

Sergeant Walter Key Is Appointed New Regimental Lieutenant-Colonel Victor Hackler Will Head Register Staff for Coming Year

APPOINTMENTS FOR NEXT SEMESTER REGISTER MADE

Kate Goldstein New Business Manager; Vic Hackler Is Editor-in-Chief.

CREATE OFFICES FOR TWO OF LAST STAFF

A complete shake-up in Fate's box has rearranged most of the positions on the Register Staff.

Kate Goldstein was given the position of business manager as a reward for getting the greatest number of ads and collecting the greatest number of debts.

The huge task of advertising manager was given to Francis Finch, who was a close second in the competition but whose outside employment kept him from spending a sufficient amount of time on this job.

The task of untying all the petty details of circulation was entrusted to Archie Baley on account of his good nature and persistency.

The commercial expert, another job created to fit its executor, is a title bestowed on Alice Fay.

The editorial department will be headed by Vic Hackler whose genial personality and whose ability to make people like him and also to make them work for him proves that he is the right man for the job.

The position of associate editor was presented to Elice Holovitch whose executive ability has made her a great asset to the new staff.

Dorothy Sherman, the news editor, on account of her boundless enthusiasm and her splendid executive ability will keep things going.

The editorial assistant, Irving Changstrom, was chosen because of his good judgment and clear thinking.

Mary Fischer and William Lampman, the new managing editors, being expert typists, are perhaps best fitted for this difficult place.

Helena Gifford, besides being the official poet, is to be interviewer for Who's Who.

The Harmony II classes have recently completed some original compositions which Mrs. Pitts says are all especially good.

A lullaby by Bernice Henry was well-written and carried out the idea of the title well.

Alice Kiewit's Spanish Dance was particularly good.

HACKLER IS NEXT REGISTER EDITOR

VIC HACKLER.

Vic Hackler, the editor-in-chief of the next year's Register, has lived in Omaha less than a year.

OMAHA WORLD-HERALD TO ANNOUNCE WINNERS

To Give Eight Scholarships to Graduates of the Four High Schools.

Not only does June 16 mark commencement exercises and the close of the school year, but also the time when the eight winners of the World-Herald scholarships will be announced.

The sixteen specifications follow: 1—Length of time in high school. The consensus of opinion seems to be that it should not be required that the candidate should be in high school for the full four years' course, but that no candidate should be considered who has not spent at least the last two years of his high school course in Omaha high schools.

2—No student shall be considered as a candidate for this scholarship unless his high school record places him in the upper quarter of his class. (a) mentality, (b) industry, (c) persistency.

3—General appearance. What impression does the candidate make on those who are not acquainted with him?

4—Address. What is the first impression made by candidate on presenting himself for an interview?

5—Recreational habits. What use does the candidate make of his leisure time?

6—What sort of a record has the candidate had during his school life insofar as the committee is able to ascertain?

7—Leadership. Has the candidate a record for leadership in the right direction?

8—Social characteristics. No candidate should be considered who, in the judgment of the committee, has the reputation of being non-social.

9—Poise. No candidate should be considered who is not judicially minded.

CADETS HOLD SECOND ANNUAL FIELD MEET

Marrow and Maritsas Tie for Highest Individual Honors With 18 Points.

BAND WINS FIRST PLACE

The regiment held its second annual field day at Valley, Tuesday, under the direction of Hobb Turner, former Central track star.

The events were running high jump, broad jump, 100 yard dash, chinling, shoe race, company relay (ten men), company obstacle race, company tug of war.

Marrow and Maritsas, both of the staff and band, were the highest individual point getters, each copping 18.

The next winners were Moore, Company D, 5 points for the seniors; Holdredge, Company F, 12 points for the junior; Fetterman, Company A, 10 points for the sophomores; and Ebener, Band, 8 points for the freshmen.

WINDSTORM CAUSES DAMAGE AT MASTERS

Blows Over Y. M. C. A. Cook and Concession Tents—Routine Soon Restored in Camp.

Camp Masters, official quarters of O. H. C. cadets for the last ten days, weathered a rain and wind storm on Monday night, June 12.

The Y. M. C. A. concession and cook tents, three company tents and three officers' tents went down, but the rest of the camp withstood the storm very well.

By noon of Tuesday the camp was in running order, and guard mount, regimental parade, personal inspection, and tent and quarters inspection were held during the afternoon.

Provost Marshal Fred Hill says that the camp stood the attack as well as could be expected, the three large tents being unscathed, and the other tents not being properly cared for by the men themselves.

The damage to the concession tent, according to Eugene Graw, the manager, amounts to about $100. The damage to the Y was hardly noticeable, while the only real accident to the cook tent was the extinguishing of the fire.

Captain Beymer, the officer of the day, took in the guards soon after the rain started, and guards were not regularly posted until eight o'clock Tuesday morning.

Some little confusion resulted from the fact that Mr. Gulgard, Mr. McMillan, Mr. Hill, Mr. Schmidt, Colonel Johnston and Captain Leussler were in Valley attending a Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Major Dimond, assisted by Nicholas Amos, solved a pressing problem by bringing electric irons from Omaha and opening a first-class suit pressing shop.

VERNA, THE VILLAGE VAMP, HEARTBREAKER

An extremely enchanting young lady, whom the cadets fondly dub Verna, the village vamp, has broken hearts galore.

Three Teachers Represent Central Faculty at Miss Paxson's Funeral

The funeral of Miss Susan Paxson, Central's well-loved Latin teacher, was held Saturday afternoon, June 10, at her old home in Manchester, Ia.

Miss Paxson had been a teacher in Central High school since 1897 and became head of the Latin department in 1917. She was well-loved by all the students, and her room 111 was always thronged.

CENTRAL HIGH TO HAVE FIRST FREE SUMMER SCHOOL

Over Five Hundred Students Enrolled for Eight Weeks' Vacation Course.

PART OF REGULAR STAFF TO COMPOSE FACULTY

Central High school with its first offer of free summer school is now an all-year-round school. This means that besides the regular two semesters' work an additional eight weeks' session will be added.

There will be classes in English I, II, III; algebra I, II, III; geometry I, II; trigonometry; European history; American history I, II; economics; civics; expression I, II; latin; French I, II; mechanical drawing I, II; modern problems, and typewriting I, II.

Attendance and the same rules that now govern the school will apply to the daily grades will count one-half the final examinations on August 11, one-half. All those who expect to attend summer school will meet for general instructions and enrollment on Monday morning at 7:30 in the auditorium.

Commencement is here—the acme of four years' work; the day of joy, yet with a touch of sorrow; that proud moment when, on a flower-decked platform, the long line of subdued youths in gray caps and gowns receives the roll of paper that is so significant.

Superintendent J. H. Beveridge will preside. The invocation will be given by Dean Stephen E. McGinley of the Trinity Cathedral.

Dr. Harry M. Gage, president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Ia., will give the main address of the evening.

Dr. Jenks says that members in the senior class have done well, and that is the reason they are graduating. A diploma is not sufficient; one must continue to go forward.

Jane Janak and Letha Gant Battle for Tennis Title. A stiff battle, which is in store for the 1922 champ of the Girls' Tennis tournament, will be fought between Letha Gant and Jane Janak on the Bemis park court today.

Mary Ann Mothers Infant Bob Ingalls. The Central high cadets are beginning to think that Fremont is some place.

More Alumni Honored. In addition to the names listed in the last Register, the following alumni have distinguished themselves at school.

"ZIP" HILL GIVES OUT BALL LETTERS. Coach Hill presented baseball letters this morning to the following diamond men: Sautter, Way, Redgewick, Holmes, Konecky, Hughes, Stallmaster, Hanson and Stribling.

Calendar. FRIDAY, JUNE 16.—Cards. Senior rehearsal, City auditorium, 8:30 p. m.

STUDENT CLUB CAMP IS OPEN TO ALL HI GIRLS. Reduced Rates From June 19 to June 24 at Camp Brewster.

GAY PLANS IN PROGRESS. The Student Club camp will be held from June 19 to June 24 at Camp Brewster.

Y. M. C. A. TENT POPULAR PLACE IN CAMP MASTERS

The Y. M. C. A. tent has been a popular place in Camp Masters and every Cadet has taken advantage of the facilities placed at their disposal by the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A.

Five thousand sheets of writing paper, Hi-Y club letter heads, 3,500 envelopes, 350 boxes of mentholatum, 200 tubes of Peppodent tooth paste and 150 new testaments were given to cadets free by the "Y" during the ten days of the camp.

Taking care of the cadets mail has been no small task for an average of eight large mail sacks full of mail has been received each day, to be sorted and distributed to the 400 cadets. This has been done by the Y. M. C. A. force, also the outgoing mail has been taken care of in the same way.

A large table of college and university annuals has been read until the annuals were literally worn out and hundreds of magazines have been provided for the boys to read during their leisure hours.

A moving picture entertainment has been put on every night of camp with comedies and one reel animal pictures and practically every cadet has enjoyed these shows at the close of the day's work.

CENTRAL CLUB GIRLS GO TO LAKE OKOBOJI

Almedia Hamilton, Connie Paide, Helena Gifford and Kate Goldstein will represent Central High Student club at Lake Okoboji. It is here that the National Y. M. C. A. conference is held annually.

EXAMS FOR COLLEGE WILL START MONDAY

The College Board Examinations will begin Monday, June 19, with mathematics and will continue during the remainder of the week.

Till We Meet Again
The Register wishes you a happy and successful vacation. The student body has worked hard all winter. It is entitled to a rest.

Evolution
Contrary to the thoughts of William J. Bryan, we seniors have our own ideas on the subject of evolution. Our own, now beautiful campus is our evidence.

It's Hot
Isn't it odd how many people in this school feel it their duty to announce that it's hot? As though the rest of us didn't know.

Farewell to the Old Cartoons
What is more pitiful looking or displeasing to the eye than the worn old cartoons on our blackboards? Week after week the same 'Mass-meeting April 5' greets our weary eyes.

Forget It
School will soon be over. About the time that our teachers give us our report cards, we begin to think how much more we might have accomplished. The 'D' that came to us without any effort upon our part will require another semester to make up.

Gossip
Adrian Westberg has a sign, 'Do not use these stairs' on the radiator in her office to keep prospective suicides from attempting to jump out of the window.

GIVE CERTIFICATES TO CADETS FRIDAY
As is customary, the cadet certificates will be awarded at the commencement exercises which will be held this year at the municipal Auditorium, Friday, June 16, at 8 p. m.

Who's Who
LEON O. SMITH.
If you wish to know your mental capacity, you should go to Leon O. Smith, one of the assistant superintendents, for it is he who arranges all the standard intelligence tests.

CAMP CHATTER.
Captain Edson Smith's tent blew over the other night. The next morning an innocent freshman asked him why he took his tent down.

Who's Who
LEON O. SMITH.
Mr. Smith is a graduate of the Iowa State University and has a bachelor of arts and a master of arts degree from that institution.

CAMP CHATTER.
A thriving beauty parlor is another of the camp establishments. Ralph Jeffries was given an egg shampoo.

J. L. MCCRORY.
The job of assistant superintendent hasn't as much glamour as that of the real superintendent, yet James L. McCrory is busy always.

J. L. MCCRORY.
from Iowa City and his work is all completed with the exception of his thesis to get a Ph. D.

J. L. MCCRORY.
Mr. McCrory is active in all kinds of work. He was on the Detroit survey and assisted Dr. Leonard P. Ayres in his research work during the war.

At Lunch.
Dick Lovaid: Will you have a little shrimp? Elinor Calvert: Oh, Dick, this is so sudden!

When It's Hot.
A fella feels so friendly when it's hot! Everybody's cross. People like to boss. A fella's at a loss when it's hot!

News.
Kerosene Gasoleaned against the lamp post and Alcoholized him away, and he didn't Benzine either.

BASEBALL.
The Camp Masters' baseball team, which beat the Valley team last year, failed to repeat the victory on Saturday, June 11, losing to the town veterans by a score of 10 to 7.
