FIVE CENTS

Assembly To Lead Off '49 O-Book Drive

Don't Overlook the '49 O-Book!

Next Tuesday morning will officially begin the 1949 O-Book sales campaign. Beginning with the humorous assembly to be held during homeroom period Tuesday in the auditorium, the campaign will last throughout the week.

The goal has been set at 1300 copies, and sales must reach that number to make an O-Book possible. Heading the sales drive are Harry Freeman and Thom Snyder, publicity managers, and Ed Claeson and Bill Cambridge, circulation managers.

Humorous Assembly Planned

They have announced that the assembly will furnish a novel surprise and humorous entertainment, plus a rousing sales talk that should convince everyone to buy an O-Book.

Throughout the campaign week, speakers will visit freshman homerooms to acquaint them with the book and point out its features. As in the past, books will be purchased through homeroom representatives, who will give the buyer a receipt entitling him to a book at the distribution date.

Due to increases in both the printing and engraving costs, this year's O-Book will be a little higher, $1.75 with an S.A. ticket and $2.25 without. Although the price is higher, the Central book still undersells the majority of yearbooks.

Activities Blanks Distribution

According to Dorothy Friedman, activities editor, activity blanks will be circulated among the seniors February 7. She has been busy revising the old form, and advises seniors to make a list of their past activities.

The Senior picture deadline has been set for March 1. By that date all seniors who want to have their pictures appear in the O-Book must have their picture taken at one of the six recommended studios. Later a special senior engraving fee of $1.50 will be collected from the seniors.

As in the past the O-Book will include a senior album with the activities of each graduate listed; a section on school activities, honors, and clubs; and an athletic album.

Saggau Organizes School Press Club

A high school press club, composed of four representatives from each public and parochial high school, has recently been organized by Tip Saggau, WOW sports reporter.

Central's representatives, chosen from the journalism department, include Donna Edstrand, managing editor; Joanne Larkin, editor-in-chief; Taylor Stoehr, news editor; and Harold Oberman, sports editor.

The club plans monthly meetings which will coincide with the visit of some celebrity whom they can interview.

State Writer's Guild To Sponsor Contest

The Nebraska Writers' Guild is sponsoring their second annual statewide contest to discover potential creative writing talent among high school students.

The winning contestant—a tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grader from any Nebraska high school—will receive an honor award.

Manuscripts may be either fiction or non-fiction of 3,000 words or less in length. For additional details contact Frank Rice, creative writing teacher, in charge of the contest at Central.

Thirteen Underclassmen Join Central Register Staff

With the coming of the second semester, Mrs. Anne Savidge has announced the appointment of Journalism II students on the Register staff.

Marlon Somberg will be a sports assistant; Goldie Gendler and Marilyn Kaplan will serve as proof readers; Marlene Chesneau and Adrienne Rice will be advertising solicitors. New reporters include Ephraim Axelrod, Phyllis Bernstein, Donald Conboy, Lois Linsman, Frank Mallory, Alvin Milder, Norman Osheroff, and Robert Rasmussen.

PAT WELLS

Wells, Christensen Direct Road Show

Following the announcement by Mrs. Elsie Howe Swanson of Pat Wells as student manager and Chester Christensen as his assistant, tryouts for the 1949 edition of the Central High Road Show were begun this week.

The production, which is being presented March 3, 4, and 5, will be made up of the acts chosen by Mrs. Swanson with the assistance of an executive committee composed of Frank M. Rice, Myrna Vance Jones, Andrew Nelsen, Mary W. Kern, W. Edward Clark, and Robert Beck.

"With all the talent Central has, we're going to try to put together the finest show possible; even better than those of previous years," Pat speculated.

Pat is a captain in ROTC, has appeared in the opera three years and the Road Show two, was twice elected to the Student Council, is president of the C.O.C., has first chair in choir, and lettered three years in football.

Chet is president of the Central High Players, a ROTC cadet, has appeared for three years in the Road Show, and for two in both the Fall Play and opera.

Central-North Debate Rebroadcast Sunday

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, "We March with Faith," featuring two Central students, will be rebroadcast. Central's Jerry Brodkey and James Earl will debate the affirmative and Bob Dahlhoff and Jack Reddan of North High will debate the negative on the question, "Should the UN Be Revised Into a Federal World Government?"

An audience of students and adults who also have their opinions will question the four student participants in a "free for all" thirty minute sampling of student opinion.

Exams, Just as Easy As Falling Off a Log

If every student would concentrate as hard as some students do during exams, they would be sure to get a good grade.

During the English exam, the class was working very intently; all of the sudden, a terrific crash resounded over the room. When everyone looked up, they were surprised to see a girl sprawled on the floor.

After the exam, the girl admitted that she was concentrating so hard on the exam, that she hadn't even realized that she was so near the edge of her seat.

Alumnus Given Full Tuition Scholarship

As a result of examination grades of "A" in Social Sciences II, Humanities II, and Physical Sciences, and a "B" in Biological Sciences, Bernard Lashinsky '48 has been granted a full tuition scholarship for the winter and spring quarters at the University of Chicago.

Besides studying many hours each day, Bernard has a full program of part time jobs. He works two hours each morning and an additional two hours on Sunday mornings in the dormitory dining halls, four hours a week as a lifeguard at a campus pool, and two hours as a pinsetter at the Student Union building.

Finalists Chosen For FNL Events

Tryouts for the people who will represent Central in all future National Forensic league events were held recently under the direction of Mrs. Amy Sutton and Miss Marian Mortensen.

The following pupils will represent Central in their respective classifications: extemporaneous speaking, Don Silverman; dramatic reading, Mary, Quigley; humorous reading, Marlene Chesneau; and original oratory, Meyer Feldman.

Others are Howard Vann and Arnold Kaiman in radio newscasting; Leonore Marx in poetry interpretation; and James Earl and Jerry Schenken in panel discussions.

The Central High Midwest Invitational Debate tournament, to which this school will be host, will be held here, February 25 and 26.

The Central debate squad will also compete in the Gustavus Adolphus tournament at St. Peter, Minnesota, February 4 and 5.

Debaters representing Central will include Pat Livingston, Susan Thompson, Don Silverman, and Jerry Schenken.

Meyer Feldman will compete in original oratory, choosing as his topic, "The Problems of Racial and Religious Prejudices."

Weinhardt, Ritchie, Colonel, Lady of '49 Military Ball

THE LIEUTENANT COLONEL John Weinhardt and his lady, Barbara Ritchie, lead the Grand March.

Fox, Swartz Majors; Weinhardt Promises ROTC Trophy Win

By Phil Alberts

The announcement of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel John Weinhardt and his lady, Barbara Ritchie, came as a climax to one of the most colorful military balls in Central ROTC history.

First on the January 21 program was a concert by the ROTC band, conducted by Lytton S. Davis, Cadet Captain Joseph Malec, and Cadet First Sergeant Frank Mallory.

The officers' promotion march followed with the officers marching onto the floor to form four lines. As each promotion and assignment was announced, the appointed officer took his position until only one officer remained.

The remaining cadet, John Weinhardt, was then announced as commander of the Central ROTC battalion.

In his congratulatory remarks, Colonel Weinhardt announced that he was confident that the Central battalion not only would win the McDermott trophy again this year as usual, but also would have the highest score in the Fifth Army area.

Staff Positions Announced

The two cadet majors, Robert Fox and Marvin Swartz, will assume the duties of battalion executive officer and freshman battalion commander. New cadet captains on the staff are plans and training officer, Russell Hopley; battalion adjutant, Raymond Hampton; freshman battalion adjutant, Kenneth Roth; ordnance officer, Floyd Abramson; and supply officer, Allan Demorest. The battalion range officer is Cadet First Lieutenant Edward Claeson while public relations officer is Cadet Second Lieutenant Phillip Alberts.

Company commanders include the following cadet captains: Kenneth Kremers, Co. A; Patten Wells, Co. B; Taylor Stoehr, Co. C; James Holmquist, Co. D.

Others are Joseph Malec, Band; Daniel Neff, Co. F1; James Swanson, Co. F2; Robert Zlotky, Co. F3.

Platoon Commanders Appointed

First platoon commanders are Cadet First Lieutenants: Lloyd Richards, Co. A; Jack Lowe, Co. B; John Nelson, Co. C; Richard Whitlock, Co. D.

Others are Joe Innis, Band; Jerald Venger, Co. F1; Robert Malashock, Co. F2; Wilbur Fullaway, Co. F3.

Now commanding second platoons are these cadet second lieutenants: Russell Hawthorne, Co. A; Robert Howard, Co. B; Fritz Adams, Co. C; Jack Chedester, Co. D; Robert LaShelle, Band; Louis Pistone, Co. F1; Jerry Katleman, Co. F2; and Jack Wolf, Co. F3.

Colonel Weinhardt was then presented the McDermott trophy by E. K. McDermott, and in turn presented it to Principal J. Arthur Nelson.

The Crack Squad, commanded by Cadet Captains Daniel Neff and James Swanson, gave its usual sparkling performance, doing difficult spins and manuals with perfect precision.

The most colorful part of the evening's program, the grand march of the officers and their ladies, followed as Cadet First Sergeant Richard Smith announced the officers and their ladies.

Pat Christensen New Rainbow Girls' Head

Patricia Christensen '49 was installed as Worthy Advisor of Assembly I, Order of Rainbow Girls, last Saturday night at the Masonic Temple.

Other Centralites installed were Beverly Wood '50, Shirley Holsten '50, Lila Jagar '49, and Carolyn Stevens '50.

Inga Swenson '50 was one of the installing officers.

Hansen Announces Committee Members

At the last regular meeting of the Youth Civic council, Kermit Hansen announced that the members of the council will be privileged to serve as members of the City-wide Improvement Planning Committees.

As members of the committees, the boys will have the right of debate, but they will not be allowed to vote.

The seniors were given their preferences, and Joe Malec, Central's senior representative, will meet with the Airport Planning committee.

Tables Finally Turn! Mrs. Graser Absent

Central will be without their regular attendance clerk for a few weeks. Mrs. Shirley Graser has gone to the hospital to undergo an appendectomy. Although the office will miss her help, Shirley says that there will be other girls capable of taking her place for a few weeks.

Disaster Squad Begins Training

Training began yesterday for the Disaster Squad, which is an emergency first aid group for students. Members of the squad are Ruth Mendelson, Elinor McPherrren, Gloria Leonard, Bob Knapple, Don Gier, Bob Osborne, and Milton Kay.

The training is given every Thursday from 3:30 to 5:30 in Room 317 under the supervision of William O'Hearn, safety director of the American Red Cross in Douglas County.

To qualify for the Disaster Squad one must have twelve hours of credit in advanced Red Cross training.

Central is the only high school in Omaha to have this kind of training. In case of an emergency this squad will wear arm bands supplied by the Red Cross.

Anyone interested in joining the Disaster Squad should see Miss Dorothy Cathers.

Snow Ball Postponed Because of — Snow

Last Friday night King Winter called off the Hi-Y, Y-teens sponsored sox dance, the Snow Ball.

According to the presidents of the two organizations, the dance will be held tomorrow night following the Central-Lincoln Central basket ball game. A new program is being planned for the entertainment.

The Headline Hop, regularly scheduled for tomorrow night, will probably be held the first part of March.

'Hamlet' to Appear At Dundee Theatre

Laurence Olivier will appear in the screen version of "Hamlet" at the Dundee theater next week.

Olivier's production has received acclaim from many of the country's leading theatrical critics. It is said to give a presentation of the play superior to almost any stage production.

Central students may see the play, February 9, at the reduced price of one dollar. Those who wish to attend will be excused from school after seventh hour, and busses will take them to the Dundee. The matinee is scheduled to begin at 2:45 p.m.

Pictures of parts of the play, actors, and scenes will be put in the case in front of the office next week.

Seniors Still Ahead; Top Roll With 88

The class of '49 once again leads the honor roll with 88 out of 288 students. The juniors followed closely with 75; the freshmen with 70, while the sophomores trailed with 59. Sylvia London '50 topped the honor roll with 12 points. The girls led the boys, 187 to 101.

Music-Universal Bond of Union

Music is common ground for everyone. It draws people closer together and forms a bond of union between them, regardless of their race, sex, or age. Examples of this were displayed at the recent Tuesday Musical and at the last Omaha Symphony. At the first few bars of music at these events, the audience ceased to cough and shuffle around, listening enthralled. Many people were there, representing many races and nationalities. The audience contained people of all ages and religions. Yet this motley, assorted group was drawn together by the universal language — music.

However, since music is so universal, we have need for more of it in times like these. The schools can help and do help by presenting better and more musical activities programs. Listening to the radio is another way to cultivate a taste for music. Many fine programs worth listening to are on the air, particularly on Monday nights. Yes, many opportunities are available to the person who desires to learn about music, but there should be more widespread education in music for the others.

So in times like these of world unrest, there is a great need for more knowledge, interest, and familiarity with music, for music is a language understood by people the world over.

That's What I Say!

What is your favorite expression?
 Nancy Losch: "I'm never gonna get this profile done!"
 Ruth Slogr: "There's something crooked with you."
 Marilyn Rogers: "Shut up, Losch!"
 Marilyn Wintroub: "I've got to mail a letter."
 Ruth Ann Curtis: "Folled again!"
 Bonnie Bernhard: "Newt!!!!"
 Harold Oberman: "Details, always details."
 Maryanne Harris: "Oh you!"
 Dorothy Friedman: "You're kidding, of course."
 Thom Snyder: "It wasn't easy."
 Bob LaShelle: "Ye Gods!"
 Chet Christensen: "I hope to smile."
 Carol Layher: "It's super!"
 Taylor Stoehr: " (He must be the silent type.)"
 Arnold J. Stern: "It's cool, man."

The Discoverer

Around the year 1492 Columbus with many hopes and Ames set sail from Spain. Innis crew were Albertson, Carlson, Danielson, Mason, Olson, Paulsen, Peterson, Robinson, and Swanson. Some of them were Cooks and Bakers, while others were English Earls, Farmers, Millers, Masons, Schumackers, Barbers, and Paynters. Columbus, overconfident and apt to Bragg, did not graciously accept the Sage advice about Storms s from the older Sailors. He kept two sets of Books, and the boys did not suspect they were so far from home. However, things looked might Black for Columbus when the crew threatened mutiny.

Early one morning, as he stood at the Stern of the ship, rubbing his Chin, he shouted, "Great Scott, Arnot those Busches on the distant horizon?"

After the crew had finished Stoehring at the speck of land and had taken a Vogt, as was the Rule, Columbus ordered, "Well claim this land for Spain. Turner toward DePorte.

After removing their Caps and Nealing down to kiss the land, the Newcomers offered the Savidges, who had never seen a White man before, Combs, Axelrods, Peppers, and Rice. He also showed them how to Boyle their food.

With the help of a Guide, an exploration proved this place to be a Roseland with Hills, Glens, Brooks, Moss, Bunneys, Lakes, sugar Cain, Reeds, Foxes, and Wolfs. The Brown natives, who were excellent Bowman, had constructed Wells and a Dilly of a system of roads. After this was Dunn and they had seen eNeff, Columbus held a Short Counsell with the natives and decided the right thing to do was to return to Spain. Besides this, he was Craven to see his homeland, and he was not as Young as he had once been.

The Grand March

Gorgeous gowns, colorful flowers, and handsome officers, all put together made the Twelfth Military Ball one we'll never forget.

Pretty as a picture was our lady of the evening, Barbara Ritchie, in the traditional purple and white cape and cap. Her formal of white satin trimmed in fuchsia had its fullness concentrated in the back, accentuated by a large bustle.

We noticed Nancy Losch back stage, happy as a lark over Taylor's promotion . . . she looked ever so cute in her gown of bright fuchsia velvet . . . it had a soft fold around the shoulders and a full, billowing skirt.

Pat Evers was breathtaking in her formal of contrasting satins. White brocaded satin made up the skirt and bodice, while the plain satin formed a fold around her shoulders and at the hemline.

Admiring the belles of the ball were Bonnie Bernhard and Marvel Anne Reynolds. Bonnie's dress was red brocaded satin with a high, round neckline and cap sleeves. The dainty yolk of black net and the bows of the same material on the skirt certainly made Bonnie look lovely. Marvel Anne looked so sweet in her formal of white net with the top of white jersey.

Putting on the finishing touches before the grand march, was Mickie Rabe in her eggshell satin gown fashioned with matching net and fuchsia satin bows ornamenting the skirt.

Dancing to "Stardust" were Joanne Larkin and Ruth Hiatt in dresses to remember. Jo's was white tulle with an off-the-shoulder bodice of white brocaded satin. Ruthie's was also white, but was taffeta with insets of satin. The neckline was square with a fold of the material bordering it.

As Freddy Lou Rosenstock descended the stairway, we caught a glimpse of her exquisite strapless formal. Silver lace composed the bodice, while white net fell in folds from beneath the tier of lace.

Intermission found Pat Smith gowned in dazzling emerald green satin . . . the style was off-the-shoulder with a yolk of matching net, the bouffant skirt gleaming in the light.

After the ball was over, we found the officers and their ladies celebrating at Roth's house. Mary Mackie still looked fresh as a daisy. Her ice-blue satin dress had a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves, and a sweeping skirt.

We wish we had the space to tell about all the formals at the ball 'cuz really, they were all sooooo pretty. Jackie 'n Mimi

The Latest . . . ?

We heard via the grapevine that Don Blocker and Sue Ann Brownlee weren't getting along so well. He only had dates with her Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights last week. What was she supposed to do Thursday night?

Noticed a lot of officers and their dates but everybody knows who they were, so we won't bother to name them. . . . Congratulations to John and Barb, they really looked cute. Also caught a glimpse of a few people on the side lines . . . DeeDee Bryans 'n Dwight Fritts, Harry Freeman 'n Joanne Jacobs, Buddy Beber 'n Alice Gllinsky, Dorothy Seig 'n George Gollehon, and Toby Southern 'n Marc Anthony.

Somebody told us a bunch of officers took a short jaunt up to Bud Fullaway's cabin after the officers' party. Pretty tired the next day, weren't you, Fellas?

Lost . . . one gold compact, at the officers' party, with a map of Nebraska decorating it, so the owner won't get lost. Somebody come claim it.

Final exams are over, report cards are out, and so many people are confined to quarters. When will those people learn that their folks like nice, plain, small numbers like 1's instead of high, complicated numbers like 5's.

School—what's that? We've had so little of it lately, nobody seems to be able to get into the swing of things again. We sure are glad Friday is here at last, cause five days of school darn near killed us. Now we have two Nice Quiet days for recuperating.

Our hats are off to Bob Stryker, that hard-working best junior cadet. Keep up the good work, Bob.

Don't forget the basketball game with Lincoln Central tomorrow nite, and the Snow Ball following, given by the Y-Teens and Hi-Y. Of course you know about the entertainment between halves. The basketball game featuring the Sports Staff and the Wrestling Team. There will also be Mimi Middleton as the Sports Staff water-boy.

That's all for now and believe me I mean that's all. I lost the copy and Shirley's absent; so woe is me. See you, I hope. Marilyn 'n Shirli

A Temptation

This is an utterly nonsensical column. It has nothing in it for the brilliant, not quite that much for the average Centralite, and the second page readers don't know what they're reading anyhow, so please don't go on. Stop right here! Really there's nothing in this for you. But I bet you'll not stop reading until you get to the bloody end. She: "Am I the first girl you ever kissed?"

He: "As a matter of tact, yes."

I repeat myself—stop right here. You insist on going on. Now you're not really getting any enjoyment out of this, now are you? Well, why go on. You'll be none the wiser when you finish. Stop! Stop! I say. I'm winning my bet. You're wasting your precious time when you should be studying for that test you'll have next hour.

Three slightly deaf men were motoring from London in an old noisy car, and hearing was difficult. As they were nearing the city, one asked, "Is this Wembly?"

"No," replied the second, "this is Thursday."

"So am I," put in the third. "Let's stop and have tea."

You'll kick yourself fifty times when you finish this so why bother? Why are you so persistent? Honestly, some people never take any advice. I've used three inches of printed space telling you not to read this so please stop. If you don't stop after this next one, you should be ashamed.

I was struck by the beauty of her hand
 I tried to kiss her;
 As I say—
 I was struck by the beauty of her hand.

You should drop dead. I told you not to read it. By gum, you are determined, aren't you? But you're still not too far gone yet, so if you still want to be saved—STOP HERE. I knew you couldn't resist reading this. See, you're almost through it.

Roger (hands over her eyes): If you can't guess who it is in three guesses, I'm going to kiss you.

Joanie: Jack Frost, Davey Jones, Santa Claus.

There, I'm done, which goes to prove that you just can't resist these cute little second page features.

Central Profile

Yes-s-s Sir!

John Weinhardt

John didn't think he had a chance to be chosen Cadet Lt. Colonel after the way he disgraced the Crack Squad in Kansas City last year. A show off while dancing a fast number, he fell down on his posterior. In fact John was so sure he wouldn't come through that he is now busy paying off the fifteen dollars he bet against himself.

JOHN WEINHARDT goes to Stanford without a car.

John has adopted the signature J. Wells Weinhardt since he feels that this more dignified title would improve his chances of becoming future manager of the United States Steel company. Why the United States Steel? No particular reason, the idea just pleases John.

Like Hamlet, John is a man who puts in hours of audible soliloquies before he comes to a decision, and then he is likely to change it. He is a man of contradictions. First he says he likes all the gals, and then he concentrates on his one and only Inga. He claims he hates high soprano, but he can listen to Inga and Lily Pons indefinitely. He just loves to drive around for hours with "Flicka," but he hates to waste gas.

If John were Lt. Colonel only, he would live the life of Riley, since all he has to do is give orders and bow low. But unfortunately, he also has the tedious jobs of treasurer of the Student Council and member of the a cappella choir.

At the ball John told his officers that Central would win the McDermott trophy with more points than ever before. He added later that those were just the first words that popped into his head.

You Dreamer You

I long to be a senior,
 And with the seniors stand,
 A ball-point pen behind my ear,
 A caldron in my hand.
 I wouldn't be a garbage man,
 I wouldn't be a king,
 I wouldn't be an angel,
 'Cause angels have to sing.
 I just want to be a SENIOR,
 And never do a thing.

Kenton's Farewell

Stan Kenton and his orchestra will soon disband. The tall orchestra leader has announced that he will be unable to continue his band work. The old Kenton style as played on "Artistry Jumps," "Willow Weep for Me," "Intermission Riff," and many others will exist only on old Kenton records.

Nobody seems to know the reason for the disbanding of the Kenton Crew, but it certainly can't be lack of popularity. The last Kenton record released, "Harlem Holiday" and "Don't Want That Man Around," gained the top of the best seller list for several weeks.

The only bright spot in the picture is a hope that the band may stay together under the leadership of Vido Musso, as they did when Stan took a three month vacation last summer. There's only one Stan Kenton and it would be a real blow to jazz if his orchestra breaks up.

Pen Sketches

Harold Oberman is Sports Editor on the Register . . . interest (match) lies in sports . . . broadcasted football games over the P. A. system . . . won first place as sports writer in the state contest . . . took time from athletics to be Dr. Bradley in the Fall Play . . . likes gals about 5'5" with dark hair . . . thrives on creamed tuna.

Joe Innis is vice-president of the senior class . . . Cadet First Lieutenant . . . played Little John in the opera, "Robin Hood" . . . favorite sport is track, followed by bowling . . . plays church basketball . . . has ambition to be in the 1952 Olympics . . . relishes footlongs with "everything" on them . . . his woman has to be able to cook and bake everything . . . he is 6'2" and she is about a foot shorter.

Bob Fox is a Cadet Major . . . answers to "Tinwhistle" . . . plays golf for sport . . . president of Junior Red Cross Intercity Council . . . idea of a good food is "pizza" . . . has the ambition to be a research doctor . . . likes a girl with a sense of humor . . . his 5'11" is topped by a crop of blonde hair.

Toula Adams is an Art Editor on the O-book . . . spends time by painting and reading . . . has aspirations of being a famous painter or a psychiatrist . . . could live on hamburgers and spaghetti . . . pet peeve is a person that stares . . . believes that "a hint to the wise is sufficient" . . . dark, brown hair and eyes, stands 5'4" . . . approves of a man with a good personality and a stern look.

Dear Teacher

Usually the day before report cards fall on the student body, eager pupils ponder the question of just what he or she can do to impress his teacher favorably. The first thing that comes to a fiendish-minded student is the old standby, "an apple for the teacher."

Well, believe it or not, there are some more practical hints for showing a teacher that you are interested in a high grade.

Have you ever tried reading a theme by the average Central student? It's easy—once you have mastered the hieroglyphics, commonly known as English, a la Central. A legibly written or typed paper will be welcomed whole-heartedly by any proof-reader.

Every person likes to hear himself talk, and teachers are no exception! When they lecture, they try to instruct their students with what they have learned. Moral: Listen to them; show interest in what they are talking about, and you will be surprised with what you learn.

And when the lecture is over, show the instructor that you're interested by asking serious questions, and introducing ideas and suggestions of your own. In this way the teacher will mark you as a pupil to watch.

Buy an O' Book

As we all know, next Tuesday marks the beginning of the O-Book sales campaign. The students will hear a lot of sales talking and bargaining, but contrary to most propoganda campaigns, the O-Book is really a good thing for every student to have.

The book means most to the seniors, and by all rights they are entitled to have one, but they can't without the full support of the undergraduates. You, too, will want one your senior year—let's buy one!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
 There has been a great deal of discussion lately on the pros and cons of having ads in the O-book. Many of us are of the opinion that, if by soliciting ads, we can defray expenses, and at the same time have better annuals, it is all right. We seniors feel that no matter what we must do to obtain it, we want a real O-book.

Carol Layher

Dear Editor,
 The Senior class of 1949 are indeed fortunate in being able to buy the beautiful identification bracelets which Josten's offered in addition to the regular rings and pins. This is the first year that the bracelets have been shown. I hope they will become a permanent feature, so that future classes, too, may enjoy them.

Kathryn Sundblad

Dear Editor,
 Although the O-book has pictures of graduating seniors, and of various clubs, something is missing, a group picture of the teaching staff. We like to remember our teachers as well as our fellow students, so let's demand that the next O-book contain a picture of our teachers.

Miriam Bleicher

Dear Editor,
 With food conditions what they are, why does the lunchroom staff force each student to take food that he won't eat. We appreciate the fact that the lunchroom tries to provide us with balanced meals, but a great deal of food is wasted unnecessarily. My suggestion is to let each student judge for himself what he will eat.

Mimi Middleton

Dear Editor,
 Congratulations to the sponsors of all the fine sox dances which have been held lately. The dances help stimulate school spirit, and in addition, offer enjoyment to all who take advantage of them. Johnny Vana's band, a regular feature of each dance given this school year, entertains the Centralites as well as students of other schools who attend. Due to Johnny's fine cooperation with the dance sponsors, the dances have been very successful.

The highest grade in English VII was given to Lois Brown who scored 98. Nancy Wilmarth made 97.

In French I, Rose Caliendo scored 98½, while Barbara Sauter and Sylvia London received grades of 98. In French III, Colette Bartolomei got 99, and Dorothy Friedman scored 98½.

Nancy Fulton led the Latin classes with 99 in her Latin I exam. She was trailed by Michael Greenberg and Patricia Hayes, each with 97.

In Spanish I, Stephen Greenberg and Warren Denenberg obtained 99. Mitzi Foster, Harlan Rosenblatt, and Corinne Houser received 98, while Alexandra Hunt and Marlene Maxwell scored 97. Tom Troyer and Lois Wall placed high in the Spanish III test with 98. They were followed by Donna Edstrand with 97. The three Advanced Spanish students who scored high on their exam were Don Silverman, Rosemary Simpkins, and Charles Martin, each with 98.

Many High in Science

The following received high grades on the Chemistry I final: 100, Dick Glissman and Ephraim Axelrod; 99, Ross McIntyre and Ralph Ewert; 98, William Franklin, Jerry Brodkey and Laura Reynolds made 99 on the Biology I final, while Jerry Schenken and Clifford Carmony received 98. Seven students scored 100 on the Physics I test. They were James Earl, Lawrence Golding, Charles Rice, Don Silverman, Floyd Abramson, Bruce Anderson, and Nelson Harding. Robert McCurry scored 99 and Tom Ewall made 98.

The only high grade in Bookkeeping I was 98, made by Dean Frankel. Madalene Lares received 98 in the Business Training II final.

Elinor Haykin, Carol Koutsky, Carol Milhus, and Kathryn Sundblad obtained 100 on the Shorthand III examination, and Jessie Norman scored 99 on the Shorthand I test.

Nancy Williams scored 100 on the Modern Problems final. Alvin Milder made 98.

New Astronomy Club Organized at Central

With the help of Weatherman Edward F. Stapowich, David Solzman is organizing an astronomy club at Central High. There are 35 members in the club now, and David is still recruiting more. The club will hold its first meeting within the next two weeks.

If anyone is interested in joining the club, he can get in touch with David Solzman, Homeroom 137.

Central Classes Hear Ham Radio Broadcast

James Earl, licensed amateur radio ham, brought his amateur radio station, WOLRL, to school, January 10, and demonstrated it to Robert Beck's second hour shop class.

He made several contacts with other local hams. His station, consisting of a 25 watt transmitter and a receiver, was set up in 31C, where James demonstrated it for the next three days to other people interested in radio.

Mr. Beck, an ex-ham, is going to start a radio organization in the Math-Science Club to develop more radio amateurs at Central. He will bring a short wave receiver and code machine and set up a radio station in one of the school rooms as soon as he renews his license.

A new credit course, electronics shop, will be taught by Mr. Beck third and fourth hours.

French Students Use Their Skill at Movie

Members of L'alliance Francaise had a chance to put their French to good use Thursday when they attended a special showing of "Les Enfants du Paradise" which was on regular run at the Dundee theater.

Although this film is entirely in French, the students checked their accuracy with the English sub-titles shown.

This movie was the first in a group of French films to be shown free to members of the Alliance, and according to Miss Bess Bozell, they promise to be "tres bien."

Military Ball

Then, as the Lieutenant Colonel and his lady were announced, Cadet First Sergeant Robert Stryker, outstanding junior cadet, presented the Colonel's lady with two dozen American Beauty roses on behalf of the Non-commissioned Officers' club.

An honor guard of four Crack Squad cadets escorted the honored pair to their position under the arch of glittering sabers.

The entire ensemble then began the spectacular grand march ending with the officers' dance, "Stardust," as played by Morton Wells and his orchestra.

Cadet first lieutenants and their ladies not previously mentioned included Jerald Venger and Sonya Pradell, Robert Malashock and Lois Linsman, John Nelson and Pat Smith, and Richard Mallo and Joy Wachal.

Colleens Solicit for National Polio Drive

Going all out for the fight against infantile paralysis, forty members of Central Colleens bravely sallied forth despite the wind and weather to collect money for the polio drive, Saturday, January 22.

The popular movie, "How Green was My Valley, starring Walter Pidgeon, will be presented by the Colleens after school, Thursday, February 17. The 25 cent tickets are being sold in individual homerooms by Colleen officers. This movie was voted by the student body as one of the best liked current productions.

Blank Spaces Filled, But Answers Question Sanity

One Modern Problems student was puzzled over one of the questions in his final exam, "Give the five don'ts mental hygiene."

After remembering three successfully, the student was stumped on the other two. Not wanting to leave any blank spaces on his paper, he wrote original ideas: "Don't get married if you are insane," and "Don't have any children if you are insane."

His teacher counted both answers correct!

The best answer submitted on this question, however, was, "Don't go near civilization if you want to stay sane."

HAROLD HERALDS

by Harold Oberman Sports Editor

One of the surprises of the wrestling season has been the downfall of the North High wrestling team. In both the Central and T. J. contests, the Viking matmen could win but three matches. This sudden reversal of form on the part of the Northsiders throws a great deal of importance on the Central-South encounter next Friday. A win for the Eagles could mean at least a share of the Intercity crown.

Frank Mancuso and Jim Farris boast records they can be proud of. To date, Frank has won 20 straight matches in dual meet competition, while Jim has 17 straight wins in dual meets to his credit.

A few weeks ago I was in Lincoln witnessing the Lincoln-Central basketball game. The thing that impressed me more than anything else, was the Lincoln cheering section. It was one of the best examples of school spirit that I have seen.

Tomorrow night Lincoln High will play us again, only this time the game will be played in Omaha. It's up to you as members of Central's student body to show any Lincoln people in the stands that we have just as much spirit as they do.

Here's the question of the week: Question: What nationally-known football coach attended Central for about five weeks in the middle 1920's? Answer: Frank Leahy of Notre Dame.

South Edges Eagles In Close Encounter

Wright Loses Tough Bout to Decide Match

In a very close match, the South High wrestlers edged Central, 18-15. The match was held in the Packers' gym, Friday, January 14.

With the match tied going into the heavyweight tussle, Central's Don Wright lost a tough 5-4 decision to Salzbrenner of South, which clinched the match for the Packers. Jim Farris and Frank Mancuso remained undefeated with decisions over their opponents.

Central's chance for a possible tie faded when Eagle Jimmy Kais and Bob Murch were disqualified for fighting. Kais had defeated Murch in the North High tourney.

- Results:
- 85—Dimauro (S) decided Ab-boud, 4-1
 - 95—Mancuso (C) decided Allen, 7-0
 - 105—Mays (S) decided Conners, 7-4
 - 112—Dohn (C) decided Jackson, 6-5
 - 118—J. Farris (C) decided Mar-tinez, 4-2
 - 124—Newville (S) decided R. Far-ris, 2-1
 - 130—Burton (S) decided Crum, 3-1
 - 136—Murch (S) and Kais (C)—no contest
 - 145—Fisher (S) decided Pomidoro, 4-0
 - 155—F. Mancuso (C) decided Britton, 11-8
 - 165—Scott (C) decided Marinkovich, 1-0
 - Heavyweight—Salzbrenner (S) decided Wright, 5-4

Gym Joes

The boys' gym classes under the able direction of Coach Murphy have completed a basketball tournament in each of the four periods. The Murphymen have set up their own rules, as each team has only three members, and only one basket is used.

The first place team in first hour was captained by Hill, while other team captains were Edgar, Clatter-buck, Hollander, Pantano, and Kahn. In the second hour class, Burke captained the winning teams with Seibert, Rule, Hudson, Osborne, Fein-berg, Bantley, and Sedlacek the other captains.

Leading the third hour class was Napier, while Lusc, Sirles, Robbins, Radicia, Doak, Jackman, and Brown followed in that order.

In the fourth hour PE class, Met-tlen captained the winning team. By the way, sports staff member Arnold Stern was on this squad. Other team captains were Miloni, Vacanti, Hog-refe, Harrington, Chambers, Sortino, and Armubst.

Sports Staff Cagers to Face Eagle Matmen in Initial Bout

Can high grade championship basketball be played at Central? Will the Central losing streak be broken? Is basketball a game of skill or of just plain luck? These questions will be answered with the utmost care or confusion when the Central High Sports Staff meets the Eagle wrestling team in the Central gym tomorrow night in a basketball game.

The sportswriters will be out to show that their excellent coverage of Central sports events comes not only from outstanding journalistic training but also from actual experience (playing of chess and filling out crossword puzzles).

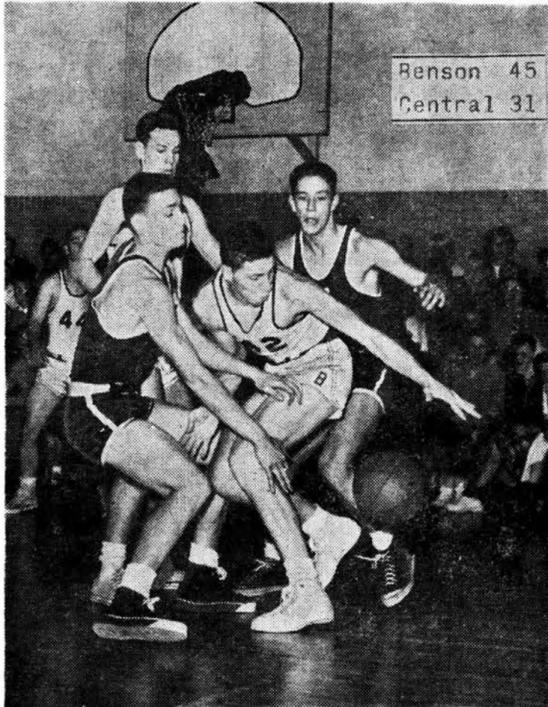

The grapplers, on the other hand, will attempt to show that their past championship performances can also be transformed to the basketball court. (We have our doubts, though.) They have, we are told, a few holds up their sleeves. Whether their style of play can adjust itself to official basketball rules remains to be seen.

Coaching the sportswriters will be no one. As everyone knows, a sportswriter is really a sideline coach at heart. Tutoring the Central wrestlers will be a few assorted weights who have not been named. The referees for the contest have not been selected, for men possessing exceptional eyesight will be needed to catch the tricky ball-fumbling of both teams. Waterboy for the game will be a girl (yes, girl) who can handle water and towels with great skill. The aforesaid will be Mimi Middleton.

Probable lineups:

Winners	Pos.	Grapplers
Marlon (Cub) Somberg.....	F.....	Bob Mancuso
Harold (Editor) Oberman.....	F.....	Frank Mancuso
Ira (Giant) Epstein.....	C.....	Tom (Powerhouse) Scott
Arnie (Shorty) Stern.....	G.....	Jim (Mr. Pres.) Farris
Floyd (Deadeye) Abramson.....	G.....	Sam Pomodoro

P. S.—As an added attraction for latecomers, the Central varsity will play Lincoln Central.

JOHN NELSON battles for loose ball with Benson's Dave Pedersen as Central's Bill Shainholtz looks on.

Bunnies, Lincoln Swamp Cagers as Speedy Starts Produce No Victories

The Central basketball quintet failed, Tuesday, January 25, to head the sign in the Benson High locker room as they lost a 45-31 contest to the Bunnies on their maples. The sign reads: "It's the Finish That Counts."

Central jumped to a 3-0 lead on a tip-off play and a free throw, and stayed even, 9-9, after the first quarter.

Excessive bad passes were costly for the Eagles during the second quarter, but gift tosses, mainly, enabled them to stay with the Bunnies, who led, 17-13, at the half.

Homer Smith and Dave Pedersen paced the Rabbits to a 32-19 third quarter lead. The score was 27-13 before Bob Fairchild tallied for the Eagles with two minutes left in the third period.

The Eagles gained slightly in the fourth period but were too far behind to threaten. The loss of Fairchild on fouls in the third quarter was costly for the Purple and White, who have yet to win an Intercity league game.

Bill Shainholtz potted three baskets and two gift tosses to lead Eagle point-makers with eight points. Chester Scott and Fairchild each made seven markers.

Lincoln Central cagers continued on their unbeaten way, Saturday, January 15, in Lincoln, as the Omaha Central Eagles fell before the Red and Black attack, 46-22.

The Purple and White crew gave the Links very little trouble, and Coach Lyle Weyand used his substitutes for most of the second half.

Bill Shainholtz scored on the opening tip-off to give the Eagles a short-lived lead. At that early moment it appeared that the Hilltop five might get going, but Chick Battey tied it up on a "walk-in," and Gus Lebsack followed with a set-up to put the Links ahead to stay.

With Battey leading the way, Lin-coln pushed to a 11-3 margin at the end of the first quarter, and it was a breeze from then on to the end.

The Eagles seemed to freeze at the sight of a Lincoln man coming in toward the basket, and as a result of this Lincoln didn't try one long shot all evening, scoring every basket from close range.

Bobby Fairchild, who has been moved to the center spot by Coach Marquiss, was the only Eagle to hit more than two field goals. His four fielders and single gift toss were enough to give point honors for Omaha.

Eagle Wrestlers Overcome Vikings with Smashing Win

A. L. Featured Against Matmen

Eagle Five to Soo City; Play Host to Links, Sat.

Central athletes find a busy week-end in store for them today and tomorrow.

Coach Marquiss' cage crew will journey to Sioux City, Iowa, for an engagement with the Black Raiders of East High tonight and then return to Omaha tomorrow to meet the Lincoln High Links on our maples.

Eagle grapplers, fresh from a smashing victory over the previously undefeated North High Vikings, will face the Abraham Lincoln bonebenders tonight in the Central gym.

The Black Raiders should prove a stiff test for the Eagle basketball squad. Although victories have been scarce for East, as they have for Central, the appearance of a 6' 7" center will probably provide trouble for the always trying Eagles.

Probable starters for East include Don Morley and Marlyn Hulst, forwards; Clyde Kirchner, center; Leo Fredette and Jim Young, guards.

The first Omaha appearance of the unbeaten Lincoln cagers will be against the team defeated by them earlier this season. Apparently the trip to Lincoln didn't agree with the Eagles who will be out to hand Coach Lyle Weyand's Links their first loss. Flashy Joe Good will be the Lincoln leader with Chick Battey another headliner.

A chance for part of the city championship depends on how the Eagle wrestlers, under the direction of Coach Sorensen, fare against the Abe Lynx. The Central matmen defeated the Lynx earlier this season, and they are aiming for a repeat performance.

Cage Seconds Fail; Freshmen Succeed

In a sizzling game, the Central reserves lost a close contest to the Benson reserves, 47-41, Tuesday, January 25, at the Benson gym.

The Eagles were behind throughout the first half, but caught on fire in the third quarter almost to overtake the Bunnies. Leading the Eagle attack was Gene Madson who garnered 20 points. Rog Madson trailed with eight.

Getting off to a fast start, the freshman basketball team is now tied for first place in the freshman basketball league with a record of two wins and no losses.

The team won its first game by romping over South, 35-9. Don Sirles led scoring with 17 points.

In the second encounter against Creighton Prep, the freshmen again won by the safe margin of 29-11. Jack Lewis was high point man with six markers.

Siporin Hits 467 Series; Kingpins Retain Big Lead

By beating the third place Shmoos two out of three games, the first place Kingpins moved further into undisputed first, last Monday at the 40-Bowl Alleys.

Arne Kaiman hit the high game of 176, while Harold Siporin went 116 pins over his average for a 467 series.

The high five bowlers are Coroch, Kaiman, Bauer, Mnuuk, and Radda. These five boys are all on the Kingpins team.

JUST PLAIN BILL

One of the new faces on the Eagle varsity basketball team this year is a young lad who answers to the name of William "Bill" Shainholtz.

BILL SHAINHOLTZ

Although this is the first year that Bill is playing first team ball, he has been the mainstay of the second team for the past two years. At the time, Shainholtz is second to Fairchild in the Eagle scoring, and has been one of the brighter features of a dull season.

Besides basketball, Bill's other major sport is track where he is a letterman pole-vaulter. Last year he qualified for the state meet, but he failed to place in the finals.

Bill's immediate ambition is to go to Nebraska to receive a college education. He hopes to play college basketball, if possible.

His pet peeve is a certain basketball manager who is always nagging him. When asked what his pastime is, all that Bill said was, "Who is the girl sitting over there with the white sweater?"

Cosford's Team to First Place in Bowling League

Boasting a three game lead, Pat Cosford's team is in first place in the girls' bowling league. Carol French's team is second with nine wins and three losses, and the next nearest contender is Jo Ellen Slavin's team with five wins and five losses.

High individual scorers were Carol French, 160; Paula Darby, 150; Pat Cosford, 149; and Mary Cosford, 143. Sporting a 128 pin average, Carol French maintains the top position. Susie Bengston is a close second with 127. Following are Paula Darby, 125; Pat Hayes, 123; and Charlene Arnold, 118.

Farris, F. Mancuso Protect Win Streaks; Eagles Cop 9 Tests

The Central High wrestling team made it known to the Omaha and Council Bluffs schools that they were still contenders for the Intercity title by scoring a decisive 27-11 victory over the North High Vikings last Thursday, January 20, in our gym. In the previous meet between the two schools the Vikings downed the Purple wrestlers.

The Eagles got off to a good start when little Mike Abboud tossed Mike around the mat to win an 8-3 decision. In the 95 pound class, Bob Mancuso couldn't seem to pin his opponent and was content to win a 4-4 victory over Anderson.

North Takes Slim Lead

When the 105 pound match came up, Coach Sorensen couldn't find a man who would go up against North's Dick Christensen. Rather than forfeit the match, Willard Duncan, although weighing only 85 pounds, offered to try his skill against his heavier foe. The result: Willard was pinned in 44 seconds, but while he lasted he proved that he had some ability as a wrestler.

Central's other two defeats came in the 112 pound and heavyweight divisions. Substitute Melvin Firestone displayed some good wrestling ability, but he wasn't good enough to beat Lietell. North's heavyweight, Ed Baker, barely won out over Don Wright by a score of 4-2.

Bovee Returns Victoriously

Al Bovee, a veteran of past Eagle teams, proved that he was still a capable point getter by downing Jerry Wolpa, 5-2. With Al's help, the Central grapplers stand a good chance of taking the state and city titles.

- Results:
- 85—Abboud, Central, decided Mill, 8-3
 - 95—Bob Mancuso, Central, decided Anderson, 4-0
 - 105—Christensen, North, threw Duncan in :50
