Prefacio

“Long ago there were seven terraced cities all redgold in the sunshine and so fair were they that the gods came down and wondered at what men had made.”

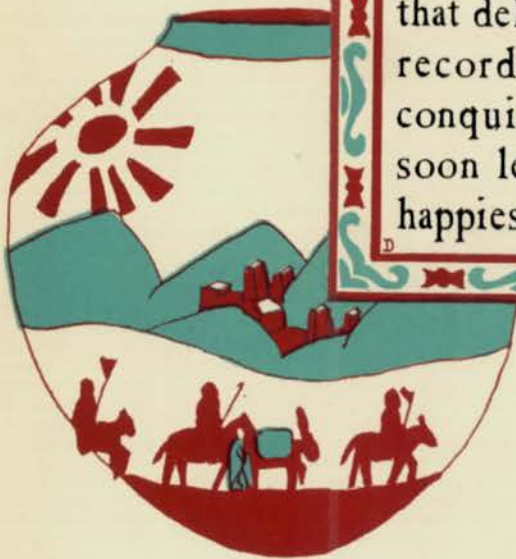

Francisco de Coronado in fifteen hundred forty set forth in search of these, the Seven Cities of Cibola.

Prefacio

Today, there enter into the fascinating realms of Cibola on the Hill unnumbered conquistadores. There they find wealth, riches, and abundance of wisdom. May the story of one year's sojourn in that delightful land herein recorded bring to those conquistadores who will soon leave the realm the happiest of memories.

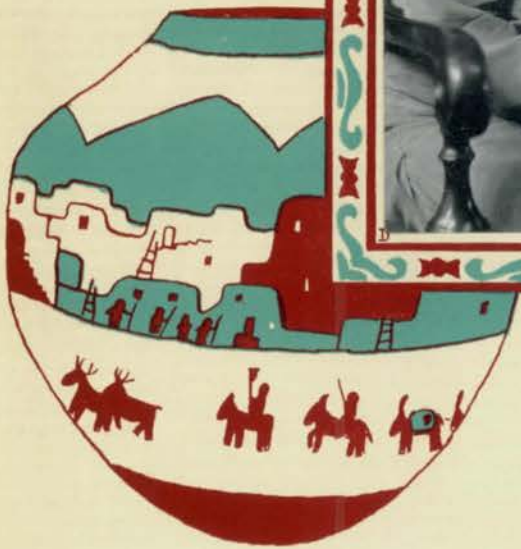

Dedication

*In your silver hair we see the token of your faithfulness,
In your quiet words, humility
of spirit,
In your thoughtful deeds, your gentleness of nature,
In your eyes, your interest in the least of us,
And always your deep pride
in each of us,
Because our love for you is deep,
Because we honor you,
To you we dedicate*

Capitanes de la Conquista

Portrait by

Henry and Walter P. Smith, Ltd.

J. H. Masters

Miss Jessie M. Towne

IN THE tribe there were two chosen for their ability in showing the way to the true, second only to the chief.

The first is Miss Jessie M. Towne, a keeper of the sacred citadel, guardian of the women of the tribe. She was brought up in the tribe and chosen for her sympathy and understanding.

She guides the conquistadores, who call her dean of girls and vice-principal.

Mr. J. F. Woolery

THE second is a senior chieftain, J. F. Woolery, who not only performs the rites of a chieftain, but also heads that group of guides which conveys the conquistadores along the tortuous trail of mathematics. He shares tasks and honors with Miss Jessie Towne and directs the men of the exploration party to the better roads.

The tribe call him vice-principal.

Retiring Teachers

MIGHTY chieftains are there is Cibola, for even the youngest of the lesser warriors is a man of strength. The conquistadores revere these elder warriors, for they realize the vast experience and wisdom of the tribal sages.

In the seven cities there are warriors who have toiled for the tribe and in the training of the conquistadores for many long years. They have achieved fame and veneration. The Spaniards call them the wise men of the tribe; they know all the legends and folklore since the time of the settlement of the tribe upon the Capitol Hill. It is said that some of them have knowledge of all which has passed in the tribe since the great spirit first gave instructions to the first chief. They remember all the Spanish heroes.

Many, yes, thousands of conquistadores have entered the seven cities in the search of fame or power. These dwellers in the seventh city have guided them to the love of knowledge and truth, away from gold or praise, to a high ideal of general development. Very often, fame and praise have later followed the Spanish seekers, but never have they led the search. So the wise chieftains say. This route to knowledge and truth the warriors hold as their ideal, and tell the gold-hungry warriors of it.

The custom of the tribes of Indians says that homage is to be paid to these useful citizens who have toiled so long and hard. They are to be released for the rest of their lives from the bonds of labor, while they remain holding the homage and honor of the tribe. The conquistadores, too, miss them when they no longer sit about the council fire, or direct in the various activities incident to the training of these Spaniards.

There are certain teachers who have been at Central for many years, who have watched the development of the present school through all stages. They are most interested in the welfare of the school.

Each year, some of these teachers retire from active school work. Although others may take their places in the business of the school, they are never forgotten, either by the faculty, or by the students.

These earnest workers have been heart and soul with Central for several years. They have rejoiced in her victories, athletic and scholarly, have suffered in her defeats, and have helped to make her the school full of opportunities that she is today. The work they have done in building up Central will never be erased or forgotten.

You who have almost become a part of Central and who are retiring this year, we honor you.

Alma Mater

FOR four years have I walked beside you, slowly,
You have hoped for me, and guided me,
Shown me the course my footsteps are to take,
Made known to me great truths and ways of life.

YOU have shown me where to seek for knowledge,
Shown me where lies the door to deeper thought.
You have read me words of earth's immortals,
That are to come to me in later years.

ICAN never return to you; and knowing this,
You have filled me with a strength to last my days,
To keep me strong when others will assail me,
To hold me true when others will forget me.

BUT though I never may come back to you,
You will always be a part of me;
You have made me, for you are, in truth,
My early Alma Mater, fostering mother.

January Senior Officers

AS WE, the January Seniors, graduate, we recall with gratitude the various ways in which Central has helped us. Through our four years of work we have gained experience, knowledge, and extensive preparation for whatever lies before us.

Along with our hard work, however, there have been many occasions for play, and with activities, athletics, and performances, our school life has indeed been pleasant. With the able assistance of our sponsors our last semester was quite successful. On November 14, we presented the Clemant-Walsh players at the Brandeis Theatre. In December we held our Christmas party, and January brought with it the greatest senior social event, the banquet. The baccalaureate sermon was given later in the month, and finally on the twenty-sixth we were graduated.

Since our first year at Central, we have felt that strong tie which binds us with it in our friendships and activities, and now that we are graduated, we shall always respect and have that everlasting feeling of loyalty toward the school which has given so much to all of us.

June Senior Officers

WE, THE SENIORS, when we stop in the midst of our many activities, to look back for a moment on our varied careers at Central, realize that our teachers and classmates have played a very great part in our school life.

Four years have passed quickly, almost too quickly, but with lessons, sports, and all our activities; the time has been well filled, and now that we, the class of '28, are at the threshold of new and larger adventures, our past experience in contacts with others will indeed prove most worthwhile.

Certain of our number have attained renown at Central and from these Central expects great things. Next fall when we are scattered, some of us in business or in college, it is our responsibility to Central High to keep her ideals of loyalty, service, and character intact.

And now, as we are leaving, we take this opportunity to thank our teachers for their understanding and service and to leave with the class of 1929 the great spirit of Central High School.

Junior Class Officers

HAVING tucked three solid years comfortably away in the slumbering past, we, the class of '29, eagerly await the opportunity of taking our place at the zenith of our high school career which has so recently been abandoned by its worthy inhabitants.

Our voyage has by no means been an easy one, for the calms and tempests encountered, demanded faithful and diligent labor. These hardships have filled our hold with priceless experiences from which we hope to develop the knowledge that is to enable us to fill the vacancies of our late predecessors with dignity and eclat. Hand in hand with our duties we hold the various activities, whose interesting curricula have afforded us many pleasurable hours. Two more recent seaworthy vessels, the Freshman and the Sophomore, are bravely enduring the struggles so lately left in our wake, and they, in their turn, will enter the port of their destination.

With a lust for treasure, and a desire for adventure, we stand, a mighty mass, upholding the standards and traditions of our school.

WE, THE SOPHOMORES, are indeed in the midst of things. With our Freshman year behind us and our Junior and Senior years ahead, we play an important part in school life. Scholarship comprised our life last year, but now we are finding our proper places in athletics and activities.

Already we are a unit, an organized group, and from the class of '30 even now individuals are establishing their identities in various divisions of school life.

We have acquired the spirit of Central and now that our Freshman year of transition has passed we stand prepared for the wider experience of our coming years.

The Freshmen look up to us, the Juniors depend on us, and thus we occupy a responsible position. Surely it is up to us, each person in the class, to be good Sophomores that we may become the future leaders of Central High.

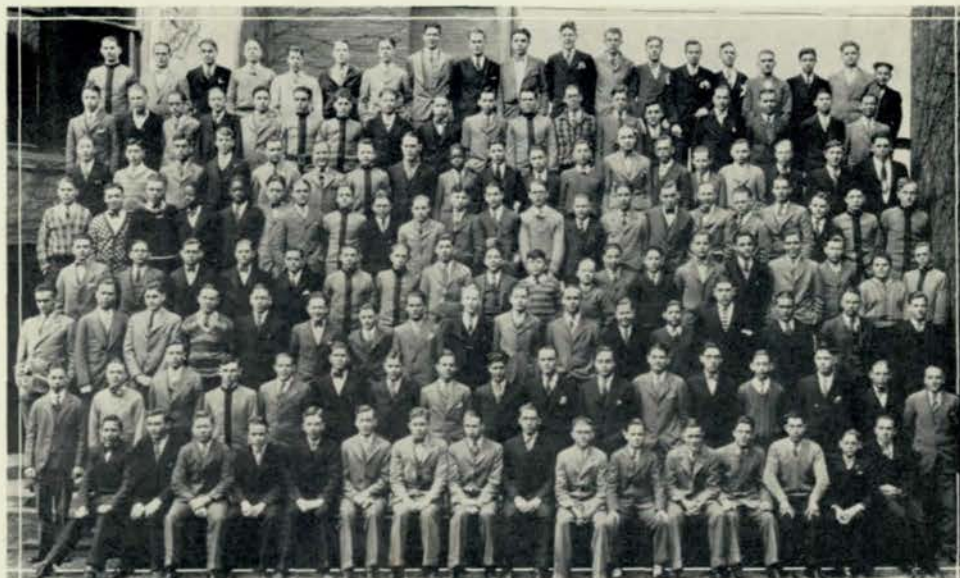

And now, in the great variety of interests which occupy us, we are working, one for all, and all for one, for the ultimate success of the class of '30.

Regiment

THE REGIMENT is a vital, progressive, efficient organization. Its policy of service, citizenship, and constructive discipline has built up in thirty-four years an enviable tradition as part of the heritage of the cadet corps. Throughout this period the regiment has furnished leaders in our high school; and so trained them in co-operation and self-direction that they have taken outstanding places in later life. These accomplishments are not all in the past; this year the leadership of our officers and the loyal support of our non-coms and privates have added our bit to the regimental tradition and to the standards of Central High School.

*ALL steadily we stand
Awaiting for the band
To pass before the stand.
At regimental!*

*T*HE bugles blare retreat,
While the flag is folded neat,
Our spirit can't be beat
At regimental!

*S*NAP into step; eyes right,
Heads up; and lots of fight.
Pep and step, Oh, stirring sight,
At regimental!

*F*IRST Sergeant's call is blown
As to the world we've shown
Our Central spirit grown
At regimental!

—Andrew Towl, '28

F. H. Gulgard

Commandant

IN CONTRAST with traditional military severity is the guidance of our commandant, F. H. Gulgard, who has made an indelible impression on the regiment through his friendly, patient, and efficient service. Through a personal, sympathetic interest, by his sure-fire wit, by the example of his personality, and by unobtrusive suggestion which leaves the details of administering to the cadet officers, he has directed us through the year to a successful climax.

Moorhead Tukey

Lieutenant Colonel

EACH year as the personnel of the regiment changes, new student leaders come into positions of responsibility in the cadet corps. Upon these officers lies the burden of forwarding the regiment. Lieutenant Colonel Tukey, who has led the officers of 1928 in a strong program of activity, has taken his part in student affairs in quiet force and perseverance and has proven a fine example for the regiment's ranking office.

Athletics

AS THE school year closes, Central athletes stop to look back over the athletic year to consider what they have done in the realm of sport and what they are going to do.

In football, the pigskin artists are still going to beat Tech. With two lettermen, Nelson and Sawerbrey, and the reserve team that won the city championship to pick from, prospects seem bright to fill this overwhelming desire. Although football season has long since passed, it is pleasing to recall some of those memorable battles on the gridiron. Standing out as bright spots in the season's record are the 7-to-7 tie with Central High School of St. Joseph, Mo., and the 6-to-0 victory over North.

Graduation will take all of the Central cage team that won the consolation title of the city tournament with the exception of one man, "Oggie" Lungren. Those who will be graduated are Wright, Clancy, Davis, Haulman, Johnson, Rich, McCreary, and Grayson. Coach Knapple's new policy of having a reserve team composed of underclassmen only, will, however, insure Central of veteran basket-ers for several years to come as most of the men were freshmen and sophomores.

The call for track men will find several veterans reporting for the squad. This list includes Willard, Sawerbrey, Wilhelm, and Poff. All of these men showed promise during the past season and have bettered by the experience gained this year. So far as past track is concerned, the Eagles demonstrated their worth at the Drake Relays at Des Moines and at the M-I-N-K meet, where they won 18 points.

In the sport of wrestling Coach R. B. Bedell will, for the first time, have a squad of veteran men with which to build a winning team. Two of the three lettermen, Brown and T. Johnson, will report next year, while one man, Sevick, a letterman, will be lost by graduation.

The baseball team will be represented by four veterans from this year's team. These men are Rhoades, outfield; Means, pitcher; Lungren, short-stop; and Levinson, infield. The swat sport had a very successful season this year with the Purple winning a great majority of their games.

In the sports of swimming, tennis, and golf, Central will fare equally well as regards to veterans. In swimming, six lettermen will return, while tennis and golf have three veterans apiece returning. Swimming, tennis, and golf netted good season's records, but in the bone-crushing sport the Eagles did not fare so well. This was due to poor equipment and a general lack of interest in the sport.

—Arthur Redfield, '28

Coaches

AT THE head of Central's coaching staff is Coach J. G. Schmidt, who formerly held the position of coach of the football and track teams. Coach Schmidt resigned the position of head football mentor at the completion of the 1927 season. He will, however, still be on the list of Central's coaches, for he will continue with his position of head track coach and will assist Coach Knapple in basket ball.

F. Y. Knapple, who together with Coach Schmidt, takes charge of the major athletics, and overlooks the destinies of the basket ball and baseball teams, produced a reserve football team that won the city championship. Coaches G. E. Barnhill and L. N. Bexten assist in the coaching of the major sports also. Coach Barnhill is the coach of the freshman football team and also of the junior and senior class basket ball teams. Coach Bexten is at the head of the reserve basket ball team.

In the minor sports, Coaches R. B. Bedell and Andrew Nelsen hold sway. The former is the coach of the wrestling team, while Coach Nelsen holds the position of golf coach. G. E. Barnhill is also coach of the tennis team.

Swimming in 1928 was under the direction of Denny Ryan and Jack Foster, athletic directors at the Knights of Columbus gymnasium where the purple porpoises held practice.

Captains

FOLLOWING the new policy of some of the prominent eastern colleges, Coach J. G. Schmidt appointed two captains to head the football team. The line captain was "Les" Huff, tackle, while the man who guided the team on the offense was "Wes" Laugel, quarterback.

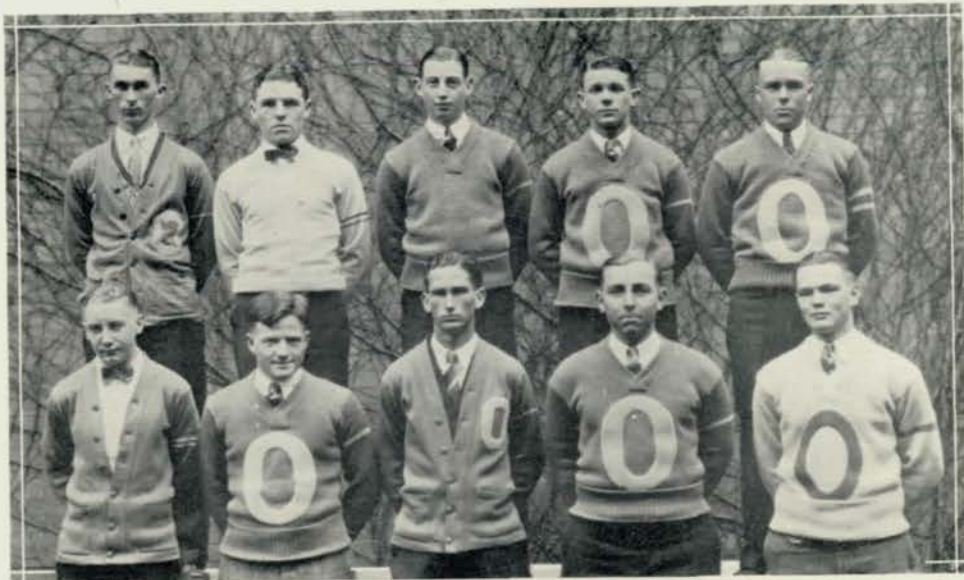

In the sport of basket ball, John Wright and Parker Davis were chosen to head the team. Parker alternated at the positions of guard and forward, while Wright played guard.

Swimming has as its captain John Thomas, a veteran back-stroke artist.

Harry Brown, a junior, was the captain of the wrestling team. Brown won his letter in the grappling sport in his sophomore year.

In the spring sports Allan Chadwell and Dewitt McCreary held sway. Chadwell was the captain of the track team, while McCreary held the same position on the baseball team. Chadwell is an all-around track star while McCreary holds down the third sack on the baseball team.

Tennis is under the direction of "Oggie" Lungren while the mashie-swingers have Parley Hyde as their captain. Both of these men are prominent in other athletics, Lungren in football and basketball, while Hyde lettered in football.

Football

ALTHOUGH only four lettermen returned to the fold to form the nucleus of the 1927 team, the Eagle pigskin carriers had a successful season, considering the many handicaps the team was forced to endure. The season's record included four victories, three defeats, and a tie with the powerful St. Joe, Mo., Central High team.

The Centralites started out the season like world beaters. Fremont and Beatrice were defeated by 8-to-0 and 13-to-0 scores, respectively. St. Joe Central, with an all-veteran lineup, and with a reputation established as one of the best teams in the Missouri Valley, were held to a 7-to-7 score by the much lighter and inexperienced Central eleven.

In the fourth game of the season Central and North met for the first time on the gridiron. The Eagles won the contest by a 6-to-0 score. In this game "Wes" Laugel, quarterback, who with "Les" Huff, captained the team, suffered a broken neck as he stopped a Norseman from scoring a touchdown.

In the only out-of-town game on their schedule, Central, without the service of Captain Laugel and halfback Clancy, were defeated by a 34-to-0 score at the hands of the Sioux City Centralites. South and Central held a battle royal in the sixth contest, South winning 6 to 0. The 26-to-0 score tells the whole story of the annual Tech-Central contest. However, in the final game of the season, the Eagles partially vindicated themselves by defeating Abraham Lincoln 7 to 0 in a Turkey day contest.

The loss of "Jim" Connolly, letterman at the center position, who died February 4, will be felt seriously next season. "Jim" was a clean sport and an all-around center.

Football

EXHIBITING a brand of football rarely produced by reserves, Central's second team under the guidance of Coach F. Y. Knapple forged ahead of the other Omaha and Council Bluffs teams and won the championship of their league. A fighting, willing line advancing before a fast, hard-hitting backfield and instructed by an outstanding mentor formed Central's championship team.

The second team has the unique record of never being scored on during the entire season while building up a total of 99 points. What might be considered the only blemish on their otherwise perfect record was a 0-to-0 tie with Tech in the first game of the season. In the next game the reserves demonstrated their worth by defeating Thomas Jefferson by a 24-to-0 score. Creighton was turned away to the tune of a 24-to-0 defeat, North left the field, losers by a 6-to-0 score, while Central amassed 30 points to Abraham Lincoln's 0 in the next game.

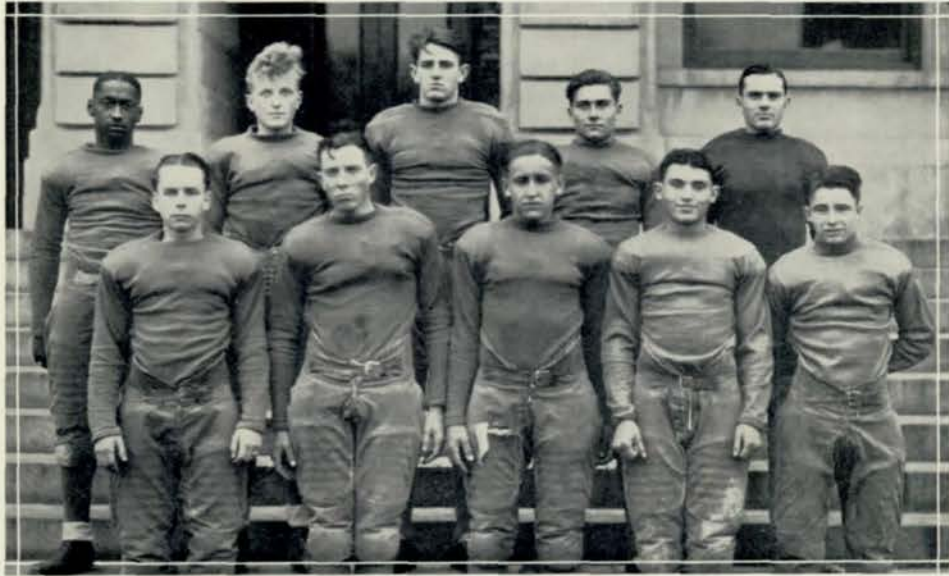

South was Central's opponent in the final game of the season. The defense work of Central's powerful line and the rushes of the equally powerful backfield wore down the South Side team and Central left the field victors by a 12-to-0 score and champion of the second team league.

Winning the city reserve championship was not the greatest thing Coach Knapple accomplished for Central, for he also insured an experienced first team for the next season. Some of the outstanding performers on the second team who will answer the call for football volunteers next season are: Dodge, Poff, Lungren, Means, Baysdorfer, Smith, Haynie, Johnson, Schroeder, Mixson, McClarrinon, Huffman, Weiner, Altsuler, Weimer, Ball, and Ramsey.

F AITHFUL work on the part of Coach F. Y. Knapple, coupled with the strong fighting aggressiveness of the team, enabled the Purple basketballers to garner in 11 victories out of 21 games in which they participated. The three lettermen of last year's team served as the nucleus around which Coach Knapple built up a strong team.

On a barnstorming trip during Christmas vacation, the cagesters won all four of the contests played. The Eagles brought their list of consecutive victories to five when they defeated Beatrice. However, in the next game, Creighton, with a veteran team, defeated the Eagles by a 19-to-13 score. Central dropped the next contest to Lincoln 25 to 16, but later avenged the loss on her home floor, 22 to 15. Plattsmouth and Abraham Lincoln defeated Central in the next games. In a very close contest, the Purple men nosed out the South Packers by a 13-to-11 score. Central lost the next four games by close scores to Benson, Thomas Jefferson, North, and St. Joe.

Central closed her regular playing season with two outstate games, defeating Fremont 25 to 14, and losing the second game to Hastings by a 29-to-23 count.

Meeting Tech for the first time in two years, Central lost a bitter and hard-fought contest to her ancient rival, in the city tournament. The Maroons, undefeated during the regular season, won from Central by a 24-to-14 score. Central won the consolation championship for the second time when she defeated Abraham Lincoln.

Parker Davis was placed on the all-city team, while Junior Grayson was mentioned on the second team five.

Basket Ball

FOLLOWING the new policy of Coach F. Y. Knapple, the second team was composed mostly of outstanding freshmen and sophomore athletes. As there is but one letterman returning to the fold next year, the players of the second team will form the backbone of the varsity squad.

For the first time, the seconds practiced along with the varsity team under the direct eye of Coach Knapple, who was assisted by Martin Thomas, former Central athlete. Toward the end of the season, Coach Louis Bexten, who returned to school after a semester's leave of absence, took over the coaching reins.

The second team was a member of a reserve league composed of the eight Omaha and Council Bluffs high schools. They were defeated by the strong Creighton team in the first game of the season 18 to 5, and lost by only two points to Abraham Lincoln High of Council Bluffs. From this time on they were undefeated in the second team league. South, Benson, Thomas Jefferson, North, and Tech all fell before the onslaught of the reserve players. With a score of 21 to 17, Lincoln was the only other team to defeat the fighting Eagles. The entire team will be back next year.

Track

WITH almost a whole team of veterans back from the 1927 season, the Eagle cinder-path artists had a very successful year. Coach Schmidt entered Central in four track meets, the Drake Relays at Des Moines, the M-I-N-K meet at Peru, Neb., the state track meet at Lincoln, and the city track meet at Tech High field.

At the Drake Relays, Wright, Chadwell, Masters, Cackley, Wilhelm, Edwards, and McNamara were sent to represent Central in the 440 and half mile relays. Although neither team entered the finals, the Eagles placed second and third in their heats.

At the M-I-N-K meet at Peru the Purple tracksters amassed a total of 18 points to take fourth place in the standings. Tecumseh was first and North Loup was second, while Lincoln beat Central out of third by but one point. McNamara, with a tie for first place in the 100-yard dash and a fourth in the 220-yard low hurdles, was the high point man for Central. Four second places were gained when the half mile relay team, Wilhelm, Encell, and Cackley all won seconds in their respective events. Two fourth places by Chadwell and Masters completed the list of Eagle points. Chadwell captained the team.

Baseball

Although the Eagle swatsters dropped the first game to North by a 2-to-0 score, they finished the season with many more victories than defeats to their credit. The Central aggregation consisted of seven lettermen from the previous year and seven veteran reserves. The lettermen were McCreary, Laugel, Haulman, Bruner, Davis, Grayson, and Nielsen.

In the second game of the season Central trimmed Benson 4 to 3 after 12 innings of tight playing. The winning run came as the result of a cleverly executed double steal on the part of McCreary and Grayson. Creighton was turned away 11 to 9 in the third game, but in the next contest Central received a 2-to-0 setback at the hands of Tech. However, the next three games, those with South, Papillion, and Concordia College of Seward, Neb., resulted in victories.

To Dewitt McCreary went the honor of captaining the victorious team through its successful season. McCreary held down the position of third baseman and finished the season high in the list of hitters. Means, Grayson, and Bruner made up the pitching staff, with Bruner doing most of the hurling.

Swimming

HANDICAPPED by ineligibility and sickness, the Eagle swimming team won a third place in both the city and state aquatic meets. Only two veterans, John Thomas and Charles Gallup, both performers in the back-stroke, returned from the team of the previous year.

The greatest victory that came to the team was Charles Gallup's record breaking performance in the 100-yard back-stroke at the state swimming meet held at the Tech High pool.

Much has been accomplished this year in the moulding of a team for the future, for the personnel of the team included many freshman, sophomores, and juniors who will be eligible for competition next season. The veteran men who will answer the call next season include Kelley, McCann, Epstein, Morris, Ellsworth, Swenning, Gallup, Schwager, Rhoades, and Kingery.

Those who will be lost to the team by graduation are: Captain Thomas, Gardner, and Cannam. These men, together with Kelley, Voss, Faier, Gallup, Epstein and Hoing constitute the men who won letters this year.

Through the efforts of John Thomas, captain of the team, the Knights of Columbus pool was secured for the practice of the swimmers. Denny Ryan, athletic director of the club and Jack Foster, his assistant and former Tech High aquatic star, were the coaches of the team.

Wrestling

AS in the last two years, Central's percentage of wins and losses in the grappling sport was very low. No victories were recorded by the wrestlers but they annexed a 15-to-15 tie with the South High Packer aggregation, thus saving themselves from complete whitewash. All of the matches were lost by overwhelming scores, but these results do not show the intensity of the bouts.

Just before the city wrestling tournament, Richard Sevick, Central's most consistent scorer was unable to enter the meet because of a badly broken arm suffered in practice. Sevick was undoubtedly the favorite to win the 125-pound championship. Handicapped greatly by the loss of their star, the team entered the meet and placed two men, Brown and Johnson, in the semi-finals. In the finals Brown copped a third place while Johnson garnered a fourth in his division.

Captain Brown, Sevick, and Johnson were the only three men to receive letters. Sevick will be the only letterman lost by graduation, as Brown and Johnson are juniors and will return for another year of competition. These three men were the leading scorers of the team. Sevick held the high point honors with 22 points. Johnson came next with 20 points while Brown was third with 10 points. Two men, Saxton and Peterson received 6 points to complete the list of scorers.

Golf

AT THE opening of the golf season, April 23, four men with two alternates, were chosen to represent Central in the mashie-swinging sport. These men were Allan Chadwell, Parley Hyde, Rodney Bliss and Wendell Webster, with Perry Garver and Marvin Rexford as alternates. Parley Hyde was chosen as captain of the team by Coach Andrew Nelsen. Parley lettered in golf last year as number 4 of the team, and he also won an "O" as tackle on the football team.

All of the matches were held at the Dundee Golf course. The match play consisted of one round with each of the seven teams playing each other once. The teams represented were Central, Tech, North, South, Benson, Creighton, and Thomas Jefferson of Council Bluffs, Ia.

In the first game of the season Central and Tech were opponents, with Central coming out on the long end of the score when Rodney Bliss sank his putt for a par three on the eighteenth hole. Hyde previously won his match 3 to 0 with Webster defeating his opponent 2 to 0. In the second game Benson narrowly defeated the Purple, due to the absence of several of the regular players. The city golf tournament was held the week of May 28 to June 2 with all of the Omaha teams and Thomas Jefferson represented.

Tennis

TENNIS, under the direction of Coach G. E. Barnhill, underwent a very successful season during 1928. Most of the matches resulted in victory, while the ones that were lost were hotly contested. Ogden Lungren, for the last two years runner-up in the city high school tournament, captained the team through its successful season. Lungren holds the distinction of being the runner-up in the junior city tournament for boys under 18 years of age and he has also done well in other city and high school matches.

Practice, as well as all dual matches, was held at the Omaha Field Club courts. The personnel of the team includes three veterans, Lungren, Comstock, and Goldner, with three new men, Laugel, Means, and R. Thompson completing the roster. All of the men are prominent in tennis circles throughout the city.

The state tournament was held Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, at Lincoln, but the city tournament was not held till May 21 and was completed on May 25. This tournament was held at the Field Club. All of the Omaha high schools with the exception of Benson and North entered teams.

Cheer Leaders

THE cheerleading staff, with the addition of several new men, had a very successful year. Starting out the first semester with but three veterans, the outlook was only fair, but when 30 boys responded to the call for more cheerleaders, the success of the organization was assured. From the 30 men trying out, the following were chosen: Robert Powell, Ned Smith, Robert Vierling, Marvin Rexford, William Baird, Stanley Kiger, and Thomas Austin. Robert Hastings and Robert Race were selected stunt men.

A system was arranged whereby the cheerleaders at the various athletic contests and mass meetings was divided equally among all of the men. New insignias and megaphones trimmed in purple and white were issued.

Shortly after the election of the new members to the squad, a meeting of all the cheerleaders in the various high schools was called at the office of Ira Jones, physical director of the Omaha schools, where the representatives formulated and agreed upon new rules and regulations for the year.

As in previous years, the cheerleaders led the yells at the football and basket ball games and led the cheers at mass meetings. "Eagle Echoes" was adopted as the official name of the organization. Miss Floy Smith, teacher of expression, was the sponsor.

Boys "O" Club

THE boys' "O" Club was originated in 1920 as an organization for all athletes winning letters in an athletic sport at Central. Because of lack of interest in the organization, it was discontinued a short time later, but in 1927 it was reorganized under the direction of Coaches J. G. Schmidt and F. Y. Knapple.

At the annual election held at the beginning of the second semester, Wesley Laugel received the office of president, Clyde Clancy that of vice-president, while the offices of secretary and treasurer were voted to James Encel and Dewitt McCreary, respectively.

The versatility of the members of the "O" Club is shown by the fact that several of its members were elected to honor societies while others are prominent in the regiment as well as other branches of school activities. Two boys, Allan Chadwell and John Wright received the honor of being elected to both the National Honor Society and the National Athletic Scholarship Society. Other boys who were elected to the latter society this year are: Roscoe Haynie, Harry Rich, Moorhead Tukey, Lester Huff, and Clarence Johnson. Boys elected from the "O" Club last year and who were graduated in 1927 are: Wallace Chadwell, Carl Tollander, Henry Nestor, Finley McGrew, Roger Smith, and Emmett Solomon.

Girls "O" Club

THE fact that only six girls hold the honor this year of membership in the "O" Club should induce other girls to strive towards this goal. Although small, this organization stimulates a great deal of interest in girls' athletics.

Every girl who is playing on a team or has even gone out for any of the various sports provided for Central girls is earning points towards getting her letter. One hundred points are required and are awarded by the efficiency point system. For health and attendance to gymnasium classes, a possible 12 points can be earned, and for hygiene and posture, 10 points each. Swimmers may get 25 points.

In all other sports, there is a possible 15 points each, and 15 points are awarded to the tennis champion. Twenty points can be earned by performing various gymnastic feats, and 9 for dancing. Ten miles of hiking with an "O" Club member must be done for every 25 points earned. Fifty miles, or five points are required for the letter.

A chevron is awarded for every 25 points earned and a purple "O" for the final one hundred. Girls winning this letter automatically become members of the society.

Gym Club

GYM CLUB is an organization for girls who are especially interested in the aesthetic form of gymnastics. Of course, many girls are interested, but as in other clubs, there are some restrictions. A girl must be taking gymnasium and must be receiving at least B in that subject. She must also be passing in all other subjects. Each girl desiring to become a member places her own application with the sponsor. The members of the organization vote upon each applicant, and the majority of the club rules the decision.

Every year the Gym club gives a dance act in the Road Show. Last year's act, "Pros and Prets," which was presented under the sponsorship of Mrs. Constance Lowry, was given again last fall for the State Parent-Teacher's convention.

This year's act, "Vanity," was successfully presented under the excellent sponsorship of Miss Ruth Betts.

The Gym club also plans the girls' camp held at Camp Brewster during the last week of school. The gym department and the gym instructors, with the assistance of other sponsors, have entire control of the camp. A varied and interesting program including a tennis tournament, a swimming meet, a stunt night, and a costume ball, is arranged.

Hockey

HOCKEY is one of the most interesting and peppy sports for Central girls, a fast game, full of running, tumbling, and plenty of excitement.

Practice was held every Monday during the fall, while the weather was good, at Thirty-second and Dewey, under the direction of Miss Elinor Bennett. Louise Sonderegger, Betty Anderson, and Barbara Evarts were the only veterans who practiced regularly.

At the end of the season an honorary team was chosen. Perfect attendance at practice, along with ability to play, was the main requirement for making the team. At the end of the season those making the honorary team were, Betty Anderson, Dorothy Wielandt, Barbara Evarts, Charlotte Towl, Ruth Evarts, Louise Sonderegger, Susie Smith, Bess Greer, Betty Tebbens, Mary Edwards, and Lillian Wrenn. The substitutes were Anel Creel, and Anna and Mable Hendrickson.

In hockey, a possible 15 points may be secured for the athletic letter. Perfect attendance at every practice through the entire season gives three points; a position on the first team, six points; captaincy of the team, one point; a member of the champion team, five points; and a substitute on any team, three points. These points count only once for the "O."

Basket Ball

BASKET BALL, very popular among the girls, started out this year with hard competition in the tryouts. After four weeks of hard practice, the class teams were chosen and an interclass tournament was played off.

The Sophomore quintet, captained by Dorothy Hughes, started the tournament by vanquishing the Freshman, captained by Susie Smith, in a close game. In the game played between the Juniors and Seniors, the Juniors came out on top. The third game of the tournament between the Freshman and the Juniors went to the Freshmen by forfeit, and following that, the Sophomores won the next game from the Juniors 6 to 4. After an 8-to-8 tie that couldn't be broken even with nine minutes extra time, the Freshmen and the Seniors met again in a fast game in which the Seniors carried off the laurels with a score of 5 to 0 giving them the right to meet the Sophomores for championship. The Seniors captained by Dorothy Smith, won the championship by a decisive score of 15 to 2.

Miss Elinor Bennett, gym teacher, coached the girls. Among the outstanding players were Mary Brown, freshman; Esther Weber and Ruth Chadwell, sophomores; Anna Hendrickson and Margaret Thomas, juniors; and Dorothy Smith, Lois Harmon, and Elly Jacobsen, seniors.

Volley Ball

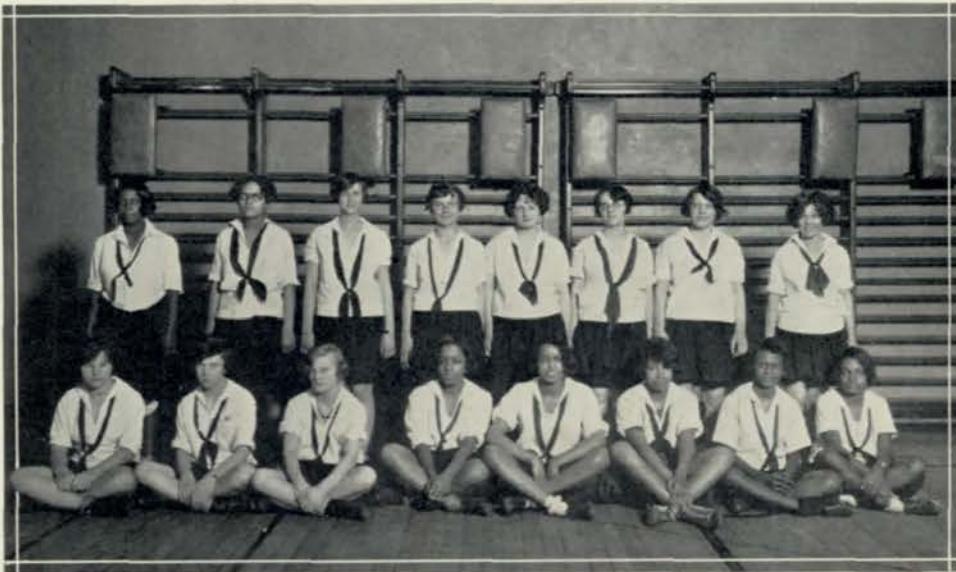

VOLLEY ball was for a long time the favorite sport among Central's girls until girls' basket ball came to the front. Because basket ball is now beginning to hold the center of interest, there was not the usual large turnout for volley ball this year. Nevertheless there was the same close competition.

Every year, in order to line up the players before choosing teams, several practice games are played. Then a tournament, lasting about six weeks, is staged. It is required that a team win two out of three games in each weekly contest. The two chosen teams are given the time honored names of Purple and White. The battle between the Purples and the Whites is looked forward to with much enthusiasm.

This year, after an exciting and close contest, the excellent White team led by Lorraine Larson '31, carried off the honors, winning 11 out of 19 games. Betty Tebbens '30 captained the losing, but not exactly defeated team.

Three star players on the White team, Lorraine Larson, Evelyn Langhorst, and Ollie Mattison, contributed much towards their team's victory. Dorothy Hughes, Esther Weber, and Dell Shaw did outstanding work on the Purple team.

A possible 15 points towards the "O" may be earned in volley ball as in other sports.

Baseball

BASEBALL is a well-liked sport among the girls, if one may judge from the number of enthusiastic aspirants who turned out at the first call for volunteers. After four weeks of hard practice under the supervision of Miss Elinor Bennett, coach, three teams, a Freshman team, a Sophomore team, and a Junior-Senior team, were selected. A tournament was then played off for interclass championship. Baseball, this year, would have proved to be all the more exciting if the girls' long-hoped-for wish had been granted, to be allowed to play off their tournament outside. Then the would-be Babe Ruths would, indeed, have had ample opportunity to display their prowess.

We find many of those who showed up exceptionally well in basket ball also toeing up to the mark in baseball. Among the outstanding players were Grace Snavely, Mary Jane Hughes, Mary Brown, Dorothy Wielandt, Della Morse, Cecelia Moriarty, freshmen; Ruth Chadwell, Esther Weber, Mary Edwards, Dorothy Hughes, Julia Johnson, sophomores; Elly Jacobsen, Mary Ellen Snavely, Dorothy Smith, Lois Harmon, Mabel Hendrickson, Anna Hendrickson, Mary Boyer, Louise Sonderegger, junior-seniors. A successful season may well be looked forward to next year since there is much good material left.

Tennis

TENNIS is another sport which is growing more and more popular with Central girls every year. This year about thirty would-be players turned out at the call to the courts just before spring vacation. Since we are trying to encourage more girls to play this healthful sport, the tournament includes a great many girls who are just learning to play as well as a number who are already quite proficient. This year with the loss of Evelyn Adler, '27, and Ruth McCleneghan, '27, the champion players of 1926 and 1927, there were no especially outstanding players.

Any girl is eligible to play in the tournament. The rounds are played off at set dates, and the school champion and runnerup compete in the city matches.

In 1927 Evelyn Adler and Ruth McCleneghan won for Central the city championship, thereby retaining for the second year in succession the Nettie Muir trophy. This cup is passed each year to the school obtaining the championship. The two winning first and second places in the high school tournament are awarded silver pins in the shape of tennis racquets.

Tennis is one of the best individual sports that one may engage in, and there is a great opportunity for developing stars in this game.

Student Association

THE Student Association is the only organization of Central High School representative of the entire student body. It is more than just an organization with constitution and by-laws; it is the personification, the living example of school spirit.

Since 1912 the Student Association has been a vital part of Central, and its activities have been ably forwarded by this year's officers.

The most important work of the organization is the management of mass meetings throughout the year. Many pep assemblies were held in our auditorium to boost football, basket ball, debate, and swimming. A student probably won't remember the person who sat across from him in such and such a class; he won't remember all the facts he strove to learn in history; but he'll never forget that pep and enthusiasm for the dear old Purple and White.

One of the most outstanding events of the year was the great Color Day celebration at the Rialto theater before the Tech-Central game. Color Day was a decided success!

Very impressive also were the final gatherings

Fred Hamilton

near the end of the year held to announce members of Quill and Scroll, Junior Honor Society, and National Honor Society, and to make awards to those who represented us at the State Scholarship contest in Lincoln.

Organizations

MANY people feel that we are losing the essence of education by not sticking entirely to the courses printed in the curriculum. But what is the purpose of education? Is it not to fit us to take our places in this modern civilization? What qualities are there more necessary than the ability for leadership and the ability to execute successfully a given command? The activities of Central High School are varied enough to suit the taste of everyone, but whatever the activity, it is sure to develop and strengthen the participant. How can we be expected to be efficient, well-rounded citizens without experience in all lines? We are proud of our activities because we know the part they play in our school life. And we take off our hats to you, our presidents, who have so ably led us through the last year.

PURPLE LEGION

James Bednar

Yes Sir! The Royal Fellows of a Royal School. Besides performing their customary service of conducting the Color Day sale, they supplied the "stunts" for all the outdoor athletic games.

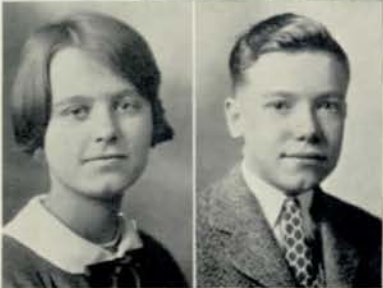

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

Andrew Towl

Fred Hamilton

Speakers one and all! This is the accomplishment of one of Central's biggest activities, Speakers' Bureau. The bureau took charge of several school ticket sales and campaigns which proved very successful. Each member of Speakers' Bureau is required to make at least one motion from the floor each semester to retain his membership. The sponsor and instructor of this organization is Miss Floy Smith.

MATHEMATICS SOCIETY

Louise Robertson

Howard Kruger

The Mathematics Society has finished a most successful year. Organized by Miss Amanda Anderson for the purpose of stimulating the interest of the students in the history and study of mathematics, the society has fulfilled its aim by obtaining business men who have explained the application of mathematics to their work. The year was climaxed with a farewell banquet for its two retiring sponsors, Miss Anna T. Adams and J. F. Woolery.

MONITORS' COUNCIL

Andrew Towl

Robert Wigton

The Monitors' Council is composed of seven members of the library, elected each semester by the monitors of each period of the day. The members meet once a week to discuss the difficulties arising in the library.

The work of the club is the reconstruction of previous rules, the formation of new ones, and the enforcement of all library regulations.

REYNA SPANISH CLUB

Miriam Leigh

John Clapper

The Reyna Spanish Club, organized in 1922, has been very successful in accomplishing its purpose, which is to bring the Spanish pupils into closer acquaintance with the Spanish language and customs. The meetings are held every two weeks, and the programs are presented in Spanish. As is customary, these "Spaniards" donated a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family. Alfonso Reyna and Miss Viva Craven are the sponsors of the club.

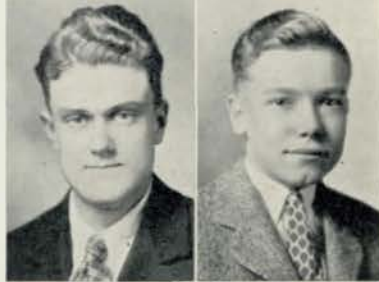

CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Albern Johnson

Howard Kruger

The Central Committee has far surpassed its former splendid record of service to Central. Miss Penelope Smith and Alfonso Reyna became sponsors on the retirement of Mrs. Ada Atkinson. Besides taking care of the study hall ink, trophy case, and dandelion dig, the committee initiated a successful plan which did away with waste paper in study halls.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Randolph Claassen

Joe Fellman

To foster and to acquaint students with German art and literature, the German club was organized this last year by Miss Marie L. Schmidt, German instructor. Membership is open to students in German classes having had one semester of the language. Despite the fact that this is one of Central's newest organizations, it is doing its part in reviving Central's German department.

PROJECT COMMITTEE

Matilda Lerner

Elizabeth Kieser

Achievements of the year among our projects, the country's largest collection, supervised by Miss Genevieve W. Clark, are installation of student radio, open house for over three hundred outside guests, over sixty new student models, press stories, and educational motion pictures of the collection.

BOYS' FRENCH CLUB

Harrie Shearer

The Boys' French Club provided for a poor family at Christmas and helped present the French play.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Dorothy Graham

Le Cercle Francais, organized in 1923 by a group of students interested in the French language and literature, helps a poor family each Christmas and presents a French play.

INTERCLUB COUNCIL

Newton Jones

Interclub Council made up of representatives from the various organizations to take care of club affairs, has collected money for and supervised the furnishing of the club-room and kitchen.

NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB

Edwin Callin

The Natural Science Club does much, through field trips in the spring and lectures during the winter, to promote a greater interest among the students for a broader understanding and knowledge of plants, trees, birds, insects, and physical geography.

STUDENT CONTROL

Beth Parker

Student Control is one of Central's foremost organizations. Patrolling lunch lines, assisting library registration, and keeping general order in and about the school are its functions.

CENTRAL COLLEENS

Caroline Sachs

Central Colleens, the largest girls' club, is responsible for the efficient management of the Big Sister movement, the furnishing of baskets and toys for poor families, and for serving at teas for teachers.

TITIANS

Mary Jane Swett

"Service to Central." That is the motto of the Titian Club, composed of Centrals' red-haired girls. Their main activity has been ushering at most of our school performances. They also took charge of "Book Week" in Central.

GREENWICH VILLAGERS—

Josephine Straub

The Greenwich Villagers, formed in the interest of art, are noted for their annual bazaar, service in beautifying the club room, and their annual scholarship award.

STAMP CLUB

John Kennedy

The Stamp Club has been organized recently for the purpose of collecting and discussing stamps. The club holds bi-monthly meetings when rare stamps of the globe are auctioned off to the highest bidder.

LININGER TRAVEL CLUB

Kathryn Elgutter

Lininger Travel Club was formed mainly for the study of travel and literature. This year, the club was sponsor of a lecture on the Far East and provided baskets for poor families on Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter.

O-Book and The Weekly Register

RUSHING, 'Riting, and Reading are the three R's which characterize the atmosphere of 32C where Central's journalism students work to produce the school's two outstanding publications, The Weekly Register and the O-Book.

During one week, about one hundred and forty people come into the little office. A staff of one hundred publishes the O-Book; while thirty-seven people are at work on the Register. All of this is done under the guidance of Miss Elizabeth White, journalism instructor.

Central is proud of the record of its blue-ribbon publications. The Weekly Register displays a medal received for winning second place in the Columbia Press Association, and the 1926-7 Register won All-American Ranking in the Central Interscholastic Press Association. The 1927 O-Book, with the theme of Bagdad, was awarded All-American honors, and was ranked as one of the two Pacemakers in class A.

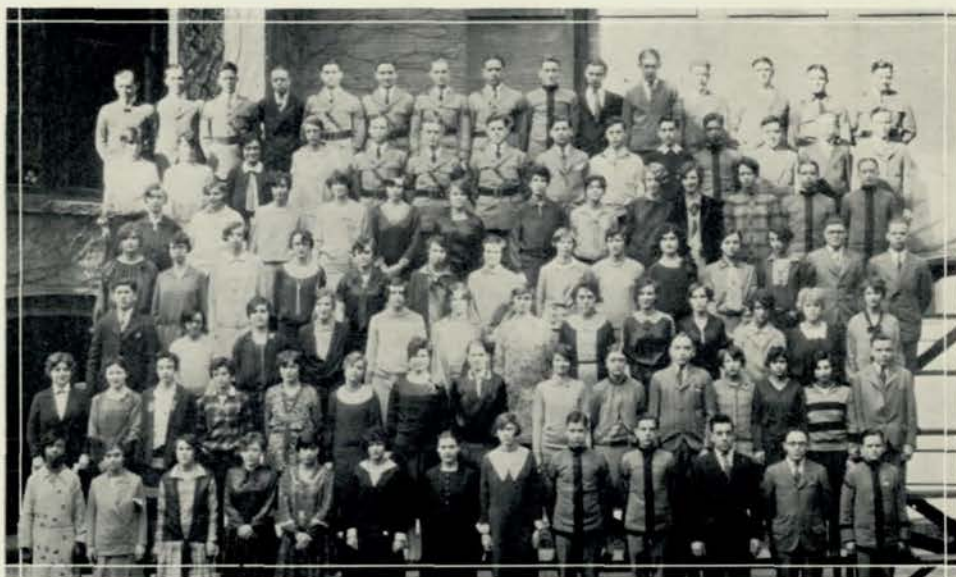

A journalism course of one semester of instruction and one semester of practical application through Register staff work is offered at Central. In spite of limited facilities, the journalism staff has succeeded in producing two award-winning publications of which the school is justly proud.

Debate

Central's debating teams of 1927-28 participated in three large contests: the Missouri League, the Midland Tournament, and the Nebraska State tournament. In the Missouri Valley League, four questions were debated: the child labor amendment, the federal department of education, unemployment insurance, and the Latin-American policy.

In the Missouri Valley league, Central met the teams of North, South, Technical, Creighton Prep, Thomas Jefferson, and Abraham Lincoln in dual debates. Of these debates, Central won six. Members of the squad who participated in one or more of these debates are Joe West, Edith Thummel, Justin Wolf, George Oest, Isabelle Sailors, Frank Lipp, Harold Sachs, Mary Cohn, Marcus Cohn, Elizabeth Kieser, and Harry Weinberg.

Members of the team participating in the Midland Debate and the State tournament were: Joe West, captain; Justin Wolf, Edith Thummel, and Frank Lipp, all '28. In the Midland tournament, Central went down before Blair in the second round, after defeating Oakland High School.

Central finished runner-up for this district in the State tournament, taking victories from North and South, winning by a forfeit from Technical, and losing to Creighton Prep, the champions of this district.

The sponsor and debate coach was Miss Sarah Ryan, mathematics teacher at Central, and an experienced debater.

Orchestra and Glee Clubs

ONE department in the school which has had unusual success this year is the music department, under the direction of Mrs. Carol M. Pitts. Three other teachers who have helped are Mrs. Elsie H. Swanson, Mrs. Irene Jensen, and Henry G. Cox. The glee clubs, both junior and senior, have given performances of unusual merit, and the orchestra has assisted in the opera, Senior Play, Road Show, and French play.

There are about one hundred and fifty members of the Senior Glee clubs, while the orchestra has about sixty. There are two hundred in the Junior Glee clubs.

In Chicago, at the National Music Conference, Central had eight representatives. The male quartet took second place in the national contest.

In the state contest, the Central entries won second place with twenty-one points.

Road Show

THE Fourteenth Annual Road Show, given under the auspices of the Cadet Officers' Club to help finance the cadet camp at Valley, was staged in the auditorium March 15, 16, and 17.

"Guard of the Colors," the N. C. O. C. act, was impressively presented with clock-like accuracy and unison. Something new and different was the magic act, in which the clever magicians made money appear out of the air.

The Gym Club act, "Vanity," was daintily executed. The dancers representing the accessories and maids of a lady's boudoir, centralizing around the figure of milady. The picturesque scenery and costumes added to the beauty and effectiveness of the act.

The saxophone sextette was one of the high spots of the show. The C. O. C. gave two acts, one a melodrama, "Green Chartreuse," and a comedy, "The Play's the Thing." The mystery and tenseness of the melodrama was relieved by the comedy, in which no furniture or accessories were used.

The "Spice Box Revue" was a spicy musical comedy, with many leads and five different choruses, presenting both classical and jazz music.

"Clogging," a dancing trio, presented some very unusual tap dancing and acrobatic stunts.

"Leap Year Follies," the burlesque of the show, an act with a cast of all boys, glorified the American boy. The show ended with the jazz orchestra, always one of the most popular numbers on the program.

Radio

AFTER brushing the cobwebs out of room 43C and setting the long-unused wires humming with Central's call, Wilbur Cramer, radio instructor, assisted by the Central Radio Association, began to broadcast programs from station KOCH. Especial interest was shown in the regular Saturday night students' programs in which Centralites only are the entertainers.

The station, when it was established in 1923, was known by the call letters, KFCZ, but as some symbol was desired that represented Central, the call letters KOCH or "Know Omaha Central High" were adopted.

The first programs over this station were organ recitals which were broadcast from the Rialto theatre. Later, mass meeting programs were broadcast, and in 1925 programs from the Crystal Palace at the Schmolter and Mueller Piano Company were given over a remote control line. After successful broadcasting during 1926, the station disbanded when the radio department was dropped from the curricula.

By means of this station which has been heard over virtually all of the United States, Central is made known to the rest of the world. Reports of reception have come in from New York, California, Texas, Minnesota, and most of the 48 states in the union.

Honor Societies

THE highest of all honors to be received in Central is election to one of the chapters of the National Honor Society. The National Honor Society was organized in 1921 largely through the efforts of Principal J. G. Masters.

Seniors who have achieved the distinction of election to the organization are chosen on the basis of the qualities of scholarship, character, leadership, and service to the school. The forty-two seniors who were elected from the class of 1928 are:

Jennie May Ahko	Raymond M. Johnson

Helen Hercht was elected from the January class.

The charge was presented to these students at a united school mass meeting held at the Riviera Theatre on April 27. Dr. Frank G. Smith was the principal speaker, and expressed to the members the seriousness of the occasion and the responsibility of those elected.

The underclassmen have as their highest goal election to their respective chapters of the Junior Honor Society. This year thirty-eight members of the junior class were elected to the Gamma Chapter. From the sophomore class, forty-four students were elected to the Delta Chapter, and thirty-eight freshmen received membership in the Epsilon Chapter.

Vice-principal Joseph F. Woolery announced the names and presented the charge at a mass meeting held in the Auditorium May 9.

Quill and Scroll

TO TWENTY-SIX of Central's graduating seniors was given the honor of election to Quill and Scroll, the national honorary society for high school journalists.

Founded in 1926 at the University of Iowa, for the purpose of advancing the standards of the profession of journalism by developing better journalists and by inculcating a higher code of ethics, the society has spread to all parts of the country, and election to it is considered one of the highest honors to be won in the high school career.

The qualifications, as set down in the constitution of the society, are that the candidate must be in the upper third of his class in scholastic standing, that he must have distinguished himself in the journalistic work he has attempted, and that he must have been approved by the national secretary-treasurer of the society.

The names of those thus distinguished are: Orlo Behr, Morris Blacker, Dorothea Brown, Margaret Colvin, Margaret Dallas, Grace Dansky, Dorothy Dawson, Cecil Draney, Dorothy Gill, Paul Grossman, Mildred Goosman, Tobie Goldstein, Harold Horn, Stanley Kunch, Mary McCall, Mary McMillan, Priscilla Noyes, Beth Parker, Lucile Reader, Louise Robertson, Vivian Rollf, Caroline Sachs, Lloyd Smith, Adele Wilinsky, Joe West, and Bettie Zabriskie.

National Athletic Scholarship

FROM a large number of athletes in Central, only seven were chosen to membership in the National Athletic Scholarship Society of Secondary Schools.

The purpose of this organization is to foster high scholarship among boy athletes, to stimulate a desire for balanced training, and to develop more outstanding leaders in the secondary schools of the United States. The society was organized in the early part of the school year 1924-1925, and there are chapters in all parts of the country.

The qualifications for membership are high. An athlete must have earned his letter in one of the major sports, football, basket ball, baseball, or track, or in two minor sports; his average in his school work for three consecutive semesters must have been equal to or higher than the general average of the school; and he must have exemplified the highest type of citizenship and sportsmanship.

Certificates of membership in the society were awarded to Allan Chadwell, Leslie Huff, Roscoe Haynie, Clarence Johnson, Harry Rich, Moorhead Tukey, and John Wright, graduating seniors of 1928.

Membership was given also to Wallace Chadwell, Finley McGrew, Henry Nestor, Chester Nielson, Roger Smith, Emmett Solomon, and Carl Tollander, who were graduated in 1927.

State Music Contest

CENTRAL'S Senior Glee Clubs placed second in the Nebraska High School Music Contest, held in Lincoln, May 4 and 5. Central entered in the Class A division, competing with York, Lincoln, and Technical. Seven events were entered, but for lack of a sufficient number of contesting schools, competition was held in only six.

The places won are as follows: Class A Girls' Glee Club, second; Class A Boys' Glee Club, second; violin solo, second, won by Marjorie Smith; small instrumental group, first, won by Edward Row, piano; Dorothy Lustgarten, first violin; Marjorie Smith, second violin; Helen Zabriskie, viola, and Bettie Zabriskie, 'cello; flute solo, second, won by George Harrington.

At the National Music Supervisors' Convention, held in Chicago, Central's Boys' Quartet placed second in competition with organizations from all parts of the country. The members of the quartet were Dale Larson, Stanley Kiger, Harry Stafford, and Herman Rosenblatt.

The Glee Clubs were further honored this year when they sang for the noted composer and pianist, Louis Victor Saar. For the first time Mr. Saar heard one of his most difficult numbers sung by a high school organization. The clubs were later praised in a recent issue of a noted musical magazine, quoting Mr. Saar as saying that he had never before heard such singing by high school students.

Commercial Contests

WINNING first place by a high margin was the achievement of the entrants from Central in the District Commercial Contest held at Benson High School, Saturday, March 30.

In the champion typewriting contest, first place was taken by Leah Oberman, and fourth by Phyllis Nelson. First place in junior typewriting was won by Keith Sackett, and Bernice Thorsen took fourth.

First, second, and fourth places in champion shorthand were won by Fannie Lerner, Sam Fregger, and June Dauble, respectively. In the junior shorthand division, Lillian Jonisch and Ruth White were first and third. Elizabeth Adams secured second in the novice shorthand contest, and Mary Gartland, fourth.

Kenneth Haynie and Ruth White took third and fifth place honors, respectively, in the bookkeeping division. Two Central students, Ida Millman and David Slobodinsky, tied for second place in the spelling examination.

Central placed second in the State Commercial Contest held at York on April 28. The places won were: second in college champion typewriting, Miriam Wells; second tie in college novice shorthand, Evelyn Simpson; first in college bookkeeping, Miriam Wells; tie for first in college spelling, Miriam Wells and Evelyn Simpson; third in champion typewriting, Leah Oberman; third and fourth tie in junior shorthand, Ruth White and Lillian Jonisch, respectively; and third and fourth in champion shorthand, June Dauble and Fannie Lerner, respectively.

Individual Honors

THE highest honor won by any Central student was that taken by Joe West in the National Oratorical Contest. He placed first in the zone and will receive a ten-week's tour of Europe.

Josephine Straub, Charlotte Heyn, and Helen La Counte, placed first, second and third, respectively, in the Road Show poster contest; and Donald Polcar, Ruth Miller, and Irma Randall, won first, second, and third places, respectively, in the June Senior Play poster contest.

In the annual student written number of The Scholastic, Lloyd Smith won honorable mention in the drama division, Dorothy Pretz took third place in the essay division. Art works by Leora Wood, Alice Sowell, Margaret Thomas, and Nadine Blackburn were chosen to be hung in the National High School Art Exhibition at the Carnegie Institute. Louise Sonderegger had a winning article in the "Name Me" contest held monthly by that magazine.

In a national contest conducted by the Quill and Scroll, Priscilla Noyes placed second in the book review division. In a local contest conducted in connection with Mother and Daughter week, Dorothea Brown won first place in the poetry division, Alice Thorin was second, and Bettie Zabriskie was third; Ruth Miller took first in the poster section.

The boys' quartette, consisting of Dale Larson, Stanley Kiger, Harry Stafford, and Herman Rosenblatt won second place in national competition at the National Music Supervisors' Convention in Chicago. The other members who went were Mildred Gibson, Dorothy Boyles, Ruth Anne Rhamey, and Fred Segur.

A scholarship to Vassar College was won by Edith Victoria Robins.

In the Chemistry Essay contest, places were won by Robert Wigton, Andrew Towl, and honorable mention by Edith Victoria Robins.

Dearest Juan +++

Since you request me, my dear brother, to tell you all transpiring while I sojourn here before rejoining my comrades in this search for Quivira, I have placed here for you on paper all the events. September 4 - registration day -- upon my soul, how fraught the day was with tumultation. 'Twas such as one oft sees on shipboard when the crew prepares for battle. Such mad scurrying would startle the saints. September 6 did this house of learning open formally.

The corridors were thronged with wild-eyed children; they, I was informed, were the newmen, or no, the appellation was freshmen. How dear the children seemed! Those young men and women who planned to leave here in January to seek their fortunes selected leaders on September 22. Henry Nestor, a handsome cavalier, was selected to be first in command with a worthy group of lieutenants.

For their revered and august advisor, this body secured the services of Senorita Rockfellow. 'Twas rumored on that day that Arthur Redfield of the silver tongue accompanied a fair maiden on some mysterious engagement, but the man denied it. Such versatility exists here! Wouldst believe Moorehead Tukey, the leader of the army here, once graced the decks of some great galleon? Ahoy! What memories that recalls!

E.S.

In the world of physical prowess, Father Schmidt honored Leslie Huff and Wesley Lavgel as captains of the contest of the Feet. What a rough sport—that game!

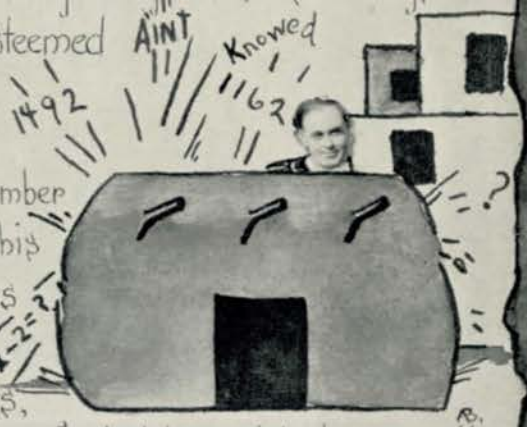

This way—that way do twenty-two fine men hurl themselves against each other. Aye, 'tis an evil game, and it were better that personal grudges be settled in a gentleman's manner. Victory was ours in that opening contest with Fremont, October 1. He! Ho! What excitement on October 5! Justin Wolf became president of the Association of Students after a brief but sweeping campaign. His assistants, too, were chosen on that day. Such a hubbub and disturbance marked the day! But the president—a-a-ahh—a comely brute, Juan, who sets a-flutter all maidens' hearts. As the regulator of finance of the great annual document, the Council chose Mildred Goosman, the Brilliant. Dorothea Brown and Morris Blacker were made chief and assistant-chief of this most precious document. The groups of serenaders have been organized many years, and October 13 marked the day of their selection of leaders. Virginia Bryson, Ruth Correa, and Albert Lucke each received these positions. The last two were well matched and should have had absolute co-operation. Maidens prefer blondes here, for there is Johnny, a bit more ruddy than blonde, but no less preferred. As a baby, John rivaled Jim Bednar in beauty. The courier showed them both long before they donned the cadet blue. Such unmaidenly conduct on the part of Elsie Standeven in Speakers' Bureau initiation! Yea, she did seek the hand of the Student Association's Vice-president. Ah, me, these moderns. Those who were to be graduated in June held a gathering, October 25, and elected Harrie Shearer their leader. An excellent gentleman-Harrie, who will probably replace our own Don Juan in the near future--yea-the Don Juan of Kansas. What rejoicing one sees amongst the young folks when their esteemed instructors must needs convene to discuss them and their habits as on November 3 and 4! As if a result of this assemblage, the pedagogues gave out the record of the work done by the students, report cards, on November 8. Such dolor and lachrymosity manifested itself on this occasion! The semi-final football joust of the season was preceded, November 18, by merry-making here as would put you in mind, good Juan, of our own fiesta 'Tis called Color Day. Ho! Ho! How you would laugh at the caps, horns, and tremendous jocundity. This contest brought forth a multitude of spectators as would make you believe a bullfight was at hand. ♦♦

 The result, however, was dire. "Swine," a theatrical production teeming with wit and amusing situations, the January
 Seniors offered at the Brandeis enclosed arena, November
 14. November 24 through 27, the doors of this great house of learning were closed, Thanksgiving Day, as 'tis called, to celebrate. On December 5, Wesley after a sufficient recovery from his injury.
 How glad we all were to see our gallant captain again. It must have been about this time many people up here were indeed shocked by Senorita Floy Smith's almost marriage. But the fair instructoress put us to rights on the point and assured us she still retained her birthright of freedom. On January 3, ♦♦♦ after a fortnight's respite to serve up the Christmas goose, we returned to our beloved work, though a bit reluctantly. However, the opera, "The Prince of Pilsen," dispelled some of our gloom. Ho!
 Ho! What a great time Dale Larsen had with all those lovely maidens assembled about him. Herman Rosenblatt marked himself indelibly in our minds with his facetious Hans Wagner. ♦♦
 'T would be cruel neglect not to mention the wonderful work of our Team of the Basketball. Led by Parker Davis, he of the perfect aim, and John Wright, the swift and sure, the team could be only successful.
 January 18, with Señor Nestor as toastmaster, the January seniors held their banquet at the Blackstone. Such a splendid Fete! Senorita Rockfellow, what a gay evening it was to her! Everyone wonders about her children. A great honor was bestowed, January 19, on Helen Herck, a blond damsel with rare charms, when in recognition of her leadership, scholarship, character, and service she received an appointment to the National Honor Society. At the same assemblage, Stanley Kunel was appointed to Quill and Scroll. We all knew Stanley as managing editor of the Courier, but not as that little two-year-old boy, so sweet and demure. January 20 our warriors of the basket played Sioux City high school. What a swift and thrilling game was that! Ours was the victory by a narrow margin. There is a game requiring physical prowess which I know you would thrill to witness, Juan. And in the midst of this group of struggles appeared the most terrifying part of the students' lives. The Inquisition, so well-known in my home-land, can surely take what these young ones call the "rear bench" when compared with examinations. As has been the custom among these gentle folk, records were again dealt forth after the week of torture. Sorrow again prevailed. 'Twas about this time, if my memory fails me not, that the Forensic artists completed a victorious Campaign. We are truly proud of these fluent orators and of their glorious conquests. And how our basket ball fighters continued to please us with their excellent work! With the same pothier as marked the registration in the fall, the new semester was begun January 30. A new troupe of athletes called Couriers wrestlers began earning praise for themselves at this time, together with the swimmers ably captained by John Thomas. These high spirited young moderns indulge in, and support all athletic contests with true loyalty. February 24, we learned that Herman Rosenblatt, of Cincinnati fame, received the position of director of the Organization of Young Men Singers. With Herman's picture in the courier, we also saw Newton Jones as a military leader of tender years. The first of March at the City Arena, the local basket ball teams met in mortal competition. Our team won not, but we enjoyed the satisfaction of startling our most formidable opponent, Tech. What a royal performance did we have in the Fourteenth Annual Road Show. Such gay colors, bright scenes, and comedy! To see Frank Currey do the "Doll Dance", Juan, you would have believed him a true disciple of Terpsichore. Elsie Sopher gave a most delightful dance, which we are sure Jack Poff must have thrilled to see. Bettie Zabriskie pleased all with her fine work in the Q. D. Q. excruciatingly comical play. The first week in April we rejoiced in a vacation to enjoy beautiful spring weather, but how the elements tricked us. Would's't believe that today in the schools are actually presented plays in the language of our once great rival, France? Kathryn Elgutter made a most charming Columbine pursued by Charles Gallup, the Gallant! Around this time came the Contests to determine the positions of various members of the senior class. Now excited the members of that class were! 'Twas a truly difficult task to select the prettiest girl and best-looking boy among them! April 27, a huge all-school gathering was held to name the members of National Honor Society. Such happiness among those seniors chosen! This was the period of great contests! Our typists and commercial workers held our glory in the State Commercial Contest. May 4 and 5, the Senior Glee Club and other distinguished musicians put forth their excellent efforts to bring renown to their school. Those outstanding in scholastic accomplishment went to Lincoln to compete in the State Scholarship Contests. About this time those underclassmen who had earned it were elected to Junior Honor Society. May 11 and 12, too, the swift-footed members of our track team showed their prowess in a vast track tournament. Just then we thrilled at the sweet voices of our Junior Glee singers. How enthralling it is to witness those youthful troubadors giving vent to their musical talents! May 18 and 19 those who were to be graduated in June gave a play of their own. Priscilla Noyes, as was her wont, charmed us all. What a lovely creature she is! The Senior Troubadors held a magnificent concert also. Such musical heights did those students reach! Memories of our dear Spain came back to me as I listened. June 6 our gallant soldiers be- took themselves to their annual encampment. This, they say, is the signal to Jupiter, the Rain-giver, to let loose the flood gates of heaven! A few days later, the maidens desirous of enjoying a few days of pioneer life, departed for their encampment. June 14 concluded the school year! That day the final records were handed out! 'Twas the last day of my, oh, so pleasant visit, Juan, and I was grief stricken. June 15 the soldiers enjoyed the opportunity of wearing their sweethearts' tokens in the contests at camp, as that was Visitors Day. Delightful Dorothy Gill had so many who would wear her tokens that she was forced to borrow some of her friends'.

Our June seniors had their graduation exercises on June 16. The beginning of the beginning—'twas a solemn occasion as these young people received their diplomas and prepared to seek their fortunes in the great world. A farewell banquet with all the seniors gathered together gave me a beautiful feeling of pride. There were these young people—jovial, happy, in love with life, barely realizing the true meaning of this launching into the great world. Never more will they be together at such a class gathering. Thus was that most happy year, Juan, and with a sigh I close this letter recounting such a truly beautiful series of events. I send much love to you, and I hope, indeed, that be long till I return from this search with

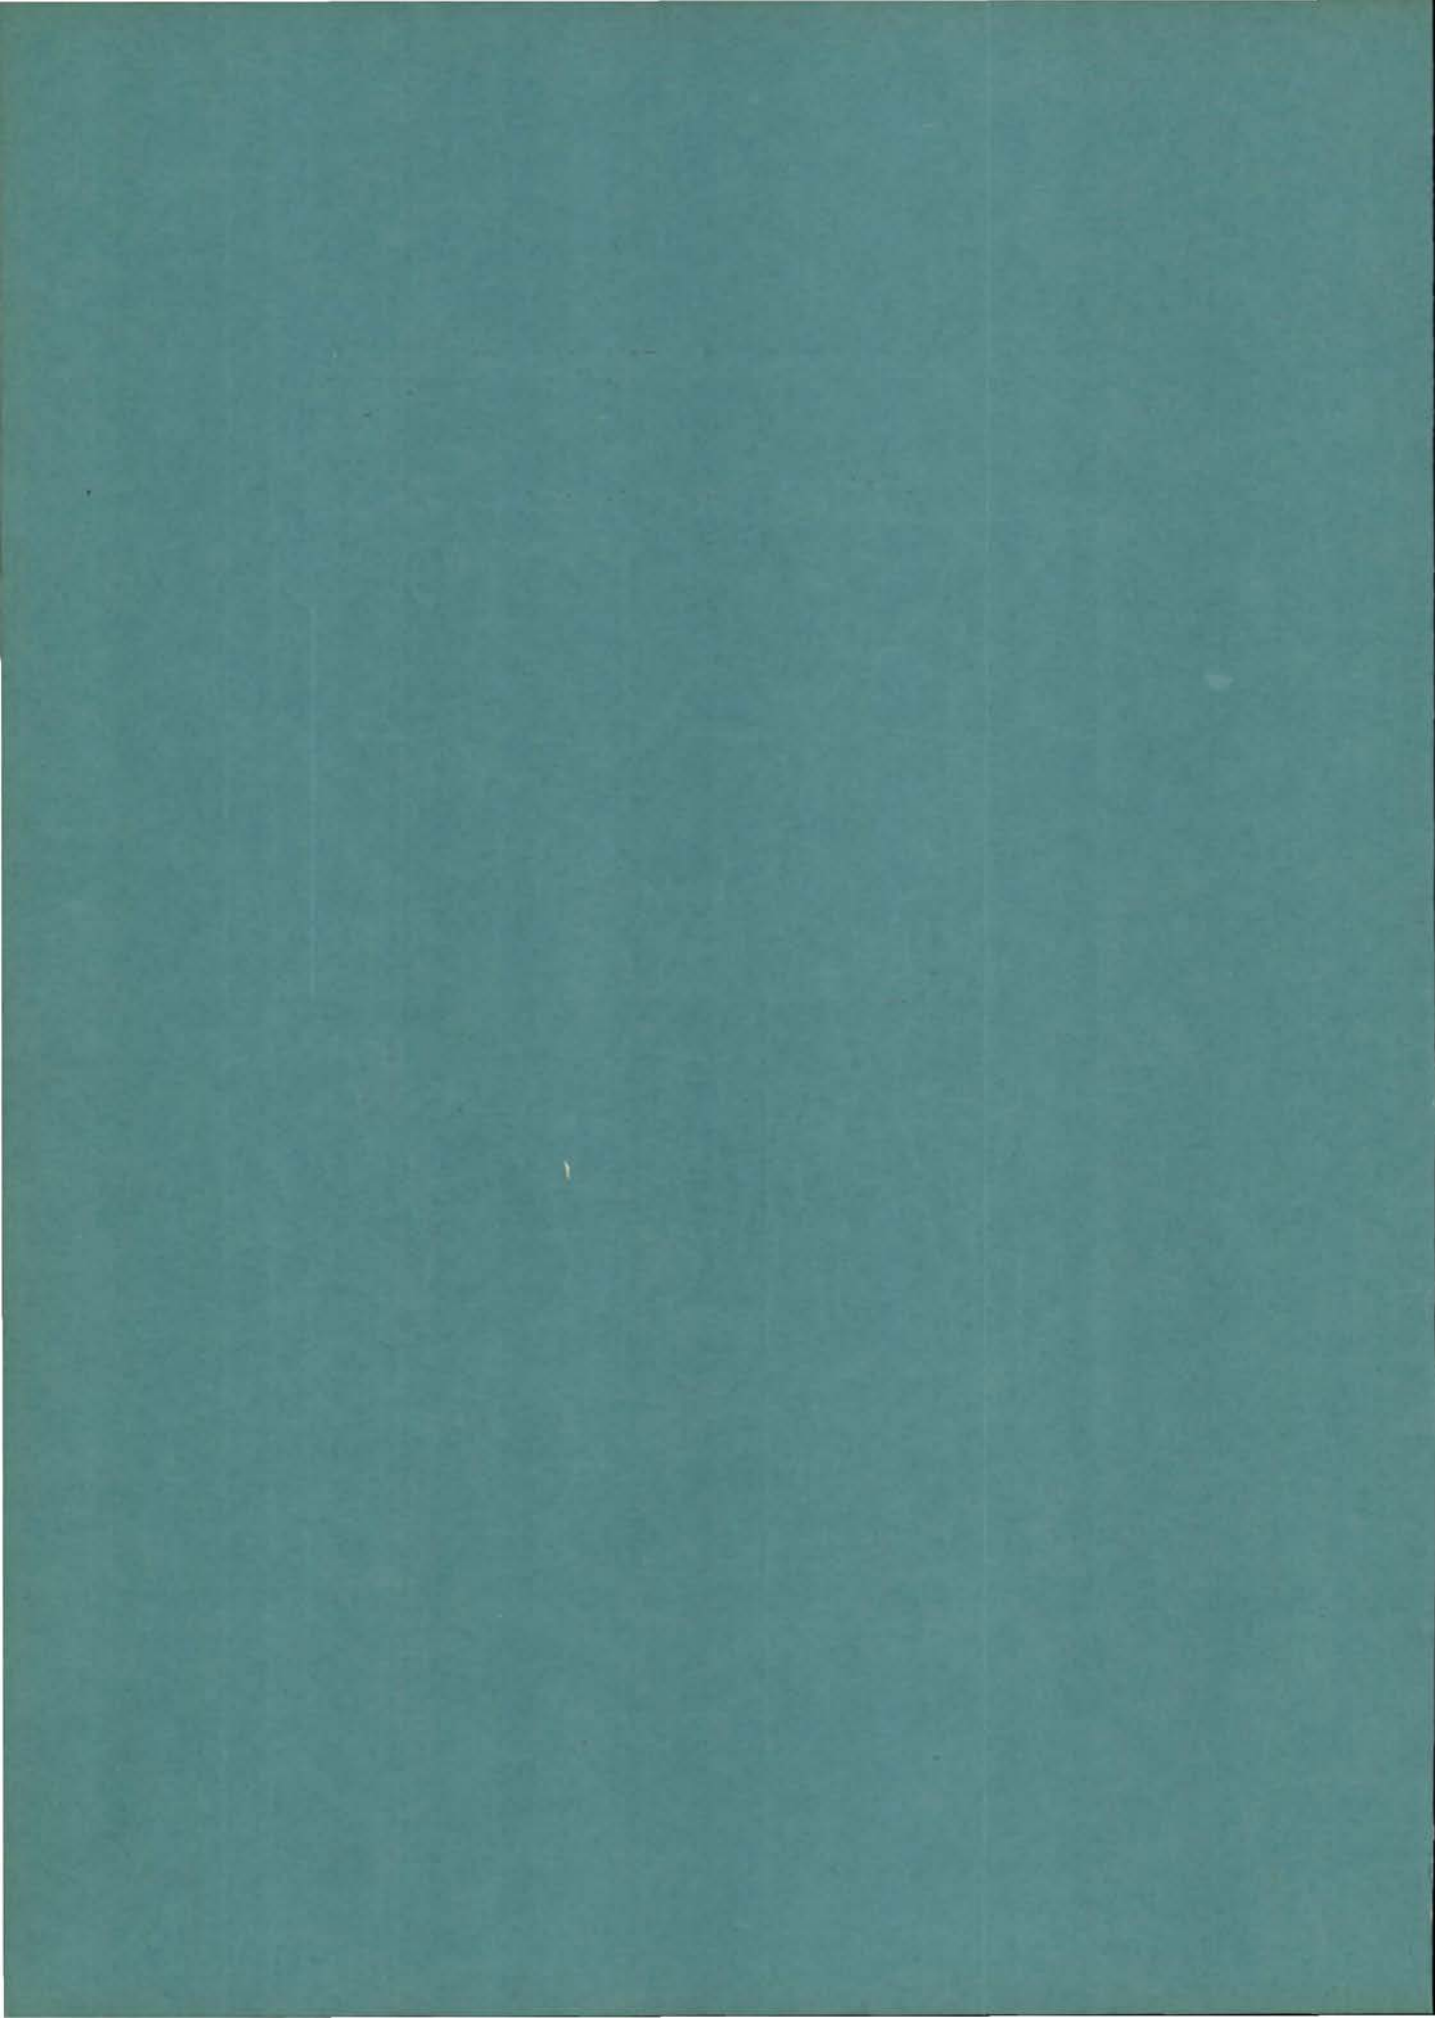

Your loving brother,

Bernardo

Let Joy Be Unconfined!

The joy of student life is shared by thousands of young men and women who appreciate the great value of training in Omaha High Schools. It is fitting them for success in life. The privilege is vouchsafed by generous parents.

But it sometimes happens that parents are taken by the Grim Reaper which shatters the plans for their children's schooling. Wise parents buy life insurance in this company to make certain the completion of the education of sons and daughters. We sell policies especially designed for this purpose. Let us tell you about them.

“Having long recognized the community value of our educational institutions the Chamber of Commerce sees in the University of Omaha a worthy and promising institution. Being non-sectarian and co-educational, it is admirably equipped for the broadest municipal service. It not only attracts to our city many students, residents, and visitors, but, in a peculiar and valuable way serves our own population by furnishing the opportunity for College Education to many who are unable to leave their homes to obtain it.”

HEALTH—the greatest—WEALTH

It is necessary that you have a Healthy Brain and a Physically Perfect Body to have a Clear Thinking Mind to make a success.

TO CURE DISEASE—REMOVE THE CAUSE

Pressure on spinal nerves interferes with proper distribution of vital life currents, resulting in disease. In 95 per cent of patients the cause of their diseases can be found at misplaced vertebrae, interfering with proper distribution of life.

Chiropractic adjustments replace the vertebrae to normal position and Health returns.

Be 100 per cent perfect to meet life's battle with continued success.

Spinal curvature corrected. Telephone AT. 9747 or KE. 5582 for appointments and consultation.

Acknowledgment

A NEW plan in annual construction has been initiated by the O-Book this year in the creation of an editorial board, the members of which have direct supervision of the running of the annual. The members meet twice a week in a class during the first semester of the school year to plan the work of construction which is done during the second semester. Through the efficient work of the editorial board members, the constant endeavor of Miss Elizabeth White, our sponsor, and Mrs. Anne Lane Savidge, who in the absence of Miss White, carried on the work, it has been possible to complete the publication in a systematic and orderly fashion.
