Hi-Y Sweetheart To Be Crowned Tonight at Ball

Madden, Middlekauff, Johnson Nominated From Central's Club

The main social event of the year for the Omaha Hi-Y clubs will be held tonight at Peony Park. The Coronation Ball, featuring the crowning of the Hi-Y Queens and the orchestra music of Eddy Haddad, will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Each Omaha Hi-Y club has nominated three girls for the honor of queen from their respective club, and the girl receiving the most over-all votes will reign as City-Wide Queen. The girls up for the honor from Central are Shirley Johnson, Jean Madden, and Alice Middlekauff; from North: Marilyn Poetteiger, Marilyn Meth, and Ruth Small; from Benson: Marilyn Summers, Sally Jo Speicher, and Suzanne Adams; from Tech: Alice Turek, Faith Stitt, and Shirley Palmer; from South: Donna Trambly, Connie Lowrey, and Beverly Clark; and from Max Yergan: Helen McMillan, Beverly Bythwood, and Claudette Neal.

Each Omaha club is in charge of one particular arrangement for the ball and Central's job of publicity is being handled by a committee including Brooks Poley, Jerry Schenken, Jim Olsen, Eddie Oathout, and Bill Buffett.

Although the ball is semi-formal, corsages are optional, and like all Peony Park dances, tickets are selling for $1.50 and may be obtained from any Hi-Y member.

"After the ball is over," the club will be preparing for the annual induction services for new members on May 5.

Birds and Bees Bring Joe Armstrong Profit

The birds and the bees will be familiar phrases to Joseph Armstrong at the end of the coming summer.

Joe has recently been awarded a $750 scholarship to one of the Audubon Society's four summer camps for training in educational leadership.

Joseph is known for his interest in ornithology; so this vacation will offer him an excellent opportunity for an extensive study in that field. Having been a member of the Audubon Society for three years, Joe applied to the vice president of the organization for a position in the main summer camp at Medomak, Maine.

The Audubon Society has four summer camps devoted to training educational leaders in the field of ornithology. The camps are in California, Texas, Connecticut, and Maine. Joseph chose the Maine camp because he has always wanted to go to New England, especially to see the beautiful, rocky coast of Maine.

150 Students Named To Junior Society

One hundred and fifty students were awarded membership in the Junior Honor Society at an assembly, Thursday, April 27, in the auditorium.

Vice Principal Andrew Nelsen, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced the women counselors who in turn named those who were elected to the society. Miss Ruth Pilling named the junior members; Mrs. Irene Jensen, the sophomore members; and Miss Jo Frisbie, the freshman members.

Three chapters—Epsilon for freshmen, Delta for sophomores, and Gamma for juniors—form the society.

Dr. Arthur G. Umshel, professor of history at Creighton University and an authority on foreign affairs, spoke on the present world situation. The speaker was introduced by Miss Irma Costello, head of the history department.

The orchestra, under the direction of Noyes Bartholomew, opened the program with two selections, "Strike Up the Band" by Gershwin and "Marche Militaire Francaise" by St. Saens.

The boys who were elected to the Gamma chapter are Peter Andersen, Byron Blanchard, Billy Denny, Don Erickson, Howard Krantz, Emmanuel Papadakis, Lawrence Ravitz, Sol

Maury Lipton Receives Noted Silver Key Award

Maury Lipton, Central High Register sports reporter and columnist, has been named the top sports writer in the state of Nebraska. The announcement was made by the University of Nebraska journalism department this week. In recognition of his achievement, Maury was presented a Silver Key at a banquet given by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Saturday, honoring the 15 Nebraska high school journalists who won Silver Keys this year.

Maury's work was entered in competition with sports writers from all over the state. In winning the award, he exhibited "forcefulness and clarity" in his style. He entered five stories for consideration including the Tech football story, three basketball write-ups, and the all-city basketball team article. The standard of general excellence shown by these stories won him the Silver Key.

Music Department Wins High Honors At District Meet

"Thank goodness it happens only once a year!" That was all the returning Central musicians had to say after spending the entire day of April 13 at the Second District Music Festival held in Fremont. However, Friday the 13th seemed to hold no bad luck for these musicians as Central received its share of superior ratings.

Vocalists gaining superior honors were Alice Middlekauff in girls' high voice; Bill Burke in boys' high voice; and Jean Madden in girls' medium voice.

Two Central instrumentalists were chosen as representative of both their school and of the superior group. Sherry Nevins, flutist, and Frank Tirro, clarinetist, posed for pictures which appeared in morning editions of the Omaha World-Herald.

Players besides Sherry and Frank who were awarded superiors include Johnny Vana, drums; Art Tesar, saxophone; and a clarinet quartet consisting of Frank Tirro, Arnold Epstein, Larry Schwartz, and Pete Weil. Many other Central entries received excellent ratings.

As over 3,500 students and music teachers attended the festival, most of the auditoriums in Fremont were in full use.

O-Club, GAA Plan for Annual Ball on May 25

Plans are under way for the '51 O-Ball to be presented on May 25 at Peony Park by the O-Club and the Girls' Athletic Association. Eddy Haddad and his orchestra will play for the semi-formal affair. The price of tickets is $1.75 per couple and $2 for single.

The sticker design of Ed Oathout's was chosen from many ideas submitted in a contest held by the two clubs. The sticker and ticket committee, headed by Elaine Hess and Mel Hansen, chose the winner who will be awarded a free ticket to the dance.

Invitations will be sent by the invitation committee headed by Jean Fraser and Howard Vann. Jackie Gaskill and Bessie Johnson are in charge of the poster committee, and publicity will be handled by Bill Burke's and Lois Dean's committees.

The grand march is being planned by Beverly Dokullil and her committee. Other committee chairmen are Carol Nygaard and Don Sirles, gifts; Ann Bonfante and Bob Mancuso, arrangements; Reese Ronneau, decorations; Joan Paladino and Ronnie Aboud, tables and ushers; and Jackie Switzer and Leonard Rosen, courtesies.

Miss Clark Breaks Wrist; Plans to Return Monday

Miss Genevieve Clark, history teacher in Central, suffered a fractured bone in her wrist as the result of a fall in her apartment Saturday afternoon, April 21. Miss Clark plans to return on Monday.

During Miss Clark's absence, Mrs. Ida Kirn from Council Bluffs is substituting in her classes.

Seniors of 1951 to Present Comedy, 'Ladies of the Jury'

COURTROOM SCENE—Anita Reznicek, Lois Wall, Jack Moores, Sandra Brown, and Gene Ernst.

Bonfante, Olson Assist As Comedy Readied for Performance on May 3-4

By JoAnn Doyle

Comedy, mystery, and drama are combined in the three-act play, "Ladies of the Jury," to be presented May 3 at a matinee, and May 4 at an evening performance. Miss Myrna Vance Jones will direct the play; her assistants will be Ann Bonfante, student director, and Gayle Olsen, stage coach.

The plot concerns the trial of Mrs. Gordon, beautiful, temperamental French woman, who is accused of murdering her husband. Mrs. Crane, a wealthy, brilliant society woman and a member of the jury, gradually convinces the other members of the jury of the innocence of Mrs. Gordon. The parts of Mrs. Crane and Mrs. Gordon are portrayed by Anita Reznicek and Sandra Brown.

Weil, Wall Portray Villains

Peter Weil will play the part of Jay J. Pressley, a dignified, wealthy, and cold-blooded man of about fifty-five, who is the last to be persuaded by Mrs. Crane. Another juror who Mrs. Crane finds hard to convince is Lily Pratt, a prim and sharp-tongued spinster, played by Lois Wall.

The part of Evelyn Snow, Mrs. Gordon's maid and star witness against her, will be taken by Helen Burhorn, and Darlene Book will appear as Suzanne, Mrs. Crane's French maid.

Romance Blooms Brightly

Anne McTaggart and Larry Carlson appear as Cynthia Tate and Alonzo Beal, the romantic leads. Other members of the jury are Jerry Lewis as the slangy and hard-boiled Mayme Mixer; Tobianne Southern as a young southern newly-wed; Pat Nolan as a hot-tempered Irish cook; Ory Menard as a flashy candy store proprietor; Howard Vann as a world war veteran; Joe Armstrong as a breezy real-estate agent; and Pete Brintnall as an old Scotch gardener.

Others in the play are Jack Moores as Judge Fish, Gene Ernst as Rutherford Dale, the attorney for defense; Dave Taylor as Halsey Van Sty, the prosecuting attorney; Cliff Soulier, as an officer of the court; John Miller as Dr. Quincy Adams James; Phil Abramson as clerk of the court; and Alice Gilinsky as the court reporter. The three waiters in the play will be Jim Farber, Rich Lorimer, and Phil Visek.

Play Committees Named

Lois Ostronic is to be business manager for the play. Phil Abramson will head the publicity committee, and working with him will be Lois Deane, Janice Dimarco, Beverly Dokullil, Barbara Fink, and Jackie Switzer.

Working on the properties committee under Don Keerans will be Marilyn Bryans, Elberta Bush, Jo Ann Doyle, Bonnie Fenson, Alice Gilinsky, Patti Gilinsky, Rogene Manvitz, Joy Miller, Mary Betty Moberg, Betty Ann Poska, Vivian Poulos, Donna Rasgorshek, Phil Visek, Marlene Willie, and Jerry White.

Betty Hamilton will head the costume committee and others on that committee are Carolyn Graves, Jackie Heath, Marlyce Mader, Mary Renna, Robert Stange, Sally Solomon, and Lorraine Murray.

French Club Dance Planned for May 11

The French club is scheduling its annual spring dance for Friday, May 11. This year's semi-formal dance, "Evening in Paris," will be held at the Blackstone Hotel with Eddy Haddad's orchestra.

The dance will be sponsored by Miss Bess Bozell and Mr. and Mrs. Henri Ouellet. Mr. Ouellet is a professor of philosophy at Creighton University and president of the Omaha chapter of Alliance Francaise.

General chairmen of the dance are Larry Carlson and Howard Vann. Joe Blackburn is sticker committee chairman; Ossie Katz, posters; Sally Brown, decorations; Dona Wells, entertainment; and Franklin Pepper, tickets.

Parade Climaxes Four Debaters Win Big Youth Week Fine Arts Reward

The kids will reign the week of April 27-May 5, for these dates usher in National Boys' and Girls' Week. In Omaha festivities begin April 27 at a city government luncheon where a mayor and other city officials will be chosen from 18 boys and girls representing the different high schools. Robert Troyer, a junior, will represent Central at this affair. These honorary high school officials will ride with Omaha's regular officials in the Youth Parade on May 5 and will be the guests at a City Council meeting on City Day, May 1.

Calls of "skip to my loo," "dive for the oyster," and "promenade" will ring out on Friday night, May 4, for on this night there will be a gala square dance festival for all the youth of Omaha at the Y.M.C.A.

The activities of the week will really be culminated by a colorful Youth Parade on Saturday, May 5, at 1:30 in the afternoon. The parade starts at 22nd and Dodge Streets, continues through downtown, and comes to end at the city auditorium which is on 15th and Howard.

Leading the parade will be Mayor Glen Cunningham, the city commissioner, the fire chief, the police chief, and the honorary high school city officials. Following closely behind will be many different youth organizations and outfits. Among those bands which have joined the parade is Central's band which will sport its new uniforms.

Each group that is marching will be in charge of preparing its own floats and any other decorations that it may wish to use. The Register staff is going to share the limelight, too, for the staff will ride in convertibles at the parade.

The team with the phenomenal winning average, Central's debate squad, has returned from their latest trip with still more honors to add to their already large collection. The tournament was the Nebraska Fine Arts Festival, held April 19, 20, 21 at Lincoln, and the honors gained were superior team awards for the teams of Karen McKie-Jerry Brodkey and Laura Reynolds-Tom Troyer. These four debaters also received individual superior awards.

Superiors were also awarded to a number of contestants in individual events. Those receiving them were Tom Troyer in discussion, Peter Weil in discussion, Karen McKie in original oratory, Margie Shapiro in prepared oratory, and Pat Baker in dramatic reading. The one act play with Anita Reznicek, Laura Reynolds, Ann McTaggart, and Joanne Jacobs received a superior rating. Laura Reynolds was voted best actress.

Excellents were given to the following students: Ann McTaggart in interpretive reading, Phillip Abramson in humorous reading, Howard Vann in radio newscasting, Peter Weil in original oratory, and Dick Fellman in discussion. Dick, a first year debater, earned a good in extemporaneous speaking, an event usually reserved for advanced speech students. Miss Marian Mortensen, the debate coach, has indicated that Dick is expected to figure centrally in speech work next year.

Rifle Team Closes Successful Season

The Central High rifle team last week climaxed a successful year by winning the Intercity Rifle championship from squads composed of sharpshooters from Benson, North, and South. This is the second straight year that the Eagle marksmen have copped the title.

Central's six high shooters were Dick Hendrickson, Tom Troyer, Gilbert Davis, Darrell Cox, Mark Anthony, and Don Perrenoud. They posted a total score of 1640, while Benson, the closest competitor, had 1613. Dick Hendrickson was the high individual shooter in the city, while Tom Troyer was second.

Other individual honors won by the Central marksmen were high prone position, Tom Troyer with a score of 100X100, and high standing position, Dick Hendrickson, with a score of 92X100.

The team this year has had one of the most spectacular records in the history of Central rifery. It finished the regular season in a tie with two adult rifle clubs for first place in the National Rifle Association League for this area, won the Intercity championship, placed third in the state championship, and placed third in the William Randolph Hearst Trophy match in competition with over 2000 other teams throughout the country.

Hess, Jensen Top Mid-Term Honor Roll; 264 Others Place

By Janet Manger and Rogene Manvitz
This semester 266 students placed on the mid-term honor roll. Juniors led the roll with 79; seniors followed close behind with 73; while the freshmen had 68 and the sophomores 46. Elaine Hess and Joyce Jensen led the honor roll with 11 points.

Introducing---

Norman Sorensen

Whether it's "Yup," or the slow, silent way he strides down the hall, you can still tell there's a definite similarity between Hollywood's Gary Cooper, and Central's Norman Sorensen.

We all know what a wonderful record Mr. Sorensen has set with his wrestling team, one which he claims "probably couldn't be broken in twenty years." However, very few realize his personal athletic acclaim. In the field of wrestling, he was city and state champ for three years, losing only one match in that time, and also held the city championship for three years in discus throwing.

Mr. Sorensen's greatest pleasure comes from doing constructive things. While in college, he had hoped to be an architect and even drew up blueprints of a house he planned to build some day.

As a lieutenant in the Navy, Norm crossed the Pacific twice, was stationed in Korea, spent two weeks at Okinawa, and six weeks in various hospitals between Japan and San Francisco.

A few weeks ago, we were quite awed seeing this husky six foot two football player walking around with a "shiner," but he explained that it was just one of those things. In the future, though, we, the students of Central High, wish that Mr. Sorensen would keep his eyes the color they are, not black, just blue.

What Every Young Girl Would Like To Know!!

Girls are made of sugar and spice, or so the saying goes; But tell us, boys, what makes a girl have so many beaux? Is it her figure or is it her wit, that keeps her in demand? Beware, girls, and take a tip from every Central man.

- W. Scott Chiles: "They want to play the field and show the other girls what they can do."
Laurie Pollack: "Variety is the spice of life."
Joe Armstrong: "An inequality of the sex ratio, that is..."
Dee Spence: "That's the thing I'd like to know."
John Miller: "I didn't know any of them did."
Phil Visek: "It certainly isn't her looks."
Bob Rasgorshek: "Aw—a—gee, I don't know."
Bob Mancuso: "Ask Raye Dowling."
Jerry White: "One man doesn't have enough money."
Maury Lipton: "The same reason boys have so many girl friends."

Whatever You Do, Miss These Books

Short reviews of the two most popular books of the day:

- 1. FROM HERE TO KISHNEV by John Paul Jones
Although the book has a few good scenes, as the tiddley-winks match, it falls short of portraying army life by using over harsh language.
"Gee, golly gosh, fellow," Lewitt said, "feel like a game of tiddley-winks."
"Well," answered Sarden, his voice dripping with sarcasm, "no."
The above two lines show that this is not a book to be left lying around; most of all, it is not to be reviewed for high school newspapers.
2. TOM-TIKI by Happy Harry the Camel
This book is the story of an amazing voyage—over the bathtub of J. Pierpont Morgan—on top of six hundred boxtops of Wheaties by an army of seven thousand half-dead hyenas who, returning from battle with eighty Yak bombers, are on their way to Afghanistan. TOM-TIKI is not a book to be missed by any red-blooded half-dead hyenas.

Cottons That Bloom in The Spring

Spring has made its entrance, and with it has come a beautiful array of summer cottons.
Barbara Beck looks fresh as a daisy in her summer blouse and skirt. The blouse is white nylon with lace trimming, and the skirt is of soft pink and blue plaid.
Kathleen Nelson has a beautiful light blue suit appropriate for any occasion. White buttons and a red rose in her hair add color to Kay's outfit.
We were impressed by the twin golfers worn by Jackie Gaskill and Marlene Maxwell. As you know, these girls have beautiful blonde hair, and with the brilliant red golfers, they make charming hostesses to Spring.
Ossie Katz has a pink golfer that is very attractive. Since this spring weather is still unpredictable, she wears a lovely rose-colored sweater. The combination makes an appealing eye-ful.
Lois Hannibal makes a trim picture in her tailored white blouse and navy skirt.
Elaine Hess is a picture of Spring in her lovely cotton plaid dress. The bright plaid is green, red, and white. White collar and cuffs add a fresh touch.
Barbara Ruback wears her navy blue blouse with a gay red, white, and navy skirt. The blouse has cool, capped sleeves, and a white pique collar. This is ideal for school wear in these warm months.
To complete our descriptions of Central's latest spring fashions, we want to tell you about Sharon Margolin's pale blue, eyelet trimmed, cotton dress.
See ya',

Central Profile
The Lady of the Jury

Anita Reznicek

Pantomiming a snowflake in a first grade winter panorama did not require theatrical talent, but the portrayal did result in a temporary loss of dignity for Anita Reznicek.

Anita undoubtedly will be a success. Anita's other activities include the positions of associate editor of the Register, sergeant-at-arms of the senior class, program chairman of Central High Players, and a member of a cappella choir, O-Book staff, Junior Honor Society, and Colleens.

At the present, Anita is the senior princess of Job's Daughters, and in June she will be installed as queen of Bethel 13. Her future plans include the University of Omaha, for her position as queen will require her presence at all Bethel meetings next year. About one fact she isn't certain—the question of a major in college, and any help in so choosing will be kindly appreciated. Anita passed through all stages of vocational desires, but at the present she is uncertain as to a field of concentration.
Traveling is a consuming desire which Anita would like to fulfill later on provided that she has the necessary money. As far east as Ohio and as far west as the Rockies has been her limit, but possessing a love for all types of boats, Anita would someday like to live near a body of water other than the Missouri. Sailboats rate particularly high in her estimation although a lack of swimming ability leaves Anita a bit dubious as to the safety of sailboating. She claims that she possesses unathletic inclinations, although she has tried every sport including horseback riding. Her relations with the horse were rather un congenial, however, for Anita could not understand his desire to stop by the side of the road to graze when he was supposed to be sharing with her a slow but pleasant ride.

Anita's chief desire is to learn to drive her brother's convertible, although she feels that the value that her brother places on his car is too high to enable her to learn satisfactorily. She refuses to commit herself as to the ideal boy, probably because of her interests in all types. Anita is an experienced judge in the quality of footlongs, and if it weren't for the figurative consequences, they would constitute an ideal diet. She is at her best while singing "On Top of Old Smoky—," and if you happen to hear strains of this song while walking down the hall, nine chances out of ten it is Anita.

Rime of the Youthful Senior

It is a youthful senior
And he stoppeth one of three
By thy crew cut hair and glittering eye,
Now wherefore stopp'st thou me?
"The study hall doors are open wide
And I am to go in.
If I am late, I'll meet my fate;
O hear that bell's loud din."
He holds her with his skinny hand;
"There is a dance," quoth he.
"Hold off! unhand me, you great big goon!"
Eftsoons her hand drops he.
He holds her with his glittering eye —
The pretty girl stood still
'And listens like a three years' child;
The senior hath his will.
He took her to the school dance,
A wonderful time had they.
He took her to another one
Now they're meeting every day.

Ben Hogan's Story
Fine Motion Picture

Something new has entered the old movie world—a golf story. What could be more natural movie material than a miraculous recovery from a nearly fatal auto smash-up? "Follow the Sun" is bantam Ben Hogan's amazingly authentic life story. This is the first feature-length movie ever filmed on his first love, golf. Acting as a technical adviser, writer, and director, Hogan wanted a reliable biography, and he often slowed down production to iron out details.
This golfer had to take a long step to become the only two-time winner of the United States Open tournament, for early in his career while participating in a tournament, he existed on a diet of oranges. He was just plain broke. The 1949 accident left Hogan with weakened legs that had to be protected by rubber bandages for his first valiant comeback.
He worked diligently with his film counterpart, Glenn Ford, to teach the actor proper golf grip and stance. They trained for six weeks. He is pleased with Ford's portrayal and the performance of Anne Baxter as his wife, Valerie.
To add to the realistic approach to the golf matches, Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, and Cary Middlecoff are played by golfers Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, and Cary Middlecoff.

Criticism Beneficial--
If You Can Take It

Are you feeling bad because you've been criticized?
You may think you're very righteous and indignant, but in reality the ability to accept criticism gracefully is one of the marks of a mature person.
Whether you realize it or not, almost any adverse comments may be true. A person can profit by all these things, if he only understands and doesn't go around moping about it.
For example, critical reviews of new books or plays are glorified examples of what a high school pupil may meet. The authors can use the reviewer's thoughts to improve his next writing efforts.
And so can you.

Journalism Society Grants Membership To Best Reporters

Quill and Scroll, international society for high school journalists, has granted membership to 32 members of the Central High Register staff. Membership is awarded to outstanding journalists who meet the requirements of the society and have demonstrated that they merit the honor on the basis of their record of service and achievement.

In order to become a member, a journalist must be in the upper third of his class in scholastic standing and have done superior work in writing, editing, or business management. He must be recommended by his school principal or publication adviser and approved by the executive secretary of Quill and Scroll.

Central students elected to the society are Myra Abramson, Arley Bondarin, Sandra Brown, Marilyn Bryans, Bill Buffett, Florene Cohen, Lois Deane, Bonnie Fenson, Gary Fuller, Alice Gilinsky, Patti Gilinsky, Carolyn Graves, Dick Hendrickson, Elaine Hess, Shirley Johnson, and Maurice Lipton.

The following also received the honor: Mary Sue Lundt, Rogene Mavitz, Betty McMahl, Sally Neevel, Jim Olsen, Bette Ann Poska, Mary Renna, Anita Reznick, Elly Rosenstock, Margie Shapiro, Sally Solomon, Tobianna Southern, Tom Troyer, Howard Vann, Marlene Willie, and Barbara Witte.

Latin Week Festivities Prove Colorful Success

In every way the Central High Latin Week was a success—from the posters, the stickers, and the showcase—to the Latin tea on April 18.

Over 300 people attended the festive tea which was held in the west lunchroom. Among the guests were Mrs. Bessie Rathbun, former Central High Latin teacher; Mrs. Ben Silver, who has just returned from a trip overseas; and Latin teachers with ten of their pupils from Benson, North, Tech, and South.

The freshman boys, who dressed in togas and greeted the guests, were Bruce Anderson, Park Ames, Bob Kully, Bob Kuhn, Larry Schwartz, Morgan Holmes, Roy Willie, and Dick Frank.

The chairman of the serving committee was Audrey Samms, who had a group of 25 girls assisting her.

The Latin feeling was carried out in every detail all the way down to the white napkins that were inscribed in gold with the Latin message—"Good-bye and Hello."

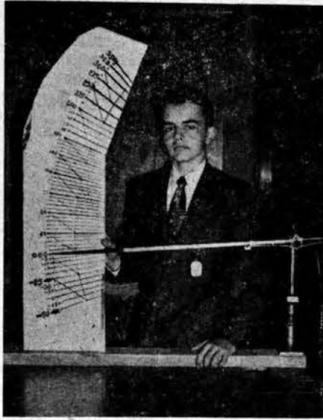

As part of the program Miss Vivian Smith, Tech High Latin teacher, brought her second year Latin choral group to entertain the guests with the singing of "All Through the Night" in Latin.

Colleen Committees Present Short Skits

The Colleens gave their committee reports in a unique way at their last meeting. Each committee presented a short skit or sang a song to illustrate the work which they have done during the year.

Papadakis Gains Workshop Award

Emmanuel Papadakis won first prize in a competition at the University of Omaha's Science Workshop on April 14. Emmanuel entered his project in a contest with 20 other Omaha high school students. First prize was a ten dollar certificate for any book in the university's book store.

EMMANUEL PAPADAKIS

The experiment Emmanuel entered was the apparatus for testing the thrust value of a cartridge full of compressed carbon dioxide—an original experiment as far as he knows. Emmanuel is taking physics at the present time and plans a career in science. He first decided to make the meter for testing the potential force of the bullet while experimenting with his model planes. He used the bullets in his planes as engines, but found in some cases that the planes were too heavy, the bullets did not have power enough to operate. In order to learn what weight to make his planes, he decided to test the power of his bullets.

Workings Explained

The workings of the apparatus Emmanuel constructed are not too complex. The bullet cartridge is punctured by a phonograph needle. The reaction of the escaping gas applies a downward force on one end of the balance arm making the other end rise proportionately to the force. This arm has a pointer on it which points at a scale calculated in grams. Keith Kretschmer took a motion picture of the arm in action and then played the film back in slow motion so Emmanuel could make calculations.

Some boys from Benson placed second in the contest, and Byron Blanchard received an honorable mention for his work with a cathode ray oscilloscope. Two other Central boys, Peter Anderson and Walter Lindell, entered projects in the contest.

Last Saturday Emmanuel and Byron went down to Lincoln with Robert Beck to present papers on their experiments to the Junior Division of the Nebraska Academy of Science.

Lillian Bittner in Recital

Lillian Bittner '51 appeared in a piano recital at the Joslyn Memorial Art Museum, Sunday, April 22. Her selections included pieces from Bach, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, MacDowell, Poulenc, Debussy, and De Falla.

Recently a letter was sent to Central High School from Freedoms Foundation, an organization for preserving and extending the American way of life. W. C. Sawyer, vice president of the organization, wanted to know if Central High pupils would be interested in having a student from West Germany as a visitor to our school.

Four German students have been chosen to tour different sections of the United States. On February 1, Freedoms Foundation launched a program called "Partners in Freedom" in West Germany. Any and all youth were urged to write a one-page statement on "The Real Meaning of the Free Way of Life." Nearly 200,000 students competed, and 500 were chosen at local levels and given awards. Then 50 area winners were selected and from that number four, who can speak English acceptably and who have enough maturity and ability to tell their story, are being brought to the United States by Freedoms Foundations.

The students will be here from May 21 to June 8, and they are to see our schools in operation, meet some of our student body, and get the "feel" of our schools. The purpose of their visit is to instill a better appreciation of our principles in the school children of the United States by having them hear about freedom from those who have known totalitarianism.

Former Graduates Win Phi Beta Kappa Keys

Three Central graduates were named members of Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Nebraska last week. Joel Bailey, Bernard Magid, and Mayer Moskovitz, all '47 graduates, were elected to the national honorary society.

Joel and Mayer were both members of National Honor Society here at Central, while Bernard Magid was a three year member of Junior Honor Society.

Nancy Porter, also '47, was named to Phi Beta Kappa last year at the University of Nebraska. She was also a member of National Honor Society.

A student must rank in the upper tenth of his class to be considered for membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Central Crew Ties Benson In Mud, 0-0

Lee Hurls Three-Hitter Over Favored Bunnies; Eagles' Play Errorless

By Cy Vann

The Central Eagles and Benson Bunnies sloshed through the heavy mud at Fontenelle Park last Tuesday afternoon and fought to a 0-0 baseball standoff.

The two teams were forced to take their infield practice far out in the outfield grass, while workmen spread dry dirt around home plate and the pitcher's mound.

The game went into two extra innings but still could not be decided. The two teams will have to replay the whole game later on during the season.

Don Muenster and Jack Lee lived up to expectations by both pitching beautiful games. Jack allowed but three hits and Muenster gave up five singles.

Series Cuts Off Run

Lee was in trouble just once in the sixth inning, when Jim Harden opened with a double. Harden's blow was the only extra base hit of the game. Jim advanced to third base on an infield roller and tried coming home on a "swinging bunt." Lee came running in and flipped the ball underhanded to catcher Don Sirles who managed to tag the sliding man. This was the outstanding defensive play in the contest and also kept the Bunnies from scoring.

In the second inning, Keith Weideman and Bob McCardell both singled with two out, but big Muenster bore down and struck out the next batter.

Only one Eagle was able to work Muenster for a walk. Jack Lewis turned the trick in the third inning. Also in the third stanza, Central muffed a chance to win the game. Bob Mancuso, who got the Purples' first hit in the first inning, lived on Muenster's error, and Sirles singled. With Mancuso, Sirles, and Lewis clogging the base paths, and no one out, Muenster forced Mel Hansen to pop out, struck out Moe Rule, and made Lee fly out.

Weather Slows Baserunners

Only one double play was made, that one by Benson. A Bensonite caught a line drive and threw the ball to first for the "fukle" twin kill. Bob McCardell slipped in the slush while running to first.

The hits that were garnered could have been for extra bases if it had not been for the wet weather.

Benson is rated by some folks as the Intercity team to beat. If this is so, Central looked very good in their clash against the Bunnies.

The defensive work of the entire team was superb. The boys looked like a top flight ball club.

Li'l Eagles Test Viking Yearlings in Dual Meet

The Central freshman-sophomore track team, coached by Warren Marquiss, will meet the North High underclassmen in a dual track meet tentatively scheduled to be held on the North High cinders on Thursday, April 27. The track meet will be the first competition for the Li'l Eagles this season.

The Eagles' sophomore team should have plenty of strength in the track events. Coach Marquiss will use Andy Cousins, Art Stearns, Rodney Wead, Rich Henkens, James Perkins, and John Marcell to form the nucleus of the sophomore relay teams. Cousins, Stearns, Wead, and Henkens will be used in the various sprint events also. In the mile and half mile competition, Doug Little and James Weaver will represent the young Eagles; and James Perkins will do the high jumping.

Rodney Wead proves to be most versatile man on the squad as he participates in the shot put and discus events in addition to the relays and sprints.

For the freshmen, Lawrence Thomas, Jim Wilkin, Warren Banks, Terry Moshier, and John Clark will comprise the relay teams, and they will also do the sprinting. John Clark will do the broad jump, high jump, and pole vault. Rickey Gross and Angelo Georgios will throw the shot put and the discus for the freshmen.

Net Squad Wins First Two Tests

The inexperienced Eagle net squad got off to a flying start as they won their first two matches of the year from South and Thomas Jefferson on the Dewey tennis courts. The net-sters then ran into Creighton Prep, last year's state champions, and suffered the first loss of the season, 2-1.

South High provided the first competition of the year, and they were defeated, 2-1. Ed Clark, the new tennis coach, used the entire eight man squad in the victory.

Central's next match was against an inexperienced Thomas Jefferson team. The Eagles whitewashed the Yellowjackets, 3-0.

Creighton Prep gave Central their first defeat of the season, 2-1, at the Dewey courts last Tuesday afternoon. Prep was forced to use their best men to defeat Fred Segal and Tom Lowry in the singles.

Norm Veltzer and Marshall Becker are still undefeated in three matches and rank as Central's number one doubles team.

Other boys who have seen action are Jim Farber, Dave Cassell, Alan Marer, and George Kahn.

Net Squad Wins Vikings Trip Eagles In Tri-School Meet

Central's track team lost a triangular meet to North, 96-73 1/2, on Friday, April 13; Creighton Prep was third. Intercity track records in the 100 yard dash and the 120 yard high hurdles don't appear to be very safe if early season performances are any indication of things to come.

Rod Washington, a junior from Independence, Kansas, continued his mastery of the century event by ticking off a neat :10.2, his fastest time of the year. Washington also placed second in the 440 yard run.

The other speed demon to cross the Eagle's horizon this year in Jerry Fitzsimmons, a senior from Minneapolis. Fitzsimmons won the high hurdles in :15.9. He added a third place in the 110 yard low hurdles.

Cousin Wins 440

Don Sterba, Prep's only individual winner, ran a creditable :24 race in the 220 yard dash to edge Wayne Larsen of North. Bill Englehardt of North was third and Central's Charles Hays came in fourth. The mile run was won by Alfred Shiemann of North, with Bud Weaver of Central taking second place. North's Charles Drescher and Frederick Rudd came in third and fourth.

The 880 yard honors were captured by Tom Carl of North in 2:18 with teammate Thomas Perkins coming in second. The Eagles' Bud Nicholson was third, and Gary Luse took fourth place. Andy Cousin of Central ran a winning :54.9 in the 440 yard dash. The Vikings' Charles Honke placed third, and North's Don Smith was fourth. Dick May of North disposed of the 110 yard low hurdles in :11.9, and Bob Knapple of Central was second. Creighton Prep's Hal Linstrom placed fourth.

Rosen Takes Discus

Three out of the five relays were won by North. The Vikings won the 880 freshman relay, the 440 freshman relay, and the 880 sophomore relay. Central took the 440 yard varsity run. The Junior Jays won the 880 yard varsity relay.

Devastating Dewey Wade put the shot 47 feet, 8 inches, which was 13 inches more than Leonard Rosen, who was second. Ruvolo of North was third, and Tom Porsel grabbed fourth. Rosen won the discus with a toss of 130 feet, 10 inches. Wade was second, Ruvolo third, and Jerry Pucilik of Creighton Prep, fourth. Basile Johnson and Bob Knapple tied for first in the high jump with leaps of five feet, six inches.

The pole vault ended in a tie between Kick May and Robert Eddy at 10 feet. Both are from North.

Thinclad Rod Washington Personalities

A quiet, unimposing junior boy is Rod Washington; but, as the saying goes, "How that boy can run!" Ever since he entered Independence Junior High School in Independence, Kansas, Rod has been interested in track and has been on the track team, both in Independence and at Central.

This year, however, he's really come into his own. Running the 100 yard dash, the 220, the 440, and on the 880 relay team, Washington is a tireless worker who puts his every effort into his sprinting. Besides the dashes, however, Rod finds time to jump 20 feet, 8 1/2 inches in the broad jump in practice.

So far this year Rod has held his competitive entries to the 100, 440, and the 880 relay. He has not entered in the broad jump and 220 dash in competition.

All of Rod's long practice sessions pay off well, as a look at the record will show. His top time for the 100 dash this year is 10.2, only two-tenths of a second off the district meet record. The meet this year will be held tomorrow, April 28, either at Omaha University or at Tech High School. Washington will enter his usual 100 and 880 relay, but will not enter the 440, favoring the broad jump instead.

In the North High triangular meet this year, Rod ran the 100 in 10.2, the 440 in 54.6, and entered in the relay. At the Benson dual meet he ran the 440 in 55 seconds flat.

Rod has quite a distance to go before he breaks the T. J. relay 100 record, however. The T. J. meet, postponed last Saturday, will be run on Tuesday, May 1. The record for the 100 in this meet is 9.7, run by Tip Saggau, now American Legion Post No. 1 adjutant, in 1937. Rod hopes to hit 9.9, in the state meet, to be held May 11-12.

Although Rod has run away from most of the field this year, a Tech boy has given him some trouble. He is Roy Seals, who runs the 100 and 220.

Rod was no cinder slouch last season, either. His competitive records in the 220 and broad jump for 1950 were 22.7 and 20 feet, 8 1/2 inches respectively.

Rod's prediction of 9.9 for the state meet is not just loose talk. He has run the 100 in 10 seconds flat earlier this season in practice. So it's a good bet he'll reach his goal of 9.9 on May 11-12. You can bet he'll try.

Cindermen Scheduled for District Meet Competition

Three Eagle Hurlers Hold T. J. to Single Hit in 20-0 Decision

The Thomas Jefferson entry in the Intercity Baseball league was given a warm but cheerless welcome into the circuit by the Central Eagles, April 19, at Boyd Park.

Yellowjacket pitchers, John Lee and Dean Wood, facilitated the victory by issuing nineteen free passes. The Eagles coupled the walks with seven hits and four Tee Jay errors for a 20-0 win.

Eagle hurlers, Fred Armbrust, Lester Brown, and Jack Lee were in top form as they limited the Bluffs batsman to only one hit, a slow roller between first and second.

Armbrust started on the mound and gave up the hit and one walk during his four inning stint. Lester Brown then worked an inning walking none and giving up no base knocks. Jack Lee closed out for Purples working the sixth and seventh. He passed one man and shut out the Yellowjackets in the hit department.

In the sixth frame the Central substitutes took over and ground out seven runs to prove the depth of this season's squad.

Leading Eagle batsmen were Maury Rule and Keith Weideman, each getting two base blows. Maury's double was the only extra base hit of the day.

Mel Hansen had the distinction of getting on base four times and scoring three runs without an official trip to the platter. Mel drew a walk in each of his four appearances at the plate.

Girls' Sports

By Sandy Brown

For those who play tennis, these are anxious and unpredictable days. Will it rain, or won't it rain?

The girls who are bidding for positions on Central's tennis team are asking the same question. Play-off after play-off has been canceled, but three of the six players have been chosen. They are Suzie Bengston, Donna Whisenand, and Kay Talty. Contenders for the other three positions are Carol Nyggard, Irene Lister, Mary Heitman, Joyce Jensen, and Eleanor Rosenstock.

In a match with Benson on the 16th, Central came out on the bottom, being beaten in three out of four matches.

Switching off in a doubles match, Eleanor Rosenstock, Suzie Bengston, and Irene Lister lost to Kay Kolderie and Joan Johnson 6-0; 6-2. Mary Heitman and Carol Nyggard lost to Carol Jenkins and Beverly Petersen 6-3; 6-2. Also, Donna Whisenand lost to Phyllis Vance 6-3; 6-2 in their singles match. Kay Talty brought home the only victory by downing her opponent, 6-1; 6-2.

The freshman girls have good reason to be proud of Connie Tarascio and her six team mates, because these girls are the champion volley ball players in Central.

The team beat all eleven of the upperclassman teams, and even came through the final playoffs undefeated. Francis Formanek, Lillian Woltley, Marie Zaloudek, Diane Rasmussen, Carol McBride, and Connie seem to be doing the same thing in basketball too. Hats off to the freshmen!

The first lap of the tournament trail will unfold before Coach Marquiss' tracksters in the district qualifying meet tomorrow afternoon at the University of Omaha.

Only the winners of the first four places in individual events and first two relay teams will qualify for the state meet in Lincoln, May 11-12.

Since the Tee Jay relays were rained out, many of the cindermen will be up against their first real test. As many of the teams have not been in competition, the only comparison can be made by times in previous races.

Central's Rod Washington has run the best time in the century with :10.2, but Jerry Tannahill, North, and Roy Seals, Tech, have turned in times a tenth of a second slower.

Jones Top Miler

In the 220 and 440 yard dashes, the marks seem safe with no times approaching the records. Only Rod Washington's :54.6 quarter mile ranks with top flight competition. Maltvass Vincent, Boys Town, with a 2:08.4 half time has best time reported in the Omaha area.

Freshman miler Charles Jones from Boys Town, who has been kicking around Gold Medal time all season, is favored to cop the event easily.

Although not challenging the record time, Central's Jerry Fitzsimmons has outrun all opponents in the 120 yard high hurdles. In the low sticks no exceptional times have been posted.

Rosen Weight Favorite

Another of the highly potential record breakers is the 880 yard relay team from North High. Already this season they have covered the distance in 1:36. North also has a good mile relay team, but they might be forced to take a back seat to Tech.

In the field events, Len Rosen, Central, Dewey Wade and Frank Ruvolo, North, are the leading candidates for top honors in the weights.

Roy Seals, Tech, and Roger Dumbir, Benson, are the leading high jumpers with leaps of 5 feet 9 inches. As usual, pole vaulters are scarce but North has some prospective material. North's Jerry Tannahill is the leading broad jumper with a 21 feet 7 1/2 inches effort.

North's all-around squad could give the Eagles trouble copping meet honors.
