The $\mathbb{N}$ obler Part

O school of my delight,
Oh scene of all my childhood years
With all their hopes and all their fears
And all their dreams and romps and tears.
İ pass from out your sight.
The sculptor's vision clear
Beholds within the shapeless stone
Some graceful image he alone
Can set upon the golden throne
Of beauty we revere.
Upon the canvas bare
The painter's genius may reveal
The radiant light of Holy zeal
Until inspired, imbued, we feel
Our hearts in silent prayer.
The potter's plastic clay
Within his deft and skilful hand Will mold itself to his command, And finished, perfect it will stand,

Resplendent in array.
But school of my delight,
No stone, nor brush, nor plastic art Can parallel your nobler part To build aright the human heart Of those who pass from sight.

The Class of 1216

ITH what awe and respect did we, as Freshmen, gaze upon the lordly Seniors and long to be like them. They shouted their praises to the skies and we, with bated breath, listened in wondering admiration, and believed. Suddenly realizing that we, too, might some day become as illustrious as they, we immediately put forth an effort to attain greatness. As Sophomores, with new Seniors as instigators, we pushed forward with a spirit of loyalty bound to bring us to the front. As Juniors we came back with an abundance of "pep," that caused the haughty Seniors to "watch their step." And now-now at length we have reached our goal. Now we, as Seniors, may sing our praises to the world and say "We, the Class of 1916, are the best class that ever has graduated or ever will graduate." But we refrain, for the world is deaf to our song. We only believe, yet we believe with all our hearts.

Standing erect on old Capitol Hill and overlooking the muddy Missouri, an imposing structure awaited our arrival four years ago. The building had just been completed we were its first Freshmen. Much painful embarrassment did we escape on this account, for the mighty Seniors rushed just as frantically about the halls trying to find some room that wasn't, as did we. Innocent, happy days were our Freshmen days. We marched up the steps to school in the morning with faces aglow and shining, from the recent application of the scrubbing brush. The boys, for the most part, were clad in short trousers. The coy little maidens tossing their ribbon bedecked heads made the Freshmen classes veritable flower gardens. Then we were but as small waves playing about on the crest of the sea. But as the small waves unite to form mighty breakers that strike the shore with a tremendous force, so we, in the course of four years, are blended into a great, capable band of co-workers.

We are justly proud of our athletic endeavors. What valiant heroes were Fullaway and Neville! And Crowley, too, showed his mettle. But these are not all. Every member on each team is worthy of our highest praise. Does not Mars recognize their valor? Many were our football victories-many were our heroes. And did we not make sweeping victories in track? How many joyful evenings have we spent watching some gallant of our team toss the basket ball through the basket to victory. With no less ardor, Miller and Bailey debated until their opponents did shrink with fear.

Our soldier-boy, Thompson Wakeley, proved himself as valiant and efficient as Mars could wish. The entire regiment has had a most successful year under the command of our able officers. Camp, with its pains and pleasures, will soon end it all.

Proud, too, are we of our honor students - and long is our list.
No less important was our gay social career, with theatre parties, luncheons, dances, and last, our Senior banquet and Commencement exercises. Many were the dances, well managed and well attended-ever will they linger in our memory.

And now our High School life draws to a close. The Senior play, "Dorothy Vernon of Hadden Hall," is bound to be a tremendous success, with rehearsals progressing rapidly under the most able leadership. Soon all will be over and-goodbye dear O. H. S. You have been most kind to us and, after leaving you, as we travel upon our different highways and byways of life, we will ever hold you in our memory.

Thus we leave our Alma Mater-
Leave the fountain of our learning;
Leave the school of white and purple;
Leave the High School on the hillside.
L. M. H., ' 16 .

Class of ${ }^{2} 76$

1UST forty years ago this June the first class graduated from the Omaha High School. Of the eleven members the girls are before you; the boys refused to be in the picture. With these girls you may have associations. Stacia Crowley, a very brilliant student, taught in Omaha for many years. In fact, she taught English literature to some of your present teachers. Blanche Deuel, the valedictorian of the class, died soon after graduation. Addie Gladstone, now Mrs. Gross, is the mother of Miss Irma Gross, who has just become a member of the Faculty. Ida Goodman is still teaching in our grade schools. Esther Jacobs, now Mrs. Rosenberg, has had two children graduate from O. H. S.-Edwin, one of our champion debaters, and Pauline, who substituted in our High School last year. Surely you know Mrs. McConnell, whose children, Lyman, Fred, Elizabeth and Gretchen, have graduated with us. Nelia Lehmer became Mrs. Richard Carrier. Margaret McCague, the wife of Mr. Gordon, a clergyman now in Massachusetts, is the sister of our Miss McCague. Fannie Wilson is Mrs. Woodbridge, whose son, Sands, of the class of ' 13 , is now with the WorldHerald, and whose daughter, Mary, now attends O. H. S. The boys of the class, Alfred Ramsay and Henry Currie, do not live in Omaha. Henry Estabrook, a prominent attorney and a presidential possibility, was a member of the class, but did not graduate with them.

The Class of 1917

E JUNIORS are very proud of our class and a reason for our pride can be obtained by merely looking over the record we have made in the past and at the one we are making at present. In fact, our record is so fine that all of the other classes, including the "invincible" Seniors, look to our class with eyes filled with envy.
We'll mention athletics first not only because the Juniors are very well represented in this department of school activities, but also because athletics occupy a very prominent place in our school. Our football team was very successful and, although it did not win the championship, it put up a good fight for it, and in doing so eliminated Grand Island, whose team was counted as the strongest of the teams contending for the title. The success of the team depended largely on the Juniors who were members of it. "Chuck" Morearty, Clyde Smith, John Peterson and Arnold Krogh were the Juniors' donation to this team. In basket ball the Juniors are represented by Eugene Maxwell and by Jesse Patty. Maxwell came from Beatrice, but that doesn't affect his playing at all. Beatrice surely lost an awfully fine player and a mighty fine fellow when he moved here, and Omaha has gained what Beatrice lost. "Max" was easily conceded a place on the All State team. It is really not necessary to say anything about Patty's playing. We all have seen him play and we shall remember some of his spectacular baskets for a long time. The Junior basket ball team was running along very well and tied the Seniors for class championship, but the night that the decisive game was played, all of the members of our team must have felt sorry for the Seniors, for they didn't put up much opposition and really allowed the Seniors to win.

At the time of this writing there had been but two track meets staged. In both of these "Chuck" Morearty was very noticeable. We all know how successful our president is in track work, so it will not be necessary to say very much concerning him here. Other Juniors who were prominent in track work are Owen Comp and Frank Campbell. This year a baseball league was formed for the high schools of Omaha and Council Bluffs. Omaha's team is making rapid strides toward championship of this league. Our class is well represented on the team. Cleary Hanighen, a Junior, is one of our tennis "sharks" and it is expected that he will show up in even better form than he has in the past. Among the girls who are prominent in tennis are the following Juniors: Evelyn Douglass, Virginia Greene and the Swenson twins. It is easily seen that this year's tournament is very largely a Junior affair.

In the cadet regiment our class is very well represented. Of course, our "soldiers" are only non-commissioned officers this year, but when the Seniors depart, leaving the commissioned offices vacant, it will not be hard to find very able successors to their positions.

The Junior class is also well represented in the musical organizations of the school. Every one knows of the splendid things the Choral Union, the Boys' Glee Club and the Girls' Glee Club have accomplished this year. The newest organization that has been produced is the "Masked Marvel" octet, five of whom are Juniors. That might possibly be the reason that it has met with such great success.

And now we come to the real purpose of the school-the production of students. A great number of our classmates are real students, and we find their names on the "honor" list a great many times. Among some of our honor students are Madeleine Cohn, Virginia Greene, Valeska Pfeiffer, Cleary Hanighen, Earl Lowe, Helen Bertwell and many others who are too modest to have their fine quality of work advertised.

The Class of 1918

'Nother year, 'nother year, 'nother year onward, Into the Sophomore class rides the six hundred.

ND so it is. Here we are on the second step of the four rung ladder. Here we are, the Sophomores. O, wise Sophomores! foolish Sophomores! but still Sophomores. Who beguiles the innocent Freshman? Who smiles at his teachers with a knowing air? Who causes all the trouble? Who owns the school with a lordly manner? The Sophomore! Cast your eye over the honor list. Linger a moment here and there, and you will discover that the biggest part of this list is composed of Sophomores. Turn your gaze to the list of noted athletes in the Book of Fame. There they are. Many Sophomores! Turn to the page of renowned orators and debaters. What? Sophomores! Look at the regiment. Who stands straighter (who causes more trouble) than the Sophomore? And so it is, indeed. Wherever you may go, wherever you may gaze, your eye will behold him, the Sophomore. In the halls, from eight-thirty until nine, who are those beautiful damsels that catch your wandering eye? Sophomores! O, verily! Diana smiled with unusual warmth on this favored class of ours. (Gee! I'm glad I'm a Sophomore).

Our class stands second in athletics this year. Our team took second place in the interclass track meet. Our athletic stars are Paynter, Logan, Burgess, Mayne, Fesslar and Underwood.

Colinetta Lear, Katherine Goss, Barton Kuhns and Robert Buckingham did the counciling for our class. As the council had only one meeting, very little was accomplished.

Daniel Longwell, our class politician, won the compet in the O. H. S. Road Show. There were ten Sophomores in this show.

And so in anything and everything there are representatives of our class. O. Sophomores! Hold your heads high! Cast down your eyes to none! Keep high and true your aim, and "On, on, let Fame be unconfined.

The Class of 1919

PILGRIM, in a 1916 Ford, chugged briskly up the side of Mt. Parnassus, that mount on whose side the Delphic Oracle, so well known to aspiring students of Greek history, abode. When at last he stood in the awful presence, he addressed the Pythia thus: "I come, O Priestess, from the land of Capitol Hill, whose fame, you are aware, has spread even to the ends of the earth. But it is not Capitol Hill of which I am to speak; but rather of the gifted band of people called Freshmen, who dwell there. What glorious futures does Apollo hold for the members of this class?"

The priestess, instead of going into a trance as time-honored custom demanded. almost toppled off her pedestal in surprise.
"What!" she cried. "Does the class of 1919 honor me thus? Many emperors and learned sages have come hither, but never before have I been asked concerning any people whose future honor and glory were as assured as are those of this Freshman class."
"Yes, truly," answered the messenger, "the class which was too wise to take the elevator, or hunt for Room 200 (even as the wily Sophomores advised) has sent me to you. The wise Sophomores, superior Juniors and lofty Seniors, because of their superior knowledge, would dispute the Freshmen's important place on Capitol Hill. Therefore, I pray you, consult Apollo without delay, that their social position may be established."

After communing with Apollo for some minutes, she began to mutter indistinctly. Finally the waiting pilgrim was able to make out the following words: "The glorious future of this class lies before me. When these happy individuals have been called to their various walks of life, they will leave behind, not only a tale of wondrous achievements, but also a spirit of school patriotism which will last long after their deeds have been forgotten. But as for their achievements themselves, I foresee that in track-why, Hermes himself will tremble for his reputation, should he be challenged to race with such men as Robert Downs, Arno Harper, Joe McConney, Thaddeus Roundtree, Howard Turner and other famous athletes. On the gridiron it will take a veritable Hercules and Hermes combined to beat the team which will be produced. In other school activities, such as basket ball, debating, dramatics, boosting, aye, even in brains, will they excel. So saith Apollo."

After leaving as gifts, a wonderful spicy cake, made by some of the domestic science maidens of Capitol Hill, and a beautiful inlaid incense stand which some of the manual training youths had likewise sent, he let his little car coast down the hill toward home.

Student Councill

| F |
| ens |EW have been the meetings of the Student Council this year, but mighty has been its influence. While we were becoming acquainted with our new Principal, Mr. Masters, and while he was becoming acquainted with us, the Student Council was forgotten. But, as a light is not to be hidden under a bushel, anything so important cannot remain in obscurity forever, and finally a meeting was called.

The council is composed of representatives from each class. Eight haughty Seniors, six friendly Juniors and four wise Sophomores are elected by their respective classes, part nominated by the faculty, and part by the class. The two Freshmen representatives are elected by the teachers. The council has no legislative power, but is simply a means of conveying the ideas and sentiments of the students to the Principal and the faculty. Without the council, the Principal would become acquainted with the rascals of the school only, and this class is not representative of the student body as a whole.

Therefore, we sincerely hope that the council will be continued in years to come, and that it will be instrumental in bringing about a better understanding between teachers and pupils, and in inspiring the whole school to better conduct and scholarship.

The representatives for the year have been as follows:

| SENIORS | JUNIORS | SOPHOMORES |

Millitary HE efficiency of the regiment has been greatly improved this year under the instruction of Major Elsasser of the Nebraska National Guard, our commandant. Major Elsasser has devoted much time to instructing the Juniors and Sophomores at special drills. These drills have created an unusual amount of interest for the regiment.
A new system of marking the companies has been inaugurated this year, which has made it more difficult to win the "Flag." A new office was created, in order to have a correct record of all companies. Michael Goldsmith was appointed Captain and Aide, which is the title of this new office. Other new Senior offices have been created in order that the majority of Seniors may receive a military diploma, which is coveted by all of the cadets.

A competitive drill was held in each of the two performances of the O. H. S. Road Show. The drill was one act in the show. Each company had one man in the spelldown. The first of these drills was won by Sergeant Ege of Company F after a few minutes of exciting drill. The second spell-down lasted much longer than the first, for the cadets were now more accustomed to the stage lights. Corporal Longwell of Company A was declared the winner of this drill.

After much discussion and planning, Valley, Neb., has been selected for the camp of 1916. It is hoped that this year's camp will be a great success, for the officers were unanimous in the vote to back the "clean camp movement," which has been growing from year to year. The camp week will begin June 5th and end Saturday, the 10th.

Camp Stritzinger

Camp Stritzinger was held at Malvern, la., last June. The camp was a great success, as everybody had a great time. The girls of Malvern were especially good to the cadets. Dances and parties were given almost every night for the cadets, who enjoyed themselves immensely.

Visitors' day dawned with the roads and camp quite muddy, but the sun came out and soon dried up most of the camp. Many people drove down from Omaha in automobiles, while the others came on the special visitors' train. The Malvern people were very obliging and offered their aid in taking the visitors to camp. All those having cars met the train and carried the visitors to the camp.

We broke camp on Saturday morning, and it was a tired and sleepy regiment which arrived in Omaha a few hours later.

COACH HAROLD R. MULLIGAN

Coach Mulligan

R. MULLIGAN came here last fall to take up his work as Athlatic Coach. He worked under a handicap at first since he had to get acquainted with the men he was to work with. After a great deal of work he succeeded in turning out a first class football team. Then came a winning basket ball team, made up almost entirely of new men. The track team this year was the best in the state and that is saying something.

Besides being able to turn out good athletic teams, Coach Mulligan has made timself a friend of every member of the school and is highly esteemed by all. It is earnestly hoped that he will continue his affiliation with the Omaha High School.

The Team Mamagers

Edward Zipfel was the student football manager this year. He filled his office in an excellent manner. Ed was always willing to work for the team and help the coach in every way.

Cartton Swiler represented the student body as basket ball manager. His good work in this capacity is certainly to his credit. Carlton was always on hand when needed.
A. D. Cloyd was the manager of the track team. "Doc" was not very fast himself, but he made a fine manager for the speedy ones of the school. He was willing to do his work well and succeeded in doing so.

Mr. Spinning

Mr. Spinning got to work early this year and has turned out the best High School baseball team in these parts. He deserves credit for the diligence with which he worked each evening after school in his effort to make the team a success.

Athletic Managers

[Football

응UR TEAM this year worked under a great handicap. At the start of the season there were only five old men around whom to build a new team. We had a new coach who had to get acquainted with the men and with whom the men had to become acquainted. The team had several setbacks because of injuries and other difficulties. The great showing made on Thanksgiving Day against Grand Island shows that the team really had the stuff in them only they never had a good chance to prove the fact.

The result of the 1915 schedule is:

| Omaha 14, Council Bluffs 0 | Omaha | 0, Lincoln 20 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Omaha 12, Creighton 6 | Omaha | 7. North Platte 48 |
| Omaha 12, East Des Moines 24 | Omaha | 0, Sioux City 7 |
| Omaha 14, Norfolk 9 | Omaha 14, Grand Island 6 |  |

THE TEAM

REESE, captain and left tackle. "Herb" made things hum around his side of the line during a game. Herb had a bit of hard luck this year and was forced out of the game on account of injuries.
BEARD. "Daddy" made a wonderful center and was awarded All-State honors by several critics.
NICHOLS. "Nick" played quarter while Chick was laid up. The rest of the time he played a good fast game around left end.
NEVILLE. "Chick" was one of the headiest players on the team. His high class playing earned him the honor of All-State quarter on the first team.
MOREARTY, captain-elect and right half. "Chuck" had many chances to show his speed at half and he never missed his chance, especially around left end and after passes.
FULLAWAY, fullback. "Foo" sure did make that educated toe of his work and it certainly did help many a time. He played a first class game all through the season.
KROGH, "Arno" left guard. He was a caution to the fellow playing opposite him and the holes he made in the opponents line were big enough to drive a wagon through.
GROVE, "Ted," right tackle. Ted could always be counted on to do his best in any game. We pity the left tackles that had to run up against him.
PAYNTER, FLOYD, right tackle and right guard. This was Floyd's first attempt at football and he ought to be a comer, judged from the type of game he played this season.
CROWLEY, left tackle. Although John was rather quiet around school, no one ever seemed anxious to mix with him on the field.
NEWTON, "Fig," left end. Fig had a habit of getting in and breaking up plays befo:e the other man could get started. He was always jolly and amused the other members of the team with his little old mouth harp.
WEIRICH, half-back. Leonard always wanted to gallop the length of the field every time he got the ball. When he tackled a man, it was a sure down.
LOGAN. "Turk" made a fine half-back. He hit the line hard and tackled like a veteran. Turk always played a good clean style of football.
SMITH, right end. Schmidty made an ideal end. He had enough weight to stop any o:dinary high school man and could carry the ball as well as a half.
PETERSON, full-back. "Pete" was a "bad man" in a football suit. He never seemed to ca:e for the other team and invariably proceeded to express his feelings.
DAUGHERTY, left end. Ed left Creighton soon after we beat them and joined forces with us. He made an excellent man at end and helped break up many a play.
MASON, left guard. "Russ" was a demon at his position. When a play came his way it was sure to stop. When it came to making holes in the other line "Russ" was a regular plow.

Edward Zipfel, manager, and Eugene Russum, assistant manager, tried to do their best in every respect. (They surely must have been glad when the season was over).

Basketball Team

Basketball

HE BASKET BALL team started out very well this year and went down to the Tournament with high hopes. They were doomed to disappointment, however, and were defeated by Beatrice in the semi-finals. The team put up a good clean game throughout the year. The strength of the team is shown by the fact that most of the games were easily won. We feel that the team saved us from disgrace by beating Lincoln twice, once here and once in Lincoln. The team next year ought to be a good one, as all but one of the regulars will be back.

The result of the 1915-16 schedule is as follows:

Omaha 24, Council Bluffs 32
Omaha 17, Lincoln 11
Omaha 29. Beatrice 27
Omaha 24, Sioux City 16.
Omaha 18, University Place 12

Omaha 20, Lincoln 15
Omaha 10. Sioux City 32
Omaha 21, Council Bluffs 15
Omaha 18, St. Joseph 28

Omaha 23, Seward I
Omaha 8, University Place 7

Omaha 7. Beatrice 17

THE TEAM

PAYNTER, captain and center. Floyd had the honor of being elected basket ball captain in his Sophomoze year. He played a good hard game all through the season.
PATTY, left forward. Jess was the main stay of the team. He could always be depended on to get a fow baskets when they were most needed.
GROVE, right guard. "Teddy" was a regular wall when it came to stopping a basket ball. He was always on duty when the ball came his way.
LOGAN, left guard. "Turk" made a fine mate for Ted. He certainly knew how to play the game and always managed to ring up a few scores during a game.

MAXWELL, right forward. Max came here from Beatrice. He sure knew all the fine points of the game and never failed to make a few points in a game.
SMITH, right forward. While Clyde was only in a few games he certainly gained a reputation as a basket ball player.
YARDLEY, substitute. George was a good man and, in all probability would have made the first team as a regular if he had been heavier.
SWILER, manager. "Bones" made a very efficient as well as obliging manager. He even went to Bellevue one pleasant evening to get Patty. "Bones," you are congratulated on your thriftiness.

Girlls Athletics

THE girls seemed especially interested in athletics this year, for at the beginning of the year they even threatened to form a football squad.

The fall tennis tournament was especially interesting, because of so many new recruits. Miss Annabel Douglass again carried off the cup and defended her title against Miss Virginia Greene. The spring tournament bids fair to be even more exciting than that of last fall. Miss Dcuglass again will defend her title against the winner of the finals. On winning this match she will get the cup for keeps and will be third time champion. Since the tournaments were first started in 1913, no girl has ever won the cup for kesps, although a good many have held the title for two years. The space on the cup for names is filled now, and there is plenty of money in the treasury for a new one. We see no reason why a new cup should not be put up next year. We leave it to you, Annabel.

In basket ball there was a bigger turnout and better team work than usual. The Juniors had a strong team and won the basket ball tournament.

The gymnasiums were used on alternate nights for volley ball, indoor baseball, and tennis beginners.

The girls have another interesting feature-the Gym Club. To be eligible to the club, each girl must have had two years of gym work and must be taking gym at the time of membership. Each spring the Gym Club gives an exhibit in the east gymnasium of what the club has done through the winter. The exhibition teld this year on May 12 was a credit to the club and showed no small amount of work. Later the girls go for a day's camp out to some lake, or farm house, and report glorious times and sunburns. They are chaperoned by Miss Dumont, who probably has a pretty strenuous time. The date and place for this year's camp are, as yet, undecided.

The Hiking Club ought to come in for some mention, for they have taken a number of hikes, not tenderfoot hikes either. Skating took the place of hikes in winter, and from it the girls derived no end of pleasure.

The large place that sports and outdoor life has in the life of the girl of today is self evident and is a big factor in the efficiercy of the woman of tomorrcw.

Track

TRACK this season seems to be the most successful branch of Athletics. The relay team won the High School half mile relay in the annual indoor Y. M. C. A. meet for a starter. The way the team walked away with the State Meet was a shame. Chuck Morearty makes an excellent captain for the team as well as a reliable man. The class captains for this year are as follows: Senior, Alvan Geisler; Junior, Frank Campbell; Sophomore, Nicholas Mayne; Freshman, Charles Voorhees.

THE INTER-CLASS MEET.

The class meet this year was held on May 5th at the County Fair grounds. It was a great success in every way. The Seniors had an easy time taking first honors, making 52 points to 25 for the Sophomores, who came off second. The Juniors got third with 20 points, while the poor Freshmen came tagging in last place with 16 tallies to their credit. Fullaway, 1916, won the individual honors, making 23 points. Morearty, 1917, was second with 16.

The school records in the high and broad jumps were broken. Morearty, 1917, and Danforth, 1916, both went over 21 feet in the broad jump, and Turner, a Freshman, made a high jump of 5 feet $93 / 4$ inches.

The summary:

100-YARD DASH-First, Charles Morearty. 1917; second, Danforth, 1916; third, Roundtree, 1919. Time, $102-5$ seconds.
120-YARD HURDLES-First, Raynolds, 1916; second, Fullaway, 1916; third, Comp. 1917. Time, 18 2-5 seconds.

DISCUS THROW-First, Fullaway, 1916; second, Logan, 1918; third, Raynolds, 1916. Distance, 84 feet.
MILE RUN-First, Burgess, 1918; second, Underwood, 1918; third, Johnson, 1918. Time, 5 minutes $132-5$ seconds.
HALF MILE RELAY-First, 1916 (Geisler, Fullaway, Raynolds, Danforth) ; second, 1918; third, 1919. Time, 1 minute $433-5$ se:onds.

THE STATE MEET

The Annual State High School Track and Field Meet was held at Lincoln on May 13. This year it was merely a repetition of the disgraceful proceedings of last year. Omaha literally ran off with everything in sight. We made 52 points to $211 / 2$ for Lincoln, who got second place. That ought to atone for the football game we had with them.

The meet was held under great difficulties, since it had rained heavily the night before. It was a case of which man could navigate in the mud in the fastest time.

Morearty was the individual star of the meet, making a total of 13 points, tying for first in the high jump and the 220-yard dash and standing first in the broad jump.

The summary:

120-YARD HURDLES-Raynolds, first; Ful-laway, second. Time \(183-5\) seconds.
880-YARD RUN-Paynter, second.
220-YARD HURDLES-Raynolds, second;
    Geisler, fourth.

MISSOURI VALLEY MEET

Omaha won the Missouri Valley Meet this year with a total of 41 points, beating St. Joseph by 6 points. Morearty was the individual star of the meet, gathering in 15 points himself. Owing to heavy rains the meet was held on grass, with the exception of two or three events, so that records were of course impossible.

The summary of Omaha's points:

BROAD JUMP-Morearty, second; Danforth, third.
POLE VAULT-Fullaway, first. Height, 10 feet 6 inches.
100-YARD HIGH HURDLES-Raynolds. third.
100-YARD DASH-Morearty, second.
880-YARD RUN-Paynter, first. Time, 2 minutes $10 \quad 1-5$ seconds.

220-YARD DASH-Morearty, first; Geisler, second. Time, $253-5$ seconds.
MILE RUN-Burgess, third.
440-YARD DASH-Logan, second.
HIGH JUMP-Fullaway and Morearty tied for first at 5 feet 5 inches.

THE STAGG MEET.
This meet is held every year in Chicago under the auspices of A. A. Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago. There is a bare chance that a team of five or six will be sent to this meet.

Baseball

HE BASEBALL TEAM this year has made as good a showing as any one could possibly wish for. At the beginning of the season a league was formed to include the High School of Commerce, South Omaha, Council Bluffs and Omaha High. Omaha came out the victor in this league, winning every game they played. Coach Spinning developed a well organized team, one that could be depended on against any Nebraska High School team. A great deal of the credit for this success is due to Mr. Spinning, who has worked hard every evening after school in order to produce a good team. Harold Grove makes a fine leader for the team besides being a good man. The team has played two games outside of the league schedule, one with Fremont and one with the Street Car Company, and has won both of these games.

The team certainly has put Omaha High School on the baseball map and now it will be up to the fellows next year to help keep it there. If the school as a whole will back the game there is no doubt that we will "stay on the map."

The summary of the games to date:

Omaha 13. Council Bluffs 4
Omaha 16, H. S. Commerce 2
Omaha 18, South Omaha 9
Omaha 23, Council Bluffs 4
Omaha 9, Commerce 0
Omaha 10. South Omaha 9

Omaha 8, Council Bluffs 5
Omaha II, Commerce 3
Omaha 5, South Omaha 3
Outside of the league:
Omaha 10. Fremont 9
Omaha 13. Street Car Co. 5

Games to be played: South High, Logan, Camp game.
The final averages of the teams in the league:

|  | Won | Lost | Pct. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Omaha (Central) | . 9 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Council Bluffs |  | 5 | . 444 |
| South High. |  | 6 | . 333 |
| Commercial High. | . 2 | 7 | . 222 |

The members of the team:
GROVE, captain and third base. Ted was on the team last year and made his "rep" as a ball player. He plays a good fast game and is always on the lookout for everything but rusty nails and sprained ankles.
YARDLEY. George is a snappy man behind the bat. He can make a ball travel to second so fast that a man trying to steal always regrets the fact. George can also hit the ball when it comes his turn to bat.
BAUMGARDNER. Jim has sure earned his letter this year as a pitcher. He has pitched five games and won them all.
FARLEY. Don was also a pitcher. He won all the games he pitched this year, which is a pretty good record.
DAUGHERTY. Ed sure nailed them at the first sack. He was always on hand when a man came toward his corner.
KEINER. Pete held down the second base job. He can hit a ball as far as two ordinary players, but he can't seem to make his legs work fast enough.

Coach Spinning

CARSON. Hugh played on the team last year and made his letter. This year he played a great game at short stop. He would rather sleep than work, however.
HAZEN, left field. Eddie is a good all-around man. He pitched the Frement game and won it. He is one of these "terrible" south paws.
WOLF, center field. Wolf is one of the best fielders on the team. He can handle a ball in an excellent manner.
WEIRICH. This was Leonard's first year at bassball. He played right field. Besides being able to catch a ball he could knock one far enough to give the other fielders exercise.
PETERSON. Pete had to be contented with utility catcher and fielder this year, but he is a good man nevertheless.
BOHAN. John played sub first baseman this season. He ought to make a good man for next year's team.
CURTIS. Happy played third this year when Ted was laid up. He filled the place in first class shape.

Students Association

 HE history of the Students' Association does not cover a stretch of decades filled with thrilling accounts of successes against overwhelming odds and obstacles, but after four short years of existence it has to some extent been able to fulfill the expectations of its originators and to cope with the difficulties it has met so far in its career. To those unfamiliar with its history, a few facts concerning its origin and development might well be in place. Before the year 1912 it had been the custom to depend entirely upon the gate receipts to cover the expenses incurred by the athletic and debating departments. As this was an uncertain method and not to be depended upon in pinches, the Omaha High School Students' Association was formed, its purpose being to create a method by which the Athletic Board would be sure of a certain amount of money with which to work. By issuing season tickets to members of the association at a nominal price, the school has been able to meet expenses far better than under the old plan. With 660 members the first year it progressed and numbered 793 last year, but for some unaccountable reason the membership this year has only attained the 758 mark. We have tried our best to persuade and induce students to become members, and by a series of mass meetings this year have attempted to arouse some enthusiasm among non-members in order to increase attendance at games, but have been only partially successful. Why the O. H. S. should be so lacking in school spirit still remains a mystery to some of us. Perhaps we have been too successful in our contests and a long losing streak might assist in creating some spirit, of which there has been so much talk this year. We have every reason to feel proud of our teams and back them to the last ounce of our strength, for in the four branches of sport Omaha has been able to carry off two and three championships every year. We have the teams, we have the coach, what we need is the support of the student body given through membership in the association so that the Athletic Board may unhesitatingly schedule a larger number of contests of first class caliber. Closing a year, successful though far from being what the O. H. S. is capable of making it, we hope that the association may be given the loyal and necessary support due it. C. A. O., '16.

Debating Team, 1915-16

Debaring

EBATING this year, as in most former years, has not been given the recognition it most decidedly deserves. Although a glory like that showered on a football or basket ball hero may not be won from the platform, a far greater satisfaction comes to the fellow who has spent hours in the library pouring over books containing cold, hard facts or talking to an auditorium of empty seats. The debater feels that he really has accomplished an intellectual achievement, since his reading, arguing and rebutting will have direct bearing on his part in the game of life.

We may not have been so victorious this year as could have been wished, but that there has been a marked progress among the members of the team no one, who examines the conditions of the debates and the scores, would doubt.

Again this year the inter-society debates were arranged, but misunderstandings and sickness among members of the teams prevented the finals. The title lies between the Demosthenian Debating Society and the Lairepmi, at the time of this writing. Owing to delay in the inter-society debates, the six boys chosen in the preliminary tryouts had less than two weeks in which to prepare for our first state league debate, but they went at the task with great energy and good will. Elmore Bailey. Birney Miller and Sol Rosenblatt were chosen to defend Central High in their first debate February 23 again South High on the question, "Resolved. That the Congress of the United States Should Substantially Adopt the Recommendations of the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy for Increased Armament." We upheld the affirmative. It is but justice to ourselves to say that the opposing team had much more time to work up their presentation. Score: 3 to 0 . $A_{n}$ initial defeat might indeed have daunted the bravest of us, but trusting in the strength of their argument our boys set to work to remedy the cause of their defeat and by persistent and strenuous efforts so developed their oratorical power that those hearing the second debate all praised the great improvement. The result is easily shown in the score.

Last year Lincoln (our old time enemy and rival) won the last leg in the Amherst cup, thereby gaining permanent possession of it. But as the debate this year was to be the first of a series of five for another large silver trophy donated by Amherst College, our boys went to Lincoln with their hearts burning with vengeance. They presented so formidable a front that, brooking no opposition, firmly but gently (since Lincoln was represented by one of the fairer sex) they swept their opponents before them. O. H. S. was again represented by Bailey, Miller and Rosenblatt, who acquitted themselves with honor and upheld O. H. S.'s reputation in a most creditable manner. This decision easily overbalances our first loss. O. H. S., 3; Lincoln, 0 .

A great deal of credit must indeed be given our coach, Mr. Harold Mulligan. With an interest never lacking, with a purpose never swerving, with a goal never lost sight of, and with an ability as a debating coach second to none in the state league, he set to work to shape and mould our team into a well balanced, smoothly running machine. We sincerely hope that Mr. Mulligan will be given the loyal support of the debating enthusiasts next year and we would like to ask our readers to rise as we take off our hats to Mr. Mulligan.

ELMORE BAILEY, 16-Age, 19; size of hat, $81 / 4$; words per minute, 250; attitude on platform, pugilistic.
Elmore came out with a determination to win and stuck to it with bull-dog tenacity. He had a thorough knowledge of the question and could give facts which would astound even the worthy secretaries themselves. He was good at all times and debated in a convincing manner.

BIRNEY MILLER, ${ }^{16-A g e . ~ 17 ; ~ s i z e ~ o f ~ h a t, ~}$ normal; length of tongue, 6 inches; words per minute, 125.

Birney was the find of the year and made the greatest improvement of any in the squad. Those accustomed to his quiet manner in school and out would indeed have gasped and stood awe-stricken at the manner in which he pursued the Lincolnites in his rebuttal. Starred in the Lincoln debate.

SOL ROSENBLATT, '18-Age, 15; length of tongue, 4 feet; 101 per cent hot air; attitude on platform, cannibalistic.
This was Sol's second year on the team and he maintained the reputation established last year as a debater. He will be here for two years more. So keep your eyes on him next year.

Senior Class Play

"DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL"

THING of beauty is a joy forever." Surely the memory of the Senior Play, given May 26, 1916, will give much enjoyment both to the participants and the onlookers for many years to come, if the above statement of John Keats is true. One could not wish to see a more beautiful spectacle presented by high school pupils. This charming production of "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" enchanted the hearts of a large audience. In short, this year's Senior Play was a decided success.

It would be very difficult to say just which member of the cast deserved the most praise. The leading characters supported each other with such skill that they seemed almost like professionals. The leading lady, Myrne Gilchrist, showed great dramatic ability and afforded much excitement in her various schemes to save her lover from her father's revenge. The leading man, Thompson Wakeley, played his part well and brought out the splendid characteristics of John Manners, especially when he saved Dorothy Vernon, even at the risk of his own life, from the impending blow of her father. Clarence Schroeder gave an exceedingly realistic interpretation of a doting, yet irascible father in the part of Sir George Vernon. Stewart McDonald was an ideal villain and was indeed greatly disturbed over being "duped" by the skill of a woman. Roberta Coulter made a delightfully scheming mother and "grew a very shadow" in her attempts to reform Dorothy. At each appearance of poor abused Perkin, played by Russell Peters, the heart of the audience was with him. Ruth McCoy, as Queen Elizabeth, was quite stern and commanding, and yet allowed herself to be sadly beguiled by Dorothy into believing that she possessed greater charms than Mary Stuart, the dethroned Queen of Scotland. Martha Gyger acted the exiled queen to perfection and was strongly supported by Philip Thomas as the Earl of Rutland. Alas, what would Dorothy Vernon have done without Jennie Faxton, a role taken by Margaret Howes, who told her of her lover's approach and aided her escape from Haddon Hall to warn the Queen of Scots of her betrayal. Bess, the cook, taken well by Catherine Conrad, furnished a gorgeous bride's cake which met a disastrous fate. Did you see the play? If not, be sure to read the following synopsis so that you may know what you have missed.

The play opened with the threatening cries of the villagers off stage and it was soon learned that the Earl of Rutland had sent his messenger to Haddon Hall to claim Dorothy Vernon for his son, John Manners; or should Sir George refuse her to him, to claim the two manors and a thousand crowns, according to the bond made at her christening eighteen years before. A refusal was expected by the Earl because of the feud between the two families. Dorothy was the promised bride of her cousin, Sir Malcolm Vernon, who was a laggard in claiming her. Upon his arrival, John Manners learned from Perkin, the messenger, that Dorothy was beautiful and not as report had pictured her. Soon Dorothy and John meet and she, believing him to be Malcolm Vernon, fell in love with him and vice versa. Sir George approved the match and the bond was sealed. Learning of the approach of the real Sir Malcolm, John revealed his identity to Dorothy. She renounced him and yet aided him to escape from her father's angry passion. Lady Vernon recognized her son, and Dorothy was locked in her room in consequence of what she had done. In the second act Perkin brought Dorothy news of John and enabled her to speak with him in her room. The villain saw them there-put guard on all doors so that John could not escape. Dorothy concealed him behind the curtain and, when her father was about to strike her because she would not give him up, Sir John stepped out and caught the blow intended for her. The Queen entered and Dorothy purchased his life by betraying Mary Stuart. After all had departed, Jennie Faxton aided Dorothy to escape to warn the Queen of Scots of her betrayal. In Act Three Dorothy warned Mary Stuart and played her role while Mary escapes to Haddon Hall. In the disguise of Mary Stuart, she proved Malcolm Vernon a traitor to both queens. In this act she fought a duel with him, but John entered just in time to save her. In Act Four Mary Stuart gave her person up to England. Elizabeth banished John to Wales for a year so that he would forget Dorothy, but Dorothy eloped with him.

The play was well coached this year. Mr. Mulligan worked hard to make it a success and the cast was also fortunate in having extra coaching from both Mr. Mills and Mr. Edward Lynch. The Seniors all thank them most heartily for their work. They also thank Miss Towne, their faithful chaperone. Had you attended one of the rehearsals, you would not have known but that Miss Towns was just another member of the cast for, along with her duties as a chaperone, she was very sociable and full of fun.

Shalrespeare Tercentenary

 N THE thousands of celebrations devoted to Shakespeare this year we have had our humble part, of which we feel that we may be justly proud. On May 20th, at the Brandeis Theater, before a packed house, the three High Schools of Omaha produced a pageant of much splendor and scenic beauty. Dances and choruses were interpolated between three scenes from Shakespeare's plays, each scene performed by a different High School.We confine our comment to the part taken by Central High. Forty-eight of our girls as Reapers, Autumn, Mermaids and attendants of Ceres and of Iris won repeated applause with their dancing. The Prologue was written by an alumnus, K. L. Humphrey. The roles of the three Muses were charmingly taken by Dorothy Hipple, Dorothy Hitchen, and Kathryn Hodges. Edward Zipfel impersonated Shakespeare in the grand tableau at the close. The lines in the scene from The Tempest were well spoken. Morris Margolin interpreted Prospero with dignity and impressiveness, the parts of the lovers were pleasingly taken by Charles Morearty and Inez Westfall, and Jay Burns was so convincing a Caliban that the audience paid his interpretation the compliment of a surprised silence before it broke into hearty applause. The full cast was as follows:

| Prospero | Morris Margolin |
| :---: | :---: |
| Ferdinand | Charles Morearty |
| Sebastian. | Edwin Winterton |
| Alonzo. | Nathan Miller |
| Caliban. | Jay Burns |
| Gonzalo. | Clarence Moore |
| Antonio. | . Clarence Parsons |
| Miranda | . Inez Westfall |
| Juno | .Gertrude Ady |
| Ceres | Jean Wallace |
|  | rude Sel |

This elaborate production would not have been possible at popular prices had not various organizations and persons contributed their talent, time and money. The Misses West and Mr. Will Hetherington contributed the music. The Brandeis Theater management and the Drama League supplied the place for the play. The Omaha dailies were most generous with press notices and encouragement. Miss Mary Wallace contributed her services as coach of the whole and Miss Hilliard spared no pains in drilling our own cast. Miss McDonald's able management of the celebration lent much to its effectiveness. O. H. S. is deeply grateful to Miss Clarke, Miss Sackett, Miss Williams, Miss Rudersdorf, Miss Stebbins, Miss Coffman, Miss Stegner, Mr. Rees and many others of our friends whose assistance variously rendered helped us thus pleasantly to pay our tribute to Will Shakespeare.

Edward A. Zipfel, '16.

The O. H. S. Road Show

 HE third annual Road Show met with its usual golden success. The same liberal expenditure of time and money that has characterized the show in previous years was made. Although Mr. Mills and Mr. Wotawa were not here to take an active interest, they had a worthy successor in Mr. Mulligan. Indeed! It was to his tireless energy that the show owed its great success.The show was handicapped in a financial way, as no outsiders were allowed at the first performance. In the end, however, the profits amounted to about $$ 175$.

The star act was a one act comedy entitled "Rooms to Let." This was by far the funniest thing ever seen in the High School. Its success was due to the efforts of Margaret Hoffman, Ruth McCoy and Stewart McDonald. They were, however, well supported.

Arthur Rouner looms up as one of the mainstays of the performance. Posing as Titus Ruffo, he sang several bass solos. Art's voice has a fine quality, and before long he will be working in a field that takes in a larger scope than even our famous Road Show.

A military compet, consisting of the nine best cadets in the regiment, was held. Warren Ege took the honors, on the first night, but was succeeded by Daniel Longwell on the next night.

The octet from Lucia made a big hit. These were no others than the famous Masked Marvels.

Philbin and Norton, assisted by eight O. H. S. beauties, made good in every sense of the word.

A take-off on McIntyre and Heath was done by Clarence Adams and Robert Buckingham.

A certain gentleman who was billed as Professor Keller did a few tricks to the great amusement of the audience and to the great discomfiture of the professor.

Great credit should be given Mr. Cairns, Mr. Rees and Mr. Spinning for their hard labors and indefatigable energy in producing the show. Head Usher Wood also did his part well.

On the whole, it may be said that the show was a success in every way, and we hope it may always rank high in the events of the school year.

A Creed of Worls for ## Women

By LAURA DRAKE GILL
President of the College for Women Sewance, Tennessee

I believe that every woman needs a skilled occupation, developed to the degree of possible self-support.

She needs it commercially, for insurance against reverses.
She needs it socially, for a comprehending sympathy with the world's workers.

She needs it intellectually, for a constructive habit of mind which makes knowledge effective.
She needs it ethically, for a courageous willingness to do her share of the world's work.

I believe that every young woman should practice this skilled occupation up to the time of her marriage, for gainful ends, with deliberate intent to acquire therefrom the widest possible professional and financial experience.
I believe that this general policy of economic service for American women would yield generous by-products of intelligence, responsibility, and contentment.

MEET ME AT GREEN'S

THERE'S a Delicious Ice Cream Sundae waiting for you at our Soda Fountain. It is made under clean sanitary conditions, out of the very purest ingredients, by a person skilled in the making-and it's a certain antidote for that tired listlessness that follows in the wake of warm weather.

Yes, He Was!

"Our Papa was the goodest man,
Had his 'surance on the income plan, Whatever plan that plan may be,
That's how Mamma keeps Bess and me. Our Papa's gone, was sick and died, They took him away, Mamma cried. Now each month Mamma says he Sends a message to Bess and me,
Sends it on the income plan.
Our Papa was the goodest man!
Our Papa was the goodest man,
Sends a message on the income plan.
Don't know what the message can be,
For Mamma holds both Bess and me.
When it comes, and though she tries,
She don't laugh, but smiles and cries.
She kisses us and says with tears,
"I've no fear for your tender years,
Your protect'd by the income plan.' Our Papa was the goodest man!"
