Public schools in Omaha began in 1855 when the territorial legislature provided for a system of free public schools.

In March of 1859, Howard Kennedy was appointed superintendent of education by the Omaha Board of School Directors. Kennedy was to organize the Omaha Public School system.

In November of 1859, Kennedy opened his school for all grades in the old State House at Ninth and Farnam Streets.

At this time, Omaha was a small prairie town with a population of 4,000.

Howard Kennedy, after teaching a year, was replaced by John Kellom. Kellom taught Kennedy's classes from 1860-61.

After the depression following the panic of 1857, the city was unable to support the public schools, and with the outbreak of the Civil War, public schools had to close.

Samuel D. Beals opened his own private school in the old State House in April of 1861. His school became quite popular and was moved to several locations throughout Omaha because of overcrowding. Beals closed his schools in 1867.

In April of 1869, Beals was appointed State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Beals required teacher examinations to improve the education quality of the state. He also helped raise the number of public schools from 74 to 301.

The year 1976 not only signifies our nation's two-hundredth year as a free country, it also signifies the one-hundredth year since the first graduating class of Omaha High School, the original Central High.

The "O-Book" has attempted to present an accurate historical account of the changes that have taken place and traditions that continue at Central High. Through each section, brief historical facts have been mentioned along with the information concerning each group or activity.

The cover on this book is also a tribute to the past. It is a replica of the "O-Book" cover of 1921.

The "O-Book" staff wishes to emphasize the fact that the innovative and excellent academic standards of Central High School have been unsurpassed in its one-hundred year history.

In July of 1874, Beals was elected superintendent of the Omaha schools. Beals accomplished the task of grading the public schools from primary through high school levels. Beals became a teacher at Omaha's High School from 1880 to 1900.

The search for a permanent site for the high school was headed by S.D. Beals and later by John Kellom. The problem was solved when, in 1869, the Legislature donated the old Capitol building at Twenty-first and Capitol to Omaha with the condition that it be used for high school purposes. The Legislature also appointed a Board of High School Regents. The Legislature had given the Regents $25,000 to repair the old Capitol building. The building, however, was declared unsafe and was torn down in 1870.

At a cost of $225,000, work on the new high school building began in the fall of 1870. The red brick building stood on a ten-acre campus, and when completed it was a source of pride to Omaha residents.

The school faced east and consisted of a main building with north and south wings. It had four stories and a basement. There were fifteen school rooms and four recitation rooms. The spire rose one-hundred fifty feet above the ground.

Changing times...

By 1897, the problem of overcrowding became very serious. Inadequate ventilation was a threat to the health of teachers and students alike. In the school board's annual report for 1897-98, the President of the Board wrote in favor of building a larger building on the same site. Although there was some opposition, the construction of a larger building began in 1900.

The cornerstone of Central's present building was laid on November 16, 1900. The east wing of the building was completed in 1901. The construction continued, encircling the old high school building. Classes were held in both buildings until all but the north wing of the new building was completed. Then, the old high school was dismantled and removed. The north side was completed in November, 1912. The total cost of the new school was $750,000.

Through the efforts of principal Kate McHugh, the heating and ventilating plant was removed from the space in the center of the building. The ground left vacant was converted into the courtyard.

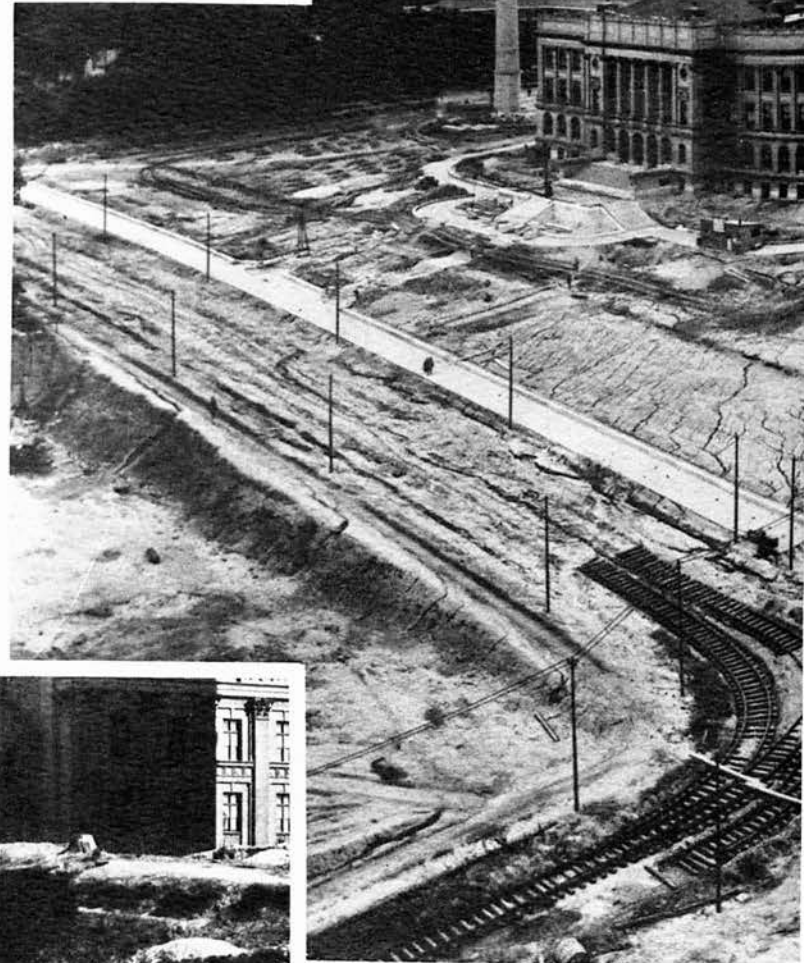

The photos on these pages show the transformation of old Central to new Central.

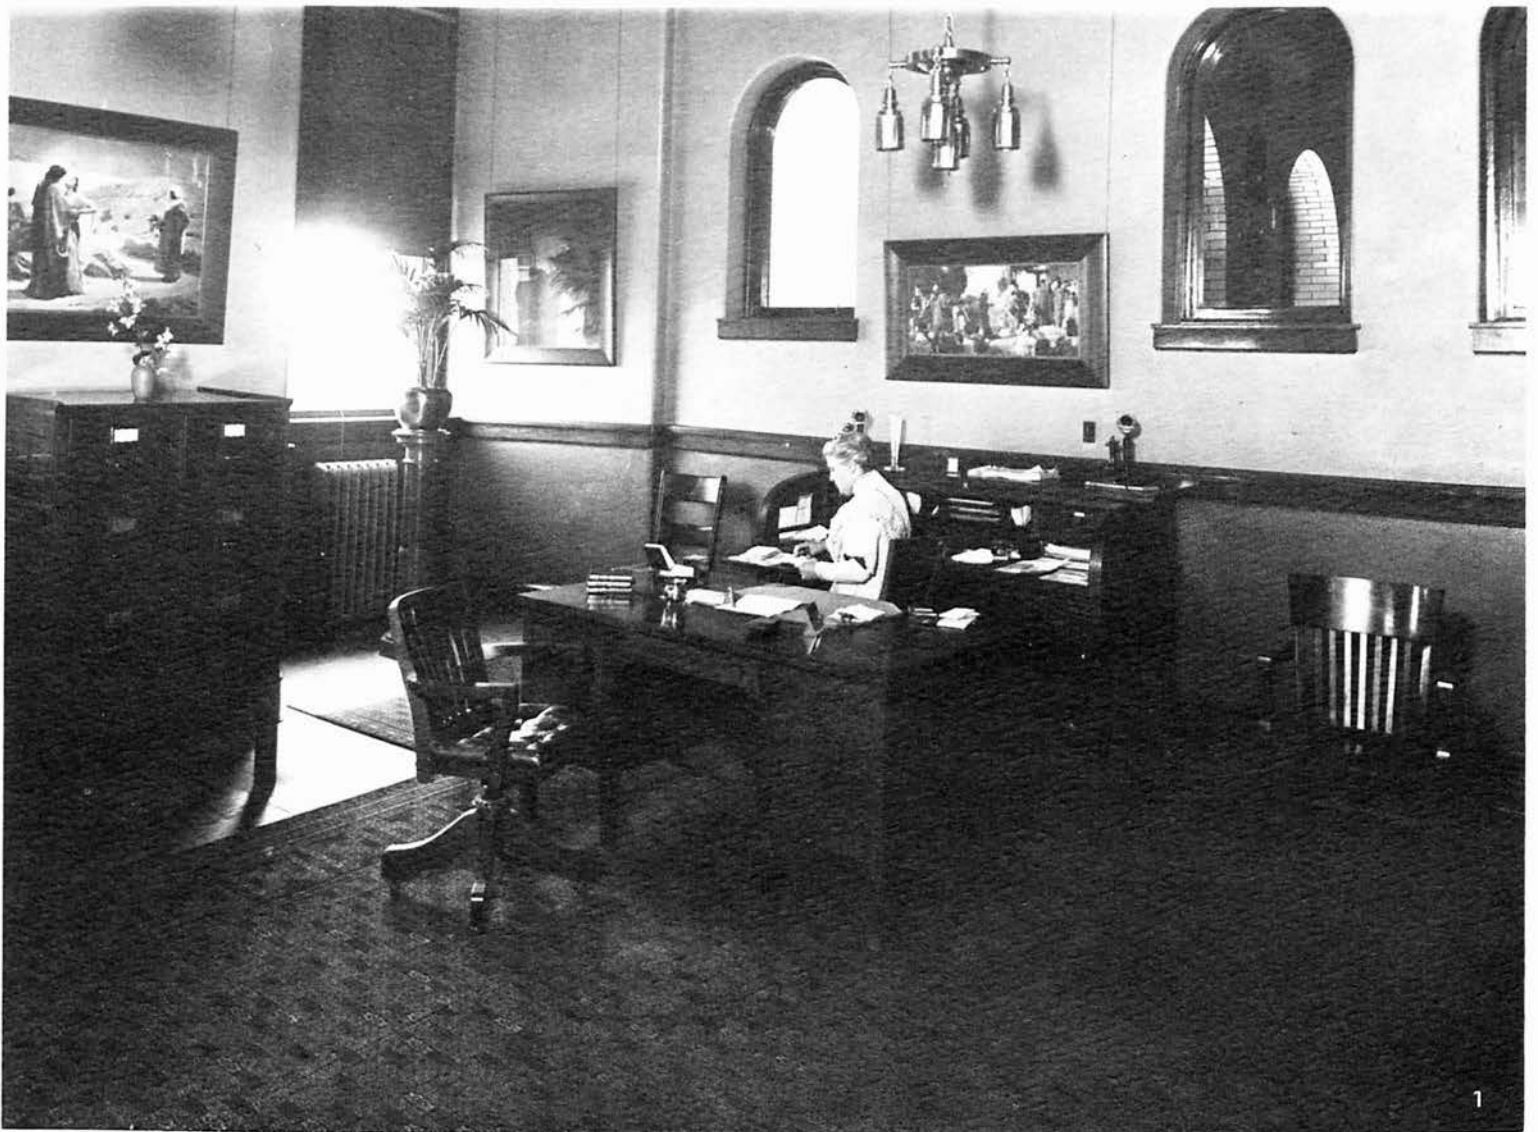

More changes

The year 1920 saw a change of scene for Central. As a result of the petitions of motorists, the grade of Dodge Street was lowered from twelve per cent to seven per cent. Traffic was banned in the once busy area for more than a year while work was in progress. This construction left Central on a cliff with a sheer twenty foot drop. New terraces and flights of stairs restored the grounds to their present condition.

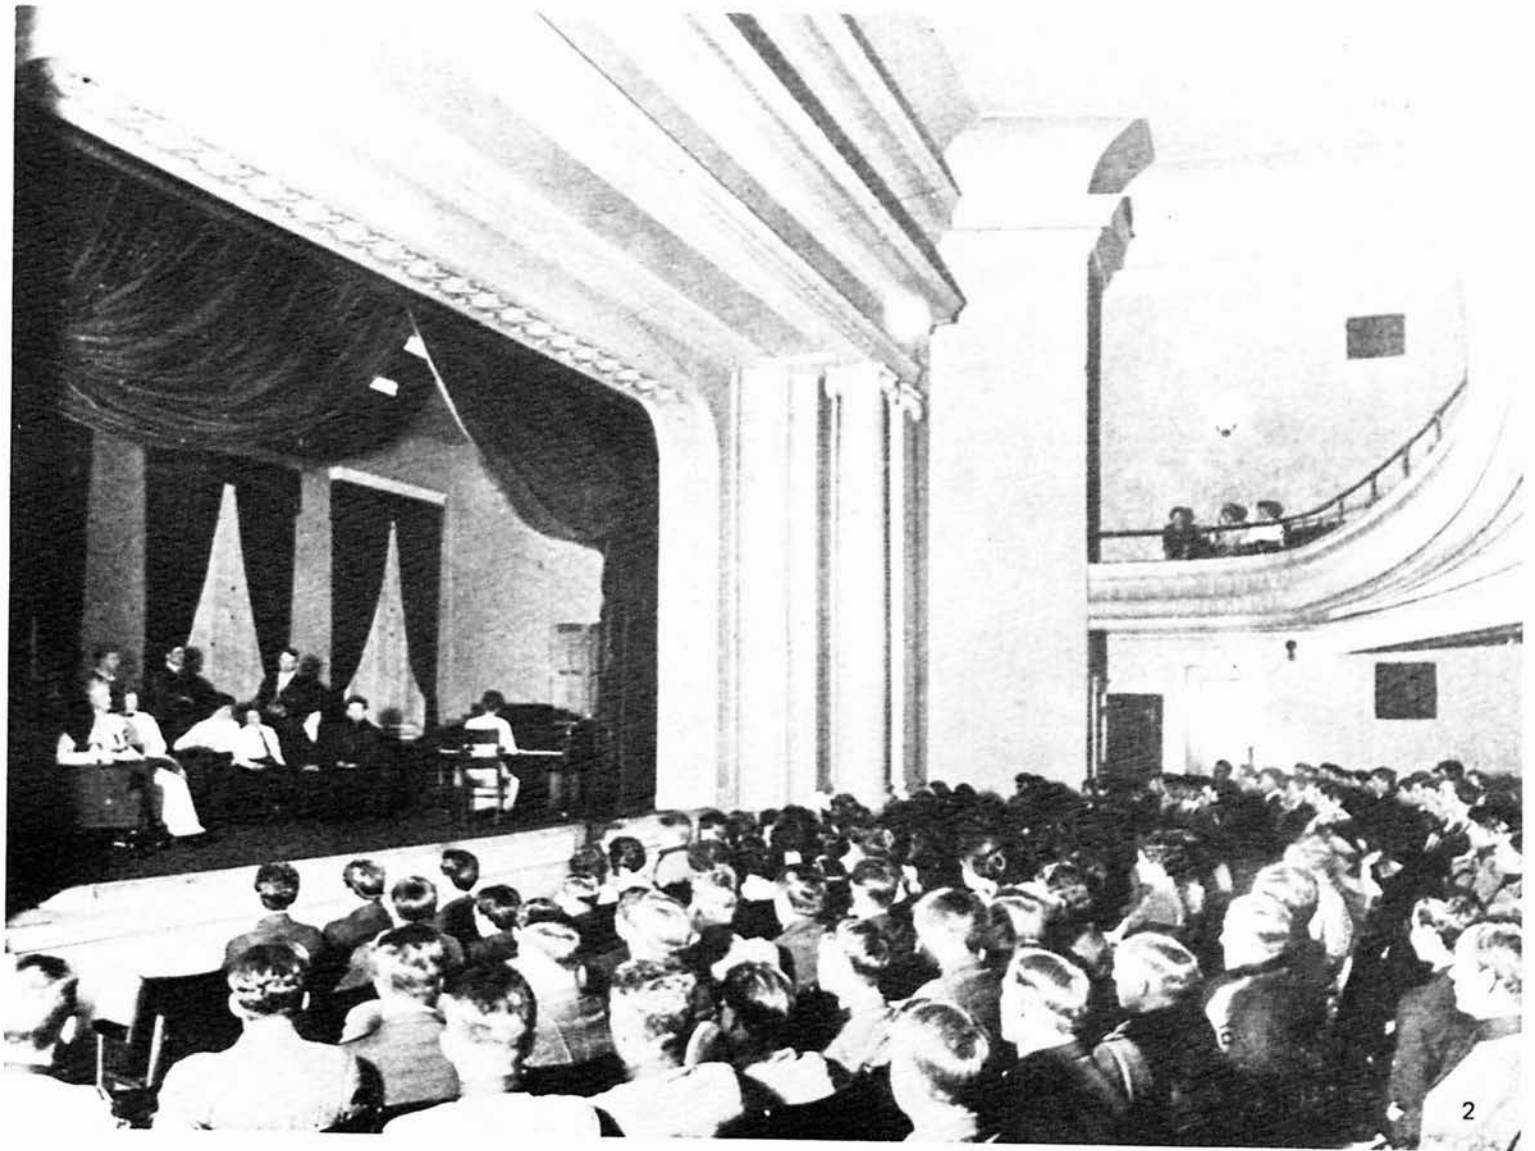

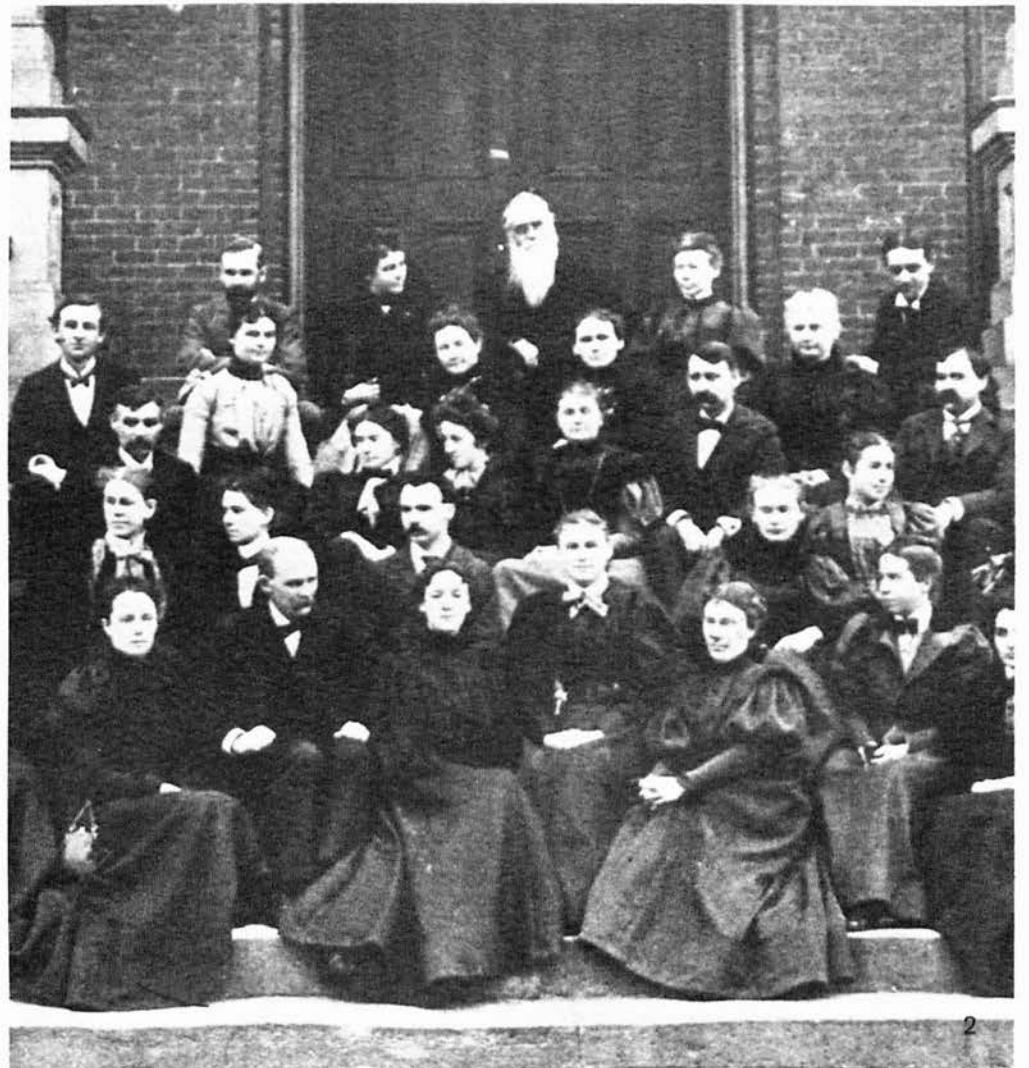

Central High School has changed in many ways through its one hundred years. The people inside the school have changed also. The photos on these pages present a glimpse of what constituted the Central of yesterday.

It's nice to be nice when you're naturally nice.

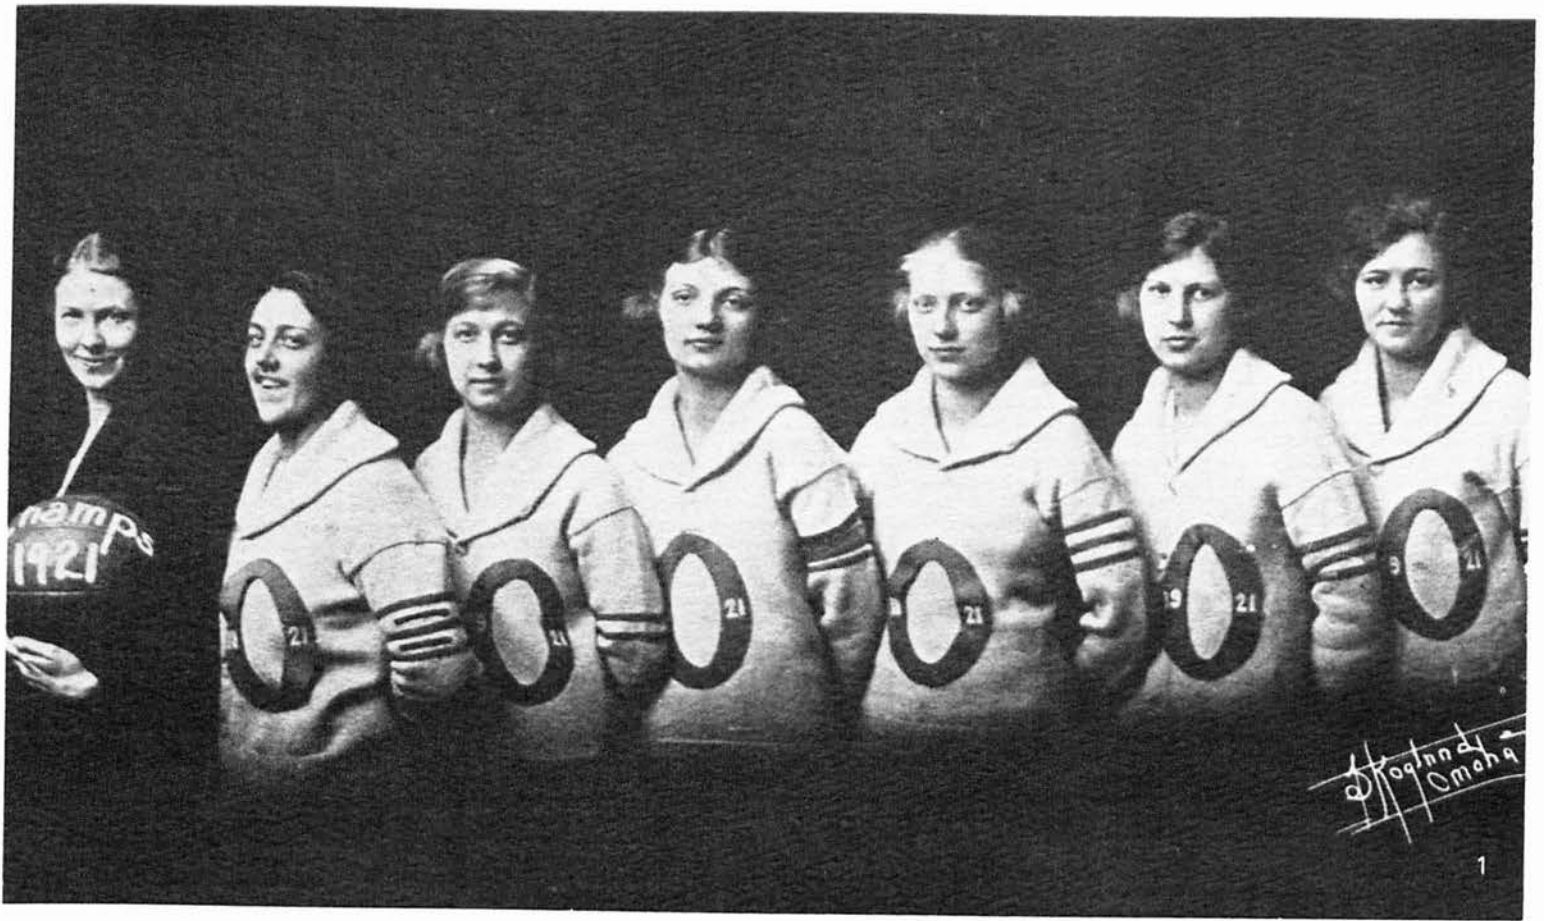

The first graduating class, in 1876, had only eleven members. The nine girls were the only graduates present for the graduation photo. They were nicknamed "the nine muses."

Also in 1876, on July 4, electrical engineers rigged lights up in the high school tower. This arrangement gave Omaha its first demonstration of electric lights.

Important visitors were inevitably given a tour of the high school. These visitors included Presidents Grant, Hayes, and Harrison.

High school in 1876 was not all studying. A graduate of the 1876 class recalls the boys in the high school. "They used to slide down the steep, curving bannisters, four flights at once! The boys contrived a dummy figure of a man. Attached to a rope, this was dropped down the opening of the staircase. How we girls shrieked as it hurtled past and fell with a sickening thud on the floor below!"

Scholars receive Merits

The first National Honor Society was established at Central in 1921 by former principal Joseph G. Masters. It was a plan to honor those graduating seniors who have made outstanding scholastic records during their years at Central.

Today the honor society still recognizes outstanding seniors. There are 10 semifinalists for the National Merit Scholarships and 4 for the National Achievement Scholarships for Outstanding Negro students.

Boys and girls state representatives are elected to attend a state convention in which their knowledge of our government is enhanced. There were 4 representatives from Central and 4 alternates.

1. National Achievement Scholars: FIRST ROW: V. Morrow, D. Miller. SECOND ROW: H. Brown, B. Williamson. 2. National Merit Scholars: FIRST ROW: B. Hoberman, J. Davies. SECOND ROW: S. Swanson, B. 62nd year for Assembly

The Student Assembly originated in 1914. It was first recognized as the "Student Council," and was created for the purpose of "supplying a means of interchanging ideas between principal and faculty on one hand, student body on the other."

The Council of 1914 consisted of twenty-two members, including the midterm graduating class. They were elected by the student body, and the meetings were held in the library.

In comparison, the Assembly of 1976 consists of a total of thirty-six members including second semester entrants, and a faculty adviser, Mr. Steven Nelson. They too, are elected by the student body. However, they are allotted a special Student Assembly room for their meetings.

Spring Play actors stage two comedies

The Spring Play(s) consisted of two separate one-act comedies. "The Chairs" and "The Bald Soprano" were two comical nightmares written by Eugene Ionesco and brought to life on stage by the Central High School Drama Department.

The primary purpose of the plays was to propose questions to the audience, enabling them to recognize themselves in the hilarious, but painful roles of the actors. Students, teachers, and parents alike left the auditorium not laughing at the actors playing the absurd roles on stage, but rather at themselves.

A Cappella Choir adds 'note' of tradition

An attempt at organizing the first Glee Club was made in 1903 by the Organization of the Orpheus Club. In 1912 it was considered the most successful Glee Club of the time, and in 1915 it was favorably compared with many colleges.

The club met second period every day in one of two gymnasiums. The boys received a half credit per semester.

The Glee Club continued to flourish and in September of 1914 the first Girls' Glee was organized. Their first debut was made on December 17th, where they "made a favorable impression by their dainty interpretation of popular and classic selections."

Today our "glee club", A Cappella, continues to hold its importance and tradition by being one of the finest high school choral groups in the city.

Central High Singers bring harmony to Eagles

The Central High Singers, under the direction of Mr. Robert McMeen, is a select group that meets eighth period every day.

The singers perform different styles of music at community concerts. They also participate in Road Show, the Central's Spring Swing Thing, and A Cappella.

THE REGIMENT

REGIMENT

The origin of Central's present day military can be traced back more than eighty years ago to the year 1892. It was recognized as the largest and the most popular activity of Omaha High School.

At one time, it was a requirement of every male student of the school to become an active member of the Regiment. The men were divided into two major divisions: Battalions or Companies. The two divisions were then subdivided again. The men belonged to the 1st, 2nd, 3rd Battalion, etc., or Company A, B, C, etc. Each group had its own cadet commanders and its own unique drill procedures.

During the military's long existence at Central High, its name has been altered many times. It has been called the Cadet Regiment, the Military, and is presently referred to as the ROTC (Reserve Officers' Training Corps).

Today, Central's ROTC is strictly a volunteer program. One of the major changes within the last few years is the addition of women. Any girl is allowed admission to the military.

The school's military has changed tremendously through the course of years in name, size, and sex, but it certainly has yet to change in importance.

Each afternoon of the week, you can see the male and female Precision Drill Team practicing in the halls. Practice makes perfect, and perfect they do seem as they parade their way through the halls, marching, displaying their precision.

Central High also has a rifle team. The members, with skill and precision, are able to hit their targets with great consistency.

A department of Ordnance is allotted the Regiment to take careful inventory of the rifles and other weapons.

Eagles have a grand and festive Homecoming

Homecoming has become one of Central's many traditions since it began in 1962. The climax of Homecoming is a dance where the King and Queen are selected.

This year's King and Queen were Lawrence Wilson and Joan Labenz. The 13 contestants were seniors selected from various sports and pep squads. They were voted by their classmates from previous balloting, and a King and Queen were crowned at the dance.

1. Who me? 2. Elaine Flaxbeard, John Krolikowsky, Joan Labenz, Keith Shafer, Terri Scarpello, Lawrence Wilson, Toni Midder, Chris Sorenson, and Steve Jones. 3. "Anybody got a tissue?" 4. Debate Team flourishes

Although the Central High Debate Team has been an essential part of the school's academic record since the early 1900's, it seems that many of the students disregard their importance.

The team has changed totally since it was first organized. When it began, its purpose was to mold young boys into men with the ability to speak with ease and to communicate with and persuade their opponents. Though their purpose is still upheld, the class itself has changed. It was not until 1921 that the first girls were added to the team. Today, more than half the team is composed of female orators.

Central has maintained an excellent debate team to this day. They are a member of the National Forensic League (NFL). The students debate in district and state tournaments, and they sometimes travel out of town for weekend tournaments.

1. "And I can draw a horse too." 2. "Our new topic for debate is, 'Why Central High students should have recess.'" 3. FIRST ROW: K. Math Team faces tournaments again

The Central High School Math Team was first organized some fifteen years ago. It was similar to a club, in the fact that it was coached before school.

Today the team meets under a regular classroom period and represents Central at the various city math events.

With the guidance of Mathematics Department Head, Miss V. L. Pratt the team has undergone another year of tournaments with sharpened minds and sharpened pencils.

'Apple Tree' brings laughter to audience

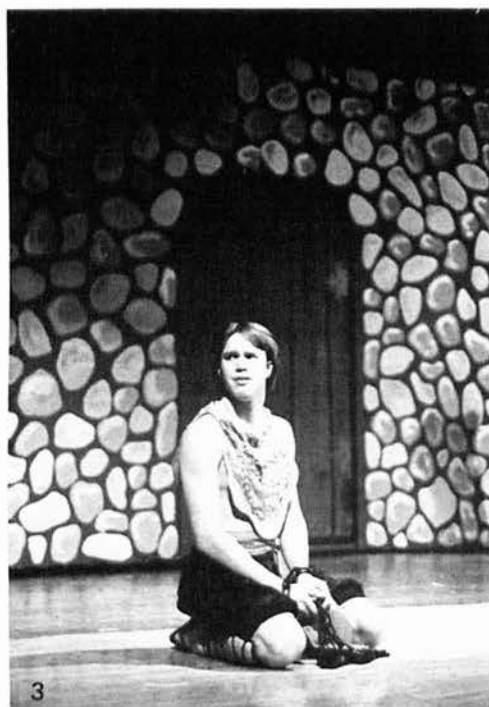

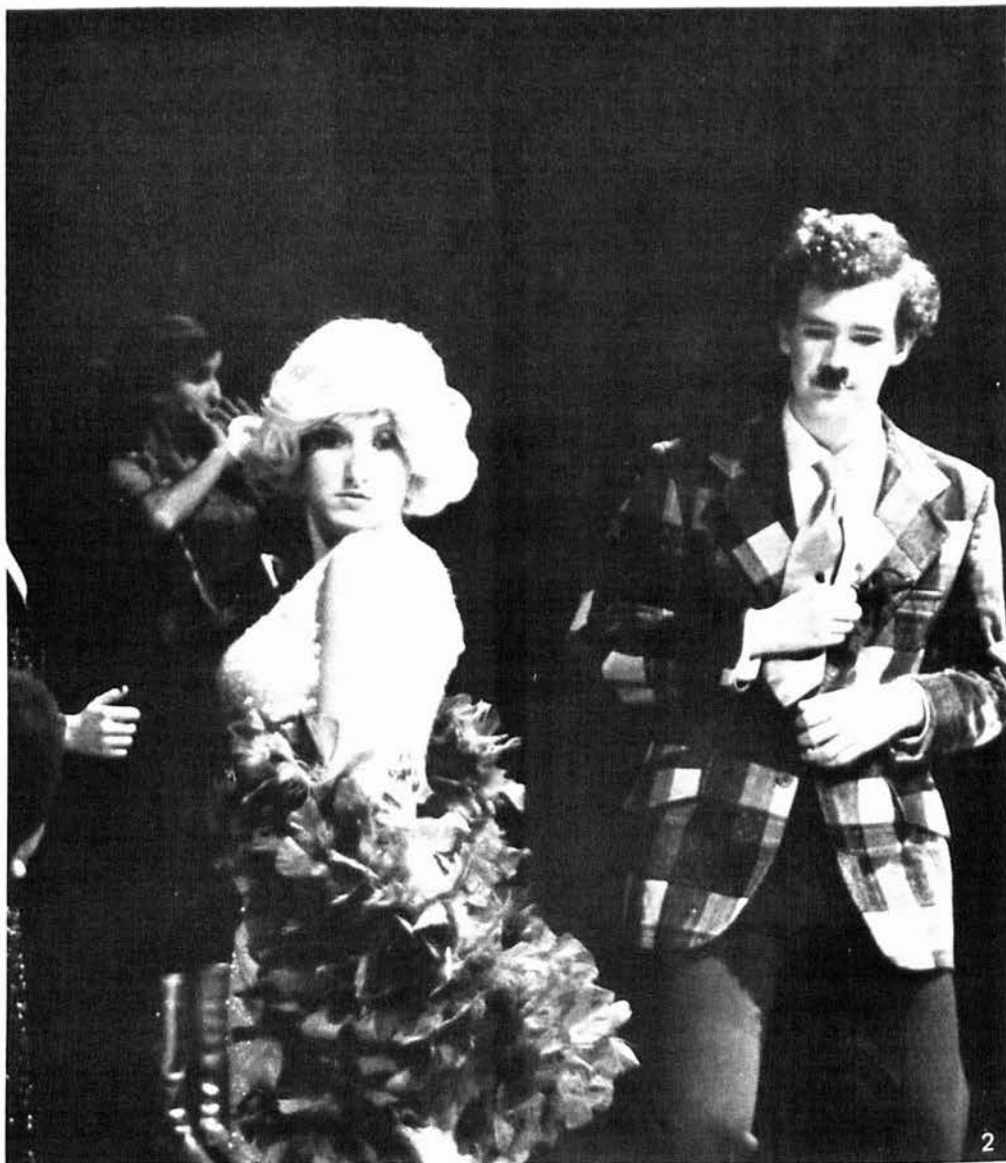

The musical, "The Apple Tree", was a three part play written by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock. It was presented in the school auditorium November 12-15.

The first play was based on a short story written by Mark Twain called "The Diary of Adam and Eve." It featured the life of earth's first man and woman and also, the problems they encountered.

The second play was a fairy tale written by Fran Stockton called "The Lady or the Tiger?". A prisoner is placed in an arena with two doors. Should he choose the door with the tiger behind it, he is obviously guilty. And if he should choose the door with the lady, he is innocent. The problem arises when the Princess' lover is found guilty of a sin and is sentenced to a trial.

The third play by Jules Feifer was "Passionella." It was about a chimney sweep who dreams of becoming a movie star. Her fairy godmother makes her dream come true, but Ella finds out she really isn't happy.

1. "Eat your heart out Valentino." 2. "Hey there big boy." 3. "I wish the stage crew would untie me!" 4. "Come with me to the Casbah." 5. "I wanna be a movie star." 6. "Can you spare a dishwasher?" 7. "Twinkle, twinkle, little star." 8. "John."; "Marsha."

Stage crew builds sets for productions

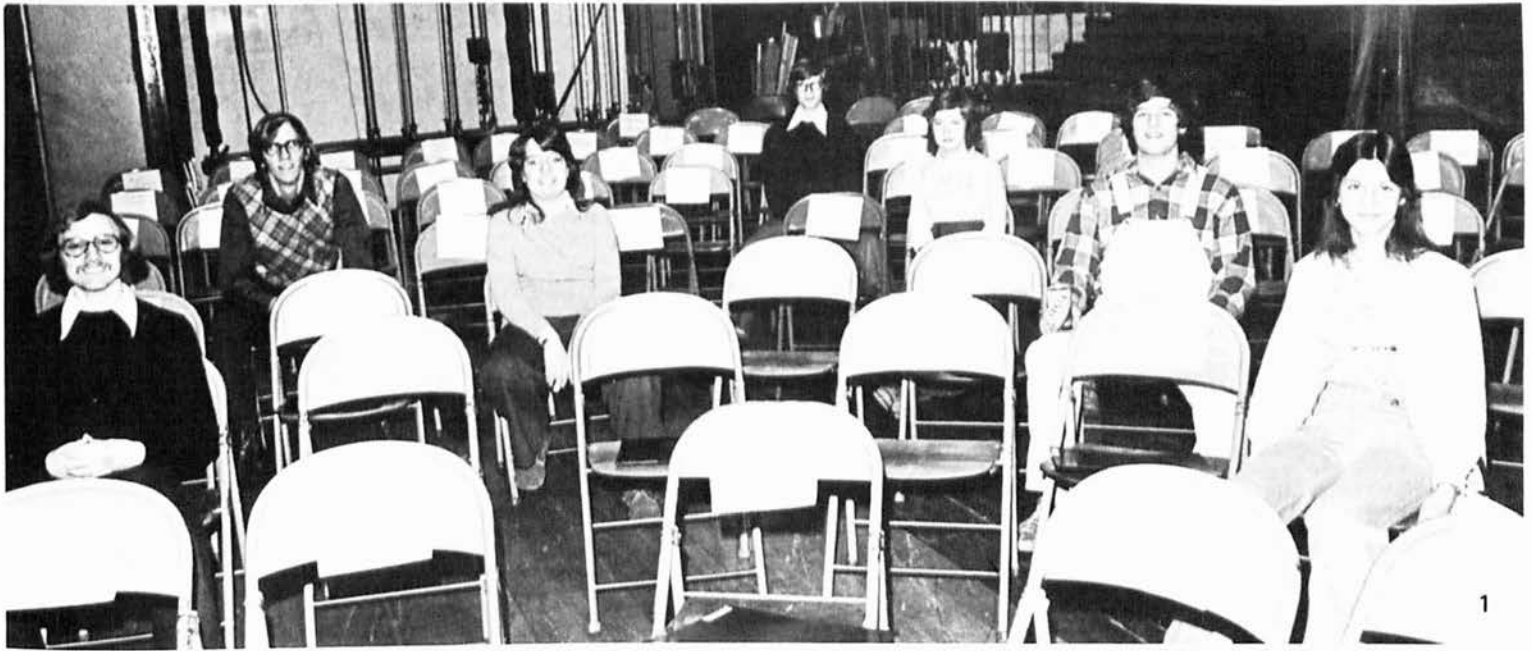

"Road Show," the Spring play, and the fall musical are just a few of the productions that the stage crew is responsible for. Under the direction of Mr. Tom Marsicek, the crew meets two periods of the day. During these two periods and sometimes after school, the crew works hard on production sets.

The stage crew has been in existence since the late 1920's.

Managers uphold Road Show tradition

Together with band and orchestra conductor Lynn Moller, the 1976 Road Show Managers helped once again to create this year's program. The managers take an active part in the judging that helps to choose the acts, and then they help to arrange the acts. "Upholding Road Show Tradition" was the theme of this year's program.

ROAD SHOW '76

In 1915 Omaha High School's athletic department was in serious trouble due to lack of funds. In an effort to overcome this difficulty, Mr. Reed, the principal at that time, suggested that some form of entertainment be arranged to raise money.

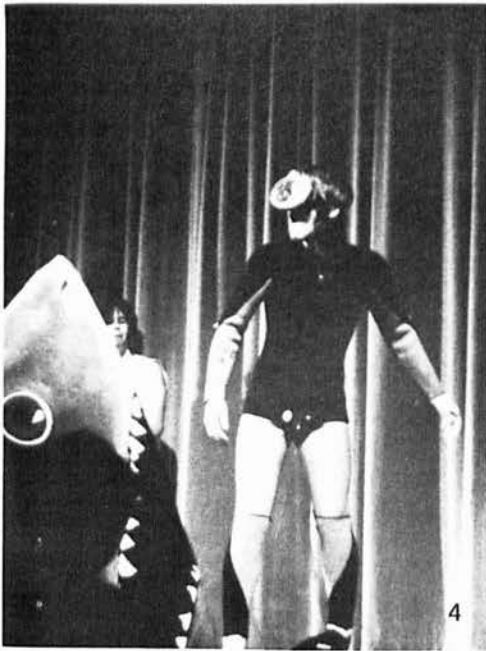

The entertainment consisted of an eight act vaudeville performance put on by some of the students. It was called O.H.S. Road Show.

The performance was repeated and cleared over $200. It was considered one of the most entertaining and profitable attempts ever made in the high school.

This year's "Road Show '76" had two acts that consisted of a variety of performances containing over 250 students. There were two matinees, one for the freshmen and sophomores, and another for the juniors and seniors. There were also two evening performances on Friday and Saturday.

1. Pete and Lars hunt for the right note. 2. "If... then, yes, it would be a perfect day." 3. "Love is Fair." 4. "Jowls." 5. A Cappella adds their touch to Road Show. 6. "But Not For Me." 7. "Touch Me in the Morning, then just walk away..." 8. C.H.S. Orchestra performs for Road Show.

'Dimension' staff seeks creative ability

Once a year, the students of the Creative Writing class of Central High pour their talents into producing a student anthology compiled of poems, short stories, and numerous pieces of artwork.

The staff urges students of all grade levels to submit their original creations and then a special committee is chosen to screen out the better selections. The students' creations then become part of "Dimension," or rather "Dimension" becomes a part of them.

Staff brightens newspaper

The school newspaper began in 1890 and was called the "Register Annual." At one time the students of Central owned the newspaper, but because of the large number of outside stockholders, the Omaha Public School System bought back all the stock.

Today the newspaper staff consists of 10 seniors who have completed one year of journalism. The staff has worked hard on 15 issues of the "Register."

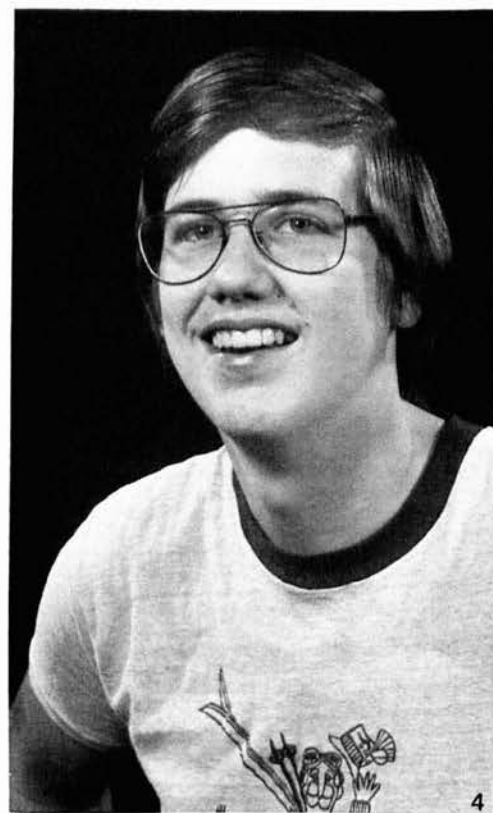

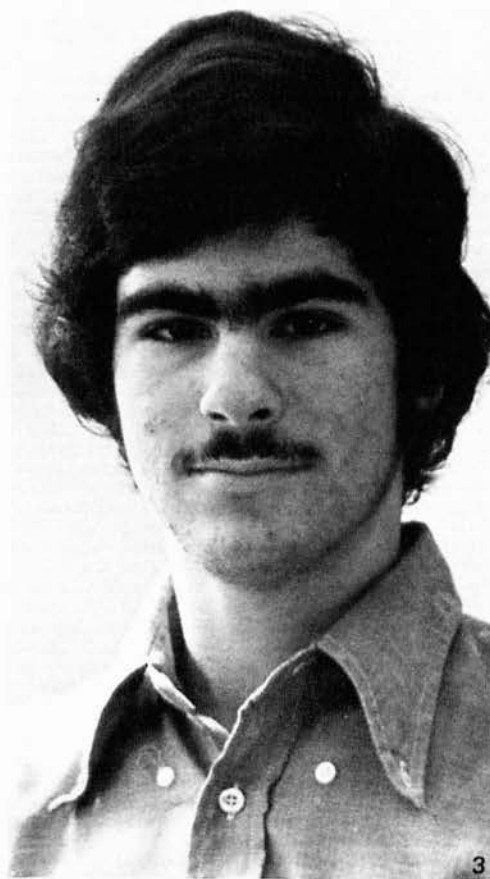

1. Mark Simon, Assc. Sports Editor.
2. Sherry Arnold, Exchange & Distribution Manager.
3. Steve Swanson, Editor.
4. Paul Fishkin, Reporter.
5. Joel Davies, Editor.
6. Winfred Pikelis, Assc. Editor.
7. Stewart Kolnick, Business Manager.
8. Zan Bockes, Editorial Editor.
9. Bob Hekl, Executive Editor.
10. Brent Bloom,

Camermen are essential

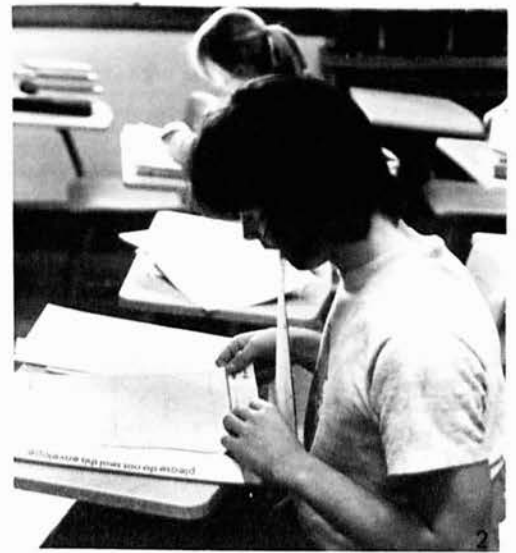

Throughout the history of the Central O-Book, it has taken the skill and talent of many photographers to produce a yearbook effectively. Without the assistance of fine photographers like these, a yearbook would not be possible.

These cameramen have combined their patience along with their creative ability in their artistic field, to bring to the students at Central High, a yearbook.

1. Peter Buffett. 2. Kevin Anderson. 3. John Faier. 4. Scott Friel.

Spirited O-Book staff produces yearbook

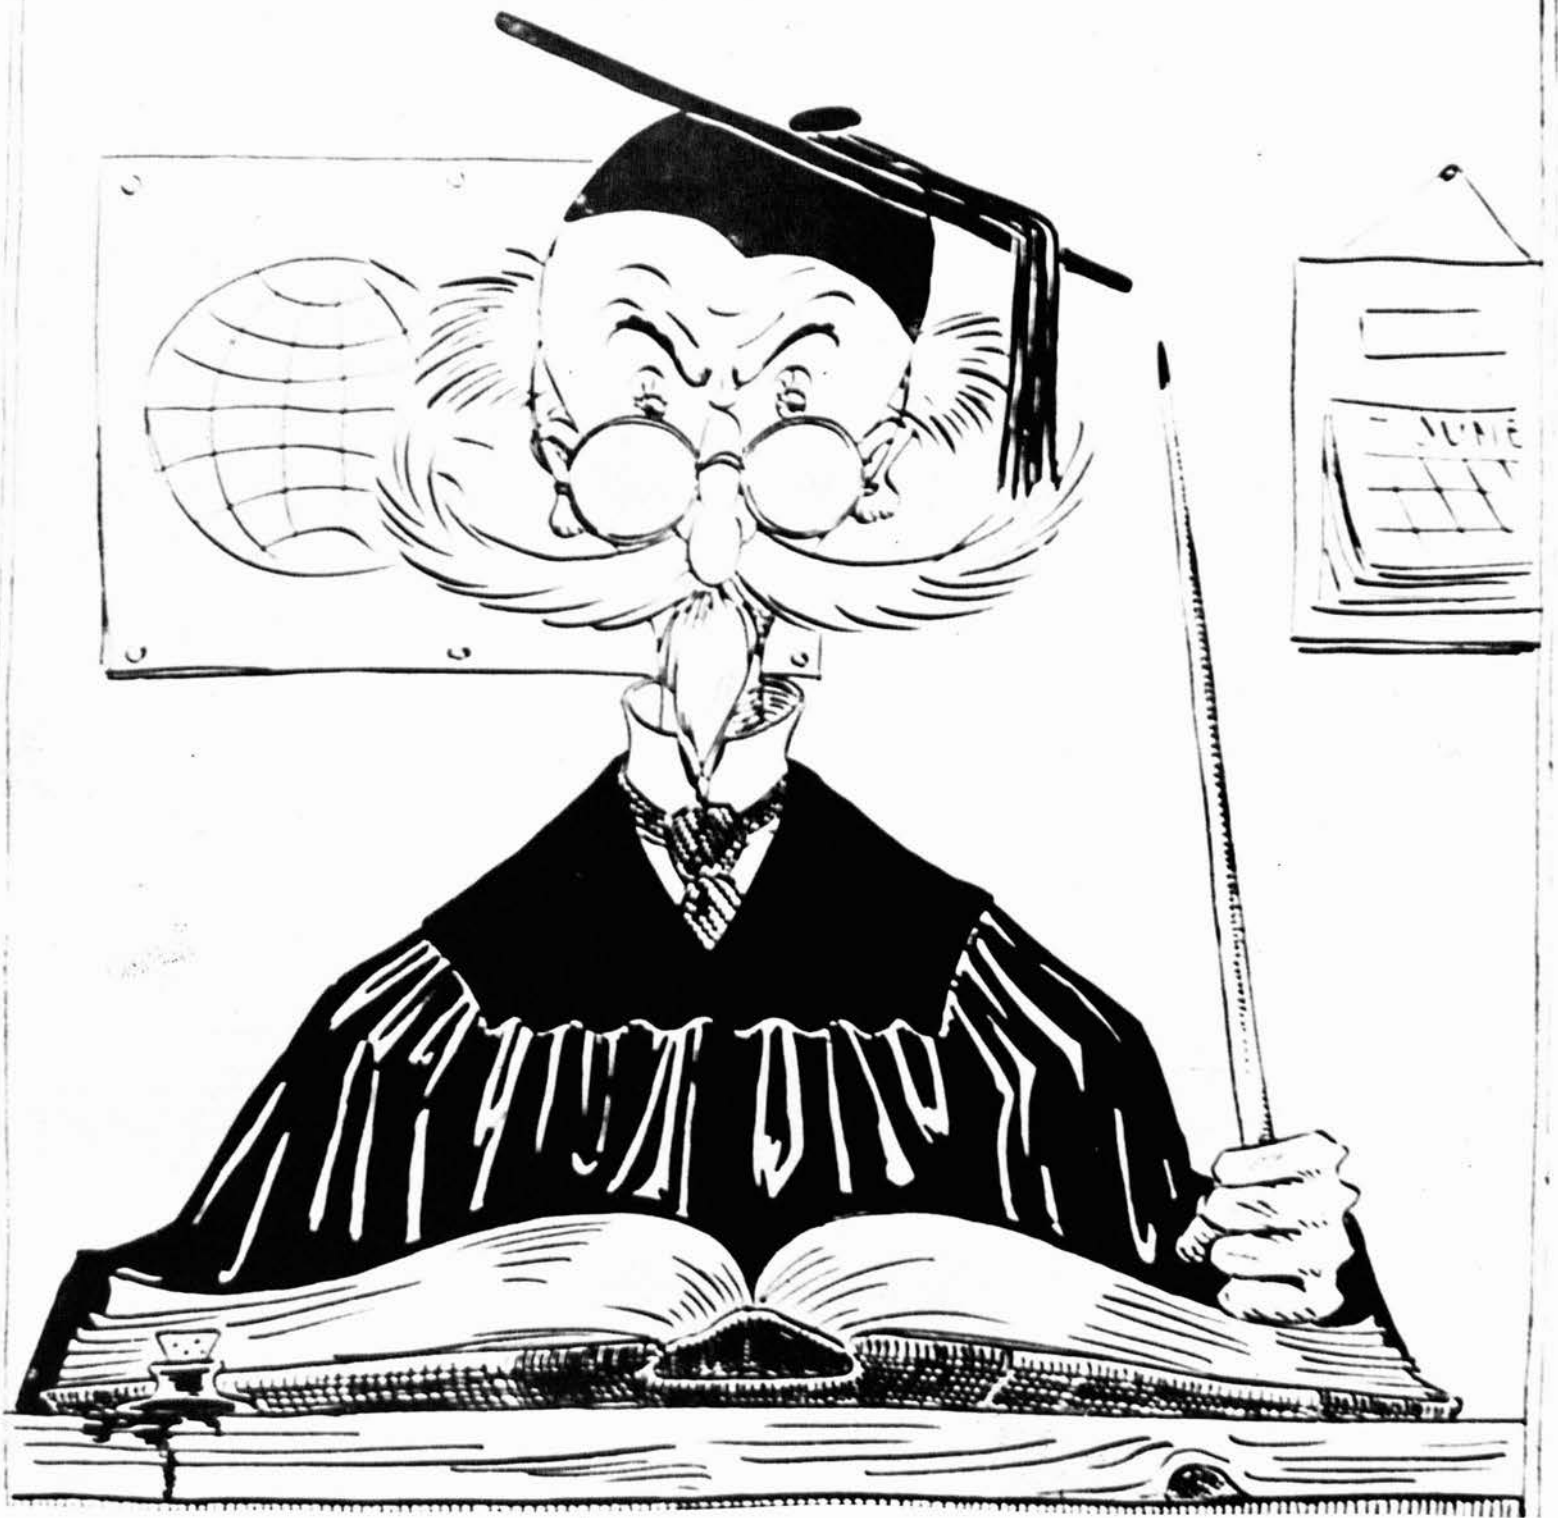

The school yearbook has changed since it began in 1890. There are more organizations, sports, and students. The original name of the book was "The Omaha Central Book," and it was later shortened to today's title of "O-Book."

This year's O-Book staff consists of 12 seniors who have worked all year to produce this fabulous yearbook.

1. FIRST ROW: Coleen Hendricks, Clubs and Academics; Jeanette Obal, Seniors and Underclassmen; Debbie Overman, Index, Seniors and Underclassmen; Mark Lewis, Sports; Terry Simanek, Seniors and Underclassmen. SECOND ROW: Kevin Anderson, Photo Editor; Sarah Mattox, Activities; Sue Kloster, Activities. THIRD ROW: Dick Denton, Asst. Sports; Karen Gustafson, Girls Sports; Carolyn Larson, Faculty. 2. "Place A over B and divide by 4." 3. "We never miss a deadline". 4. LEFT TO RIGHT: Mr. Mike Gaherty, yearbook advisor; Pete Buffett, Editor.

ORGANIZATIONS

Section page from O BOOK. Omaha Central High School, 1924

Chess Club once known as 'Pawnpushers'

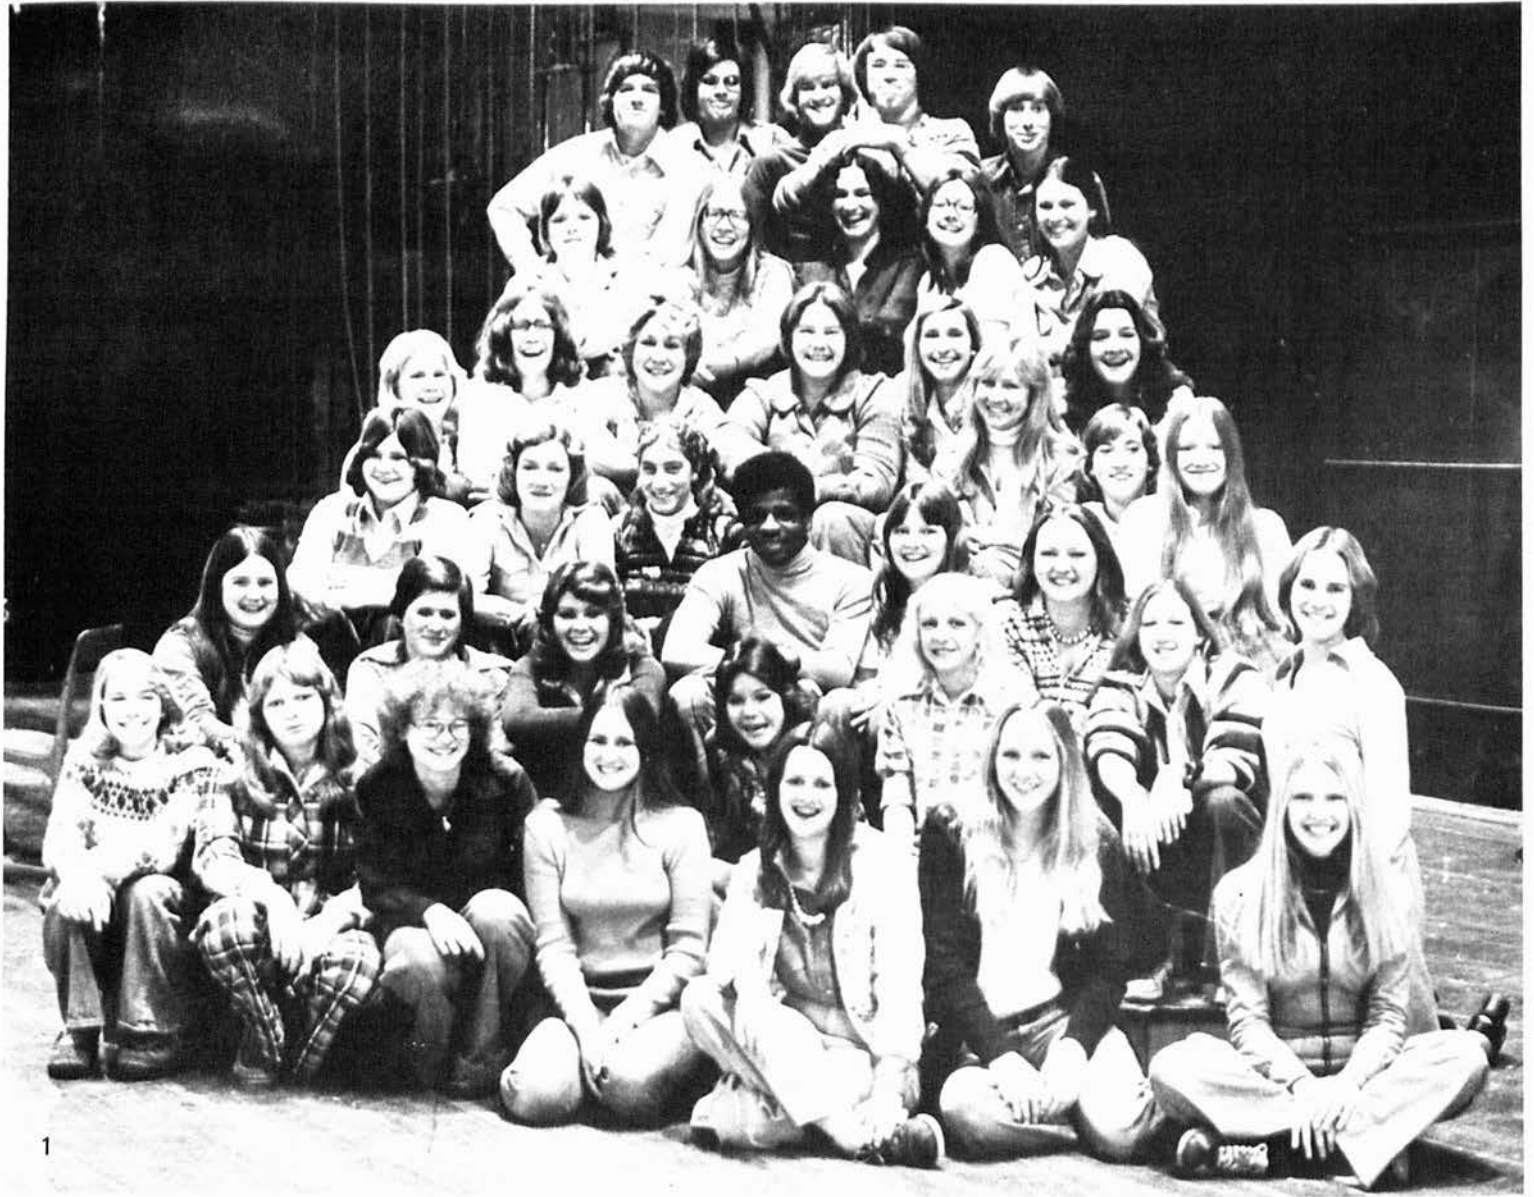

The Central High Chess Club was organized in 1938 to encourage students learning to play chess or improving their game. The players were then known as "The Central Pawnpushers."

Like the club of yesteryear, the present Chess Club has competition within the club as well as with other Metro schools. Mr. Bob Cooper, club sponsor, has revived the idea of the annual school tournament.

1. FIRST ROW: Lauritsen, Jensen, DeBacker, Klopping. SECOND ROW: Worthing, Cooper, Clark, Branch, Olson, Wiesman. 2. "It's my turn. . ." "No it's mine. . ." 3. "Come on, make your move." 4. "Now that I've moved my pawn, what should I do?" 5. "Hurry up Klopping."

Originating in 1926, the Central High Players still serve to advance high school dramatics. The Courtyard Players, as they are more commonly known, provide Central with excellent productions, along with entertainment on such days as Halloween and April Fool's day. The club also sponsored bake sales, Clerestory Window, and a film festival.

Photography club developes skills

The Central Photography Club members experimented with the techniques of taking and developing photographs. The club was once again sponsored by Mr. Robert Wolff and Mr. Allen Roeder.

Deca Club originated in the fall of '69

DECA club originated in the fall of 1969. At that time there were 29 members. The club is one that is established at all high schools that have a distributive education program.

The DECA club members attend annual fall leadership conferences. Such conferences are often held in Scottbluff, Hastings, Kearney, and Lincoln. There are also annual Spring conferences which have been held in Lincoln and in Omaha.

This year the members participated in a city wide KOIL-DECA skatethon. Fund raising projects included the selling of Central pennants. In April the employee-employer banquet was held. It is also a city wide activity. The banquet is held to thank the employers for giving the students in the program jobs.

1. "Would you like to skate?" 2. James, Clark, Johnson, Huffman, Guerrero, Grush, sponsor; Warf. SECOND ROW: Lopez, Konvalin, Doty, Spinler. 3. "You sure tie a nice knot."

The Future Farmers build for future

The Future Farmers of America club is perhaps one of the newest clubs at Central. The club was organized in September of 1973.

Club members compete in state-wide tournaments including livestock judging contests, land judging contests, and speeches. The members also study programs on soil erosion and new farming techniques at the school farm.

Club officers for the year are: Miller, President; Huffman, Vice-President; Jansa, Secretary; Zajic, Treasurer; Zeinsch, News Reporter; Arlington, Sentinel; Reed, Parliamentarian.

1. "Careful of the fingers." 2. Three heads are better than one. 3. "The tapping of the hammer is music to my ears." 4. ZzzzzZzz. 5. Teamwork!

Future Teachers prove totally active

Central's Future Teachers of America club has a long but unsteady history. It was last revitalized in the fall of '73. The club has been growing since.

This year the club experienced a successful year filled with activities. The club members held bake sales, sold calendars, and teamed with the chess club to sell jewelry to raise money to finance the club's activities and to provide money for a scholarship. The members increased their knowledge of the teaching field by inviting guest speakers to their meetings, by visiting other educational institutes, and by taking other field trips related to the field of teaching. One of the highlights was attending the second annual Future Teachers of America convention. Other activities included a Christmas party, a lasagna dinner, and a spring picnic.

The club sponsor was Mrs. Wanda Utecht.

Deutscher Verein was formed in 1904

The German Club, once known as the German Society, was formed in 1904. Membership at this time was voluntary. All students of the high school who were either studying, had studied, or knew the language were eligible for enrollment.

The German Club has many activities planned for the 1975-76 year. The members hold bake sales, participate in outdoor activities, and carol during the Christmas season.

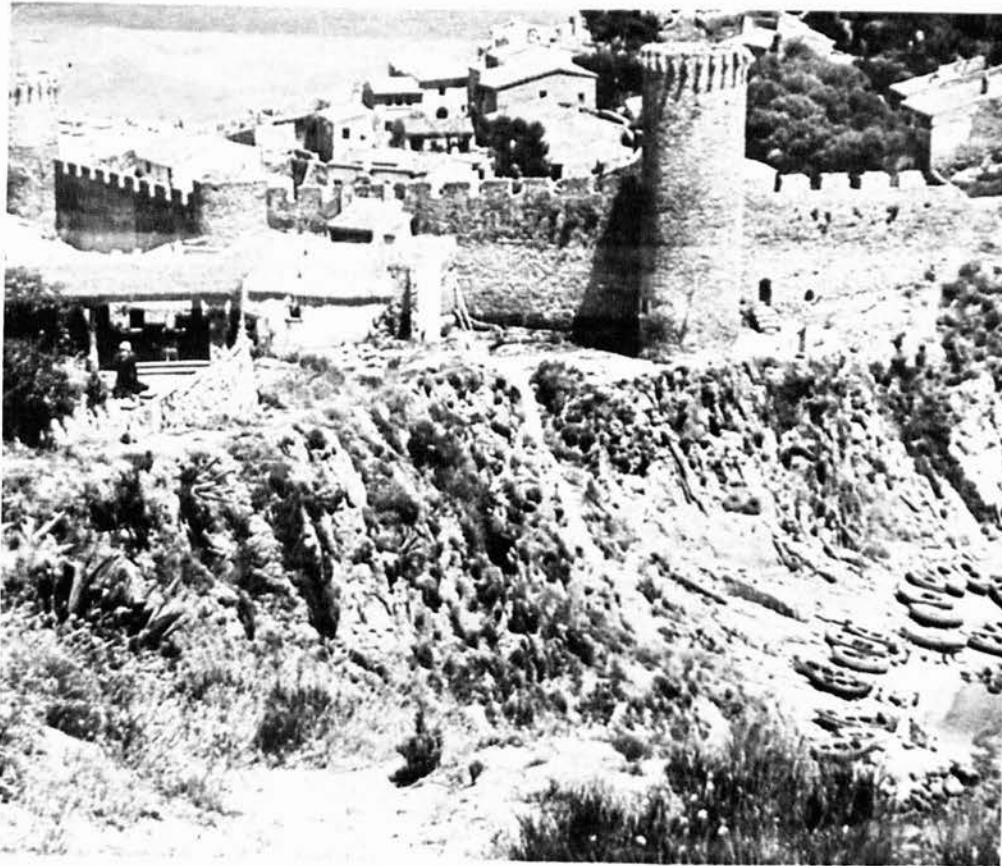

Club sponsor for the year was Mrs. Gretchen Bramhall.

1. FIRST ROW: Jenkins, Schuette, Newhouse, Rick, Elbert, Pankow, Webster. SECOND ROW: Bohi, Woodman, Danielson, Hollenbeck, Eddy, Werner, Steinbart. THIRD ROW: Olsen, Niebaum, Spinker, Solomon, Swanson, Brinkman, Shoup, O'Keefe. 2. OFFICERS: Bockes, Beals, Kresl, Dye. 3. "Don't you just love my new dress." 4. "Come on, have a little more." 5. "Aren't we cute?"

El club de Español se fundó en 1922

SPAIN

Central's first Spanish Club was founded in the fall of 1922. It was known as the Reyna Spanish Club, after its founder, Alfonso Reyna. The club was started to acquaint its members with Spanish-speaking countries and to further their knowledge of the language. The club has since become known as the Inter-American Club.

The Inter-American Club has upheld its tradition this year by holding its annual Christmas party in December and its annual picnic in the spring. The Club members, like those of yesteryear, learn through such experiences as Spanish songs, plays, games, and guest speakers.

In March the Inter-American Club participated in the third annual bowling tournament. The competition was between other foreign language clubs of Central High.

1. Eat, Drink, and be Spanish! 2. Salud pesetas y amor. Y tiempo para gozarlos. Translated: Health, money, and love. And time to enjoy them. 3. "Number two is a match."

Latin Club first in United States

One of the unique clubs of Central is the Junior Classical League, better known as the Latin club. Established in 1903 by Miss Ellen Rooney and Miss Susan Paxson, the club was the first Latin club in the United States.

The club was originally organized to make the study of Latin interesting. The club was to help the students learn something about the Romans besides their language. The members decided to study about the Roman homes and home life, the political conditions, and the characters of the great men whose work they translated.

Through the seventy-three years of the club's continued existence, it has served for these purposes. In October of this year, the club members celebrated the 1045 birthday of Virgil, a great Roman poet. Other activities included the Saturnalia, a pagan holiday celebrated at Christmas time although it was originated before the birth of Christ.

At the convention held April 2 and 3, the club members arranged a surprise for their sponsor, Miss Rita Ryan. The members all wore tee shirts with the words "Rita Ryan's Rapid Roman Runners" printed on the back.

The 1975-76 Central Math Club has planned a busy year. The club members revised the old constitution. The highlight of the year's activities was the revivification of the math contest. The club members organized the contest and invited twenty schools to attend. Other activities included fund raising projects, field trips, and a pizza, football, tobogganing night.

The club sponsor was Mr. Stephen Halula.

NFL membership grows with enthusiasm

Central's National Forensic League members have competed in the national tournaments since 1931. Central has been an annual sender of teams to the debate and speech events. The events include debate, boys' extemp, girls' extemp, original oratory, and dramatic interpretation.

Central has been the defending state champion for two consecutive years. The N.F.L. has moved from last year's fourth largest to this year's largest chapter in the state of Nebraska.

1. FIRST ROW: Stover, Gerhard, Bartholow, Epstein, Richardson, Fishkin, Krough, Kading, Dye, McCallister, Spitzer, Gibson. SECOND ROW: Allen, Jackson, Kudlacek, Davis, Sikora. Rose works toward perfect plan. 3. "I thought there would be enough time."

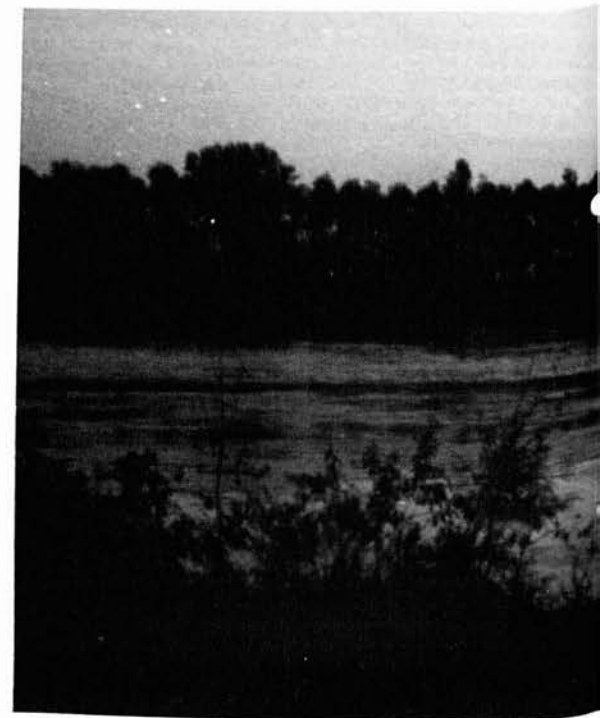

French Club visits Gifford Farm

Le Cercle Francais, Central's first French Club, was founded in February of 1923. The club grew quickly and at the end of its first year it consisted of over seventy-five members. Sponsoring the group were Miss Barbara Chatelaine and Miss Bess Bozell. Central's present day French Club is still as alive and enthusiastic as 1923's club. Sponsoring the club is Mrs. Donna Curtis. Speakers, parties, and field trips were planned for 1975-76.

1. FIRST ROW: Fischer, Slavin, Marsh, Rice, Seitzer, Cohen, Lambson, Pollack, Birt, Mattschineri. SECOND ROW: McKinney, Rucker, Fort, Bernstein, Chappell, Trussell, Ratner, Amoura, Ledgerwood. THIRD ROW: Olsen, Gray, Mitchell, Bonacci, Herman, Amoura, Ward, Claussen, Murdock, Ludvigson, Millington. One last marshmallow before hitting the trail. 4. "What in the heck is she doin'?" 5. The sun sets at Gifford Farm.

Wantu Wazuri - the beautiful people

Wantu Wazuri was organized in the fall of 1970. A group of interested students planned to perform a play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," for black history week in February. After performing the play, students stayed together and by the fall of 1971 they became fully organized.

Among the club's activities this year, are Thanksgiving baskets for the poor, stockings stuffed with goodies for the children in day care centers, and morning dances. The club members are also planning to put on a play for this year's black history week.

The club sponsors are Mrs. Mary Harvey, who helped in the organization of the club, and Mrs. Patricia Wallington.

1. FIRST ROW: Jenkins, Williams, Mason, Major, Burnette, S. Finch, West. SECOND ROW: Murphy, Branch, Grahm, Robinson, Hansen, K. Finch. THIRD ROW: Miller, Webb, Lewis, Lee. Football has played a very important role in the development of Central over the years, ever since the beginning of Central in 1859 when it was called Omaha High School.

Central's teams of 1908 and 1909 won successive state championships under head coach W. Cherrington. Each championship boosted the school spirit and support among the students and faculty.

It has only been 75 years since such greats as Charley Hoffert and Ray McWhinney stalked the halls of "Old Central", and less than 20 years since such greats as Gale Sayers and Joe Orduna walked the grounds, both of whom have become pro football greats.

In this year, 1975, the Eagles suffered a winless campaign in coach Gary Bailey's third season. Numerous mistakes and costly penalties proved to be Central's downfall. Two errant punt snaps led to two early Eagle losses against Northwest; the Huskies recovered the snap in their end-zone for their only score of the game. In the opening game loss to North, the Vikings recovered the errant snap on the Eagle's three yard line. North scored three plays later and held Central in check the rest of the night to win 7-0.

Veteran offensive tackles John Krowliowski and co-captain Chris Sorensen led the Eagle's drive for victory. Both played equally well on the defensive front line. Co-captain Herman Badgett led a handful of backfield mates including Central's leading rusher and scorer, junior, Phil Bates.

A tough Eagle defense, led by seniors Terry Slattery, Darrel Teamer, and Tim Austin, kept most of the Eagle's games close.

The Junior Varsity completed a very successful season despite a losing record in Head Coach John Haskell's first season as head of the J.V.'s.

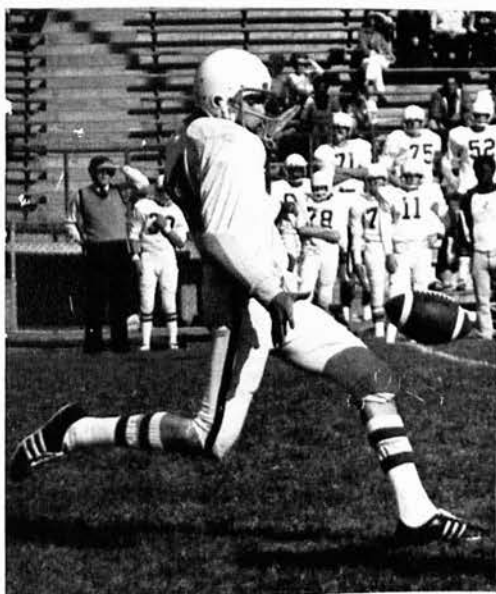

The experience gained by the J.V. team proved to be plentiful and will aid the players in their bid for a varsity spot next season.

After a shaky start, an opening game loss to North 26-0, the Eagles stormed back to beat rival South 6-0 and Northwest 14-0. Sophomore quarterback Dave Akiens and Junior halfback Tyree Webster provided the offensive punch, while Juniors Tony Edmonds, Darrel Brown, and Mike Felici held up the defense during the 3-5 season.

The Reserve Football Team, under the direction of first year head coach Gary Thompson and assistant coach Jim Smith (student teacher from UNO), completed an impressive season in the conference.

The Reserves took an early win from North 6-0, and then traveled to Council Bluffs' T.J. only to be soundly beaten 39-0. It looked as if the team was in for a long season.

After shuffling numerous players to the Varsity and J.V. teams, the Reserves settled down to beat a good Benson team 22-0. Quarterback Tony Felici and halfback James Davis showed well on offense, while Steve Poole, Ron Dorsey, and Stanley Perry spearheaded a strong defense.

1975 Harriers race to 6-3 record

Cross Country came to Central in 1964 and one year later, the Central harriers were Metro champions. This year's team racked up an impressive 6-3 record taking eighth in Metro and fifth in their district which included Burke, Bellevue, and Creighton Prep. Senior Keith Schafer placed fourth in the Bellevue and Kearney Invitationals and fifth in the Bryan Invitational.

Future hopes? "With three good freshmen and returning lettermen, Central will be prominent next year," commented Coach James.

Gymnastics, legacy in its own time

In the ten years gymnastics has been at Central, some amazing records have been set. 1966 and 1967 saw an undefeated Central team sweep Metro. Individual Metro champions have included Ken Vohries on the trampoline in 1967 and Barry Carlsen on the pommel horse in 1974.

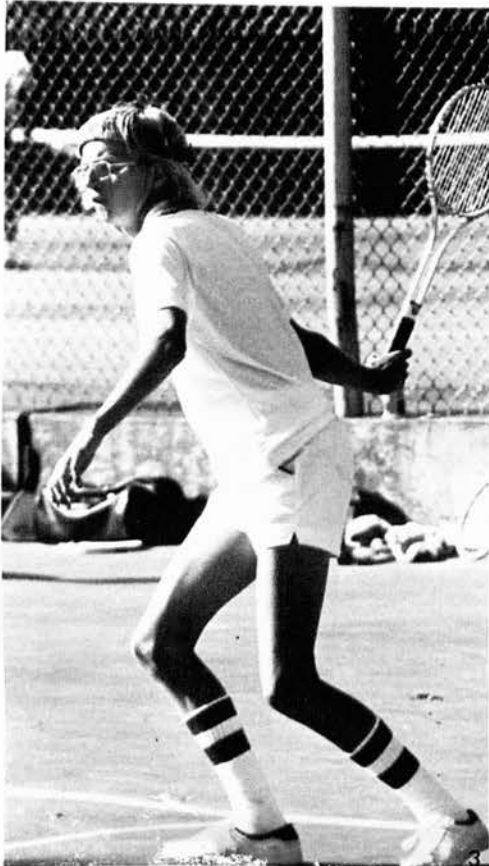

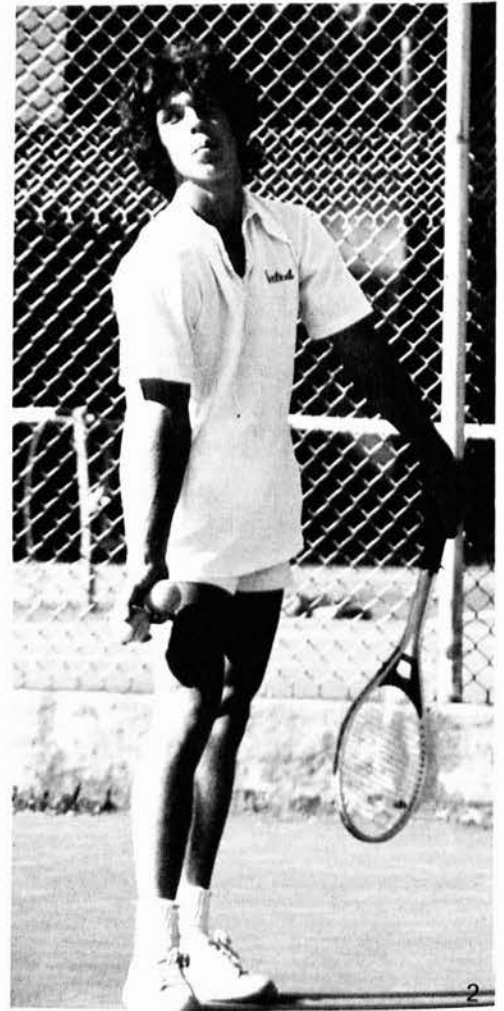

Coach John Kocourek came to Central in 1973 after the tragic death of previous gymnastics coach George Harris. Since that time, the gymnastics program here has continued to improve.

This year was "the winningest season ever" according to Kocourek who could boast of an 8-4 record. For the first time since 1965, Central's entire gymnastics team was represented at State. Consistent performances were given by seniors Gene Huey and Steve Jones and junior David Warde. As a team, Central placed sixth at the Millard Invitational, fifth at the Art Harris Invitational, fourth at Metro, and third at the District Meet. Many individual honors were also won by team members throughout the season.

Tennis nets two victories

The tennis team posted a disappointing 2-7 record for 1975. Coach John Talty explained, "There were no high points this year. Bob Johnson and Stuart Kolnick, co-captains, did a good job as our seniors. Brian Canaday and Leonard Bates were outstanding as sophomores." At least the future for Central tennis is bright with able underclassmen and incoming students.

Golfers third in District, Spring of '75

Tennis has been at Central since 1915. Golf came along shortly after. Together they formed a team known as the "stickmen." To be on one team was to be on the other. They were separated in the 1940's.

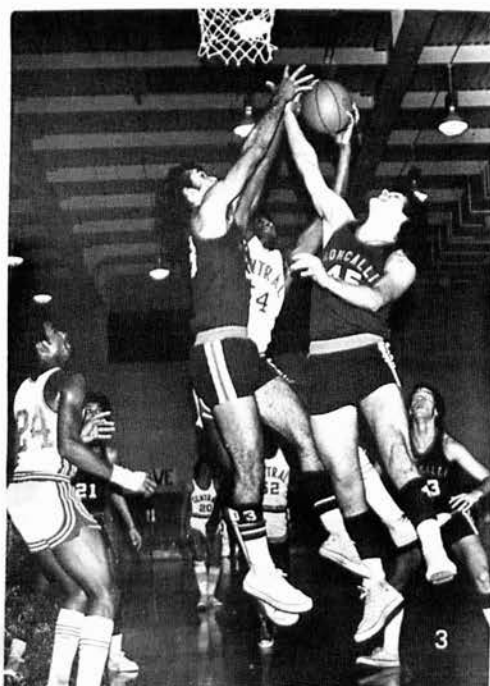

Mr. Warren Marquiss, biology instructor here at Central, has been coaching golf "about 22 years," he says. He recalls that two years after he began as Coach, Central took state as a team and had an individual state champion.

Last year's spring team held an impressive 5-2 record, being defeated by Prep and Abraham Lincoln. Even without their top golfer, the team placed third in their district and so qualified for state. At the state meet, Central placed twelfth.

Cagers hampered in winning season

The popularity of basketball at Central is high above any other single sport, but popularity does not come overnight.

Soon after the opening of Omaha High School, basketball was recognized as an official sport. Ever since, the tradition of successful teams has spread through the years. State championships were not rare in the early years, as were winning teams.

Omaha High School won the state championship in 1906 by beating Omaha South in the finals. And who could ever forget those "dry" years of the 40's, 50's, 60's, and early 70's? It was not until 1974 that a seasoned Eagle team handily won the state title. And the excitement of last year's championship will never be forgotten.

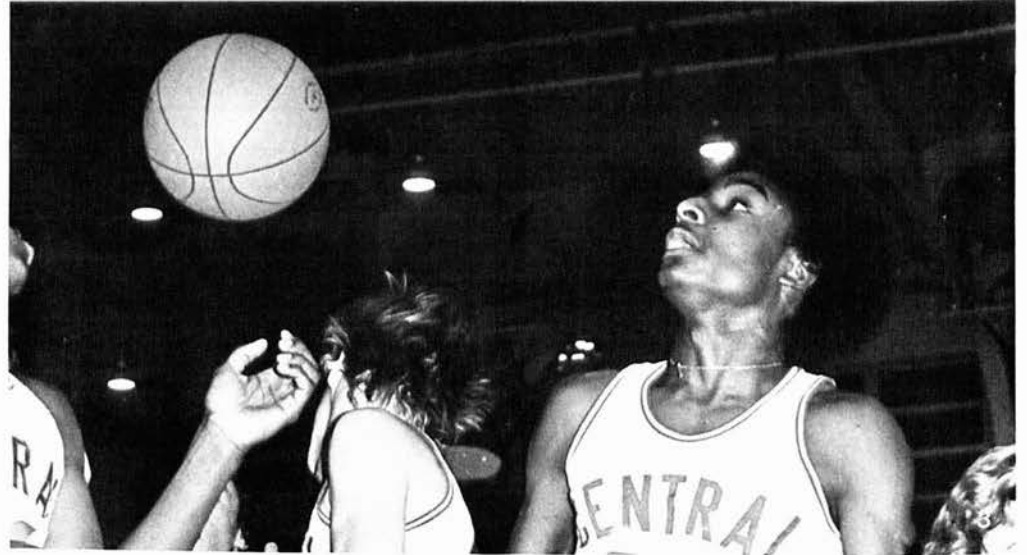

This year started just like every championship year until the Eagles met North High and were defeated in the contest. Youth and injuries played a big role in the Eagle defeats. Returning starters, seniors Lawrence Wilson and Ray Williams, teamed with senior Steve Watson to form a potent front line. The absence of a good ball handler and mature team leader hurt the Eagles when the going got tough.

Junior Bob Kilgore and senior Lonnie Easter provided adequate support, but with injuries to sophomore Michael Johnson and junior Dennis Huggins, the Eagles were left at half strength. Nevertheless, the Eagles completed a winning season, and with a deep abundance of talented underclassmen, hope to keep the ever growing tradition of winning teams at Central in the years to come.

J.V.'s play opponents close

With Central continuing their winning tradition at the varsity level, J.V. basketball is becoming more and more important for the success at the varsity level. Coach Stan Standifer said, "Many of these players could be playing on the varsity level on other metro teams, but since Central does have such a good system, most are put down on reserves to start, and are forced to work up to the varsity level of competition."

This year's team, led by two high-scoring Juniors, Ronnie Starks and Irving Harris, has played opponents close, but lost three of their first five games by a total of nine points. A sputtering offense seemed to be the cause of the defeats as the Eagles' Jerry Whittaker led a tough Central defense that kept most of the J.V. games close.

Early risers rewarded in victories

At 6:30 each morning, for the past few years, about sixteen to nineteen boys have been invading the gym for reserve basketball practice. Besides the early morning practice schedule, the sophomores and freshmen must rise for 10:00 Saturday morning games.

This year the grueling practices and early hours have caused a decline in the squad which is now reduced to seventeen players. Coach Paul Pennington calls the reduction "minimal, considering the repetition involved in learning offenses and defenses that will prepare the players for varsity competition." Coach Pennington also stated that the main purpose for the reserve program is to "take the players not ready for varsity competition and groom them until they can become mature, capable ball players."

This year's standouts included high scoring Algje Bullion and shot blocking Ralph Pope. Bullion scored 19 points, and Pope blocked five shots as the Eagles beat Northwest in their best game of the year, 57 to 38.

Wrestlers grapple to winning record

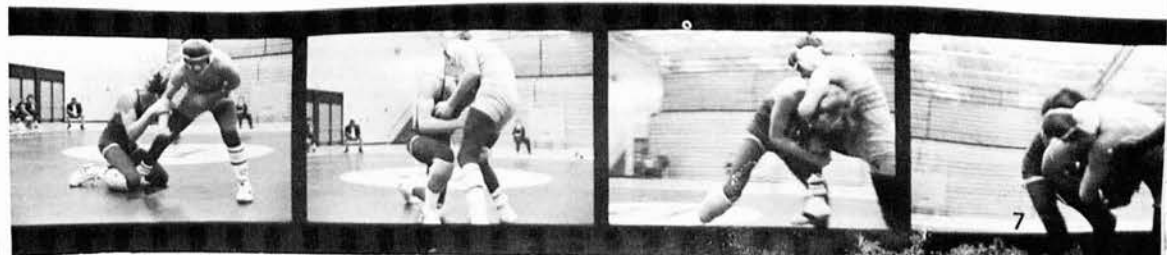

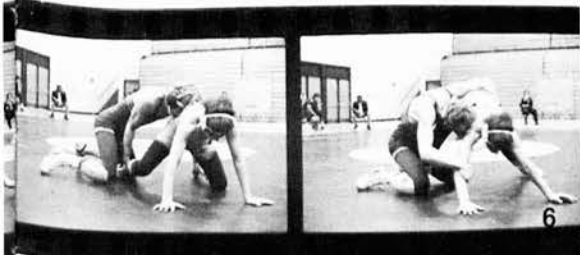

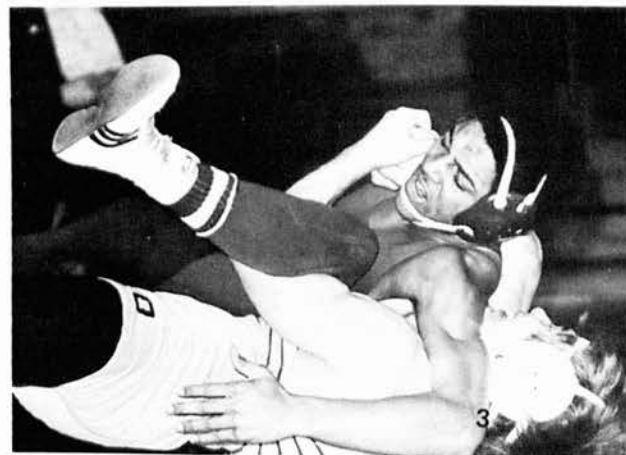

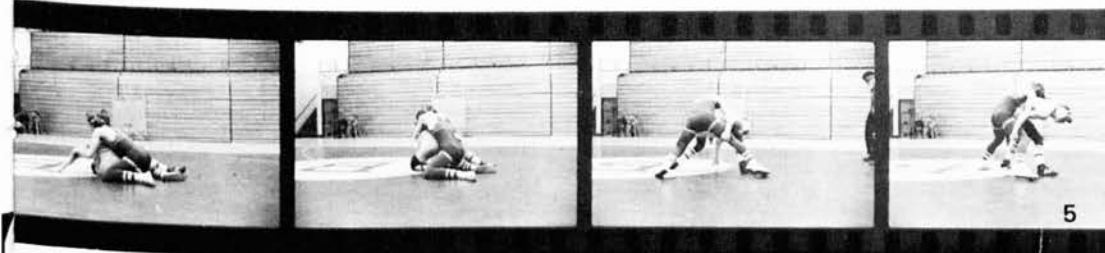

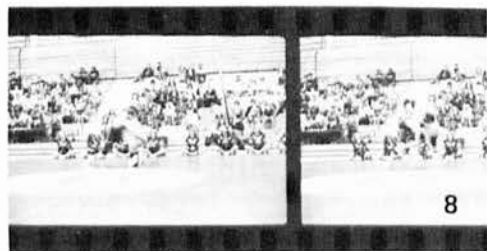

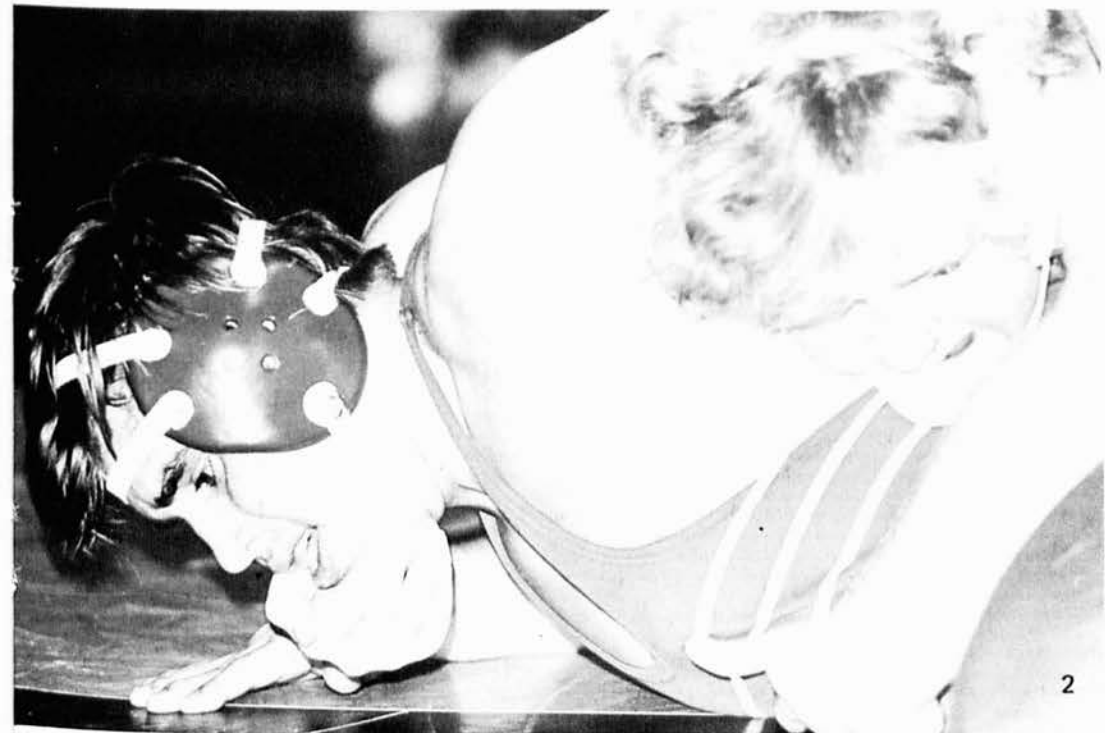

Wrestling has been a competitive sport at Central for 50 years. In that time, the team has held an impressive record; trophies for state and Metro awards in 1942, '44, '47, '54, '55, and "second in state in '58." The team also received the championship at the North High Invitational in 1950.

In 1976, Central's grapplers, coached by George Garrett, did well in the Burke Invitational and sent four individuals to the state meet.

Central track dates back to 1890 with the Field Day, an event which included running and jumping events. Central took State in track continuously up to 1909, and in the years 1913, 1921, and 1922. Past Metro records include: 1966, Jim Hunter, long and triple jump events. 1967, Mark Wilson, Mile. 1968, Vince Orduna, 180 yard low hurdles. The 1975 season saw two Metro champs as Central placed fourth both in Metro and in the National Division. The Metro champs were Steve Blair, first in the 180 yard low hurdles and the 100 and 220 yard races, and Donald "Bugsy" Bryant who placed first in the triple jump event. Coach David James noted that all the runners did exceptionally well this season and that the returnees should do well too. An interesting side-light was the run to the State Basketball Game made by relay members Holland, Labenz, Peterson, and Schafer.

Swimmers experience rough waters

In 1924, the year that swimming began at Central, the team was Metro champ and had three competitors place in the state meet. 1925 was a similarly successful year; in 1926, the team placed second in both city and state.

This year's team, captained by seniors Bart Reed and Greg Reischlein, placed fifth in the national division Metro relays at Westside and fifth at the Millard Invitational where team members won five medals. Central posted an unfortunate 4-8 dual record but placed eighth at the Metro meet, defeating many schools that had defeated Central earlier in the season. Junior Dale Pinkelman was the team's only diver.

Baseball, good hitting but weak defense

At Central High School, the sport of baseball is pre-dated only by football. In 1890, Central, at this time called Omaha High School, defeated Creighton with a score of O.H.S. twenty, Creighton nine. Central then went on to play North but was defeated.

In the Spring of 1975, another baseball team competed for Central and came off with a 4-11 record. Reason? "Good hitting and weak defense characterized the team," said Coach Pennington. With seven returning lettermen, two of whom (Mark Jaksich and Jim Carpenter) received Honorable Mentions in the '74 All-Metro League, this team averaged 4.5 runs per game but made inopportune errors, thus losing several one-run ball games, commented the Coach. In '75, selected to the All-Metro team was Mike Bennett, hitting 400. Bob Burch, hitting 438, received Honorable Mention.

"With both Bennett and Burch returning plus several good players coming up from J.V., improvement in our record will depend on defense and pitching," said Coach Pennington.

Hopefuls for the '76 team include Tom Curran, Mark Gillaspie, Tom Hedrick, Dan Hooi, Tom McLaughlin and Kirk Trofholz.

J.V. has inspiring Summer season

The Junior Varsity baseball team suffered some losses with a 2-7 record in the spring of 1975. This is, as Coach Semrad pointed out, misleading, however, because four of these games were lost by only one run.

"This has been one of the best teams in years," commented Semrad. "Great improvement was shown, especially in the Summer League." Here the J.V.'s racked up an 'inspiring' 12 wins against 9 losses. The Coach said, "With those disciplined, quality players, Central could become a prominent team." In the Summer League Central defeated Westside 3 to 2, and Ryan 2 to 1.

In short, both boy's and girl's sports have been well represented at Central as long as the school has existed. In 1890, Central joined with other schools in the area and formed the Athletic Association. Later this became GAA, Inter-school sports, and Cheerleading. Central joined the National Athletic Honor Society shortly after 1900, and remained a member until the 1940's. Central students formed the O-Club, the boy's letterman's club, in 1920; it was rejuvenated in 1927, and is due for another.

Between 1890 and 1927, Central participated with other area schools in an annual Field Day of sporting events. Events included the 100-yard dash, hurdles, the running and standing broad jumps, the running high jump, the triple jump, the pole vault, baseball throw, and tennis doubles. These athletic contests were for men as well as women athletes.

Among the Varsity sports no longer active in the Omaha Public Schools once offered at Central are boxing and fencing.

Varsity cheerleaders remain number 1 in spirit

Cheerleading has been a spirited tradition at Central High since 1925 when the squad consisted of four male cheerleaders. In 1931, girl cheerleaders were introduced and by 1949, the cheering squads at Central were made up of girls alone. This year, however, males were once again eligible to try out for cheerleading. Under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Tegt, the co-ed squad was a great success.

1. FIRST ROW: Lombardo, Gustafson, Co-Captain; Hangley, Flaxbeard, Captain; Hanek, Co-Captain. SECOND ROW: Scarpello, Midder, Holzapfel. 2. Rebolloso, Allen, Jones. 3. "Sigh. . ." 4. Debbie Hanek wants you! 4. Lisa looks mad. 6. "I wonder if we'll win?"

JV and Reserves help keep up the spirit at CHS

The Junior Varsity and Reserve cheering squads were first organized in 1965. Just as they were then, the two squads are helpful in cheering for the underclassmen teams. This year, the J.V. and Reserve squads were as spirited as always.

1. Jackson, Okada, Sleder, Traub, Co-Captain; Carey, Peterson, Captain; Olsen, Matney. 2. FIRST ROW: Green, Jones, Co-Captain, Grablin. SECOND ROW: Caldwell, Stimpson, Coonce, Captain; Pluta, Martin. 3. I wish this game would hurry up and end so I could go to Kings. 4. But I HATE to smile!

Central Eaglettes add variety to halftime

This year marked the tenth anniversary of the Eaglettes. Started in 1966 to add variety to half-time shows, this year's Eaglettes did that, and much more. Sponsored by Mrs. JoAnn Dusatko, the Eaglettes decorated the halls, performed, and promoted all-around school spirit.

1. FIRST ROW: Engles, Labenz, Garland, Frederick, Shestak, Axiotes, Mattox, Zencheck, DeBacker. SECOND ROW: Majors, Borchman, Knutson, Kalkowski. THIRD ROW: McColley, Edwards, Haack, Bigley, Pugh, Rasmussen, Schrein, Mrs. Dusatko. 2. "And then HE said..." 3. Life is a bowl of cherries! 4. "You can say that again!" 5. "Hold it!"

Central Pep Club has a winning year

The first Central High Pep Club was started in 1938. Since then, the look has changed, but not the kind of people who make up Pep Club. Filled with spirit and equipped with a good voice, these girls cheered on every team from football to track.

Sponsored by Mrs. Marlene Bernstein and Miss Adrienne Tongue, this year's Pep Club had a very eventful year. Many new faces were a welcome addition and returning members were a great help. Three cheers for a fantastic Pep Club!

1. FIRST ROW: Saxon, Jones, Bonacci, Bennet, T. Miller, Laughlin, Combs. SECOND ROW: Kalkowski, Millington, Murphey, Bomer, Winn, S. Miller, Palmer. 2. "Was that an eagle flying by?" 3. FIRST ROW: Lonergan, Triplett, JoAnn Sutton, Jeneane Sutton, Sorenson, Seitzer. SECOND ROW: Wipperling, Aden, Walsh, H. Thaldorf, B. Thaldorf, Robinson. 4. "We're number 1!" 5. FIRST ROW: Miske, McKee, Newhouse, Kokrda, Langford, Lee. SECOND ROW: Rivard, Obal, Rice, Polen, Peirce, McBride. 6. "I love to sing at games!" 7. OFFICERS FIRST ROW: Kresl, Cox, McNichols. SECOND ROW: Armbeck, McGinnis, Koperski, Bernstein. 8. FIRST ROW: Greenberg, Green, Foster, Emly, Eddy, Harling. SECOND ROW: Knight, Johnson, Hinchman, Hembd, Boyd, Gibbons.

Swimmers and divers have good season

It all started back in 1931 when the first girls' swim team was formed. Now, as it was then, swimming is a very popular sport among the girls at Central.

The team, coached by Mr. Dirk McNeely, proved to be successful as always. The divers, Radeen Rasmussen, Teri Johnson, and Kathy Pugh, all returning team members, were successful also. Both swimming and diving team members showed great form and ability, characteristic of all Central athletes.

Girls volley to an impressive season

Girls' volleyball, in its second year at Central, showed much improvement from its first year. The varsity team, coached by Mr. Tom Dolfay, had many returning players from last year including JoAnn Olsen, Kim Holzapfel, Rhonda Calvin, Carla Langholz, and Sharon Griffin. The team finished the year with its first winning season.

The junior varsity team, coached by Miss Mrylian Gauff, also had an impressive season. Sophomores showed great potential for next year's volleyball season. The third year of girls' volleyball should prove to be better than the first two.

Girls' Basketball remains popular in 1976

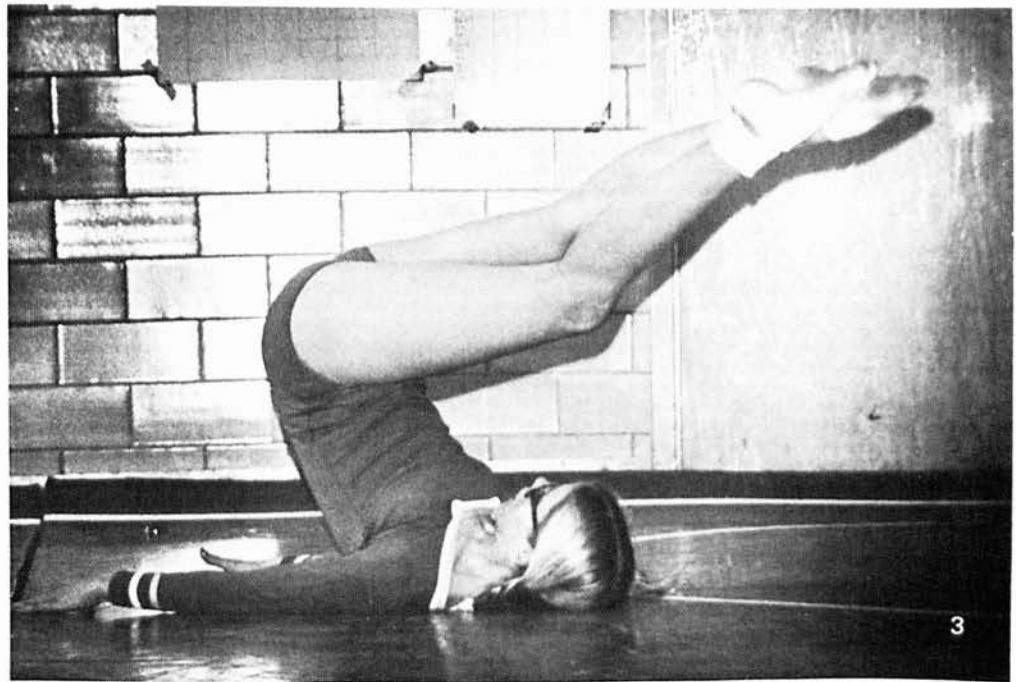

This year marked the second anniversary of girls' basketball at Central. It also marked the first year for a junior varsity squad. Although there was girls' basketball at Central many years ago, it was discontinued until last year.

The varsity squad, coached by Mr. Paul Semrad and the junior varsity squad, coached by Miss Joyce Morris, had very impressive seasons. Returning letterwomen were a big asset, and according to Coach Semrad, "Next year looks very hopeful."

Gymnasts finish year of good competition

The sport of gymnastics has been participated in by the girls at Central for many years. This year, the girls' gymnastics team did especially well even though the team had the disadvantage of unsure practice locations. There were many promising sophomores on the team this year, and coach John Kocourek is looking forward to a successful season next year.

1. FIRST ROW: Johnson, Kresl, Langholz, Olsen, Coach Kocourek. SECOND ROW: Bernstein, Riha, Zenchuk, Coonce, Caldwell, Lombardo, Martin. 2. Cindy Caldwell shows her skill on the balance beam. 3. All-around competitor Terri Johnson performing floor exercise. 4. Lisa Lombardo on the beam. 5. "I hope I don't fall!"

Golf team tees off to bright future

Golf has been a girls' sport at Central since 1929. The look of the team has changed throughout the years, but not their ability. This year the team completed an impressive winning season with returning letterwomen Julie Kalkowski and Julie Kregness leading the varsity team. The team, coached by Mrs. Joanne Dusatko, has a majority of underclassmen team members and next years season is hopeful.

1. FIRST ROW: Aden, Jones, Heldt, Kregness.
 SECOND ROW: Coach Dusatko, McCormack, Wilson, Bennett, Kalkowski, Breeding. 2. Julie putts for an "eagle". 3. "Where'd that ball go?" 4. Kregness tees off.

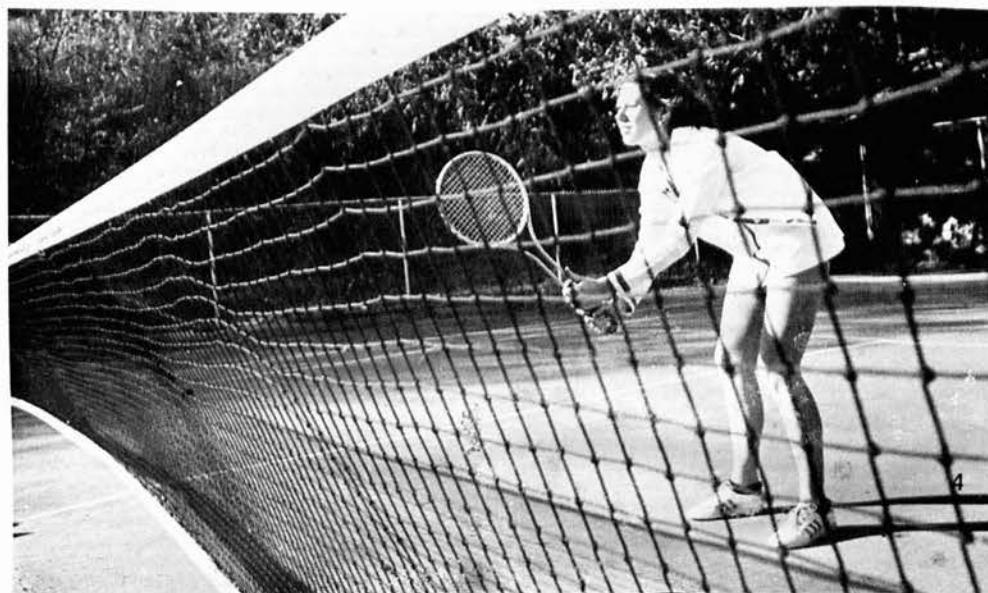

Tennis players rally to win in meets

There has been a girls' tennis team at Central since 1911. In 1975, the first junior varsity girls' tennis team was formed. And along with the new J.V.'s, Central also acquired a State Championship. Individual glories included a first place in singles for Debbie Denenberg and a second place in doubles for Jan Guevara and Patty Pugh.

Both the junior varsity and varsity teams are coached by Miss Joyce Morris. The future looks bright for the 1976 tennis team due to the large number of returning letterwomen.

Girls' Track keeps up winning tradition

Throughout the years, the Central High girls' track team has had the previous year's outstanding record to uphold. This year was no exception, and the team, coached by Mrs. JoAnn Dusatko, kept up the tradition of a successful season.

1. FIRST ROW: Robinson, Jackson, Easter, Midder, Pugh. SECOND ROW: Olsen, Wharton, West. THIRD ROW: McIntosh, Arnold, Gibson, Harris, Hovelman, Finch, Coach Dusatko. 2. Toni Midder outruns her opponents. 3. Joann Olsen coming in first. 4. Central teammates huddle together after a victory.

1976 marks third year for CHS C-Club

1976 marked C-Club's third anniversary at Central. The club is made up of girls who have lettered in at least one sport. Members of C-Club are eligible for Homecoming queen and awards given at the sports banquet held at the end of the school year.

C-Club is sponsored by Miss Joyce Morris and Mrs. JoAnn Dusatko.

1. FIRST ROW: Lombardo, Gustafson, Nash, Schwartz, Langholz. SECOND ROW: Pugh, Hangley, Holzapfel, Johnson, Caron, Berka, Watson, Kohout, Anderson. THIRD ROW: Bernstein, Denney, Koperski, Aden, Spencer, Green, Joanne Sutton, Janeane Sutton, McNichols, Heldt. FOURTH ROW: Matney, Jackson, Okada, Midder, Traub. 2. OFFICERS, FIRST ROW: Vice-President Olsen, President Finch. SECOND ROW: Secretary Schrein, Sponsor Dusatko, Treasurer Rasmussen. 3. Swimming. 4. Basketball. 5. Track. 6. Volleyball.

Undergraduates

Section page from the REGISTER, Omaha High School, 1921

The Class of 1979

To the Freshman Class of 1976:

For each of you, this past year at Central has probably been a year of adjustment, meeting new people, and fitting into a new pattern. You are the last freshman class to attend this fine school. The new things you discovered this year will be left behind as you become sophomores. Next year, when the new students come to Central and are looking for the '2' side, you will confidently saunter to your classes.

We hope that as you continue your education at Central, you will continue the fine traditions that also go with our school. You have the advantage of tasting Central before the majority of your graduating class. One final word . . . Central has so much to offer to someone who is willing to work. We hope that you will take advantage of the opportunities.

Dear Sophomores,

You made it! After plowing through "Julius Caesar", "Idylls of the King", and Geometry proofs, you can look back and probably be glad it's all over. You have your Junior year and Senior year to look forward to, and the title of upperclassmen is yours. Now you are no longer a 'little' sophomore for the juniors and seniors to push around. Responsibility and leadership go hand in hand with the title upperclassmen. Take your work seriously. The grades from your Junior year count heavily when applying to colleges. Be good juniors. You'll never have your Junior year again. (You may retake some classes, but it just isn't the same as a whole junior year.) Don't wish the coming year away, for YOU are the class of 1978.

The class of 1977

To the Junior Class:

You're on top now. You've made it through the past couple of years, and now you're on top. Some of the things you've been through, you'd probably rather not remember, but there are a lot of things that will pass through your mind in the coming years.

One of the most important things to remember during your Senior year is that your grades come first, then the fun. The time is coming when all the silly tests you had in the past become the deciding factor in acceptance to college. Most of these things won't mean much now, but as your Senior year progresses, you will realize that they are true.

You have English Literature, American History, and maybe Psychology or Political Systems to wade through yet, but everything is easier if you relax and try to enjoy the new things that come your way.

We wish you the best of luck in your final year at Central, and we sincerely hope that you set an example for the seniors that take your place.

SENIORS

Section page from the REGISTER ANNUAL, Omaha High School, 1917

This is by far the hardest piece of copy to write. There are so many things to be said and no way to say them. Familiar doors are closing behind us, and new ones are opening, bidding us to cross the threshold. The memories that Central has left us with, the memories of state championships, of homecoming parades, memories of games and parties, the memories of the friends we've made, and last but not least, the memories of Central's own uniqueness will often fill our thoughts in the years to come.

The time we've spent at Central has been a time of growth, a time of learning to understand each other. It has been years that we have spent bettering ourselves. It has been a time of discovering the resourcefulness within ourselves, and it has been the discovery of new experiences that we have made happen.
