Dr. Harry A. Burke

The staff dedicates this, the 1962 edition of the O-Book, to Dr. Harry A. Burke, former superintendent of the Omaha Public schools. Dr. Burke served as superintendent from 1946 until his death on April 10, 1962.

Dr. Burke gave completely of his energy to the cause that all youth should have the opportunity for the best possible kind of education. This was his life — and he fought the battles for education of young people with a rare combination of professional integrity and undaunted courage.

We are proud to take this opportunity to pay tribute — to the man and his deeds — a great man, a great educator, a great American — Dr. Harry Axel Burke.

What does Central build? Central builds each student through its versatile program.

The activities a student participates in add to his individuality. He has a chance to be creative and to exhibit his talent.

A student learns cooperation from each club in which he is a member. He also has a chance to develop his leadership qualities.

The sporting program at Central develops athletic ability and sportsmanship. Spirit is also an essential part.

Every boy who takes part in the military program gains a special experience in leadership and training for the future.

The faculty plays an important part in molding all these characteristics into each student. They also help the student to be self-sufficient and to study hard so he may realize his future plans.

At last we have the completed student, developed through four years of eager participation in Central's events and activities.

Central builds the future for its students.

"On Borrowed Time"

The unusual experiences of a jovial old man and a lovable youngster provided a heartwarming evening of entertainment at Central's Fall Play, On Borrowed Time.

The play, presented Oct. 25-26, was under the capable direction of Mrs. Amy Sutton. She was aided by student director, Robin Aronson.

As a result of the capture of death, known as Mr. Brink, played by Joe Schik and Craig Miller, the entire world is faced with the threat of an eternal existence.

It is only through the reluctant decision of Gramps, played by Harold Schneider, that the world is saved from this undesirable fate.

The reason that Gramps clings to life is centered around the affection he holds for his grandson, Pud, played by Dick Lydick.

Other members of the cast included Burma Sorenson, Joan Lively, Kathy Bigsby, John Johnson, Jim Solomonson, Bill Young, Fred Haberlain, Charles Allison, Jeff Noddle, James Blickenstaff, Dan Erickson, John Grossman and Richard Carey.

The orchestra, under the direction of Robert Harrison, provided appropriate music for the overture.

The scenery designed by Mrs. Doris Lewis was built by the stage crew under the direction of W. A. Carrick.

"What's up Doc?"

"So, vat's new?"

"Let's start an Anti-Demi society."

"Tiptoe through the tulips."

"What a beautiful cross-section of a quinquefolia."

"Plain and Fancy"

"You're crushing my hand."

"Sure, Mr. Walker, it's only 7 p.m."

On Dec. 14, 15 and 16, the Central High stage was transformed into a bustling Amish community for the A Cappella Choir's production of Albert Hague and Arnold Horwitt's musical, Plain and Fancy.

Susan Bloch and Michael Nau delighted audiences with their portrayal of two sophisticated New Yorkers who traveled to Bird-in-Hand, Pa., for a business transaction but ended up playing cupids. Diane Purviance as Katy, Richard Fried and Richard Beran as Papa, Karen Brodkey and Judy Veret as Hilda, Linda Gould and Nancy Fellman as Emma,

Richard Young and John Mullens as Peter, and George Douglas and Lee Brentlinger as Ezra gave outstanding performances in their roles as Amish folk.

The Amish credo "Plain We Live," presented an inspiring finale. The musical provided a variety of songs ranging from the catchy, "You Can't Miss It" and the comical "Take Your Time and Take Your Pick," to the romantic "Young and Foolish."

The choir under the direction of Rodney Walker, assisted by Mrs. Delma Barber, gave an outstanding performance.

"Young and Foolish."

The 48th annual Road Show was presented March 15, 16 and 17 under the direction of Robert Harrison. He was assisted by student directors, Thomas Boeder, Don Buresh, Wayne Kallstrom and Cordelia Culbertson.

The show opened with tantalizing drumbeats coming first from one balcony, then from another and finally from the stage. The first portion of the show was appropriately named "Strictly Pops."

Attention was next shifted to the back of the auditorium where a colorfully dressed German band proceeded to march down the aisle and across the stage and disappear into the orchestra pit. The first act was climaxed with the orchestra, which accompanied dancers and a vocalist.

The second part of the show opened with the ever popular and exciting Crack Squad. This year a new phenomenon in staging was introduced. During the maneuver, the lights were turned off, and only the guns and hats with their iridescent paint and blue lights could be seen.

The finale to the show was the presentation of the A Cappella Choir, singing selections from "Die Fledermaus." In addition to the above, colorful dances, a humorous monologue, delightful singing voices and several combos contributed to the success of the Road Show. The variety of acts and grand co-operation of all participants made this Road Show one of the best in Central's history.

The senior class play of 1962 was Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness!"

The play, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Lewis, was presented May 3-4.

The story deals with an average American family in Ohio, around the turn of the century.

As the play opens, on the fourth of July, Richard Miller, a sensitive seventeen-year-old, played by James Lyons, is professing against capitalism. When he copies some rather questionable poetry for his girl friend, Muriel, played by Barbara Kucera and Patty Goldapp, his parents find out, and Richard and Muriel are forbidden to date anymore. To prove his virility, Richard gets intoxicated and dates another girl. After several other mishaps Richard's parents forgive him, and the play ends with all the relationships patched.

Other lead roles were played by Elizabeth Coolidge and Karon Huston, as Mrs. Miller; Edward L'Ecuyer, as Mr. Miller and Sid Davis, played by Harry Friedman.

The settings were designed by Mrs. Lewis and constructed by Mr. Carrick and his crew.

"But Auntie, I already know about THOSE things!"

"Everybody loves Saturday night."

"Quit feeding the dog under the table."

The 1961-62 A Cappella Choir had a very active year. Under the direction of Rodney Walker, with the assistance of Mrs. Delma Barber, the choir displayed its talents on a variety of occasions.

The choir's major presentation was the musical comedy "Plain and Fancy," presented Dec. 14, 15 and 16. This was Mr. Walker's first presentation at Central.

The choir added much to the 1962 Road Show with its rendition of selections from "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss.

This spring the choir gave several concerts. The first was held at the University of Nebraska, on May 16; the others included a concert on May 18 and concerts for several of the junior high schools.

Once again the A Cappella Choir has proven itself a valuable asset to Central.

"No, this is NOT auditorium homeroom!"

The singers also put on a music concert in April in the Central auditorium. The program was divided into two sections: one consisting of sacred music; the other consisting of American music. For the sacred portion of the program the choir sang "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina, "Conclusion" by Schutz, and "Song of Galilea." The American selections were "Annie Laurie" by Scott, "Go, Song of Mind" by Cookson, "Old Abram Brown" by Britten, and "Chin-a-Ring-Chaw" by Copland.

Concert Band

The Concert band made its first appearance of the 1961-62 season at the annual football games last fall. The band, clad in their white uniforms, performed on the field during the half time under the direction of instrumental music instructor Robert Harrison.

In January the members participated in the All City Music festival which was held at the Civic auditorium. In February the band played for the annual Military Ball, which was held at Peony Park.

To end its busy season, the Concert band played at the Spring concert, June 1.

Under the direction of Robert Harrison and Student Director, Thomas Boeder, the 1961-62 Dance band completed another successful year.

The Eagle musicians made their initial appearance of the year at the R.O.T.C.'s "Sound Off" sock hop. They then appeared in the annual Road Show.

The Dance band added much to the German club dance held in March.

Spring found the band members very busy giving a concert at George Norris Junior High school and playing for the Gretna High school dance. Along with the other bands the group participated in the Music concert given at Central, June 1.

Second semester was even busier for the Orchestra members. They participated in the All City Music festival in January. For the Road Show they played various selections, including "The Grand Canyon Suite," "Show Me," "Three Little Colts in a Mustang Patch" and "Exodus."

Journalism

Since the first week in September, 317, the journalism room, has been buzzing with excitement. The reason for all the excitement—journalists are wondering what the new O-Book is going to be like and what will be featured in the next Register.

Under the very capable direction of Brian Soiref, the Reggie editor, the staff put out fifteen very fine Registers. In addition to the ordinary array of articles, editorials, features and sports stories, Centralites enjoyed two new features this year: "Students Speak," which gives Centralites an opportunity to voice their opinions, and the profile on the various department heads.

One of the biggest events for the student body is the issuance of the O-Book, which could not have turned out so successfully without the wonderful direction of its Editor, Judy Veret.

One of the highlights of the year for these journalists was their trip to Lincoln for the annual Nebraska High School Press Association convention in November. Both of the staffs were victorious in many of the contests entered.

First place honors were won by Brian Soiref, editorial writing; Judy Ginsburg, yearbook copyreading and Terri Tabor, copyreading and editing. Maureen Borden took second place in news feature writing. Third place winners were Judy Veret, yearbook layout; Sandra Parilman, headline writing; Jerry Ferenstein, photography; Janet Anderson, journalistic terms; Gayle Render, current events and Dora Gerber, yearbook copywriting.

Central again was victorious at the 1961-62 High School Journalism conference at Omaha university. The Register took first place in front page make up, and Reggie Editor, Brian Soiref, was awarded third place honors for news writing. The combined staffs also attended the Round Table for Editors at Creighton university.

Neither of these publications could have been possible without Miss Carolyn Richmond, Register and O-Book advisor.

The National Forensic League State sweepstakes is another addition to the squad's fine record. Robert Gross and Neil Danberg took the honors at the Nebraska State Debate tournament by winning the championship. The N.F.L. also received the outstanding chapter award in Nebraska.

Math Team

The 1961-62 Central High Math team placed eighth in the state competition held Mar. 8.

Michael Siemon, a junior, placed second in the Nebraska High School Mathematics contest with a score of 81.00, making him eligible for the National Honor Roll which is comprised of participants with scores of 80.00 or better.

Another team member, Dale Brodkey, with a score of 48.00 placed higher than any Central girl in a long time.

Other high scores were made by Robert Gross 44.50 and Barry Kort 44.25.

The team score was 173.50. This is found by combining the three highest individual scores on each team.

From 1957 to 1961 Central was state math champion.

Homeroom Representatives

In the fall every homeroom elects two representatives. It is the duty of these representatives to bring Registers to the homeroom, to be responsible for the collection of all drives and to bring any pertinent information to each individual homeroom.

One of the major duties of the homeroom representatives this year was to collect for the purchase of fifty-star flags, which every homeroom purchased.

Stage Crew

Behind the scenes of every Central production are two very efficient staffs. The Make-up crew under the direction of Mrs. Amy Sutton and the Stage crew under the direction of W. A. Carrick have contributed many hours of their time to the success of Central's productions.

The Stage crew is in charge of building the lovely scenery while the Make-up staff meets as a class to prepare ideas for the characters in the coming plays.

Central was well represented at the 1961 Girls' and Boys' state in Lincoln, June 17-23. The Centralites reported that they had both an enjoyable and an educational week in the capital city.

In the elections of officers the following Central students were elected: Joyce York was elected District judge, Helen Katz was elected Associate justice of the Nebraska Supreme court, and Marshall Kaplan was elected a member of the state school board.

High grades on the examinations were attained by Helen Katz whose grade ranked second highest in the state and Douglas Wenger whose grade ranked in the top ten.

Once again this year the Central High Student Council has been very active on the hilltop. The group, composed of sophomores, juniors and seniors, is led by President Robert Gross.

The Council commenced the year with the publishing of the Eagle Handbook, which is distributed free of charge to all pupils new to the school.

To raise school spirit the Council sells purple and white beanies and gives a pep rally.

They sponsor the Community Chest drive at Central, a career day and also help with College Night.

At Christmas time the members buy and decorate a Christmas tree for the school. This is also the season in which the Council sponsors their alumni tea.

A much loved activity sponsored annually by the Council is the senior class baby picture contest. Another annual event is the faculty breakfast at which rolls and coffee are served to the teachers and each is given a corsage or boutonniere.

Student Council has again proven itself to be a strong block in the foundation that upholds the fine reputation of Central.

A new addition to the Central High Speech department this year was the Speakers' Bureau. This group is made up of people who maintain a "two" or higher average in Speech I. It is the duty of these students to appear in each homeroom to inform the students of the coming activities. This new group is under the direction of Mrs. Doris Lewis.

Helping to build the prestige of Central High school is its chapter of the National Forensic League. This year the League received the Leading Chapter award.

Central also was presented the national citation for speech excellence. To win this award student members worked toward specific degrees of honor which were received upon the accumulation of points.

Central now boasts the largest public school chapter in the state.

The NFL was founded in 1925 for the advancement of the school and the individual in the forensic arts.

"So why doesn't the bell ring already!"

Y-Teens has been in existence at Central for over 30 years. Each year it is built and strengthened by its members. Its purpose is to establish fellowship among girls of all races, faiths and nationalities. Y-Teens is a junior member of the Y.W.C.A. and is a part of a world-wide organization.

One of the projects of the Y-Teen members during the past year has been to give their services to the various drives on the downtown streets of Omaha. They dress dolls for the Good Fellows, sew for the Needlework guild, collect old clothing and contributions for Central grade school pupils who need assistance and send old greeting cards to India.

They also help with the collection of old clothing for "Save the Children Federation."

One of the highlights of the year's activities is the joint Hi-Y and Y-Teen Lenten services at Trinity Cathedral.

General meetings are held once a month where interesting programs are planned; committee meetings are held separately.

Junior Hi-Y is a new addition to the roster of Central High school clubs. This group was formed when the freshmen and sophomores of Hi-Y separated from the upperclassmen.

They separated because it was thought that the two age groups had different ideas and interests.

The two groups hold their meetings at the Y.M.C.A. on the same nights but in separate rooms. Although the club is divided, all of the members take part in the same activities. In addition to social activities, many civic affairs are shared.

Molding its members through group activities and good citizenship is Hi-Y. This year the organization is divided into two groups, the senior and junior Hi-Y. Although these two groups are separate, they participate in most of the same activities.

The club sold Christmas trees for the Y's Men and held the annual Lenten services with Y-Teens. The members participated in a hayrack ride and planned the Hi-Y coronation ball held at Peony Park.

Hi-Y is affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Central Outdoorsmen club builds interest in and concern for the conservation of the American out-of-doors. Boys interested in hunting, fishing, boating and other outdoor sports make up this organization.

A booth with the theme "Visiting National Parks" was set up at the Sports, Travel and Boat Show at the civic auditorium as one of the projects of the year. Two campouts, one in the fall and the other in the spring, were held. Speakers, films and slides comprised the monthly meetings. A picnic and a final banquet, at which awards were presented and the new officers were introduced, were held at the end of the year.

During the year, the prospective nurses visited Methodist hospital and heard speakers on such varied topics as the practical nurses' program and the degree and diploma plan at the University of Nebraska School of Nursing. They also viewed films on the care of children and on family living. These were the bricks that, when taken all together, established a strong club throughout the year.

At Christmas, the club sponsored a party for the members. At the end of the year they held a picnic where the new officers were announced.

The club, which offers its membership to upper-class boys and girls only, was founded at Central in 1956.

Helping to unite the colorful country of France with the students of Central High school is the French club. If you speak French, you might be eligible for membership in the organization. All members either take French or have completed one year of study in this language.

A large increase of members highlighted the new year of the club. The number of members increased to 190. Because of the large membership, it was possible for a wide variety of activities to be presented at each meeting. Skits, speakers and films were featured.

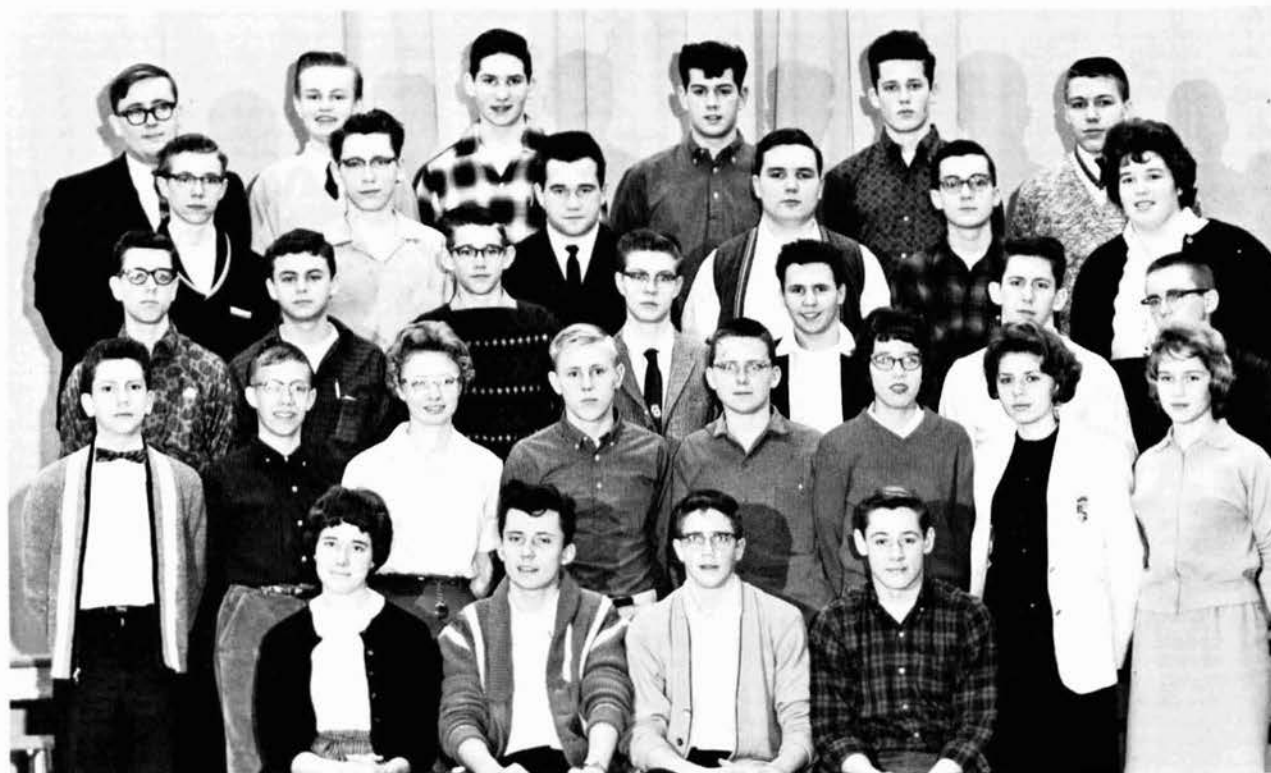

The Left Bank of Paris was the setting for this year's Mardi Gras. The west cafeteria was decorated in the Parisian style of a true Mardi Gras. Those who attended wore costumes and masks which represented various French styles.

Helping to make the French club a better organization were advisors Miss Rina Bavaresco and Miss Daryl Olson.

This is the third outstanding year for the Central High Russian club. The members have a right to feel proud of their organization because it is one of the few Russian clubs in this area.

A very interesting movie on Russian culture was shown at the December meeting. The purpose of this film was to promote enthusiasm among the members.

At the April meeting Dr. Paul Kennedy of the University of Omaha spoke to the club about his trip to Russia. Through him the Russian students had a chance to learn about Russia first hand.

The annual Russian festival was held in May to end the year.

As the Eagle gridmen took the field in the season opener on Sept. 9, it was only the beginning of the gruelling and hard-fought campaign that awaited the Purple and White. In contradiction to the final record, 3-5, the Eagles played inspired ball complimented by bruising defense. However, the Eagles, scoring punch was hindered by an inexperienced backfield and technical errors.

Bolstered by the big and experienced linemen of last season, the Eagles banked hopes on their defensive abilities.

Central began defense of their State title with a victory over Lincoln, 6-0. The following week, Central lost to South in a surprisingly high scoring contest, 27-21.

The gridgers eased some of the sting of this defeat with a victory over Abraham Lincoln, 27-13.

In the weeks that followed, the team played aggressively but just couldn't seem to salvage a victory. Tech, Prep and North managed to slip through the Eagles' defenses just enough to score once or at most twice. But the offensive attack of the Eagles slumped so severely that these meager scoring efforts were enough to propel the opponents past them.

In the finale against Westside, the Eagles finally began to move offensively; a late spurt by Westside fell short and the gridgers ended the season with a victory, 14-12.

Although the final record of the Eagles read only three wins and five losses, this was no indication of the toughness and strength of the ball club in all departments.

Probably the finest interior lineman in the state was none other than Central's big 230 pound tackle, Jim Brown. Apparently the Omaha World-Herald felt the same way because Jim was named to both the All Inter-city and the All-State Football teams of 1961. Fullback Bill Dodd and Center Tim Dempsey were also honored with recognition on the All Inter-city team.

LINCOLN

Central opened its 1961 grid campaign with a victory over Lincoln, 6-0. Central's mighty defense held the Links to meager yardage throughout the entire game. Eagle gridmen threatened once in the first half, but the Links' line held and Central gave up the ball. Fumbles hurt the squad for the first three quarters, and the Eagle eleven was unable to put over a score. Early in the fourth quarter the Links launched their first offensive attack of the game. However, alert play by big Jim Brown saved Central as he intercepted a Links' aerial and stopped the drive on the 24 yd. line of Central. The Eagles' offense caught fire and after a 34 yd. pass play from Don Buresh to Bill Ahlstrand a pitch-out to Gene Barker which advanced the ball to the six yd. line and a score-nullifying penalty, Barker scored the winning six points.

SOUTH

The Eagles just couldn't cope with the amazing ability of the South High Packers to score on long runs as Central lost a high scoring game to South, 27-21. In the first quarter South scored on a 64 yd. punt return. Central came back to even the score, seven-all, on a brilliant 61-yd. pass from Don Buresh to Henry Peters. Central struck again and Bill Dodd bulled his way over to put Central ahead with slightly over a minute to go in the half. However, Central was shocked as the Packers scored twice before the gun to go ahead, 20-14. The Eagles came storming back as Bill Dodd scored the tying touchdown and go-ahead point. Central maintained control of the ball for most of the fourth period. But South struck like lightning with 3:16 to go in the game as speedster Larry Taylor scored on a 74 yd. run.

The Eagles got back into winning ways against Abraham Lincoln by whipping the Lynx, 27-13. Central was on the short end of a 13-7 score at the half due to many Eagle fumbles. But following the intermission, the Eagles' offensive attack shifted into high gear as Richard Combs scored on a 4 yd. carry with 1:35 gone in the quarter, and five minutes later Terry Williams scamped 45 yds. for a touchdown. Don Buresh scored the final time for the Eagles on a quarterback sneak which iced the game, 27-13. Terry Williams was the offensive stand-out of the contest as he combined brute force with blistering speed. Carrying the pigskin only eight times, Williams compiled 123 yds. rushing. However, Williams wasn't the whole show as other members of the grid-team sparked the Eagle victory.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Central gridders lost a tough game to the Tech High Trojans, 13-0. Discouraging fumbles at key moments haunted the Eagle 11 as they went down in defeat. Central's punishing defense silenced the Trojan speed merchants the first half, but the Eagles' offense couldn't push over a touchdown as a Central back fumbled inside Tech's five yard line. The first half ended scoreless. The Eagles were off like a shot after intermission as they marched 72 yds. downfield deep into Tech territory. Then tragedy struck as Bill Dodd fumbled in the end zone on a questionable play. Following this letdown, the Trojans scored both touchdowns, the first coming on an 84 yd. jaunt by Fred Farthing. This evidently broke the backs of the Eagles as they were unable to move the ball for the remainder of the game.

TECH

PREP

To practically everyone watching the Prep-Central game, it seemed that it was almost a repeat performance of last year's stalemate. Unfortunately, the Eagles went down in defeat, 10-0. The line play by both defenses was tremendous as they held both offensive units in check. Central received the kickoff and on the third play from scrimmage, Bill Dodd fumbled and Prep recovered on the 33 yd. line of Central. However, the Prepsters' threat was deadened as they fumbled on the 12 yd. line of Central. Early in the second quarter Prep moved close enough to the Central goal to attempt a field goal which they converted. The score remained 3-0 until late in the fourth quarter when, with only two seconds remaining on the scoreboard clock, the Prep quarterback scored a touchdown.

BENSON

Injuries were the major factor in a 26-0 loss at the hands of the Benson Bunnies, Oct. 13. A tremendous display of passing by Benson doomed the hopes of the Eagle rooters for a victory. Benson scored three times in the first half to build a 20-0 lead. The Eagle defensive eleven stiffened in the second half as they allowed one touchdown, but the offense could not mount a sustained drive. Dick Comb's outstanding running and Gene Braker's linebacking were certainly high points of the game. Central's chances were dimmed by the loss of four starting players. The loss left the Eagles with a 2-4 Inter-city mark. The team displayed traces of good football, but the loss of key players proved too much of a disadvantage.

North, ranked second in the state, needed a fourth quarter touchdown to gain a 7-6 victory over the Purple and White Oct. 25. The Eagles, an inspired ball club, outplayed the Vikings for three quarters, but a fourth quarter error cost the gridmen the victory. The first half ended in a scoreless deadlock. A carefully planned defense held the Vikings to 20 yds. in the first half. A recovered fumble in the fourth quarter gave the Eagle 11 a scoring opportunity. Bill Dodd smashed five yds. to the North 10 yd. line. Barker added two yds., and then Wade skirted end to the four yd. line. Dodd's plunge for the score gave the Eagles a 6-0 lead. Victory was snatched from the Eagles when a fumble on a punt was recovered by the Vikings. After recovering the fumble, North scored 7 points to ice the victory.

NORTH

WESTSIDE

The unlucky gridmen ended their season and a four game losing string with a 14-12 victory over Westside, Nov. 3. Dick Combs brought Eagle rooters to their feet with an electrifying 88 yd. smash off tackle in the first quarter. The successful conversion gave the Eagles a 7-0 lead. Both teams failed to score before the half time intermission. Midway in the third period Don Buresh's passing ignited another score. A pass to Bill

Dodd ate up 17 yds. and the Purple and White had a seemingly safe 14-0 lead. Westside pushed over a score in the early moments of the fourth quarter. Westside scored again after recovering a fumble and came within two points of the Eagles. The Warriors made a desperate attempt for a victory when they tried an on-side kick and recovered the football. The Eagles hung on to end their season on a winning note.

Swimming

For the second straight year Central's swimmers compiled a most admirable record. In fact, it was almost a carbon copy of last year's record. Again the aquanauts finished with a 6-2 dual meet record, and again they finished second in the State meet behind Lincoln Southeast.

Over the season the team rolled over Intercity foes sometimes using second-stringers to whip the opposition. The highlights of the season were a shocking win over highly-rated Benson and a fine performance in the State meet. The big disappointment was a loss to Creighton Prep due to a disqualification in the final relay.

During the entire season Central had some tremendous performances and proved to have consistent swimmers in all events.

Central's top performers were sophomore Ken Glasser (100-yd. breast stroke and 400-yd. free) and John Coolidge (100-yd. butterfly), who both qualified for the AAU Nationals; Dave Linberg, 200-yd. free; Ben Hulbert, 50-yd. free; Claude Jelen, back stroke and Don Goldstein, 200-yd. individual medley.

Central will lose only four seniors this year so the future looks bright for the under-water magicians. However, they will have to compensate for the loss of Captain John Coolidge, Ben Hulbert, Buddy Epstein and Thom Van Boskirk.

Wrestling

Bob Deitrich

Central's wrestling team looked forward to another winning season during the 1961-1962 campaign.

At the outset of the new season Eagle grapplers were a bit rusty as they came in fourth in invitational quadrangulars. Later in the season they were hurt mainly by the fact that they didn't meet the required weights and thus had to settle with forfeits in the divisions.

The Eagles hit their peak during the District tourney when they placed third. The matmen were shocked, however, in the State meet as such grapplers as Jim Brown and Bob Deitrich were surprised in their respective divisions.

Throughout the season the Eagles were headed by such formidable wrestlers as Brown, heavy-weight; Terry Butkus, 180; Deitrich, 138; Les Hunter, 133; Don Showell, 127; Tom Ostronic, 95 and Tom Maides, 165.

The Hoop Season

With only one returning starter from the 1961 basketball squad, Coach Warren Marquiss fashioned a team which gave the opposition stiff competition in every contest.

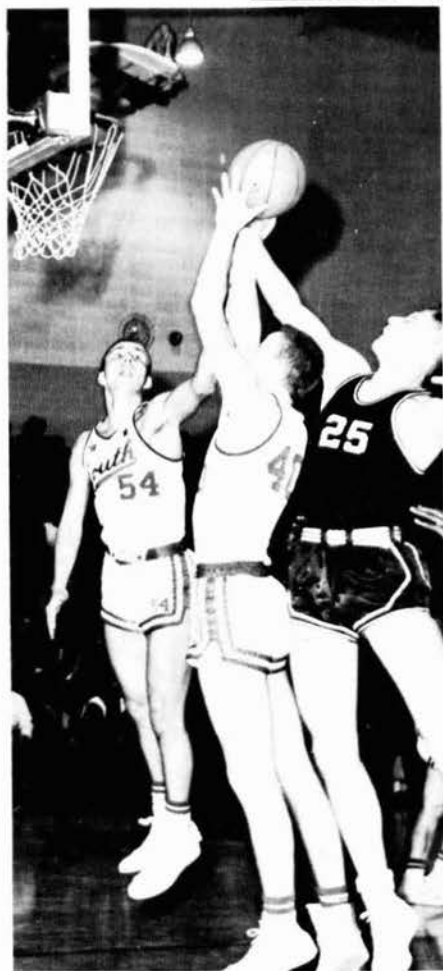

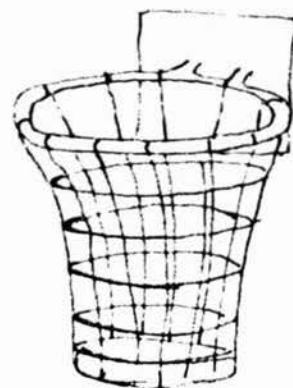

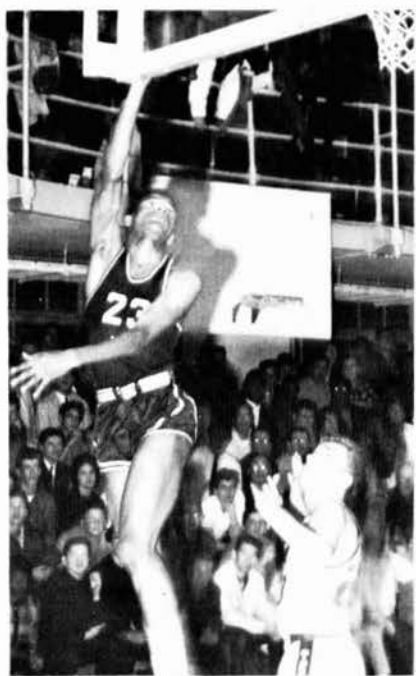

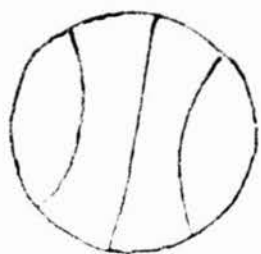

High points of the season were the upset win over Benson and the ranking as number one team in the state of Nebraska.

The Eagles at the beginning of the year were rated a poor seventh in the pre-season forecast for Inter-city standing. The men wearing the purple laughed at the forecasters as they led the Inter-city and State races for more than a month.

Butch Cribbs and David Hartfield led the team in most statistical departments. Cribbs tallied 233 points for a per game average of 14. Hartfield split the nets for 231 points and a 14 point average.

Central's hopes for State were dashed when they lost to Benson 59-49 at the District meet.

NORTH

During the 61-62 season Central met and defeated the North High Vikings twice.

In the first contest of the year the Eagles needed a torrid fourth quarter to overcome the Vikes, 61-54. In that final quarter Central outscored its opponents, 23-12. The first period was played rather cautiously but in the second quarter the Eagles opened up only to see a large lead fade by half-time to two points.

The Vikings went so far as to take the lead in the third period shortly before the Eagle comeback.

In Central's second meeting with North a similar situation prevailed. The Eagles trailed as the slow first quarter came to a close. Then Central came back shortly before the half to edge ahead, 21-19. With balanced scoring Central coasted the remainder of the distance as they finished with a 48-41 victory.

TECH

Central met the Tech High Trojans twice and were defeated in both outings.

In its first meeting an underdog Central squad took on the highly-touted Trojans and fell, 53-48. Tech was outshot from the floor by the hot Eagles but survived as a result of Central fouling.

The Purple and White had to battle all the way as they came from behind more than once to tie or go ahead of the Techsters.

In the second clash, Central ripped Tech defenses as they stormed to a 17-7 first quarter lead. With Tech's big guns silenced, Central continued to hold the lead at the close of the half, 30-21.

In the second half, however, Fred Hare opened up and Tech pressed the Eagles, 39-38 at the end of the third period. The lead see-sawed back and forth until the game ended with Tech on top, 60-58.

The Eagles met the Benson Bunnies three times during the 1961-62 basketball season. Central won one game and dropped the other two, one by a large margin and one by a close score.

On Dec. 9, the team pulled a major upset by defeating the Bunnies 70-60. Benson led 34-32 at the half and 50-47 at the end of the third quarter. A fourth quarter comeback led by Dave Hartfield pulled out the victory.

On Jan. 26, the Bunnies routed the Eagles before a turn-away crowd at Monroe Junior high. Out-played both defensively and offensively, the Eagles went down, 73-34.

The third Central-Benson clash occurred in the district playoffs. Central again lost, 59-49. A total of 34 fouls doomed the Eagles. Four out of the five Central starters ended the game on the bench.

BENSON

Lincoln Southeast and Council Bluffs Thomas Jefferson, both non-league rivals, were only two of a long line of Eagle victims.

Central rolled over Southeast using its usual tactics of victory, the fast break and the tight defense that brought top state rankings to the Eagle cagers.

The high-flying basketballers continued to harrass the Knights as they kept on widening their margin until they had as much as a 36-14 lead by half-time. From then on the Eagles coasted to victory, 65-38.

After losing to Abraham Lincoln, Central took out its revenge on another Council Bluffs opponent, Thomas Jefferson. Oddly enough, T.J. was rated much higher than A.L. but proved to be no match for the Eagles. Controlling the boards against the taller Yellowjackets, Central relied on the fastbreak to defeat its rival, 68-59.

PREP

In the Eagles' first encounter with the South High Packers, the Eagles built up an unbelievable lead of 19 points. Central held on to win their second game of the year, 63-58. Their second meeting was a nightmare for Centralites as Central fell to the Packers, 53-52. The defeat was the fourth in a row for the roundballers against Inter-city competition. Failure to control the boards was the main reason for the loss.

Central's offense was at its peak when they faced the Westside Warriors. Eagle sharpshooters clicked for 90 points against the Warriors' 37. The cagers controlled the boards against the taller opposition and also ran the slower Warriors into the ground. Central broke a four-game losing streak as they defeated Lincoln High, 70-58. The Eagles used their height advantage and controlled the boards in the victory.

Central met Abraham Lincoln twice, beating them quite handily the first time and being upset by the unpredictable Lynx the second. In the first contest, the Eagles walloped A.L. 74-71. Central fast-broke the Lynx to death while controlling the boards against the bigger opposition. In the second game, however, A.L. controlled the rebounds and stymied the Eagles' fast-break as they went on to win, 55-54, in a hotly disputed contest.

Prep was another rival that lost decisively in the first encounter and then came back to salvage a victory over the Eagles. In the first contest Central ran away from the Bluejays as they compiled 48 points to Prep's 34. A tremendous defensive game in the second half was the high point of the contest. In the second meeting, bad first and fourth quarters doomed the Eagles as Prep went on to upset Central, 66-60.

Coach Warren Marquiss's 1962 golf team showed the promise of compiling a fine record.

Although the squad had only four returning lettermen, they were heavily endowed with new talent. Those returning were Mike McKeown, Ron Macloskey, Marsh Bull and Peter Miller. The newcomers included James Kelley, Mike Sherman and two freshmen, Tom Pratt and Harley Shrager.

Early season victories included wins over Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln and second-rated Omaha North.

Tennis Team

Coach Esmond Crown looked for an improvement in the 1962 tennis picture.

However, the load rested heavily on the shoulders of the three returning lettermen, John Zysman, Dick Zevitz and Jim Van Houten.

Other members of the tennis team who aided the effort are Jeff Mayper, Howard Mulnick, Stuart Sloan and Jack Steinman.

Varsity Baseball

Coach Jim Karabotsos molded a 1962 baseball team out of young but talented ball players.

With only one returning senior letterman, right-fielder Don Buresh, the remainder of the starting nine was composed of under classmen.

With juniors Tony Bradford at second, Daryl Hill at first, Tim Schmad at short and sophomore Arnie Weitz at third, the infield was defensively strong.

John Henry, a snappy junior right-hander, carried the pitching load with assistance from Erwin Rehder, a freshman hurler. Steve Regelean, another junior, handled the receiving end.

The outfield was probably one of the finest defensively in the city. With Buresh in right, John McPhail in center and Joe Beninato in left, the team had three exceptional fielders with great defensive abilities.

Although this was a building season, the team proved tough at the end of the year.

Track

Central's crack track team began its defense of city and state class A championships with a victory at the Omaha university Indoor Track meet.

Led by Terry Williams, the senior speedster, Central showed sensational speed and fire in defeating Omaha Tech in the battle for first in the meet. Williams, the fastest runner to come to Central since Roger Sayers, won the 60-yd. dash in the record-tying time of :06.3.

Central's real threat was in its fine relay teams, the broad jump, the weights and the short sprints.

Besides Williams, Eagle hopes were banked heavily on Melvin Wade, in the middle distances and a relay; Jim Brown, the weights; Joe Johnson, the 880 and Dick Combs, the sprints and relays.

Coach Frank Smagacz, with 12 returning lettermen and a host of new talent, had a lot to work with in building another winning Central track team.

Highlights of O-Club vs. Faculty game.

The Central High O-Club, founded in 1920 by Frank Knapple, was one of the big promoters of school spirit at Central during the 1961-62 year.

Under the leadership of Sponsor Esmond Crown and Presidents John Coolidge and Jim Brown, the O-Club had another prosperous and worthwhile athletic year.

The traditional basketball game between male faculty members and the O-Club was held for the second straight year to the enjoyment of all who attended.

The game, played before a crowd of 800 found the teachers on the long end of a 44-38 score. With the funds collected at the game, the lettermen bought much-needed gym equipment for the school.

The O-Club and the Girls' Athletic Association joined forces to present the O-Ball at Peony Park in late spring.

The evening was climaxed by the crowning of the King and Queen of Sports after the presentation of outstanding athlete trophies.

All feminine sports enthusiasts are eligible for membership in the Girl's Athletic Association. Girls may earn awards for participating in after school sports such as badminton, volleyball, bowling, basketball and softball. Besides gaining credit for these sports, the girls must keep a set of training rules for 16 weeks.

When a girl completes her activity units, she receives an award. A GAA emblem is given as the first award; a "C" for the second award; an "O" for the third award and a star for the fourth award.

Every senior GAA member looks forward to the annual O-Ball. At this spring dance, given in connection with the O-Club, a King and Queen of Sports are crowned.

The Reserve Officers' Training corps is a regiment of cadets being trained in leadership, military discipline and respect for authority. It was first organized in 1893 as a battalion of four companies under the instruction of an officer from Fort Crook. Later he was assisted by both commissioned and non-commissioned officers.

Lately the ROTC department has been reorganized into a battle group consisting of eight companies and one Band company. The head of the battle group is a colonel who is chosen from the ranks of the cadets. This colonel is named at the annual Military Ball.

Cadet Colonel Marshall Kaplan and Honorary Colonel Sandra Munger.

Continuing the system initiated last year, one ROTC cadet colonel from the city high schools was selected ROTC Cadet Corps Commander.

At the regiment's Military Ball on Feb. 23, Marshall Kaplan was named Cadet Colonel of the Central Battle group. Sandra Munger was selected from eight other candidates to serve as Honorary Colonel. She was chosen by a vote of the Commissioned Officers' club.

Among the dignitaries attending this year's ball were Gov. Frank Morrison and Constance Cowdery, queen of Ak-Sar-Ben.

The King's Hussars, commanded by Cadet Marshall Kaplan, were attired in dashing red and green uniforms. The Queen's Hussars, under the leadership of Cadet LeRoy Dyer, were clad in their traditional white outfits.

Each year, 16 senior cadets are chosen by elimination to perform at the Coronation. They are selected mainly on the basis of marching precision and uniformity of height. Two junior cadets are also chosen to serve as alternates.

Last fall a precision drill team of cadets was chosen. Selected on the basis of their ability to execute the Crack Squad manual of arms, the members of the squad practiced for many months in perfecting their intricate formations and movements.

Under the Co-commandership of Cadet Lieutenant Colonels John Mullens and Jerry Belmont, the Crack Squad performed for many school functions. The squad appeared in the Road Show and at the Military Ball. Also, the Crack Squad gave a performance at the half of a Central basketball game.

J. ARTHUR NELSON

The huge project of molding the students of Central High for the future rests in the able hands of Principal J. Arthur Nelson. His avid interest and ready support in school affairs and plans for the future bind him closely to each student.

Mr. Nelson received his Bachelor's Degree from Midland college and his Master's Degree from the University of Nebraska. He did graduate work at the University of Iowa and was a John Hay Fellow at Williams college. After serving as principal of Monroe school and as assistant principal at North High, he became Central's chief administrator 16 years ago.

Through Mr. Nelson's diligence in planning a fine curriculum and a program of steady progress for his students, Central High is able to maintain its rank as an excellent institution of learning.

JOHN E. ARONSON

Successfully aiding Mr. Nelson in directing Central High students to become well-rounded men and women is John E. Aronson. Now completing his second year at Central, he has proven himself to be an invaluable assistant to Mr. Nelson.

One of Mr. Aronson's duties is directing the extensive sporting program. As well as carrying out this and his other duties, Mr. Aronson is always happy to discuss a problem with a member of the student body.

Mr. Aronson received both his Bachelor's Degree and Master's Degree from the University of Nebraska. He was the assistant principal of Benson High school for ten years. Prior to that he was principal in Wahoo and Albion.

Serving well in all his tasks as assistant principal at Central, Mr. Aronson helps to build the character of the students.

Central encourages strength through knowledge. Seventy-four faculty members devote time and effort educating each student to become creative in his own field and to become a leader some day.

The Central High faculty builds up the student as much as workmen build up a wall, not with nails and tools but beginning at the bottom with devotion and inspiration. The faculty inspires the student and develops leadership qualities and co-operation in each.

The students of Central High are proud of their faculty. They realize and appreciate all that is entailed in the knowledge they are able to attain. Central—the finest education available by the finest faculty.

Senior Counselors

For the ninth straight year, Miss Cecil McCarter served as senior sponsor, coordinating the many senior activities. Seniors signed up for committees during the week before Christmas vacation. Their purpose was to arrange and supervise senior events leading to the commencement ceremony on June 9.

The Spring Play committee supervised ticket sales for the annual spring play. The Dance, Banquet Program, Banquet Arrangements and Banquet Table committees combined their efforts toward making the evening of the dance and banquet an unforgettable one. The Cap and Gown committee measured every senior accurately. The Commencement committee gave the seniors a memorable graduation ceremony.

These seven committees were led by able chairmen, many of whom were finalists in the senior class elections. Joseph Schik and Phyllis Shapiro took over the Spring Play committee. The Dance, Banquet Program, Banquet Arrangements and Banquet Table committees were run by Roger Russell and LeRoy Dyer, Maureen Borden and Bob Zaiman, Vicki Jenanyan and Gayle Render and Chris Perrin and Claudia Gere. Tom Boeder, James Brown and Sheldon Krizelman were chairmen of the Commencement committee and Buddy Epstein and Don Buresh manned the Cap and Gown committee.

All members worked hard to make the climax of their four years at Central exciting.
