Boys Plan a "Dad's Night" For Second Special Meeting on February 22

The first of the special meetings of the Senior Hi-Y following the International Exam will be the most attractive Hi-Y meeting ever put on in Omaha, according to the officers of the Club, and will be known as Ladies, Night. The members will bring their girl friends to this meeting, and the teachers who have taught the class will also come with their wives or lady friends. The program will consist of the dinner with special music during the dinner, which will be served by members of the Junior Hi-Y Club.

Following dinner an hour's musical program has been arranged which will be followed by an address by L. C. Oberlies of Lincoln, the favorite Hi-Y speaker of the state.

Ralph Barris and Robert Weller are the committee in charge of these special programs and have some of the best musical talent in Omaha lined up for this meeting. There will be special decorations, and favors, which will make the evening one long to be remembered by both boys and girls.

Special tickets will be sold for this meeting which will admit both the Hi-Y member and his girl friend. No "stags" will be permitted on this evening. A date bureau will be established to secure dates for bashful members who wish to attend.

The second of the special meetings planned by the membership committee will be "Dad's Night" to be held on Friday evening, February 22. Every member is expected to bring his father. Ralpa Davis and Doris Prohaska Only Two Chosen For National Honor Society From Forty Members in Mid Year Senior Class

Doris Prohaska

Girl's Rate High in Scholarship, Leadership, Initiative, Character, Service

DEAN INTRODUCES GIRLS

Ralpa Davis and Doris Prohaska have been chosen for the National Honor Society from the mid year senior class consisting of forty students. This is the first time that two people have ever been chosen from a mid year class. These two girls were judged on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, initiative, and service to the school.

Activities are Represented

The school's activities are well represented by these girls. Ralpa is Editor of the January "O'Book," Managing Editor of "The Weekly Register" a member of the Student Control and Pep Club and took part in the pageant last fall. In her Junior year, she was a member of the Lininger Travel Club, and took part in "The Rose and the Ring"; As a freshman, she was a member of the gym exhibition and the girls' camp. Doris is Vice-President of the January Senior class, a member of the Student Club, took part in the declamatory contest, and was a Student Club Member.

Girls Tell Sensations

When questioned as to her sensations on being chosen, Doris said, "I was surely surprised. The knowledge that I was chosen sent a pleasant tingling up my spine. I appreciate the honor for it is the highest that Central High School can bestow, and I shall attempt to live up to it." Ralpa replied, "I am very happy. The more qualifications Miss Towne told the audience, the less hope I had. I shall attempt to stand by the standard that I have set."

Miss Towne, in introducing the girls at the mass meeting last Friday, described a cultured person as one who can distinguish the important from the trivial. "May you girls in the future be able to do this," was her parting admonition.

MRS. MASTERS WINS WOMAN'S CLUB PRIZE

Mrs. Helen Geneva Masters, wife of Principal Masters, received the first prize of thirty dollars in the drama selection of the Women's Press Club Contest. Eudora Jones and Charlotte Root, Central seniors and members of the Register staff, received honorable mention in the poetry division.

Prize Won a Year Ago

Mrs. Masters' contribution, a one-act play entitled "The King of Culture," is not her first winning manuscript in Press Club contests. Last year, her story, "Nancy Gault's Daughter," received first place in the short story division. The story was sold to Munsey's Magazine, and appeared in the December issue.

Neihardt Commends Poems

"Token," a sonnet by Mrs. Masters, and "Autumn Sunset" and "Dawning Day," the poems submitted to the contest by Eudora Jones and Charlotte Root, respectively, were three of nine poems in the contest which J. G. Neihardt, Nebraska's poet laureate, declared to be worthy of special mention. Altogether, over a hundred poems were submitted.

MISS TOWNE PLANS FOR FRESHMEN GIRLS

Miss Towne, in the capacity of dean of girls, plans to meet all the Freshman girls, who will enter Central in February. She will talk to them in small groups and urge them to come to her with their difficulties, and make them feel that she has a personal interest in their progress in school.

Mid-year Seniors Entertain For Artist Appearing in "Twelfth Night"

The January senior class honored Henry Lawrence Southwick, president of the Boston College of Oratory who presented "Twelfth Night," on the evening of January 11, at a tea Friday afternoon in Room 445.

Mr. Reed, president of the school board, and Mrs. Reed, Superintendent Beveridge and Mrs. Beveridge and Miss Belle Ryan were among those who came to meet Mr. Southwick. Many members of the faculty called, and all of the January class and their sponsors, Miss West, Miss Williams, and Mr. Chatelain were present.

The big gym was hung with grey curtains and ceiling with purple and white streamers. Rugs, ferns, flowers and statuary transformed it into a very acceptable drawing room. A part of the orchestra, played soft music behind the curtains.

The senior girls served cake and ice cream to all the guests.

Wilbur Jones Chosen to Head Class; Verne Reynolds is Vice-President

Wilbur Jones, generally known as "Missouri," was elected president; Verne Reynolds, vice-president; and Helen Butler, secretary and treasurer of the Sophomore Class at their election last Wednesday afternoon. Four teachers, Miss Burns, Miss Anderberry, Miss Bridenbaugh, and Mr. Woolery were chosen as class sponsors! The sophomore president and vice-president are well known in the school both as athletes and as live boosters for Central and for the Class of '26.

Jones Is Letter Man

"Missouri" Jones, the new president, won his letter in track last spring, when he proved himself valuable as a hundred yard dash man. This fall, he was reserve quarter-back on the first football team, and took part in several of the games. He is now on the sophomore basketball team. In addition to his athletic activities, Jones is vice-president of the Junior Hi-Y.

Reynolds Also An Athlete

Vice-president Verne Reynolds plays on the reserve basketball team, and was on the freshman class team a year ago. He played baseball with the reserves last spring, and is a member of the Boys' Senior Glee Club.

Verne states that it feels "pretty keen" to be vice-president, and is determined to help put his class on the map.

Helen Butler is Secretary-Treasurer Helen Butler, although she was not as yet participated in any particular activity, is a peppy and popular girl, and hopes to help make her class the best in Central.

BOOSTS TECH GAME WITH MASS MEETING

En masse Central turned out to the mass meeting Friday, January 11, with all the old spirit and pep to start off the basketball game on the following day with Tech. Songs, yells, talks, introductions, a violin solo, and an up-to-the-minute orchestra followed in quick succession. Miss Towne presented the January Honor Society members, Ralpa Davis and Doris Prohaska.

Music Appreciated

A most enthusiastically received number on the program was the orchestra selections by the "Omahans." Archie Bailey, an old friend, rendered two violin selections, "Serenade Espagnole," and "Dance of the Sylphs."

Mr. Weston and Mr. Burkenroad Talk Mr. Weston, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., stressed the necessity of fighting spirit. Mr. Leslie L. Burkenroad of the Burbon and Company, McCory Building, expressed the idea that loyalty was a fine quality, and that basketball is a wonderful opportunity to show that loyalty. Mr. Burkenroad is a big man in Central's basketball history.

HENRY L. SOUTHWICK INTERPRETS COMEDY OF TWELFTH NIGHT

Interpretations of Different Characters are well Received

MALVOLIO TAKES WELL

Southwick Brought by Efforts of January Senior Class

"To assimilate art one must be surrounded by it," declared Henry L. Southwick, president of the Boston School of Oratory.

"Any training in expression and dramatic art is very valuable," said Mr. Southwick, who read Shakespeare's comedy "Twelfth Night" to a full house at the High School auditorium Friday night, January 11.

Mr. Southwick Interprets Play

Mr. Southwick divided the five acts of the play into three parts. He briefly compared "Twelfth Night with the well known "As You Like It," and gave a brief resume of the plot of the former.

Mr. Southwick's interpretation of Malvolio in the idiotic scene in which he vaunts his yellow stockings and cross garters convulsed the audience. Each character of the play was portrayed in a lifelike, exact, and humorous manner. No phrase of the intricate Shakespeare failed to be interpreted. The play was read as no other excepting President Southwick could read it.

Tour of England Planned

Mr. Southwick and his wife, Jessie Eldridge Southwick are planning to conduct a tour of England and the continent from June 21 until September 15. Mr. Southwick has prepared a monograph, England as a Background, for English Literature, which the fifteen students who will accompany him will study.

Mr. Southwick Has Personality

Mr. Southwick served in every capacity but that of typesetter on the Boston Herald for seven years. He is of distinguished appearance, tall and straight, with heavy white hair and a kindly face lined only by the little wrinkles which come from smiling much.

The January Seniors, with Frances Wilson as chairman of the Entertainment committee, arranged for the presentation of "Twelfth Night."

MRS. E. S. BAUGNESS LEAVES CENTRAL SOON

Mrs. Ethel Strasser Baugness, English instructor at Central for the last four years, will leave at the end of this semester for her home in Detroit, Michigan.

While she has been teaching at Central, her husband has been specializing in children's diseases in Detroit. Now that her husband is practicing, she is going home to be "a lady of leisure" as she expresses it. However, she may attend some university or teach later.

Mrs. Baugness, in speaking of her resignation, said, "I hate to leave Central. Both teachers and students have co-operated wonderfully."

CENTRAL'S FIRST MOVIE SHOWS ON JANUARY 29

The first film of Central's Moving Picture Corporation, which is to be shown at Central Tuesday, January 29, will be decided upon by the Committee on Films at a private showing this afternoon. The committee consists of Helen Moore, Melba Burke, and Robert Bowser.

The moving picture machine obtained from the Board of Education is now installed, and committees in charge of the various branches of the enterprise have been appointed. Hawthorne Arey is Business Manager; Harold Martin, Publicity Manager; and Theodore Wells, House Manager. In addition to the motion picture, vaudeville acts will also be presented.

MASS MEETINGS

One of the home rooms sent in several good suggestions for the improvement of mass meetings in our auditorium. The cheering gets the brunt of most of the complaints. Our cheering is not what it should be, yet we would not place the blame on the cheer leaders, but on the student body. We know the yells perfectly, yet we don't use them to advantage. Central should have small mass meetings each day during the week of a big game at which all the students could get together and practise yells until they had them rhythmically perfect. We need practise and also the co-operation of every student. The pupils who don't yell are the slackers who complain when we lose and who stop cheering when the other score rolls up.

And the speakers; some are very good, others trite. Is it because they have not had a chance to prepare? When the members of the teams or any other students are called on to talk without preparation, it is no wonder that they all say the same thing. It is not an easy thing to speak before an auditorium packed with your own friends and to say something witty and original. The speakers should be notified days ahead. More carefully planned meetings are needed.

Of course, the auditorium is small, and many are turned away at every meeting. There is a certain psychology in the fact that if one has been left out twice in succession, he doesn't want to try a third time. There ought to be two shifts, one in the morning, the other at noon or could it be possible to have two mass meetings at the same time, instead of one?

That the numbers on the program ought to be run through without any long waits between is one of the complaints, and another, that the curtain should remain up during the whole of the mass meeting.

Every student enjoys mass meetings and would not like to have them abolished, but if we could have better cheering, better speaking, and more interesting programs, our victories would be more frequent.

FACULTY TAKE NOTICE

A suggestion has been made that the faculty from an organization to foster school spirit. Those who are willing to aid in boosting school patriotism and in spreading it through the student body are earnestly requested to attend a meeting for this purpose which will be held Thursday, January 17, at 3 o'clock in Room 111. If possible have a plan to offer but do not stay away if you are willing to help the rest put some other plan across.

School spirit is as essential to good school life as patriotism is to good national life. As patriotism flames brighter in times of stress and conflict, so does school spirit show in times of contest. Neither school spirit nor patriotism can be achieved without effort. There is a tendency prevalent to pass the buck and offer averse criticism in our school. It is not an indication of great ambition or intelligence to tear things to pieces. People who are constructive are too busy to do much knocking. Nothing can start except at a beginning. We do not start the kitchen stove with a house afire but use a match. It is even necessary to give the tiny spark opportunity and care in order to accomplish our aim.

TO THE NEW REGISTER STAFF

It is with mixed regret and pleasure that we of the Register staff publish our last edition of this paper. For it is with regret that we give up our positions which we have occupied for seemingly such a short time and with pleasure that we yield positions to those who we know are so well qualified to occupy them.

We bequeath to our successors the bad typewriters along with the good, the hard assignments and the easy, our troubles and our joys, and the pictures on the wall above the sport editor's desk. All the privileges and the hardships of membership on the Register staff we hand over to them cheerfully, as gifts should be given. But above all, they possess the opportunity of being the chosen few who speak for the school, the pleasure in doing something for the school.

It seems that among some of the students of the school there still exists the idea that the Register is a sort of a lark, or merely an honor, but it is a great deal different from that. Whatever is done by the Register, as by any school organization, brings no honor to those who do it, but merely to the school, and it is for that that the members of the staff work, in the knowledge that they are doing something really of value to Central. It is this that we are sorry to leave, even though we are glad in the knowledge that our successors will accomplish what we have attempted to do and make the Register what previous staffs have attempted to make of it.

Best Wishes for the New Year.

TWENTY-THREE YEAR OLD BEE APPEARS

Old Copy of Omaha Paper Shows Changes Wrought In Quarter of Century

The attainment of twenty-three years of age is not generally accompanied by a faded and decrepit aspect. A newspaper is an exception, however. Like the Albatross wailing ghostly for its tale to be told, the Sunday edition of The Omaha Bee for August 4, 1901, made its appearance in The Register office. Withered and brown, its twenty conservative pages cracked dryly.

On the first page Berlin's affairs occupied three short news articles. No one then guessed how soon belching fire from there would scorch whole papers. As the news was then, the kaiser denounced spiritualism as a "mystic error" to good soldiers and subjects. Another article relates the postponement of his trip to Hamburg because of the illness of the Dowager Empress Frederick. Also, Berlin's Drs. Bersch and Snering announced a five and one-half mile ascension by balloon, claimed to be the highest possible to man.

The social columns were chatty; the number of patent medicine advertisements overwhelming. Bennett's, now Burgess-Nash's, announced a soap sale at 1c per bar; organ sales occupied the position of today's saxophone adds. "What a change in twenty-three years," sighs the ancient reporter for the Albatross.

COPY OF CARTOON GIFT TO SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

A note of appreciation has been received from Mr. Masters for the framed reproduction of the famous cartoon, "Indian Summer," presented him by Miss Angood's Advance Design classes.

The actual drawing of this piece of work was done by Katherine Sothorn and Dean Starrett; the rest of the class contributed money for the framing of the picture.

The picture is at Mr. Masters' home now, but will be brought to school soon, where it will hang in the office.

CENTRAL REGISTER NOT IN '23 PRESS CONTEST

Due to the fact that copies of the Register did not reach the University of Wisconsin for the Central Interscholastic Press Association Contest, it was not judged in the contest this year. Twenty-three other high school newspapers failed to reach Madison.

Five papers chosen as the best in the United States were the Messenger, Wichita, Kansas; North Central News, Spokane, Washington; West High Weekly, Minneapolis, Minnesota; The Manulite, Kansas City, Missouri; and the Senn High School News, Chicago. Two hundred and thirty-eight newspapers were entered in the contest.

KEEN-KEY-KLICKERS HOLD INITIATION

If you woke up in the night thirsty, what would you do? Why are the Western prairies flat? When is a doctor most annoyed? These are some of the questions the Keen-Key-Klickers, Central's Type Club, had to answer at the initiation, Tuesday, December 18. Alice Hollander won the prize—a banjo that played "do me sol do" when she turned a crank.

Richard Cole was chairman of the initiation. Edward Albert, the Club's president won the other prizes for his quickness of wit. With ice-cream, cookies, and the remains of the marshmallows, used in the initiation, the Keen-Key-Klickers were consoled for the throes of initiation.

SENDS NEW YEAR NOTE TO CENTRAL PRINCIPAL

"The kindest regards to all my former teachers in Central High, and best wishes to you all for a most happy New Year," so wrote Sam Samuelson, '21, who is studying engineering at the Boston School of Technology, to Mr. Masters.

Mr. Samuelson was a six "A" student at Central. He was a member of the National Honor Society. He received a scholarship award for the present year at the Boston School of Technology where he is a junior.

MATH CLUB DISCUSSES THE EINSTEIN THEORY

Discussions on the early history of mathematics and on the Einstein theory of relativity formed the program given at the meeting of the Mathematics Society Friday, January 11.

The histories of Greek and Roman mathematics were given by Elizabeth Bell and Irene Goosman, respectively, and Sam Guiffreda spoke on the Einstein theory.

FORMER GRADUATE OF CENTRAL DIES

Virginia Pearce was best all-Round Girl in the Class of '22

The funeral services of Virginia Pearce, who died at one o'clock Sunday morning, January 13, from complications following an operation for appendicitis, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Jan. 15, at the First Presbyterian Church. Reverend Hart Jenks will officiate.

Virginia, who graduated from Central in the class of '22, was known as the best all-around girl of her class. Her achievements and services to the school will never be forgotten by those who knew her.

VIRGINIA PEARCE
 —Courtesy Omaha Daily News

She was the only girl who was ever elected President of the Student Association, and she proved her ability in this office. She was on the Girl's Register Staff and was a member of Student Club and Student Control. She took part in the Road Show and the Senior Play, and was active in every school affair.

A smiling, radiant face was one of Virginia's lovable characteristics. She was everyone's friend; and her sunny attitude and happy disposition endeared her to all.

The same morning that Virginia arrived home for Christmas vacation from Pine Manor, Wellesley, Mass., where she was attending school, she visited Central to greet her friends and teachers again. When asked how she was by one of the teachers, her face lit up and her eyes twinkled as she said, "I'm just fine!"

The death of such a friend and a girl is a great loss to all those who ever came in contact with her. Her sunny attitude left a trail of light behind her which will never be forgotten.

The burial will take place in Forest Lawn cemetery.

OTHER SCHOOLS

A Speakers' Bureau, similar to that of Central, has recently been organized at Tech High.

The Hi-Y of the Monmouth High School, Monmouth, Ill., plans to hold a "ladies' night" soon.

Health films are shown by the moving picture machine at Manual Training High School, Kansas City, Mo., for the purpose of teaching students the value of good health.

Even English classes make New Year's Resolutions. A solemn resolution to renounce certain common errors in English forever was made in Wichita High School, Wichita, Kas.

New members are already being elected to the National Honor Society at different schools. Boulder Prep School of Boulder, Colo., elected twelve new members to the society this Christmas. This is two-thirds of the total number for the year, the other third being chosen in the spring. At the Wichita Kansas High School, twenty-six new members were taken in.

The North Central News of Spokane, Washington, sent a beautifully engraved card to Central High carrying wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. The North Central News is one of the leading high school papers of the country and won national honors in the Central Interscholastic Press Association contest last year.

A Gym Class is to be opened at Technical High School, and all the women teachers of Central are urged to enroll in it. The class sessions will be held on Monday evenings at seven-thirty. The cost for membership is one dollar for twelve weeks, which will pay for gymnasium suits. All teachers interested are requested to sign up with Miss Dumont in the office.

CLUB MEMBERS PLAY CHILDHOOD GAMES

Members of Le Cercle Francais returned to the days of childhood last Friday afternoon, when Eloise Powell, chairman of the program committee, suggested playing in French the well-known game of London Bridge.

Although fear of losing their dignity frightened some of the members from taking part, those who remained played the game amid shrieks of laughter, and ended with a tug-of-war which was a joy to all beholders.

Preceding the program, a report was made as to the steps which have been taken toward the adoption of a French orphan, the form of charity decided upon at a previous meeting.

CENTRAL STUDENTS ADD TO PROJECTS IN COLLECTION

Scenes from Shakespeare's Life Furnish Theme For Oil Paintings

ENGLISH PROJECTS

Six beautiful oil paintings, a group of verses, a model of the Argosy, dressed dolls, a pageant wagon, Scotch plaids, a gondola, and a model of Queen Elizabeth's court are among the new projects added to the project collection in Room 130 by the English VII classes of Miss Hilliard, Miss G. Clark, and Miss H. Clarke.

The oil paintings are scenes connected with Shakespeare's life, made by Leoline Clarke. The verses entitled "The Magic Orchard—Fruit from the Fairest Tree" were written by Charlotte Root. Rose Linsman made a model of the "Argosy" and dressed a doll as "Hamlet," which is an exact reproduction of Edwin Booth.

Dolls dressed to represent Shylock, Portia, Sinclair, Macduff, and court models add to the display of projects.

An illustrated project topic "Venice and Her Treasures" was made by Myrtle Powell; Dorothy Anderson wrote an illustrated topic, "Modernizing Shakespeare"; Martin Thomas built a model of Queen Elizabeth's court; John Mohun, a model of the Old Globe Theatre; and Earl Hunnigan painted a set of Scotch plaids.

JUNIOR HI-Y COMPLETES BIBLE STUDY WORK

Special Meetings Begin after Examination—Plan Father's Night Meeting

The Bible study work of the Junior Hi-Y Club will be completed this month and their special meetings will begin February 1, according to Harold "Bud" Thorpe, president of this club. Thursday evening this week will finish the Bible study work and the following Thursday will be a review. The Examination for the Junior Hi-Y will be held on Thursday night, January 31, which will finish this phase of the Club's work for the year.

A big social mixer similar to that held last year by the Junior Hi-Y members will be held on Thursday night, February 7, and only members who have attended three meetings or more in January will be eligible to attend.

The Mixer will be in the form of a Father's Night meeting and fathers of all boys in the club will be guests on that night. A special musical program with an address will feature the program for the Mixer and Father's Night.

FOURTEEN JUNIOR BOYS IN HI-Y ORCHESTRA

The Junior Hi-Y Orchestra under the direction of Captain Rollin Barnes of the Cadet Band is doing splendid work and will blossom out publicly before long, the director promises. Fourteen musicians compose the Junior Hi-Y Orchestra and the boys practise at least once each week with the director. First Sergeant Paul Jenkins of the Band is Assistant Director. The members are Palmer Gallup, Edwin Davis, Glenn Thomson, Roger Smith, Harlan Wiles, Lowell Dessauer, Donald McMaster, Hugh Hickox, George Kennedy, Loren Brain, Brainerd Wolfmeyer, Kenneth Young, George Blaetius, Edward Christiansen, and John Sundberg.

COACH CHATELAIN URGES SQUADS BOOST DEBATE

Wants Each Squad Member Urge Ten People Attend Debate with Council Bluffs

HOPES FOR VICTORY

"How many of you know ten people in Central?" was the somewhat astonishing question Mr. Chatelain asked the Freshman and Senior Debate Squads at a meeting held in 440 Wednesday at eight o'clock. "I want every one here to urge ten people to go to our debate with Council Bluffs Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 in Central High auditorium. "If you get them to go, you're a good salesman, and a good debater"

"Let's start the debating season with a victory. We're going to advertise by posters on the boards and in the halls, in the circular, and in the Register, but all these things won't solve the problem unless you people get behind it and put it across. Council Bluffs has asked for fifty tickets, but let them come. If we have 300 enthusiastic people there, we'll win."

James Hoyle and Robert Lampman were appointed door-keepers, Lea Rosenblatt and Elizabeth Halsey, time-keepers, and David Fellman and Paul Hoffman, stage directors.

DEATH TAKES FATHER FROM CENTRAL BOY

Death has taken Mr. Julius Rosenzweig, father of John Rosenzweig, popular student of Central. Mr. Rosenzweig, at the time of his death, was forty-eight years old. He was District Agent for the Traveler's Insurance Company. The business has been turned over to John, who will take up the work when he graduates.

Mr. Rosenzweig's death was caused by Bright's Disease. The funeral was held from the Scottish Rite Cathedral. He is survived by Mrs. Rosenzweig, and sons, Robert and John.

John is a Call Sergeant in the Regiment, and is a member of the Stage Crew. He is one of the most sincerely liked fellows at Central.

A group of John's friends sent flowers for the funeral.

The members of the Faculty, the class of '24 and the Register staff, extend their most sincere sympathy to John in his bereavement.

STUDENT CLUB GIRLS HEAR THRIFT TALK

Miss Towne and National Girls Work Secretary Talk to Girls of Club Work

"It is thrift in time, money, and strength that makes us when we get to be 600 or so, still enjoy life," declared Miss Towne in her talk on "Thrift and New Year's Resolutions" to members of the Student Club last Thursday after school. Miss Jenkins, National Girls' Work Secretary, a teacher at Central four years ago, said, in her short greeting, that the work that the Student Club is doing is a stimulus to be alert, ready to meet the problems that face us.

"Five years ago many people said that high school girls spent too much money. I thought I'd find out," so stated Miss Towne. "I got 100 girls to tell me how much they spent on their clothes in a year. Two or three spent $500, but many spent below $100, and one prominent girl spent $27.73 in her sophomore year, $26 in her junior, and $25.63 in her senior year. The point is this: some girls really counted, and got the best out of school too."

CENTRAL GRADUATES MARRY IN DENVER

Dr. C. Linae Anderson, Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment in 1920, and Valeria Rohr, class of '22, were married January 2, 1924, in Denver, Colorado. Linae, besides attaining the highest military position in the Regiment, was prominent in many other school activities. He is at present a senior in Creighton University, College of Dentistry and is president of an honorary fraternity there.

Valeria was a member of the Student Club in her Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years; a member of the Student Control, and a participant in the Gym Exhibition in her third year.

The couple are now residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Anderson, Omaha.

Dr. Anderson is a brother of "Ted."

PURPLE OVERWHELM TECH BUT LOSE TO BLUFFS

SUPERIOR PLAYING OF CENTRAL TEAM OVERPOWERS TECH

Old Time Rival Goes Down to Defeat Once More in Easy Game

SCORE ENDS 10-20

Last Saturday was a red letter day for the Purple and White. On this day Tech went down to defeat at the hands of the Purple. Better playing and evidence of harder training marked the Purple squad. Their defense was much stronger than in previous games, while the work of the offense showed a great improvement.

The game was Central's from the beginning. Tech had the lead at the very first of the game for a minute or so, when they succeeded in making a free throw. Marrow caged a free throw for the Purple thereby tying the score. Each team made a basket keeping the score a tie. Horacek caged the field goal for Central and Crabb did likewise for Tech. Marrow, Robertson and Gerelick followed with baskets, putting Central ahead. By the end of the first half the score had been raised to 12-4.

During the second half Coach "Zip" Hill found a good chance to try out his substitutes. Coach Drummond did the same. Fetterman was the first Central man to go in. Taking the place of Horacek at center. Forcade, substitute forward, showed up well and may get into the starting lineup at one of the next games. He pushed the score ahead with two successful free throws. Church, Drosda, and Tollerander, other subs, did good work, for the short time they were in the game.

Coach Drummond also kept the officials busy with substitutions. Both squads played a good game and at the end of the game the score had mounted to a somewhat higher point, 20-10.

All the Central players might be listed as individual stars, but their strong point came in their ability to work together. There was a big improvement in team work over the Council Bluffs game. Gerelick at guard was one of the strong players of the quintet. Marrow was the largest scorer, making it mostly on free throws. Crabb, Charnquist and Holm all played a good game for Tech.

CENTRAL'S FEMININE CAGESTERS AT WORK

Junior Team is Surpassing Seniors—Larger Turnout This Season

The Junior blower lassies displayed fine teamwork and swift playing at basketball practice in the girls' gym last Wednesday afternoon. Their passing and basket shooting was superior to that of the Seniors who pranced about in a scatterbrained fashion. However, the Senior material is as promising as the under classmen's, and when teams are organized, competition will be close. Lucille Gannon of the Juniors showed herself quite adept at caging the sphere.

ABE LINCOLN SQUAD WINS DIFFICULT GAME

The Purple and White basketball teams dropped their first city game, 18 to 16, to the fast Abraham Lincoln quintet of Council Bluffs. The game was rip and tear from the very start. Although the score was very close, the Bluffs men led until the third quarter. The Central team did not display much team work, as too much individual playing was attempted.

"Wally" Marrow was the individual star of the game. Although the floor was strange to him, he succeeded in making the total of eleven points. Frank Horacek, the new center, came next in the scoring with four points. He is working well with Marrow and Robertson. With a little more experience, he should become a bright light in the Central lineup.

CENTRAL SQUAD TAKES GAME FROM NEBR. CITY

Central defeated the Nebraska City High School basketball team in the first game of the season played at Nebraska City Friday, January 4, to a score of 30-12. The first quarter ended 7-6 in favor of the Purple. The team then rallied, making the second half one-sided.

The game throughout bore a strange resemblance to a football game. Central was represented by Marrow and Robertson, forwards, Horacek, center, and Gerelick and Lawson, guards.

EXPERT SUGGESTS NEW CAGE RULES

Novel Set of Rules for Play Announced as Result of Extensive Study

According to many of the best authorities, the object of basketball is to see how many rules you can break without getting caught by one of the officials.

Rule I.
 Players wearing hobnailed boots must not kick opponents or even team-mates in the face. It musses them up too much and the abdomen is a much better place anyway.

Rule II.
 Charging is not allowed. Sports must be run on a strictly cash basis.

Rule III.
 A penalty of five yards is provided for dribbling the ball, as this practice wears out the leather.

Rule IV.
 The time of the quarters has been cut down to forty minutes.

Rule V.
 One point is given to the side whose player lands an opponent on a spectator's lap.

Rule VI.
 Players must not wear beards as this gives them an unfair advantage, allowing them to hide the ball.

Rule VII.
 A contestant who throws or knocks the ball out of bounds must chase it himself.

Rule VIII.
 A prize of five green trading stamps is given to the player who throws a "basket" over the backboard.

Rule IX.
Penalties
 Penalties for violation of the rules shall in no case exceed $1000 fine or life imprisonment.

CAGE DOPE

The Senior team, under the tutorage of Mr. Bexton, is showing big strides of improvement. They won and lost in two practice games, and, with the addition of Chapman, Wellman, Jeffries, and DeLong, acquired from the last cut of the first squad, they should clean up on the other class teams. In the practice games, Krough and Adams starred. The guarding of Harris was also commendable. As soon as the new additions learn to work with the rest, the Seniors should be heard from.

Imagine Central's basketball team starving! If any one listened to the groans of starvation from the members of the squad at lunch time before the Council Bluffs game, they would think that the lunch room gave them a glass of water and a toothpick instead of a glass of milk, two boiled eggs, and two pieces of buttered toast. Such are the sacrifices to the god of basketball.

Coach Zip Hill has cut the first squad down to fifteen men. The men who were cut are now practicing with their respective class teams.

Look out class teams, the freshmen are after your scalp. They have been showing up good practise. Redgwick has been dropping them in pretty well at practise, and he looks like a real comer.

The Creighton Prep basketball squad has elected Francis Coffey, a star forward on their teams of last year and this, to captain the squad this season.

The Freshmen did a big thing in walking off with Benson's scalp. Remember that was Benson's school team, their only one. You can't tell, maybe Skipper Bexton has got his prodigies picked out for the city class championship.

Council Bluffs beat Tech also, and beat them worse than they did us. Looks like they had a real team over there across the Big Muddy, eh, what?

CREIGHTON SENIORS VICTORS THIS WEEK

The Central Seniors went down to defeat at the hands of the Creighton Seniors in the first game of the interclass series played at South High Gym, last Tuesday. The final score was 23 to 8. The Central crew seemed altogether outclassed from the beginning. The Creighton Seniors' work in getting the ball down the floor and in shooting when they had the chance, put them ahead early in the first half. At no time during the game did the Purple gain the lead. Krogh at center and Harris at guard were the outstanding players on the Central quintet.

INTER-CLASS TEAMS TO PLAY EACH WEEK

The interclass basketball schedule for the class teams of the city is now complete and games are being played every Tuesday by the Seniors and Juniors. The Freshmen and Sophomores play every Thursday.

Today's games are to be played at Creighton Gym. The Central Seniors meet the South Juniors, and the Central Juniors meet the Creighton Seniors. Next Thursday the Central Frosh meet the South Frosh at Creighton Gym. The Sophomores play Creighton Sophomores.

SPORTORIAL

We beat Tech. Consider that. But did you happen to notice that we had Tech completely outclassed in school spirit and pep? It wasn't just because we were winning. We had them out-yelled long before the game actually began. See for yourself, it's the pep in the grandstand that wins the game. It put the team ahead and kept them there.

Tech had only a handful of routers present. But do you think the Technicalities haven't any school spirit, because of this? If you do you're wrong. Here's where we'll let you in on one of Skipper's confidential secrets, that he broadcasts at mass meetings. Tech students had to pay a sum in the neighborhood of seventy-five cents to see this game. Their student association tickets did not admit. Don't congratulate yourself too much. That's how we came to outdo them in pep.

But, here's where the catch comes in. The next time we play Tech, which is in the latter part of February, the tables will be reversed. Tech students will be admitted on student association tickets, and Centralities will have to pay a cash price. That will be the real test of school spirit. Let's all be there with colors on, and don't forget to take in the games between now and then.

CENTRAL FRESHIES WIN FROM BENSON

Win Hard-Fought Game by Two Points After Four Extra Periods

The small gym of the Rosehill school resounded with the yells of Benson and Central supporters. The Central Freshmen won a hard-fought game from the Benson school team last Friday, by a score of 13-11.

The teams were almost evenly matched and both put up a fine brand of fight. The first half ended with the Purple Frosh leading, 8-6. At the end of the second half, the game was a tie, 9-9. An extra period of five minutes was then played in which each quintet made one basket. Two more extra sessions were also played without settling the tie. It was then decided to award the game to the one making the next score. The Frosh were successful in this, winning the contest, 13-11.

The starting lineup was as follows:

Central Freshmen (13)	Benson (11)
Chadwell	R.F. Scholle
Frisby	L.F. McCurley
Larson	C. Smadd
Bender	L.G. Ferenstein
Blandon	R.G. Smith

PURPLE SOPHOMORES DEFEATED BY SOUTH

The Central Sophomores were not as lucky as some of the other teams this week. The South Sophomores overwhelmed them in a fairly fast game played last Thursday at Rosehill School, the score being 16-7.

Coach Barnhill's crew played a hard and well balanced game, but were out-classed by the Packer squad. They seemed to be more experienced and better equipped than the Central quintet. Lepecier, Adams and "Missouri" Jones played a good game for Central. The squad was fighting hard, especially in the second half, when they brought the score up from 11-2 at the beginning of the second half to 16-7 at the end.

BARNHILL'S JUNIORS BEAT SOUTH SENIORS

Coach Barnhill's speedy quintet of Juniors showed their goods last Tuesday when they won an overwhelming victory from the South High Seniors, by a score of 17-11. The South men were outplayed in all parts of the game. During the first part they were unable to make a score. All members of the Central squad played a good game. They had what the Packers lacked, teamwork. The half ended 11-0 in favor of the Purple Juniors.

In the second half, the South men rallied but were far from overtaking the Purple. Townsend at center was one of the best workers for South. Hutton, Clarke and Chaiken all played a good game for the Centralites.
