A RECORD

BREAKING GRID TURNOUT

Prospects for a Purple and White Championship Team Very Hopeful

FIVE VETERANS ARE BACK

A record breaking push started out the Purple and White athletics for the coming season when 175 men attended the big sponse to Coach Schmidt's call for football candidates.
George Benolken, a last year's grid letter man, gave the meeting a good send-

NOTED ENGLISHMAN VISITS CENTRAL.

Greatly Impressed by the American

Mr. Frank Bray, of Shepperton, Windy Mr. Frank Kenilworth England paid Central High School the honor of a visit last Wednesday morning, September 14. He is making a three months' tour of the United States and is immensely impressed by the large scale upon which we do things over here.
During the morning Mr. Bray visited as his guide. In the course of these as his guide. In the course of these visits he exclaimed over the lack of embarassment shown by the pupils while reciting. To him, he said, this was an extraordinary characteristic of the American student.
He also declared that the quietness of the halls filled him with awe, (we're glad he wasn't here lunch hour).
We hope that our English visitor enjoyhe will carry back to England with that favorable impression of our education a institution.

MONSTROUS MASS MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY MORNING

Student Association Campaign GivenEnthusiastic Send-off

FACULTY BEHIND TICKET SALE-100\% STRONG

The first mass meeting of the season was held Wednesday morning in the auditorium to boost the Student Activities Campaign which will start on the morning of Monday next.

Were you at the mass meeting? If not you missed an enjoyable half-hour which yielded one of the best mass meetings that Central High School students have ever witnessed. The auditorium was packed with students who were eager to hear what the programme wa to be for the coming year. Boundless enthusiasm was registered by all when Kenneth Baker, alumnus, led the entire assembly with cheer that almost shook the plastering from the stable walls of the old school. The band played peppy music that threw everyone into a responsive mood, so that when Kenneth led the cheers with his old undiminished enthusiasm everyone took part in fine spirit.

Mr. McMillan, who introduced all of the speakers that followed urged the students to accept the belief that the faculty is behind all of the activities and ready to back them to the limit. This was proven when he made the statement that all the faculty had pledged themselves to buy a Student Association Ticket.

Mr. Schmidt, the football coach, followed Mr. McMillan with a speech that rallied everyone present to the banner of the football team. Mr. Schmidt stated the football team. Mr. Schmidt stated that no team had been selected as yet, and that no team had been selected as yet, and that no one would know until October first. just what the line-up would be. He ade an urgent request that all the tudents support the sale of Student Association Tickets and in doing so back the team with the moral support that very team needs to make it a winner. The captain of the coming football team hom all the students know as "Squink Hoerner, urged everyone in the school to ane forward with all the support that team know that the student body is behind it. "Squink" suggested that the bying of Student Association Tickets would support the team morally as well as nancially. He put a good deal of stres ial support as well as moral backing ince materials cannot be supplied to the nembers of the team if there is no money ith which to buy this material. The Girrs Glee Club then sang a very presentation by than a group of High School girls.

The students of Central High School are the ones most vitally concerned in the welfare of the Register. It is needless to say that without the co-operation of the student body, the Register cannot exist. At the present time, most of the people seem to have either no interest in the matter, or are skeptical as to the outcome of the new plan for editing the school paper. The paper, however, belongs to every one of the students. It should be considered by them as one of the most important factors in school life. The Register is the oracle which proclaims the happenings from week to week, and from day to day. It is the trumpeter that sounds the call to rally round the banner of school spirit which is so badly needed here at Centra High.

The new Register will be unlike any other that has ever been published here in Central; but because of the fact that a deviation is made from the regular path, is it necessary that all should become weak-hearted and cry out that the undertaking cannot be a success no matter what the indications on every hand may promise? If weak hearts had been allowed to prevail when Columbus was search ing for a western route to India, America might never have bern ing ond and have lost have bet discovered, and look what the world would have lost. Around the corner may be things in store for the school paper that even those corner may be things in store for the school paper that even those who have inaugurated the new system have not even dreamed. It who have inaugurated the new system have not even dreamed. It is certain that if the supporters of the expedition become intimidated is certain that if the supporters of the expedition become intimidated by their own fears and by the skepticisms of others, failure will be the result. Although a staff has been selected whose work it is to see that the paper is edited, it is up to the remainder of the students to bear their share of the burden.

It is the hope of the staff that this paper will excel all contersporary publications in form and content, but this degree of perfecticn cannot be had without the proper co-operation of every one in the school. The intention is to make the paper one that is not full of only news and the common joke column, but brimming over with originality and the spice of school spirit that comes only with the deep interest of every one concerned. The ideas of all shall be considered. Do you think that the paper will be a success? Have ycu concrete facts to follow up your statements? Submit your ideas to the Register, the staff welcomes suggestions that will aid generously in making the school paper the best one in the land.

HAVE YOU?

The opportunity has now come for every student in the school o avail himself of the means whereby he may actually become an active member in the school. A chance is now offered to obtain one of the biggest bargains that Central High School has ever offered. How would you like to go to all of the football games, all of the basket ball games, every one of the debates, and all of the track meets held in Omaha? And how would every one of you like to have a copy of the Register to tuck under your arm every week? Would you like oo vote for the officers of the Student Association? Of course you would! Every red-blooded girl and boy in the school is anxious to have all of these things. But how do you get all of these privileges?

For two people to go to the picture show and have a little luncheon afterward it costs about two dollars. For two people to go to the show twice and finish the evening properly, the total expenditure is not less than four dollars. One person can go to the show about four times for three dollars. All that money is gone in wo or three days. But the school has come to your aid, boys and girls. Here is a chance for you to have entertainment nearly every day in the school year, and all this at a nominal cost. Every student in the school has the opportunity of purchasing a Student Association Ticket which will be the key to all of these rollicking good times that we have here in school

Buy your ticket as soon as they are on sale, and help boost their sale. Every student should avail himself of this great opportunity the like of which has never before been offered in Central High school. If you give up abcut two or three shows and eat a little ess candy, in a very short time you will have accumulated the three dollars necessary to buy a Student Association Ticket and wil become a real factor in school life. BUY IT NOW!

LEND A HAND

Since the Register is to be a school paper, let us make it so in practice as well as in name. Surely each subscriber has some idea that he would like to voice in boasting or criticising the paper. The staff will be more than pleased to receive any opinions concerning any matters of vital interest to the Register. If the matter discussed is of an important character, the school will read all about it in the succeeding edition of the paper. There is one thing, however, that will be required, that you write legibly and with sufficient space between the lines to allow corrections in diction and punctuation. Names are not required with these opinions, but the name will be printed if attached. We believe that this method will give the student body an opportunity to voice individual sentiment and will add to the general idea of co-operation throughout the school

Be sure to hand in all jokes that you may have, also any photographs that would be of interest to our subscribers. A box will be furnished for these contributions at the Register office. Until this is constructed, hand all material in to anyone in charge at the Register office.

PATRONIZE YOUR ADVERTISERS.

The student body, perhaps, thinks that the financial success of the Register depends entirely upon the subscription list. This is a mistake. The subscription money is returned to the subscribers in the appearance of the paper. The Register is printed on good paper. It contains pleasing cuts and art-work, and gives the subscribers weekly pleasure, fun, and a sense of belonging to the school. All this is the refund to the subscribers.

However, the financial success of a paper depends upon the ads A real paper cannot exist without ads. The business department is going to find it very hard to solicit ads; not only because of the change in publication, but also because of the attitude of the prospective advertisers. They do not see the benefit in advertising in the Register. They call their ads "contributions to the high school." It is up to the students of Central High to make them see the benefit in advertising in our paper. The only way to make them advertise is to read their ads and patronizs the advertisers. If this is done, the success of the Register is insured.

You want your paper to be a success, don't you? Well, then the only way for you to do is to show your caliber by reading the ads, and by patronizing the advertisers. Show your snap! Remember.

BOY! PAGE DIOGENES.
Truly Diogenes of old lived in the wrong era. Had he been at Central only the other day, he could have blown out his lantern and exclaimed with an air triumph, "Eureka! I have found him." You see, one of our beloved instructes es, while buying lunch checks, inadvertantly laid down fifteen whole dollars the form of two bills. What is more, she forgot to pick them up, and that fifteen dollars was important-it meant dinner that evening at least. But the lady didn't give up hope; after unsuccessully combing the building for the filthy lucre-which didn't seem so filthy by that time - she hied herself to the office and inquired. Lo and behold! It was there and since she had not expected to find it, the shock nearly proved too great. But after the telling of their pedigree and the establishing of the their pedigree and the ther ways, the strays were restored the fold with the information restored to the new men teachers had found them. ## DRILL begins.  Regiment Starts Year With Record En rollment-First Day-Monday.

With a record enrollment the Omaha High School Cadet Regiment began its 1921 year on September 12.
General orders issued on the ninth on Monday, September 12 cicording to the officers, this year's According the largest in the history of the school; no one of the six regular companies has less than one hundred men enrolled; and the band, which is under the guidance Mr. Cox, has a large enrollment also. Now that the companies are no longer handicapped by lack of space, neither the commandant, Mr. Gulgard, nor the regiment for the year 1921-22 will be a decided success.

THE CADET REGIMENT.

As you watch the High School Regiment march by with bristing rifle and flashing saber; as you see that moving mass of buish-gray and white swing past, and hear the thundering blare of the band and doesn't a feeling of pride swe of feet, Without doubt this splendid organization, the mainstay of our school, should be source of the greatest gratification to and every other student of Central High. Even among outsiders the regiment has a very fine reputation. Through its present high efficiency in every detail as well because of its admirable history it is the greatest credit to the school. Surely cadets would be an unworthy our school; therefore since this member ment is unusually large, the officers and non-coms have great ability, perfect obedience, fine character, splendid ality, and deep interest in their work; and the privates are for the most part dependable and absolutely obedient; let's boost our regiment, students, and help to make it the very best one that Central High School has ever produced in the entire history of the school.

The music department has grown conderably since last year, enrollment being 47 pupils.Miss Elsie Howe will act as an assistant to Mrs. Pitts, the head of the music department. Miss Howe is a graduate of the Drake Conservatory of Music, and is very well fitted for her task.

The department has just purchased ifty dollars worth of music for the girls. This music is the same as that which has been used by the Saint Cecilia Club, conducted by Victor Harris Nelson, and by the Rubenstein Club, both of which are rofessional clubs of New York City.

Nest year there will be a class in history f music. It is hoped that in time, the chool will have a music course that will be equal to that of any conservatory of music. Students may then major in music and save the time and money that is spent in attending a conservatory.

The senior glee club is doing finished work. This fall, they are planning to opera.
The junior glee clubs are studying harmony and conducting. After they have advanced in the study of harmony, some of their compositions may be give

Mr. Harriman Presents Valuable Collec-

Mr. N. H. Harriman of Omaha, on his departure for Washington, D. C., this summer, presented his private collection of metals to the Chemistry Department of Central High. This includes five hundred specimens and is valued at $$ 500$. Dr. Senter says that it is the most complete collection in the state, with the exception of that at the University of Nebraska. Mr. Harriman who was for over twenty years engineer of tests for the Union Pacific Railroad has left Omaha to be with the Bureau of Standards at Washington, D. C.
The students should heartily appreciate this generous gift and take advantage of this opportunity to see such an unusually fine collection. It is on display in the case opposite room 315 .

Now, there is, of course, a cause prompting every action. In this case, there are two. One is necessity. Yes, one must walk. So our parents say; for walking, you know, is the ideal exercise for the growing girl or boy. It raises them growing girl or boy. It raises them to a certain physical level. That walk of about two miles is essential to health as there is so much of the day spent in doors. The other motive for walking, that is, from our viewpoint, is nothing else than to take the chance of being offered a ride by some generous driver. Hence this action, as others, has its causes.

Truly, walking has its disadvantages. It's not pleasant to tramp, hurriedly through snow-drifts, the cold, wet, runny and to risk cracking your head and spirits precariously, on a stretch of unfriendly ice hidden by a snow-drift. Frozen fingers, carrying from two to six handsome school-books surmounted by a bulky lunch; and cold feet, are not incentives to the greatest happiness and comfort. Or, maybe, the snow is melted, having slushy, splashy pools along your way. And in the spring and fall, there are hot, uncomfortable days, not the kind to inspire a taste for walking. But in any inspire a taste for walking. But in any weather, any season, and, in fact, any weather, any season, and, in fact, any circumstance, there is the added discomfort of straining your neck to see what hope there is for a ride, and then of turning it suddenly back as a machine comes near enough for the occupants to see your uncontrolled eagerness. These conditions add no joy to the walk But walking has its advantages, too. Everyone will admit, that is, if he hasn't grown up entirely, that it's great sport there's time. And often there is; and frequently, it is soft, dry snow, too, Also in the spring and fall, there are numerous cool days. Nature is so beautiful and wonderful in the early morning! How invigorating is that walk. How excellent a preparation it is for the day's work. Finally, there is the companionship of those few minutes, so full of laughter, confidences, and joy. Indeed, it is not all drudgery.
is much to re bard to being picked up, there is much to be considered. In fact, there are five important directions to be folare five important directions to be folpossible, walking with you; have no one, if it can be so arranged, walking behind you (to have them in front is all right because each machine reaches you first); have a definite knowledge of the time each person, who has picked you up, starts; exhibit a seeming indifference to each passing machine; and last; appreciate enthusiastically the compassion or interest shown by any person giving you a ride. There are many disappointments while carrying out these instructions. Machines with a chauffeur riding in luxury alone, machines with school-mates wearing superior air, a limousine selfishly enjoyed by two men, Fords, trucks, and, in fact, almost every known vehicle will sail unconcernedly by. But worse, on far worse, than the scorn of these is the jubilant triumph of a party who has by some means or other succeeded in walking behind you, as they blissfully whirl ward, while you trudge steadily anThus, it is evident that obtaining a ride is an art.
So walking to school with its duties and its pleasures, with its advantages and disadvantages, and with its artistic view-point, is not an event of school life to be ignored.

NEW SUBJECTS OFFERED.

Central High School offers a wider selection of subjects each year. The new subjects are Expression III., Girl's Senior Glee Club, Harmony and Journalism, The subjects offered for the first time last year, have been so enthusiastically received by the students that more classe have been formed to meet the demand.
There are now two Senior Glee Clubs and two Junior Glee Clubs. The seniors aspire to great things this year, due to the urging of Mrs. Pitts, head of the department of music, and to the commendation of the faculty, the subject of Harmony has been introduced in the school. The enrollment has been excellent for a new subject of this nature, and it is hoped that con growth of the Central, although it has been succesfful in a great many other schools. The new journalism class will manage the Register for the entire year. The second semester of this year a Journalism I. class will be formed for the purpose of studying newspaper technique. This class will continue into a Journalism II. class in the Thereafter, the same plan will be followed that is, the Journalism classes take up the theoretical work, while the Journalism II. classes manage the Register.

Twas to a breathless audience The poet told his tale;
Their eyes were wide, their Their eyes were wide, their hair upright
Their very lips were pale.
، 'Twas midnight-I was left alone, My people all were gone.
The candles burned unsteadily, The candles burned unsteadily,
And flickered out-anon And flickered out-ano
The shadows crept with stealthy step, Ane hearth fire near was out; Encircled me about.
"I tried to doze, but shutters creaked, And mournful winds did howl;
When soon I saw two burning dish When soon I saw two burnin

W SPORTS 呕

Central＇s chances for a championship football team this year are bright．Five letter men are back and a wealth of new material is on hand．The old men are Captain＂Squink＂Hoerner，Center； Ledrue Galloway and＂Cupid＂Stribling， tackles；and＂Bill＂Clarke and Thorval Berg，ends．A heavy line will be a big feature of the eleven this season with such men as Meyers，Stribling，Hoerner， Pollard and Jeffries out for positions． The backfield is the section of the squad where most of the uncertainty exists at the present time．

Our first game of the year will be played against the Council Bluffs crew on the first of the month．Right here is where the Parple gridmen should annex their first tally．Do you remember last year＇s first tally．Do you remember last year＇s fracas？Well，－we ought to be able to duplicate that 38 to 0 score again this year．

We have a suggestion to send to Mr． Briggs，the author of＂When a Feller Needs a Friend．＂Imagine a center on an opposing team looking into the fearful faces of Galloway，Hoerner，and Pollard， just at the moment or a center place else．

It＇s funny how these last year＇s men can＇t keep away from the old stamping grounds，the football practicing on the campus．Every day finds one or more of them looking longingly at the mass of humanity piled up in the middle of the field．Several have donned the old uni－ forms and are helping to coach the young－ sters．

BITS ON BOOKS．
A recent inventory of the books in our library indicates that a number of students have been so hasty，so careless，so mis－ understanding of the first principles of good citizenship，loyalty，and fair play as to remove books from the library with the few simple rules which are so necessary to the well－being of our library． Remember，Freshmen，and all upper classmen who need to be reminded of the importance of this fact，any book in the library is at your disposal provided you CHARGE IT！
Due to the already crowded condition of the books on the shelves of our library， it will be necessary to install new shelves to accomodate recently issued volumes which are expected to arrive soon． Circulars on＂How to Study in the Library may be had from Miss Shields by request．

LUNCH ROOM CROWDED BEYOND CAPACITY．

Student Control Manages Crowds．
Lunch room problems and difficulties are again brought to our attention as the school year opens． Central High needs a larger cafeteria． This fact is indisputable．The crowds resemble a mob，and it is almost impossible resemble a mob，ans to a a equilibruim．One vast and lofty Senior entangled his coat tails in a freshman＇s cocoa．
Who has not felt the gentle trickle of soup down his back，or stuck his elbow in the salad？While，as for chairs！－they simply aren＇t．With the sweet little custom that＇s prevalent of reserving chairs for＂the gang，＂most of the students find that they either have to wait patiently or that they either have to wait patiently or eat while standing．The North Side eat while standing．The North Side Cafeteria ameliorates matters somewhat， but this is also crowded beyond capacity． However，a new cafeteria is not yet in sight；so it is up to the students to do the best they can with existing conditions．In the first place，all should remember that they are not at home and should use all courtesy and consideration possible．By this simple means a good deal of the con－ this simple means a good deal of the con－ fusion and rush could be avoided．The lunch period is quite long enough． Next，and this is especially applicable Next，and this＇is especially applicable to the girls，don＇t consider yourself more privileged than your neighbor and stalk up to the head of the line．Take your own place and wait patiently．＂All things come to him who waits＂－even luncheon． come to him who waits＂－even luncheon． Slipping into place beside a friend may be lovely for one person but it peeves the vast majority mightily．Girls are the chiel offenders in reserving chairs．This school is a democratic institution and first come should be first served． Miss Carter，the new manager of the cafeteria is doing all she can to relieve crowded conditions，and the able Student Control duet，Eleanor Pickard and Dorothy Guckert，are managing splendid ly；but they all need the co－operation of the Student body．The lunch room gives an excellent opportunity in which to play school spirit and consideration

STUDENT CONTROL REORGANIZED．
New Members Selected．
The 1920－21 members of the Student Control met September 9 to consider the plans offered by Mr．Bexton for the future activities of this organization．
The Student Control was first organized at Central High School last year．Those wearing S．C．arm－bands were most successful in accomplishing their duty of general supervision over the students when out of classes． All vacancies to order and opened by the reading of the constitution and by－laws of the society by Mr．Nelson．According to announce ment of the president，the unwritten law that any member of the Lincoln Debating Society could not be permitted to hold membership in any other debating society in Central High School was recognized The organization of the Inter－class De bating Society of which several L．D．S men have become members，presents one of the problems discussed at the meeting In a short address before th meeting Mr．Schwartz made several suggestions for copying the problems arising from the conflicting of the dates of the L．D．S．meetings with those of the meetings of other debating societies in he school and the conflicting of the date ever，nothing definite has been decided upon concerning this matter．

A fair attendance turned out for the nitial session of the season．Several new members were taken into the society
Members of the executive body expressed the hope that the membership would soon number sixty men，the maximum as pro－ vided by the constitution of the organiza

＂Know Your Cleaner＂

D0 YOU KNOW what kind of a plant your clothes go into when they are taken from the nice looking auto that calls at your door．

If you do not know your cleaner it might be well to get acquainted with him，for out of more than one hundred who hold themselves out to be cleaners there are less then ten modern up－to－date plants and less than twenty plants of any description．
