was most original and interesting. Robert Davis and "Buzz" Cowdery played an exciting football game which was greatly appreciated by the members. The initiation of the rest of the new members will take place as soon as possible.

The new members as they were chosen from the recent tryouts are: Marjorie Beauschne, Leigh Eggers, Madeline Johnson, Frances Morgan, Frank Cowdery, Robert Davis, Richard Kent, Fred Kerr, Jack Kingery, and Elbert Hoisington.

History Club Has Speakers on Campaigns

Two Former Senators, Norris Brown and Gilbert Hitchcock, Make Speeches

Miss Griffin Presides

To explain the issues of the presidential campaign was the purpose of the speeches made by former senators Norris Brown and Gilbert Hitchcock at the meetings of the History club held in the library at 4 o'clock on Wednesday.

Miss Juliette Griffin, president of the club, opened the meeting with a short quotation from Thucydides. She then introduced Mr. Brown, who stated that this year's presidential campaign was one of extreme interest to all classes of people. Mr. Brown, who is a republican, then explained several issues of the campaign.

Mr. Hitchcock was then introduced by Miss Griffin. The former senator for Nebraska gave a review of the republican administration during the last eight years. He spoke particularly of the decline of agriculture and the advance of industry during these years. He also gave an outline of the life of Alfred E. Smith and told of the work which the governor has done during his four terms.

Tea was served before the program. Among those present were the members of the club, Central teachers, reporters from the city papers, and a few members of the D. A. R.

Ralph Thompson had his arms rather full at the South-Central game. Well—er—maybe we hadn't better mention Harriet and Beverly here.

Two girls' hockey teams were selected Wednesday by Miss Bennett. The teams will play a series of five games every Tuesday until the week of Thanksgiving. At the end of the series the losers will entertain the winners at a party of some kind.

Miss Bennett has succeeded in securing the football field west of Central for the practices on Tuesday. Previous to this time the field at Thirty-second and Dewey had been used.

Hockey is the most expensive of girl's sports and fewer girls play it. Miss Bennett expressed the wish that the school might furnish the equipment and thereby enable more girls to play.

The temporary captains are Betty Tebbens, White; and Louise Sonderegger, Purple.

Has anyone see our cat? If so, where? He's gone, and there's a poor little girl in 118 who is absolutely lost without her playmate. You see it is this way. Tuesday morning a tiny, little gray kitten was found wandering helplessly in our halls. Someone, feeling kind, brought it in to the Register office (a good place for lost cats, etc.), and there it received tender care and a home (for about an hour), not to speak of food from the cafeteria.

The little ad manager was particularly attached to the animal and was therefore greatly grieved when the heartless janitor refused to allow it to remain in the building. And now for a secret. Shh! It has been rumored that ever our dignified principal spent a childish half hour playing with the soft young thing before it was cruelly expelled from the school and cast into the cold.

Therefore, if you, by any chance, see any sign of a half grown cat please notify its lamenting mistress, Hermine Green.

Edward Evans Legion President

After a hotly contested election in which every vote counted, Edward Evans '28 was chosen as the new president of the Purple Legion to replace John Rogers who resigned because of too many activity points. At the meeting held Wednesday in room 120, the Legion first selected Paul Wiemer as president but in another election chose Edward as Paul also had too many points.

Following the election, Mr. Hill, sponsor, urged every member to attend tomorrow's game with Lincoln to boost school spirit, and present the stunt between the halves which the Legion sponsors at every game.

Edward Evans, in addition to this new position, is a member of Student Control, and secretary of the Gentlemen's French club.

Central Opens Relations With Lincoln Squad

Red and Black Warriors In Good Shape for Battle; Centralites Anxious

Game at Creighton

After a period of three years, Omaha Central and Lincoln High will resume relations on the gridiron when the two teams meet tomorrow afternoon on the Creighton stadium sod. Again the Purple athletes will be the underdogs but in this time of upsets and such, the pre-game dope does not mean a thing.

Lincoln Has Fine Record

The Lincoln high aggregation comes to Omaha with a very fine record for this season, with wins over some of the best high school teams in the state. They defeated Hastings 19 to 0 and have a 30 to 0 win over Beatrice, the team that Central defeated 26 to 7. The Capitol City lads also have a 24 to 0 victory over Thomas Jefferson of Council Bluffs. Coach Browne always turns out a winning team, winning national fame last year, and it looks as though his outfit this year is about as good as any in the state.

Backfield Fast and Heavy

In Sauer and Weyand, Coach Browne has two very capable ball carriers, Sauer being a very fast man and excellent at skirting the ends, while Weyand is a hard plunging fullback that literally tore the Beatrice line to pieces. Captain Harold Schmidt looks like one of the best tackles in the state and should be a menace to the Purple backs. The Lincoln team is not a heavy team but has exceptionally fine teamwork and has a swift, smooth running attack.

Central Gains New Men

On the other side of the fence is the much strengthened Central team, which has three new men in the line-up, because of the repealing of the eight semester rule, that will be fighting for victory in sight of their tie with North and loss to South in the last two weeks. The addition of Clancy, Van Dahl, and Currey will greatly help the Central team and the battle should prove very close.

First Meet Since 1925

In the past week's workouts the Purple backs have been going very good, and the line seemed to have struck its gait and was functioning to perfection. Mac Baldrige was back in the cage helping the boys and Coach Knapple was glad to have his assistance.

The game tomorrow will be the first meeting of the two schools on the gridiron since 1925 when the Lincoln boys took the Eagles in camp by 21 to 0. So the Central men will also be out for revenge and will fight all the harder in an attempt to even matters with the Lincolnites.

With the season well under way Omaha South maintains a strong lead in the inter-city football league with the Creighton lads running second. Although Central has not made a dazzling record, so far, she is on a par with her traditional foe, Omaha Tech. Both Central and Tech have a win, a tie, and a loss to their credit. Following are the standings of the teams.

	W. L. T.	Pct.	Pts.	Op.

The blue-jerseyed Seniors and the yellow clad Sophomores, in the second game of the inter-class loop, battled to a 6 to 6 tie on the Central grid, Tuesday.

The first three quarters of the game were uneventful and neither team had any decided advantage. But in the final quarter Ted Ruff took the ball on a long end run and scored a touchdown for the Seniors. The Sophs, not to be out done by the Seniors, took the ball across the Blue's goal on a long pass, in the last few seconds of the game. Both teams missed their try for extra point and the game resulted in a tie.

Mary Alice Kelly '29 returned to school Tuesday after two weeks absence. She had an operation for appendicitis at the Nicholas Senn hospital.

Central Freshmen Defeat Southmen By 18 to 0 Count

Freshman League Standings

TECH	2 2 0	1.000	12	0
SOUTH	2 0 2	.000	0	24
NORTH	2 0 2	.000	0	34

By defeating the South high freshmen in their second game at Athletic park Tuesday afternoon, the Central frosh remained in a tie for the lead of the Freshman league with the Tech first year men. The Purple lads were supreme all during the game and clearly earned the 18 to 0 victory over the South side boys.

Central Kicks to South

Central kicked off to South and from then on until the last minutes of the game South never was near the Eagles' goal line but was kept on the defense. Central's first score came in the first period after they received the ball on South's 35-yard line as the result of a blocked kick. With "Bill" Thomas and Lee Roberts carrying the ball, Central advanced the ball to the six-yard line where Thomas went across for the first score. The try for point failed.

Central Has Chances

In the second quarter Central had two good chances to score but both times lost the ball on fumbles. After Thomas had kicked to South, Saunders, Central end, recovered a South fumble and ran to the 15-yard line before he was downed. Then it took Thomas and Roberts only five plays to make the score, Roberts crossing the line on a line smash. Thomas' dropkick for the extra point was wide.

Eagles Recover Fumble

The junior Eagles' third touchdown came as the result of a South fumble which was recovered on the 46-yard line by Thompson. Here Thomas and Roberts again started a march that resulted in the third score. The frosh were nearly stopped when they had eight yards to go on the fourth down but a pass from Thomas to Roberts saved the day. Three plays later Johnny Thomas, small Purple quarterback took the ball across on a sneak play. Again his kick for the extra point was bad. The fourth period was the only time South threatened to score but their only chance was lost when they fumbled on the 20-yard line and Central recovered. The remainder of the game was merely an exchange of punts, the game ending with South in possession of the ball on Central's 40-yard line.

Central Outplays Packers

The Central yearlings outplayed their opponents in every department of the game, making 12 first downs to two for South. The South team tried several passes but did not complete a one due to the fine defense presented by the Central backs. Central's line functioned very well throughout the whole game and the heavy South backs could not make any headway which is shown by the fact that the two South first downs were both made after Central had received five-yard penalties.

Many Men Look Well

Thomas and Roberts were the big guns in Central's offensive power with Saunders, Draney, and Walsh playing the best defensive game of the linemen.

Although there was little scoring done during the past week, South managed to make 13 points, Tech 6, and Thomas Jefferson 7. This is a small amount of markers when it is taken into consideration that there was a total of almost one-hundred points scored last week. Following are the leading scorers:

Coecker, A. L.	18
T. Marfis, Creighton	14
Blankenship, South	13
Waszgis, South	12
Wurl, A. L.	12

North Hold Eaglemen On Muddy Field

Knuple's Men Get Surprise In Stiff Defensive Play Of Vikings

Passing Attack Feature

Playing upon a mud-soaked field, the Norsemen and Centralites battled to a scoreless tie at the University of Omaha gridiron, Saturday.

The playing consisted mostly of end runs by North and a passing attack by the Central squad. Due to the mud there was little opportunity for any outstanding plays. The best ground gainer for the Norsemen was Raschke, who was continually breaking away around end for a number of yards.

Equal Chances to Score

Both teams had an equal chance to score. North's chance came in the second quarter when Elliot of the Viking crew, intercepted a Purple pass on the 40-yard line. A series of end runs by the tiny Raschke placed the oval on the 12-yard line. However, the "Polars" lost the ball on downs trying to crash the center of the line.

The break for Central came on the opening kickoff in the third quarter on a fumble. Central recovered the ball on the Northmen's 35-yard line. Here Central started a steady march down the field for what looked like a sure touchdown. The combination of Wilhelm to Lungren through the air netted the Centralites 15-yards and a first down. Two powerful plunges through the line by full-back Gloc made second downs. With only nine yards to go and four downs to do it in, the Purple and White started for the Viking's goal line. The Eagles advanced the ball to the one foot line but were not able to thrust it over. The Viking's line held like a solid wall and would not let the Centralites put the ball over for a touchdown. Central lost the ball on downs.

Just 15 seconds before the final whistle, Central opened up a real attack via the aerial route. A long pass from Central's 40-yard line carried the ball to North's 25-yard line. Then a short pass gained another ten yards and placed the ball on their 15-yard line. The whistle blew so Central's last chance to score was gone. Those that played best for Central were Wilhelm and Gloc, while Raschke was the most outstanding for North.

Abraham Lincoln Has Stiff Attack Against Bextenites

With an unexpected barrage of end runs, the Abraham Lincoln seconds pulled a fast one on the Central seconds in the game at Fontenelle field and almost crossed the goal line of the purple and white, but the little Eagles held and the result was 6 to 0 with Central's goal still uncrossed.

After three games in the second loop the Centralites still have not had their goal line crossed. In the last eight seconds of play in the Abraham Lincoln-Central game the record was almost lost, but the boys in blue failed to puncture the Central line.

Central Downs Blue in Tracks

Central kicked off to Abraham Lincoln and the crimson and blue aggregation was downed in its tracks and took the ball on the 35-yard line. A fumble by Abraham Lincoln gave Central the ball on Abraham Lincoln's 35-yard line. After making first downs on line plays, D. Giangrosso stepped back, passed to Everetts, who crossed the goal for a touchdown. However, Giangrosso missed the extra point. Central kicked off again and Abraham Lincoln returned the ball to the 40-yard line. A fumble on their first play again gave Central the ball, but they kicked and the boys from Iowa returned the punt to the 40-yard line. After making first down on a long end run the quarter ended with Abraham Lincoln in possession of the ball, first downs, and ten yards to go.

Many Passes Attempted

Abraham Lincoln began the second quarter with a pass which was intercepted by Central and returned to the 45-yard line. The Purple lost the ball on a fumble and a long end run put it on the 30-yard line. Central took the ball on downs and on the first play Ted Ruff took the ball through for eight yards, and on another line plunge Central made first downs. After three downs Central kicked to the 10-yard line, but Abraham Lincoln booted the pigskin back again. Central took the ball this time on the 35-yard line. A pass good for 15 yards and first down ended the march for the goal, however, and Abraham Lincoln held until the whistle blew for the half.

Again Central kicked off and again the Blues were halted on their own 35-yard line. Abraham Lincoln kicked and Central returned to their own 40-yard line. After three downs Central kicked and the rest of the quarter was a punting duel, neither side making any first downs or spectacular plays.

A. L. Tries Air Route
Abraham Lincoln opened the final quarter with a passing attack but their aerial efforts were of no avail. Rose intercepted a pass and returned it to the fifty yard line. In line plunges and end runs the little Eagles made two consecutive first downs. But the march was again halted when the Abraham Lincoln line tightened.

Competition Again Open to Athletes

Again the statement "the third time is the charm" was proved correct in the abolishment of the eight semester rule which many high school coaches have been waiting for. The old rule permitting four years of competition in athletics regardless of number of years in school was voted back while the vote on changing the age limit from 20 to 21 years was defeated by the close margin of thirteen votes.

Three Ballots Cast

Ever since the eight semester rule was passed in 1927, there has been considerable wrangling over the rule and now it is finally repealed after having three different ballots on it. The first objection to the rule was made last year at the meeting of coaches in Lincoln during the State High school track meet, at which a vote was taken, only to find that it was still to hold good. A second vote was taken September 1 when ballots were sent to all members of the Nebraska High School Athletic association to be voted and returned. On counting the votes it was found that the majority were against the rule but that enough votes had not been sent in for legal count according to the constitution of the association. Again ballots were sent out by Coach Black of Nebraska and on counting them last Friday night in Lincoln it was found that there were enough votes and that the rule was in effect no longer.

Changes Many Teams

This vote will change the personnel of many high school grid teams and one of them is Omaha Central. Frank Currey, 185 pound reserve of last year is eligible for the team and will bolster the Purple line considerably. Central's backfield will receive two men—Clyde "Irish" Clancy and Don "Shiek" Van Dahl. Clyde was a regular last year and was honorable mention for the all-city team while Don has been a reserve for two years, being unable to play last year because of poor grades.

Other Omaha high schools will also receive men that have not been playing to date but none will benefit as much as Central. With Clancy and Van Dahl in the backfield playing with Lungren and Wilhelm, the Purple ball-lugging quartet should be the fastest in the city if not also the best.

Purple Squad Plays Iowans Next Saturday

Sioux City Central Journeys to Omaha With Many Wins to Credit

With a victory over Thomas Jefferson High school of Council Bluffs, the Sioux City Central High school football team will come to Omaha to meet the Purple gridmen November 3 on the Creighton gridiron. The Sioux City lads have a very good diversified attack as they are well manned in all departments of the game.

Soos Have One Loss

The Central High team of Sioux City has a very good record so far this season with three victories and one loss. In the opening game of the season, Coach Martin's boys took a victory from Mapleton by 66-0 which gives some idea of their strength. Their only loss of the season was in their second game, losing to Vermillion by the close margin of 9-7. In the last two weeks, the Iowans have gained victory's over Fort Dodge and Thomas Jefferson.

Have Fast Backfield

The Sioux City team has a fast running attack with Caulk and Linfor carrying the brunt of the attack. Both of these men are track performers and should prove very capable of running the Purple's ends, judging from the showing made against North last week when Rasche ran the ends ragged. Bland is a heavy, hard plunging fullback and should be good for gains through the light Central line. The Martin coached boys also have a good passing attack that was functioning well in the final quarter of the Thomas Jefferson game and was responsible for their late rally that brought victory.

On the other hand the Purple warriors will be out for revenge because of the defeat handed them last year by the Sioux City team. Central will be somewhat improved over the squad that has been playing the last few games with the addition of Clancy, Van Dahl, and Currey. All three have been ineligible because of the eight semester rule, but now that it is abolished they are eligible and will add considerable strength to the Purple team. In workouts this week Coach Knapple has been working Clancy and Van Dahl in the backfield with Wilhelm and Lungren as the other two men. This combination working together in a game would give Central one of the best backfields in the state and probably the fastest in the city.

Line to be in Condition

Frank Currey is a large lineman weighing 185 pounds from "Yost's" last year second team and should fill a place in the Eagles' line as soon as he learns all the plays and signals. This addition would add plenty of weight to the Central line that is none too strong at the present time and can stand plenty of beef. Poff will be in fine condition for this game and the Purple line should be functioning well.

As it stands the two teams stack up very close and the game should be one of the best high school contests this year. The fact that Sioux City beat Thomas Jefferson and that in scrimmages with that school, Central usually gets the best of the argument only goes to show that the teams are very evenly matched and should have a battle royal when they meet November 3 at Creighton Stadium.
