O. B. Book

GO AWAY

This book is mine

I bought it

And I like it fine

I am the one

Who helped to choose it

And the world would end

If I should lose it

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Fifty-eight seniors, twenty-eight girls and thirty boys, gained the greatest honor Central High can confer upon its students. Ranking in the upper fourth of their class in scholastic achievement, these students were chosen for character, service to the school, and initiative. A faculty committee under the chairmanship of Principal J. G. Masters made the selections. The committee included Assistant Principals Fred Hill and Jessie Towne, and Miss Nell Bridenbaugh, Miss Mary Elliott, Mrs. Bernice Engle, O. J. Franklin, J. J. Guenther, Mrs. Irene Jensen, Miss Myrna Jones, F. Y. Knapple, Mrs. Augusta Turpin, Miss Helen Lane, Miss Bertha Neale, Mrs. Anne Savidge, J. G. Schmidt, Miss Chloe Stockard, Miss Sara Vore Taylor, and Mrs. Margarita Rosemont.

Belonging to the National Honor society bestows the same dignity upon a high school student that membership in Phi Beta Kappa does upon a college student. It is a proof of superiority in academic work, support of school activities, and real service to Central High. Trustworthiness, leadership, and good sportsmanship are the character traits especially considered in the appointment of students to the honorary fraternity. We of Central High have a special reason for being proud of this organization, as it was Principal Masters who founded it in 1921. He believed that high schools should give some form of recognition to students of marked ability and school spirit. Now nation-wide in its scope, the society has over two thousand chapters throughout the United States. Including the fifty-eight seniors elected this year, 802 students have been admitted to membership in the Central High chapter of the society in the eighteen years of its existence.

The Reverend Robert Sheridan Miller of the First Unitarian church announced the names of Central's eighteenth honor group at an all-school assembly on April 22. Miss Taylor, head of the English department, greeted the students as they came to the platform. In his address, Reverend Miller said, "Schools are now bringing the more talented people to the foreground by discovering their abilities. The world today is ahead of the past in honoring its talented, but many still go to their graves without the world realizing their abilities."

By achieving these remarkable records, students are not only improving and benefiting themselves, but are helping keep up Central's outstanding ranking in educational circles of the United States. Central is widely recognized for its notable body of teachers and officials, but always the final test of an educational institution lies in the quality of students it sends out into the world. National Honor society membership will be recognized throughout the country. This distinction is one reward for meritorious work during high school.

SENIOR OFFICERS AND SPONSORS

Officers for the graduating class of June, 1938, were chosen early in the semester to facilitate management of senior enterprises. Ray Low was elected president. Other officers were Orville Olson, vice president; Jayne Williams, secretary; and Bruce Macalister, treasurer. The boys' and girls' sergeants at arms were Lee Seemann and Mary Maenner, respectively. Roger Crampton was class parliamentarian, and class reporter was Elaine Lagman.

Popular and helpful, Miss Julia Carlson was the executive sponsor of the class and was mainly responsible for the organization of senior activities. Other faculty sponsors were Mrs. Grace Knott, Miss Maybel Burns, J. J. Guenther, Mrs. Florence Roush, Miss Ruth Pilling, and J. G. Schmidt.

Each of the three senior home rooms elected its own presiding officers. Chairman of Home Room 325 was George Wales; vice chairman, Don Osborn; secretary, Harry Otis; treasurer, Bill Pangle; sergeants at arms, Lyle Wilson and Margaret Holman. In the new auditorium, Lawrence Klein was chairman; Shirley Hoffman, vice chairman; Philip Ford, secretary; Eyvind Neble, treasurer; girls' sergeant at arms, Betty Mallo; and boys' sergeant at arms, Leslie Johnson. Officers in 215 were: Chairman, Norma Rose Myers; vice chairman, Stanton Miller; secretary, Mary Jane Kopperud; treasurer, Dick Selby; sergeants at arms, June Bliss and Bill O'Brien. On Tuesdays and Thursdays the three groups met in joint session in the new auditorium. The seniors attended their assigned home rooms the remainder of the week.

The January graduates chose John Mossman as class president. Roger Iliff was selected vice president and Betty Fry, secretary. Marie Mauro was treasurer, Jennie DiBinardo, girls' sergeant at arms and Anthony Inserra, boys' sergeant at arms. Miss Dorothy Anderson was faculty sponsor.

SENIOR COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN

In order to aid the senior sponsors in making plans and in organizing the activities of the graduating class of 1938, the senior committee chairmen, a group of outstanding members of the class, were chosen.

"The College Chump," the senior play, was handled successfully under the able management of ticket chairman Howard Rosenblum, assisted by Bruce Macalister, Fannie Firestone, Eugene Marsh, James Waldie, Phillip Ford, Howard Scott, Helen Coyne, John Catlin, George Dyball, and Mary Jean McCarthy. Howard Turner was in charge of publicity for the play. Members of his committee were Mary Jane Kopperud, Walter Anderson, Virginia Menning, Mary Piper, Walter Taylor, and Tom Porter.

The popularity contest committee, headed by Shirley Hoffman, consisted of Harry Otis, Mary Lou Ball, Bernice Horeis, Robert Stelzer, Homer Rogers, Ann Weaver, and James McDonald.

Betty Jeanne Clarke was chairman of the committee which selected the commencement announcements to be used by the senior class. Other members of the committee were James Clapper, Barbara Beerman, Howard Rosenblum, Catherine Lynch, James Richardson, and Phillip Ford.

Plans for the social affairs including the senior banquet and dance at the Fontenelle hotel were under the chairmanships of Mary Maenner, Evelyn Paeper, Melvin Tannenbaum, Buster Slosburg, and Arlene Solomon. Assisting them were Betty Mallo, Stanton Miller, Tom Uren, Donna Neely, Virginia Gallup, Dorothy Chait, and Nellie Forrest Gaden.

MONITORS' COUNCIL

An increase in the number of seats in the library this term has made it possible for one hundred and eighteen students to work in the library each hour — a total of nine hundred and forty-four during the day.

There are twenty-one monitors in the library each hour. Each monitor is in charge of one table and is responsible for keeping order at his table. Each semester the monitors elect a council composed of one monitor from each hour. The council for this semester consisted of John Mayher, James McDonald, James Haugh, John Chamberlain, Norma Rose Myers, Samuel Wintroub, Loretta Rychly, and Jean Meredith.

The library has added approximately two hundred volumes, not including pay collection books, to its shelves this term. The addition of many of the more recent books to the pay collection enables students to become acquainted with and to read the latest and most popular publications. The library subscribes to thirty magazines, one daily paper, and one Sunday paper.

About forty students, including NYA workers, post graduates, and student control members, assist in the library each term. These students aid in mending, cataloging, and circulating books; registering students; and taking care of the book shelves.

The library staff is composed of Mrs. Hazel Stewart, head librarian; Mrs. Catherine Blanchard, and Miss Margaret Weymuller, assistant librarians.

SENIOR PLAY

With over one hundred and fifteen seniors participating, the senior play of the class of 1938 was presented under the able direction of Miss Myrna Jones. The play, "The College Chump," is a comedy of abundant youth and is based on the amusing way a victim of an inferiority complex rises above his handicap.

The cast was mainly composed of experienced players, most of whom had participated in various other plays during their high school career. Robert W. Buchanan played the part of John Miller, "our hero" with the inferiority complex; June Bliss, the part of Marjorie Blake, a smart young college lass; Anabel Shotwell, the part of Julia Winters, a vain, sophisticated Iowa coed; Charles Barber, the part of "Spike" Hoyt, captain of the Iowa track team; and Ray Low, the part of "Magpie" Welch, the peppy cheer leader.

Henrietta Backlund was assistant director; Frances Morris, student director; Arlene Solomon, prompter; Elaine Lagman and Mary Lou Troughton, costume mistresses. Make-up was under the direction of Miss Frances McChesney.

Howard Rosenblum was business manager; Bruce Macalister, ticket manager; Frank M. Rice, stage manager. Howard Turner was in charge of the publicity.

The orchestra was under the direction of Henry G. Cox. Ushers were the non-commissioned R. O. T. C. officers.

JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

Membership in the Junior Honor society is the highest distinction underclassmen can achieve. Founded in 1923 by Principal J. G. Masters, the fraternity proposes to recognize in underclassmen those qualities on which the National Honor society bases its choice of seniors.

Superiority in character, conduct, and scholarship is requisite for election to the Junior Honor society. Juniors chosen must show real service to the school and participation in Central's activities. Scholastic requirements are at least two A's and no grade lower than B, unless the student is carrying five credits; in that case one C is allowed. The organization consists of three chapters: Epsilon for Freshmen, Delta for Sophomores, and Gamma for Juniors. The two hundred students elected this year were chosen by a committee of seventeen teachers under the chairmanship of Miss Amanda Anderson. Active membership ceases at the end of one year. Graduates who have belonged are considered honorary members.

Announcement of the election was made in Central High auditorium on May 2. Mr. Frank Rice called to the platform the Juniors elected to the Gamma chapter; Miss Irma Costello announced the Delta chapter; and Miss Josephine Frisbie introduced the Epsilon chapter. Dr. H. A. Senter, former head of the chemistry department and dean of faculty at Central, delivered the charge. He warned the students to "remember to be builders, not wreckers, when they assume responsibilities."

PUBLICATIONS

THE CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER, founded in 1886, is published weekly by the journalism department under the direction of Mrs. Anne Savidge. In recognition of its journalistic merit, the paper has been awarded the All-American rating again this year by the National Scholastic association. This honor was also conferred upon the Register for the years 1927-1932 and 1936-1937.

Membership in Quill and Scroll, international honor society for outstanding high school journalists, was awarded to twenty-five students this year. These members bring Central's chapter membership to a total of 424.

The National Scholastic Press association convention, held at Des Moines, was attended by Harold Slosburg, Howard Turner, Samuel Wintroub, Frances Osoff, Mary Lou Troughton, Miriam Rubnitz, and Elizabeth Kulakofsky. Another highlight of the year was the Nebraska High School Press association in Omaha, which most of the journalism students attended.

The Central High Press club was organized in 1936 so that members of the journalism department might meet to make suggestions and criticisms of the content, make-up, and other phases of the paper. Officers for this year are Bruce Macalister, president; Harry Otis, vice president; Elizabeth Morris, secretary; June Bliss, treasurer; Frances Osoff and Joe Kirshenbaum, sergeants at arms.

The O-Book, annual publication of the senior class, was published by a staff composed of members of the Register department headed by editors appointed from the senior class.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Under the direction of Carol Marhoff Pitts, Elsie Howe Swanson, Irene Haskins Jensen, and the accompanist, Lylyan Wick, the vocal department has completed the year 1938 with distinctive accomplishments.

The junior and senior glee clubs and the a cappella choir, organized for the development, inspiration, and enjoyment of the students, have fulfilled their goal by reading great music and by giving various worth while programs.

Outstanding in the a cappella choir's repertoire was a suite, "From Grief to Glory," written by Dr. F. Melius Christiansen of the famous St. Olaf's choir and dedicated to Central's choir. This work is considered one of Dr. Christiansen's finest compositions.

Two one-act operas were given December 9, 10, and 11 by the choir. "Trial by Jury," a farce on a breach of promise suit, and "The Sleeping Queen," an eighteenth century romance, combined laughs and love lyrics into the program. The presentation marked the date of the first program offering two operas.

Sixty members of the choir won a "highly superior" rating at the National Music Supervisors' conference at St. Louis, March 30 to April 2, and was one of only two placing first in both concert and sight-reading. Our choir was honored by being chosen the echo choir in the "Echo Song," sung by the great national chorus directed by Noble Cain of Chicago. Other laurels were the choir's broadcast on a national radio hookup, three demonstrations and a concert before the conference. Catherine Tunison received superior rating in the soprano solo contest of the conference.

For the fourth successive year, the choir was invited to Tekamah, April 22, to give a concert. As a result of these concerts, Tekamah has now a full time music supervisor.

In the regional contest, May 12, 13, and 14, in Omaha, the choir entered the large group division receiving the coveted I rating, and Gloria Odorisio and Byron Lower entered the soloist division receiving I ratings.

Reorganized this year, the madrigal group consisted of Catherine Tunison, Gloria Odorisio, Betty Mae Nelson, Alice Jayne Nelson, Byron Lower, Orville Olson, Melvin Roberts, and Donald Beck. They sang at many functions during the year including a city-wide program, on which outstanding groups in Omaha schools participated, and the national program at St. Louis. Madrigals, the most difficult form of vocal music, originated in the home and in small social functions where groups sang together for their own entertainment.

CONCERT BAND

Through all his years at Central High school, Henry G. Cox, band and orchestra director, has worked diligently in an attempt to promote a concert band. With Superintendent Anderson's encouraging stand in the field of the grade school bands and orchestras, a concert band has at last been organized at Central with a membership of fifty students.

Mr. Cox is very pleased with the enthusiastic spirit and with the rapid progress which has been made in the short time since the completion of an adequate band and orchestra room.

As a reward for the band's hard work in organizing, and their diligent training, the Concert Band participated in the second annual National School Music Competition festival, which was held in Omaha, May 12, 13, 14. Dressed in their purple and white uniforms, the band played four numbers, two of which were sight-reading, and won a good rating which was most inspiring for a young pioneer organization. Several members of the band won high individual ratings in the competition. A highly superior rating was awarded to Mary Wyrick and Betty Mae Nelson for their viola and violin solos, and also to Mary Wyrick, Betty Mae Nelson, and Jane Griffith for their string trio. Central is justly proud of this musical attainment and is hoping for continuation of this fine work.

The newly-elected officers who officiated for the semester were: Mary Merritt, president; Dwight Brigham, first vice president; Frank Grasso, second vice president; Tony Veneziano, third vice president; Jane Griffith, secretary; Alice Ledyard and William Sahn, sergeants at arms.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

Because the school needed more interesting and convincing speakers, the Speakers' Bureau was organized in September, 1921, under the direction of the expression and debate departments.

The aim of the Speakers' Bureau is to bring in closer contact the student body and the activities of the school. Formerly, membership in the organization was not limited to students in the public speaking classes, but all students were required to try out with a sample speech before being admitted to the Bureau. A special home room called "Speakers' Bureau home room" was maintained.

At the present time only those who are members of the public speaking and debate classes are eligible to membership. In this manner the speech material can be organized and developed as part of the regular class work.

The Bureau desires to take care of all speeches to help create an interest in any school activity. When a faculty member has a special announcement he wishes to be emphasized to all students in school, he notifies Miss Myrna V. Jones, the sponsor of the Bureau. The students then make speeches in all of the home rooms on a specified date.

About fifty students belong to the organization each semester. Activity credit is given to the members for the time which they devote to making announcements.

This Bureau has been a valuable aid to many school activities such as plays, musical productions, S. A. ticket drives, and athletic contests.

CENTRAL HIGH PLAYERS

Whether the setting has been the open-air amphitheatres of ancient Greece, the crude stage of the Middle Ages, the cobbled innyards of Elizabethan England, the showboats on the Mississippi, or the ornate theatres of today, the footlights have always had a peculiar fascination. Realizing this appeal, a group of ambitious individuals, desiring to offer an opportunity to students to participate in stage activities, banded themselves together in 1926 and organized the Central High Players. Since then, the club has progressed rapidly, and at the present time, under the sponsorship of Miss Frances McChesney, has a membership of approximately one hundred.

The highlight of the year in the Central High Players' activities was the annual fall play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," which proved to be one of their outstanding dramatic successes. This thrilling melodrama, written by the ingenious George M. Cohan, took place in a quaint old inn on Baldpate mountain, where mystery and comedy went hand in hand to leave the audience breathless at the climax. The play drew an enthusiastic crowd.

Other activities of the year included a puppet show, a Christmas party, and short plays and impromptu entertainment at the monthly meetings. The election of officers at the beginning of the year resulted as follows: John Knudsen, president; Dallas Madison, vice president; Helen Travers, secretary; Fannie Firestone, treasurer; Blaine Carp, sergeant at arms; Mildred Nielsen, historian.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL — Starting the season with only four veterans, Central's football team was given little chance to win the Intercity grid crown, but Coaches Knappe and Morrison upset the predictions by putting a winning team on the field. This season was the Purples' best since winning the city title in 1934. They completed their schedule with five wins, one loss, and one tie.

The opening game of the year was with South. Central went into the game as the underdog, but came out on top at the final gun. Next came the annual, much-publicized Tech conflict. A hard-fighting Purple eleven, with the never-give-up spirit, came from behind to win, 12 to 6.

Central's gridgers went into the Abraham Lincoln game feeling sure of victory. The Lynx put up a terrific fight and almost played the mighty Eagles to a standstill. An intercepted pass for a touchdown crushed A. L.'s hopes for a tie. North held the Purple running attack for three quarters, but finally, weakened by the constant battering of the Purple backs, also went down in defeat.

Powerful Lincoln High was considered three touchdowns better than Central, but the courageous Purple team put up a gallant fight to hold the Links to one score. This game was the Eagles' only loss of the season.

The Intercity football championship was at stake in the Benson fray. The Bunnies were pre-game favorites, but the Eagles scored twice to Benson's once, and won, 12 to 6. Fremont was the last game on the schedule. Central completely outplayed the Tigers, but was held to a 6 to 6 tie.

Central's coaching staff under Knappe and Morrison should be commended for their hard work and tireless efforts in producing a championship team.

BASKETBALL — The cagers under the tutelage of Coach Knappe won five out of fifteen games, but this season was the best for the Purple hoopsters for a number of years.

The highlights of the season came when Central twice knocked off the state titleholders, South, and when they soundly trounced the well-organized Benson Bunnies, 59-32. Other teams defeated by the Purples were Sioux City East and Sioux City Central.

WRESTLING — With the return of six lettermen, and the appearance of a new coach, Allie Morrison, a former Olympic champion, the prospects for a successful wrestling season appeared good. Although the grapplers did not win the championship, they displayed fine sportsmanship and did their best at all times.

TRACK, BASEBALL, GOLF, AND TENNIS — All these spring sports have gone through their schedules with satisfactory results. The trackmen under the able coaching eye of "Papa" Schmidt have shown fine all-around work. The baseball team, coached by F. Y. Knappe, has always proceeded with the same intrepid form regardless of wins and losses. The golfers, playing under a new coach, L. W. Busing, finished another successful season.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic association is to promote interest in girls' sports, to encourage high ideals of sportsmanship, and to give every girl an opportunity to participate in sports according to her interests and abilities. Any girl interested in athletic activities may join, and over fifty girls belonged to the organization this term.

A great variety of sports is offered for girls both in G. A. A. and in the sports department. They have a chance to participate in soccer, field hockey, basketball, baseball, archery, tennis, table tennis, riflery, tumbling, and any form of dancing. Play days, in which the girls are invited to participate, are usually sponsored by various schools.

The aim of every member of the G. A. A. is to win at least one of four awards offered. The first is an emblem C with a class numeral; the second, a letter O; next, the triangular state award; and last, the six-point state award. In order to qualify for any award the girl must have earned ten units for work carried on under supervision and five units for activities carried on outside of school. The girls must also obey certain training rules; wear proper shoes to school; pass heart, teeth, and posture examinations; and receive passing grades in at least three school subjects for the current semester.

Wanda Lawson was president of the association this term. Other officers were: Mary Kay Brawner, vice president; Doris Vermillion, secretary; Betty Nellor, treasurer; La Juana Paterno and Betty Hammang, sergeants at arms.

MATHEMATICS SOCIETY

The Mathematics society was organized in 1922 for the purpose of stimulating and encouraging interest in the history and study of mathematics. This departmental club, under the sponsorship of Miss Amanda Anderson, is the only organization at Central based on scholarship.

Officers for the first semester were: George Wales, president; Howard Turner, vice president; Loy Brown, secretary; Leslie Johnson, program chairman; Edith Harris and William Bunce, sergeants at arms. The second semester the following officiated: Loy Brown, president; James Myers, vice president; William Bunce, secretary; Donald Beck, treasurer; Ephraim Gershater, program chairman; Virginia Lee and Walter Anderson, sergeants at arms.

Outstanding among the club's activities were fascinating projects in the various fields of mathematics, including geometry as applied to artistic design and architecture, the Hampton Court maze in landscaping, and Kepler's Laws dealing with astronomy; conic sections were shown as curved intersections of a plan and a cone and as straight lines when drawn on logarithmic graph paper. Along with its various activities, the Mathematics society invited the members of the school to hear the illustrated lecture on the construction and future benefits of Boulder dam.

The society's successful year was climaxed by the annual presentation of cash awards to the three highest ranking of the nine seniors who maintained an average grade of "A" throughout eight semesters of academic mathematics. George Wales and James Haugh tied for the first and John Catlin received the third award.

LININGER TRAVEL CLUB

For the purpose of gathering information about the customs of other countries, inspiring a friendly interest in foreign affairs, and realizing the possibilities and value of world peace, the Lininger Travel club was organized for girls at Central in 1903. The club, which is the oldest organization at Central, was named after Henry Lininger, a noted traveler and explorer who lived in Omaha.

The officers for this term were: Mary Jane Kopperud, president; Shirley Hoffman, vice president; Mary Noble, secretary; Alice Ann Hascall, treasurer; Della Kopperud and Frances Fuhrer, sergeants at arms. The sponsors of the organization are Miss Mary Parker, Mrs. Grace Knott, and Miss Margaret Mueller.

The main activities of the year included a tea for prospective members given by Mary Jane and Della Kopperud; a tea at the home of Jane Young, at which she displayed her collection of dolls; and talks by Mrs. Kenneth Finlayson, Mrs. E. M. Sunderland, Mrs. Florence Stack, Principal J. G. Masters, and Jean Short on their various travels.

Thanksgiving and Easter baskets were presented to a needy family under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Knott and Martha Harrison.

A former member anonymously sent a gift of money in appreciation of what the club had done for her. The sum was turned over to the scholarship fund by vote of the club.

L'ALLIANCE FRANCAISE

To increase the cultural interest and background of the French students, the French department has this year done away with the two separate clubs, Le Cercle Francais for girls and the Gentlemen's French club for boys, and in their place has organized the Junior Alliance Francaise. L'Alliance Francaise is an international organization started for the purpose of furthering the French language throughout the world, and has its international headquarters in Paris.

The membership of this club is open to all students of French, and this year there are about 150 members. Due to this large number, the Omaha Alliance has been able to present more French lectures and movies than usual. The French department is proud that it has been able to contribute so much to the intellectual and artistic life of the city.

Some of the special programs offered the members of the Junior Alliance were five French movies, six or seven lectures, and the weekly Alliance luncheons held at the Fontenelle hotel. The first movie, "Carnival in Flanders," with the lovely French comedienne, Francoise Rosay, was voted by the Academy of Motion Pictures the best foreign comedy of the year. This gave to Omaha students and lovers of French a rare opportunity to witness the finest in the French movie industry. Madame Suzanne Silvercruis, a Belgian sculptress, and Arthur Gibbons Bovee of the University of Chicago, were a few of the interesting speakers who addressed the group.

From the practical point of view, the department feels that these lectures in French have greatly helped the student in becoming familiar with the various accents and tone inflections.

The French choir, composed of thirty-five members of l'Alliance, met during the winter at the studio of the French consul, Mr. August Borglum, and became very proficient in singing the old world folk songs. The establishment of a French library in Room 339 is another activity of the club.

"La Grande Pomme" or the Big Apple was the name of the year's dance, and it was held on March 11. The club's president and only officer this year is Anabel Shotwell, and the sponsors are Miss Bess Bozell, Miss Ruth Pilling, Miss May Mahoney, and Mr. Webster Porter.

ROLLER SKATING CLUB

The Roller Skating club, which was organized in January, 1937, was started to encourage social gatherings among the students and to provide for a few well-supervised hours of recreation. The club has a business meeting once a month, and every other Friday evening, after school, it sponsors a roller skating party at the 40th and Farnam skating rink.

The club was organized at the suggestion of Bertram Else and Randall Nelson. Miss Dorothy Anderson, sponsor of the group, helped the two boys formulate the original plans. Loren Bailey and Randall Nelson were last year's president and secretary, respectively. The membership in this organization totals forty-seven.

Jack Fagan is this year's president and Loren Bailey, first vice president. The following are also vice presidents, each serving as chairman of some committee: Jayne Fee, publicity; Richard Krimlofski, courtesy; Clark Hypse, tickets; and Max Delrogh, entertainment. Marjorie Rivett is secretary, Jay Beecroft, treasurer; Emily Morton and Reva Mann, girl sergeants at arms, and Jack Dudley and Bob Findley, boy sergeants at arms.

The dues of the club are ten cents a year, but each member pays twenty cents per party. All guests are cordially invited to the parties, where various games, such as Omaha Steal, Bagdad, and Ladies' Choice, are played.

The club is open to members of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes alike, and all skating enthusiasts are welcome to join.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin club was organized in January, 1930, by a group of enthusiastic freshmen who had presented a Latin play, "Medicus," at Central High and at North High, under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Rathbun. The original aim of the club was to familiarize students with spoken Latin. In accordance with this purpose, dramatic sketches have been written and presented yearly. At the annual banquet on February 23, "The Roman Wedding," an adaptation of a play by Miss Susan Paxson, and a Roman style show were presented.

Starting with about thirty members, the organization has more than tripled its number. Any person who has completed one year of Latin is eligible to the club. Mrs. Rathbun and Mrs. Bernice Engle are the faculty sponsors. Though the custom is to elect the officers each semester, only one group was chosen this shortened year: Jack Holland, president; Sylvia Katzman, vice president; Harriet Maxwell, secretary; David Carson, treasurer; Betty Brown, Frank Grasso, Harold Bremers, and Jean Christie, sergeants at arms. The officers selected for next year are president, Betty Brown; vice president, Jacqueline Woodhouse; secretary, Jean Marvin; treasurer, Oliver Deal; sergeants at arms, Robert Silverman, Janet Randall, Gerald Anderson, and Marjorie McIntyre.

A lecture by an outside professor is an annual feature of the programs. Professor Wirth of Creighton University spoke, December 14, on the subject of "Augustus." Last year's lecturer was Professor Spencer of Grinnell, whose topic was "Stones Used in the Decoration and Construction of Ancient Rome." Other activities of the club have been the sponsorship of the Latin department paper "Loquax" and the presentation of the marionette shows, "The Three Bears" and "Punch and Judy."
