

S. A. Elects Robert Levine To Presidency

Shearer Elected Secretary; Eldridge, Vice President Of Student Association

Bob Levine was elected president of the Student Association Wednesday during the home room period in the largest and most hotly contested election in the history of Central High school.

In the closest race, that for vice-president, Eldridge beat Chadwell, getting 773 votes to Chadwell's 710, a margin of 63 votes.

In the vic for the presidency, Buell received 521 votes to Levine's 954. The results of the board of control election are as follows:

Offer Pupils Special Rates

Symphony Orchestra Will Give 6 Matinee Concerts; Lower Prices for Students

That students of Omaha Central High are offered an opportunity to hear the six matinee performances of the Omaha Symphony orchestra at a price of $2.50 was announced by Mrs. Carol M. Pitts Wednesday.

"I hope a great many students will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity, for I know of no other place in the country where such performances as those given by the Omaha Symphony are offered at a price which is but little more than forty cents per concert," Mrs. Pitts stated.

Since the performances will be held in the Joslyn Memorial auditorium, across the street from Central, a great number of students is expected, and consequently 250 seats are being reserved as a special section for high school students.

The concerts presented to the students are exactly the same as those to be given in the evening at prices from $5 to $12.50 for each individual performance.

Seating capacity of the Joslyn Memorial is 1,200, and there are no obstructions such as pillars to prevent a clear view of the stage.

Fancy Posters Advertise Featured Library Books

Many are the admiring glances which have been bestowed upon the new library posters on account of their arresting color contrasts, gaily-hued pictures, and effectively-arranged printing.

The library furnishes the materials and the "blurb" for the posters, while Richard does the printing under the guidance of Mr. Lampman.

Richard is given complete freedom in arranging the printing and in choosing the color scheme.

High S. A. Rate in Home Rooms Room 325 First Study in Memory of J. G. Masters Exceeding 100 Per Cent in Ticket Sales

Due to the new method of selling Student Association tickets on the installment plan, circulation of the Central High Register has risen from last year's total of 1,279, seventy-five per cent of the student body, to this semester's 1,687 subscriptions listed through the home rooms.

Home Room 338, consisting almost entirely of freshmen, leads the entire school with the super-percentage of 130. Thirty-five tickets have been bought by the twenty-seven students enrolled.

Last year the home room rating lowest had only thirty per cent of its members subscribing to the Register; in contrast, the home room at the bottom of the list this year has over sixty per cent of its students subscribing.

Moreover, for the first time in the memory of J. G. Masters, principal, a study hall has gone over one hundred per cent. This is the distinction held by Genieve Clark's Room 325. Study hall 120 is one hundred per cent.

Miss Jessie M. Towne, vice-principal, in commenting asserted, "We are delighted to have such an overwhelmingly large portion of students in the Student Association. The stands at the game last Friday afternoon showed what happens when so many buy tickets. If we can keep this spirit up, we may astonish ourselves by what we can achieve by the end of the season."

The complete list with home rooms, teachers, enrollment, subscribers, and percentage follows:

May Delay on New Addition

If Acoustic Tile Does Not Arrive in Time, Work Will Slaken; Month to Finish

That the late arrival of the acoustic wall tile is the only thing which may delay the completion of Central's new auditorium and gym was stated Tuesday by Mr. Clarence Beck of the firm of Beck Brothers, contractors.

"If we are able to put on the wall tile, we can take down all the scaffolding which is now in the auditorium, and thus will be able to lay the floor," explained Mr. Beck.

In the gym all that remains to be done is to lay the floor. According to Mr. Beck that work and sanding the floor can be done in eight or nine days.

A great deal of wiring is already done and the plumbing and heating is almost complete.

As soon as the construction work is finished, the school board will start to install the seats in the auditorium and will equip the gym. The building should be entirely completed by the end of November.

Central Sabers Protect Ladies

TWELVE CENTRAL OFFICERS are knights of Ak-Sar-Ben by proxy; their sabers have been borrowed to be carried at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball on Friday night by kings, dukes, and others of the nobility to protect fair ladies, not, let us hope, in distress.

Probably the mere fact that their jack-knives are to be carried by members of the titled classes for an evening will make these various officers even more dignified than they are at present, but we may console ourselves by remembering that some of our diamond stick-pins, rings, collar pins, and watch straps once belonged to some members of the millionaire class, namely, the owners of some of the more prominent five and ten cent stores.

Expression Students Direct Performances

An innovation of student-directed plays has been successfully introduced by the Expression III and IV classes this semester.

Introduce New Idea in Dramatic Classes with Success

Play has been successfully introduced by the Expression III and IV classes this semester. The new scheme aids in developing not only dramatic, but also directing ability.

Cadets Sell Tickets at 'Siege of 1918' Saturday

Receiving ten per cent commission on sales, fifteen cadets sold tickets at the "Siege of 1918" at Ak-Sar-Ben field on Saturday night.

Those selling tickets were Windsor Hackler, Dick Kelley, David Bernstein, Robert Bittner, George Payne, Ross Alexander, John Holyoake, Harry Livermore, George Braig, Bill Hamilton, Marvin Pizer, Donald Hughes, Jack Encell, and Don Wiemer.

Ushers were Edwin Sunderland, Sam McCleneghan, John Sandham, Jack Shoemaker, Ealon Standeven, Richard Kent, and Donald Bloom.

Joan Milliken '33 has returned to school after a three days' absence because of a cold.

Local School Claims Many Ex-Students

88 Central Alumni Enroll In Municipal University For this Year's Classes

Eighty-eight Central alumni are now attending the Municipal University of Omaha, according to the school registrar's report.

The institution has an approximate $700,000 income every year, according to Mr. W. T. Graham, member of the board of regents and of the building and grounds committee.

The total income is about twice that needed for the upkeep of the school, but all surplus funds are being set aside for future buildings and land sites, he said.

Mr. Graham in commenting further said that the committee had been so busy with present organization problems that they have had no time to even discuss the new site for the university.

University Income Equal To Dartmouth's, Masters

Principal J. G. Masters in commenting on the Omaha Municipal university made this statement:

"Our municipal university now has an income equivalent to a $7,000,000 endowment (about the same as Dartmouth college). This means wonderful possibilities. We ought to be able to build a great university in a comparatively short time here in Omaha.

"First and supreme is a faculty. Only as great personalities and great teachers are brought to the University can we hope to build such an institution to which we can give out utmost loyalty.

"Buildings, libraries, laboratories, inter-relationship with the community, and wide community service will all come later. Present progress and the outlook for rapid growth are altogether encouraging."

Sylvia Gilbert Enrolls in Central; Comes From Paris

She Prefers American Schools to Those of France; Secondary Pupils Study 5 Years Instead of 4; Get Shorter Vacations

By Verna Armstrong

"French schools are much more difficult than these American schools," declares Sylvia Gilbert '34, a French girl who came to Central last year as a freshman from the schools in Paris where she lived.

"We had to memorize everything, even whole history books page by page," she explained, "instead of reading our lessons and reciting them in our own words. Oh, we had to study hard, but when we learned something, we seldom forgot it!"

In explanation of their school routine, she went on, "Our classes were from 8:30 to 12 noon, and were divided into two periods with a fifteen minute recess between them. We had forty-five minutes for lunch, and then returned till 4 o'clock for the same schedule as in the morning."

In France there are five years of high school instead of four, according to Sylvia, and they have only two months of summer vacation.

"Politeness is a marked characteristic of the French children," she asserted, "for when the teacher enters the room, all the pupils rise."

One of the greatest differences, however, between the French and American school systems is that they have separate schools for boys and girls. "They have none of this co-education in France," comments Sylvia. "There is also a distinction between the common schools, attended

Gregory Made Senior Leader for Semester

James Gregory

NEWLY ELECTED president of the January senior class. He was made president at a meeting of the class held last Monday.

Seniors Elect Class Officers

Harry Munson Made Vice-President; Miss Hosman, Miss Mueller, Sponsors

In one of the closest elections held in recent years, the January senior class Monday morning elected James Gregory president. James, who received fourteen votes, was followed by Lois Horeis with twelve votes and Arthur Spar with eleven.

Harry Munson was elected vice-president. Other officers have not yet been chosen. The sponsors for this year's class are Miss Doris Hosman and Miss Margaret Mueller.

With an enrollment of fifty-one members, the class this year is one of the largest that Central has ever had. The membership is usually about thirty-five.

James was presented with a gavel by Miss Jessie Towne, dean of girls. The gavel, made many years ago by J. F. Woolery, former dean of faculty and head of the mathematics department, is handed down year after year to the president of the January class.

Plan 15-Man School Rifle Team on Arrival of Guns

With the arrival of ten new twenty-two caliber government rifles, tryouts for the school and company rifle teams will be held soon, announced Sergeant S. B. Moore, military instructor.

It is hoped that enough men will try out for the school team in order to form a fifteen-man team similar to the larger military academy teams. The company and band teams will be composed of a team captain, four men and two substitutes.

Captains of the company teams will be as follows: Company A, Purnell Thomas; Company B, James Chadwell; Company C, Robert Howser; Company D, Donald Bloom; Company E, Robert Adwers; Company F, Joe Mattes; Band, Jack Encell.

"Three schools have already asked for October matches," Sergeant Moore stated, "but since we have not as yet had any tryouts, we cannot accept. Until we get our own rifle range put in, we will have to practice with companies on the North High range."

Faculty Picks 4 Students for Citizens Test

Egelston, Resnick, Goldware, Herron Chosen for American Legion Contest

Chosen because of their health, intelligence, and personality or civic interest, Brownie Egelston, Max Resnick, Faye Goldware, and Ruth Herron will compete on October 17 against other Douglas county high school students for selection as one of the two girls and boys who will be the American Legion nominees for the best young citizens in this county.

"Selections by the National Honor society committee, composed of a group of faculty members, paralleled almost exactly the choice of the members of the Delta and Gamma chapters of the Junior Honor society," said Principal Masters in commenting on the four students picked. These two chapters of the honor society met last Tuesday during seventh hour to vote for Central's representatives.

Hope Contest Becomes National

The Legion is conducting this contest because they wish to contact Nebraska youth of high school age whom they do not reach in their junior baseball and Boy Scout activities. The scheme is copied after the Young Citizens' contest held a few years ago at the time of the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee celebration.

The contest this year will reach into every county in Nebraska, four delegates being chosen from each county. They will then take part in the district eliminations, conducted in the thirteen Legion districts in the state.

Each district will in turn select two boys and two girls to be sent to Omaha at the expense of the Omaha World-Herald, for the state final examinations.

Legion, World-Herald Present Medals

The five highest ranking boys and girls here will be cited as Nebraska's outstanding young citizens and will be presented appropriate medals by the Nebraska American Legion and the World-Herald.

The Legion plans to have every high school in the state take part in the contest. The examinations will be prepared by Professor A. A. Reed of the University of Nebraska, and the final examinations will be personally supervised by him. Chancellor E. A. Burnett, who aided Professor Reed in conducting the previous contest, has offered his support and co-operation with Professor Reed, according to Mr. Potet.

Children's Dramas To Be Presented

Central Given First Play to Be Staged at Playhouse; Tryouts Open to Whole Student Body

The children's plays, an annual event staged by the Omaha Community Playhouse, are to be under the direction of Omaha's high schools this year, of which Central is to be the first.

Heretofore the plays have been for children ranging from the ages of four to twelve and have been entirely made up of children actors. This year, however, plays are to be designed for the child of the "movie" age and plays similar to "Seventeen" and "Daddy Long Legs" will be acted by high school pupils.

The first play, which will be around the first of November, is to be under the entire direction of Central's Expression department. Tryouts will be held some time in the near future and will be open to the whole school. Miss Jones stated, "Although the actors usually come from the Expression department, often some persons have talent that they are unaware of and therefore all students are urged to participate in the coming tryouts."

By changing the plans of the children's plays this year, it is believed by authorities that besides the plays being better and more efficient, they will create much more interest in the high schools and general public.

Addition Almost Noiseless

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, many students are enjoying the racket caused by the construction of the new auditorium. In fact, Public Speaking I students in 140 are so overjoyed that they are speechless! They do not have to give any speeches at all (on one or two days this week).

Versatility of Our Principals

WE MUST ADMIT that the labors of a principal of an institution as large as this one vary greatly with the conditions. At least after noting the admirable example set for us by Principal J. G. Masters during the half of the Central-North game, we stand convinced that desk work, making speeches, traveling from one convention to another, and plotting vacations are not the complete repertoire of a principal.

New Library Advantages

BY REARRANGING the books in the library, Room 221, the librarians have succeeded in placing the books of one type in a group that does not divide the "hundreds." If a student in 225, looking for a history book under the 900's finds them all gone, they ARE all gone, and he need not search further in 221, as one frequently had to do in the past.

Last Call for Activities

The wide range of subjects and activities covered by Central organizations permits every student to join one which contains his interests or hobbies. There are different types of clubs at Central; those which are of service to the school, and those which exist for the enjoyment of its members.

The causes, according to the author who spent sixteen years at Joliet penitentiary for safe-breaking, are idleness, kindness, and entertainment.

Clubs' Delegates Postpone Election to Next Meeting

Inter-Club Council Allows Students Membership in 8 Central High School Activity Organizations

Holding its first meeting of the year, the Inter-Club Council met in Room 312 on Tuesday morning. Although delegates from only twelve clubs were present, regular business for the semester was begun under the direction of Miss Nell Bridenbaugh, sponsor.

A committee consisting of Marion Byrd '34, Dan Wagstaffe '32, and Anna J. Goodbinder '33 was appointed to check the club membership lists to determine the number of clubs joined by each student. The Inter-Club council plans strict enforcement of rules, and students will be limited to membership in three school clubs.

The delegates decided to postpone the election of officers until a more complete representation was present. A special meeting for this purpose will be held next Tuesday morning, October 13.

Those representing clubs at the first Inter-Club Council meeting were as follows: David Saxe '32, Latin club; Marion Byrd '34, Tifians; Dan Wagstaffe '32, Forensic society; Anna J. Goodbinder '33, Girls' Natural Science club; Elizabeth McCreary '33, Boosters' club; Glenn Carman '32, Biology Round Table; Raymond Elliott '32, Spanish club; Frances C. Hansen '33, Mathematics society; Joe Williamson '33, Stamp club; Janet Wood '32, Greenwich Villagers; Marian Finlayson '32, Lininger Travel club; Ermagrace Reilly '32, Central Colleens.

Holyoke, Kelley, Bittner, Lloyd Presented Prizes

John Holyoke, first sergeant of Company E, was presented with a sword by principal J. G. Masters at the mass meeting last Friday, October 2. His company took first place in the Student Association Ticket sale, selling 331 tickets.

Other first sergeants presented with sabers were Robert Lloyd, Robert Bittner, and Richard Kelley, of Companies C, B, and D respectively. Their companies tied for second place in the sale, each selling 305 tickets.

Correction

It was incorrectly stated in last week's issue that Miss Autumn Davies, present head of the social science department, succeeded Miss Ethel Spaulding in that position. Before Miss Spaulding left Central, Miss Davies became head of that department in which the former was a civics teacher.

F. M. Handley, Copyreader

Flora Marie Handley '32 has been appointed copyreader of the Register in place of Bill Hart, who is ill, according to Mrs. Anne Savidge, adviser.

Victor Smith '32, circulation manager of the Register, returned to school last Monday after an absence of two weeks following an operation for appendicitis.

Nathaniel Goldstein ex'31 has transferred to Technical High school.

Miss Esla Goertz substituted in the English classes of Miss Louise Stegner, who was absent from school last Friday because of illness.

June Goethe '32 played two piano selections, and James Peterson '32 presented two violin numbers at the First Central Congregational's young people's meeting last Sunday evening.

After being absent eight days due to a badly sprained knee, Norman Ogilvie '34 returned to school Monday.

Dick Knowlton '32 broke his arm while playing football last Saturday.

Ruth Herron '32 drove to Norfolk last week-end to visit her aunt.

Paul Giller '33 will be out of school for a month because of a severe attack of scarlet fever.

The Opportunity Night contest held at the Orpheum theater was won by Francis McGucken '33. As a result of winning Francis will fulfill a week's engagement at the Orpheum.

Selma Berkowitz '34 went to Lincoln over the week-end to visit her brother, Melvin Berkowitz '31, who is now attending the University of Nebraska.

Miss Marie Harmer substituted three days of last week for Miss Sara Vore Taylor, head of the English department, who was absent because of illness. Miss Harmer substituted last semester for Miss Besie Fry.

Ethel Adler '32 had to leave school for the semester because of a nervous breakdown.

Robert Baudo '32 drove his parents to Chicago and remained there a week while they located Robert's aunt. The settlement of the will of Jacob Parr, his grandfather, necessitated locating the aunt.

Gladys Elsasser '32 underwent an appendectomy Saturday morning.

Florence Doan '33 was absent from school four days of last week because of a light case of tonsillitis.

Room 221 was used as a conference room for Freshman English, English Drill, and Pre-English classes at the first of the year when material was given out to students and their work was explained.

Tom Spencer '34 returned to school Monday after a week's absence during which time he took an antitetanus serum to counteract poisoning developed from a rusty nail that he ran into his hand.

William Talbitzer '33 returned to school Monday after having been absent several weeks because of a broken leg.

Jane Eldridge '33 is recovering from an appendectomy at the Clarkson hospital.

Wayne Townsend '33 transferred to Central September 30 from Nevada High school at Nevada, Iowa.

Helen Turner '32 was ill last Monday and Tuesday with laryngitis.

Recommendation Cards Given

Application and teachers' recommendation cards necessary for membership in Student Control were given to those present at their first meeting Wednesday in Room 221.

To become a member of this organization one must have statements from three teachers that the applicant is a conscientious worker of serious purpose, capable of being relied upon for help in enforcing the school's rules. The applicants must also sign a statement promising not only to co-operate with the organization but also always to comply with the regulations of the school.

Nominations will be filed this coming week for Student Control offices, and the election will be held next Wednesday.

French Clubs See Chevalier

Attending the Victoria International theater in a reserved section, both the Girls' and Gentlemen's French clubs saw Maurice Chevalier in "La Grande Mare" Wednesday evening.

The following officers were elected at the meeting of the Girls' French club last Tuesday: president, Dorothy Brown; vice-president, Georgia McCague; secretary, Elizabeth Shearer; treasurer, Kathleen McCaffrey; chairman of the program committee, Elizabeth Fore; and sergeants-at-arms, Harriet Kelley and Eleanor Burke, all '32.

Dallas Leitch and Herman Goldstein were elected members of the Gentlemen's French club at their Tuesday meeting. Discussion of plans for attending the French movie concluded the short business meeting.

Give "Apartments to Let"

A play, "Apartments to Let," presented by Betty Patterson, Maurine Moody, William Metzger, and Lucille Mayer, all '32 and members of the expression department, was the feature of the Spanish club meeting in the auditorium Tuesday after school. Following the play Windsor Hackler '33 gave a talk in Spanish about the end of the Visigoth rule in Spain.

Windsor Hackler '33, secretary-treasurer, conducted the short business meeting because of the absence of both the president and the vice-president. Jean Woodruff '32 was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee consisting of Dan Wagstaffe, William Metzger, and Betty Ann Bedwell, all '32. Mrs. Margarita Vartanian, a sponsor, announced that each meeting would contain something instructive and something entertaining. The club plans to trace Spanish history from the Visigoth rule to the present time. It also plans to have some musical selections at each meeting.

Ross Alexander '33 underwent an appendectomy last Sunday evening.

Staff Members Go To Meet at Lincoln

Leitch, Smith, Mrs. A. Savidge Will Speak at Convention in Lincoln, Today, Tomorrow

Thirteen members of the journalism classes of Central High school are planning to attend the annual convention of the Nebraska High School Press association to be held October 9 and 10 on the University of Nebraska campus.

Dallas Leitch and Victor Smith will each lead a round table discussion at the convention. Mel L. Sommer, Sancha Kilbourne, Eva Jane Sinclair, Dorothy Bush, Verna Armstrong, Jeanne Schumaker, Evelyn Epstein, Faye Goldware, Elizabeth Fore, Louise Senez, Ermagrace Reilly, and Lane Kemper, all '32, will represent Central. Among the activities arranged, are a banquet on Friday evening, and the Oklahoma-Nebraska football game on Saturday afternoon.

The Central High Register and the Lincoln High school Advocate, Lincoln, Nebraska, are the only two papers from the state of Nebraska that will be on display, during the convention, among the other All-American honor rating papers of the United States. The display is a special feature arranged by the University of Nebraska school of journalism.

Students Practice Parliamentary Law

Public Speaking I Class Elects Chairman for Each Week

The Public Speaking I class of Miss Myrna Jones in 140 is conducting itself according to parliamentary procedure in order to acquire practice and experience in carrying on business meetings. Each Friday immediately at the beginning of first hour a chairman and secretary are elected to manage the class for the week. The chairman, during the week that he holds office, calls for recitations, and grades the students according to his judgment. The secretary acts during business meetings in his official capacity.

Conrad Buell '32 a student new to the school from Salt Lake city, Utah, served as chairman the first week of the organization while Ben Rimerman '32 was selected as secretary. Last week Ralph Jones '33 and John Childe '33 held these positions.

Miss Jones in expressing herself about this plan stated, "Some time in the future these students may be required to take part in a formal business meeting. Then they will need and make use of this training."

Central Teacher Now in Demand as an Instructor

Mrs. Pitts to Lead Chorus of 250 Voices in Council Bluffs Auditorium on October 15

Since her trip to Europe as one of the representatives of American musical advancement, Mrs. Carol Marhoff Pitts, premier Central music teacher, has been in great demand as a speaker and instructor.

She served as one of the judges Sunday at the Atwater Kent state music contest, being the only representative from Omaha. The first prize at the contest was an opportunity to win $2,000 and a scholarship in music at any school to be chosen by the winner. The contest was broadcast over Radio Station WOW.

In the Council Bluffs auditorium on October 15 she will lead a chorus of over 250 voices composed of groups from the main high schools of southwestern Iowa and from Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln High schools, Council Bluffs. This group will give a concert for the Southwestern Iowa State Teachers' association, and will be assisted by Walter Jenkins, baritone, who will sing with the chorus in "Steal Away," a Negro spiritual, and "All Through the Night," an old Welsh air. Mr. Jenkins will also sing "It Is Enough" from the Elijah. Mrs. Hugh Cutler of Council Bluffs will sing a group of songs including airs from well known operas.

"It is a great pleasure to me to have been given the privilege of conducting such a fine group of singers, and I am looking forward to a thrilling evening," Mrs. Pitts said.

She has been requested by the P.E.O., a secret, philanthropic educational society, to give a lecture at Audubon, Iowa, on December 10 on a topic of her own choosing, and has decided to speak on "The Influence of Public Schools on American Music."

In a general rating on uniforms Wednesday at drill, Company F took first place. Second place was taken by the band, Companies E and A tied for third, Companies B and C tied for fourth, and Company D placed fifth.

ST. JOE CENTRAL NEXT OPPONENT ON FIRST STRING SCHEDULE

MUNY UNI GRIDIRON NAMED SCENE FOR MISSOURIAN GAME

Saturday at Two O'Clock Set As Time for Opening Kickoff With Teams Equally Matched; Five Lettermen at St. Joseph Condon Out With Injured

Tomorrow at 2 o'clock sharp, the Central High football aggregation will sally forth to meet St. Joe Central on the Muny Uni field at Twenty-fourth and Ames streets. Facing the game with a high casualty list, the Purple and White will be decidedly handicapped.

With fullback Shelly Condon out of the game because of a broken ankle bone, and Scanlon, Goldstein, Blackburn, Loder, Howell, Altsuler, and Wiig more or less disabled but still in the game, the men will have to put every ounce of effort into their play in order to whip St. Joe. Men from the bench will most likely see action before the game has ended.

Josies Win First Game
The Josies come to Omaha with a clear record, having won their first game last week by defeating the strong Lafayette eleven by a decisive score of 13-6. Five lettermen compose the backbone of the Missouri team, while the rest of the team is made up of regular substitutes of last season. With a light and shifty backfield and fairly heavy line the two should be evenly matched. The teams' average weights also check pretty close to each other.

19-0 Last Year's Score
Being beaten by a tune of 19 to 0 last year, Central should enter the game with a real spirit of revenge. For the past few years Central has been unable to humble the Missourians, but from the spirit shown upon the practice field this week the jinx is sure to be broken tomorrow afternoon.

During the absence of Coach Knapple, Coach Scott has been stressing a strong aerial attack combined with offensive line plays. Carlsen and Howell are the passers and Loder, Birge, and Korney the receivers. The probable lineup for tomorrow is:

McCann	.....	LE
Ferraro	.....	LT
Levine	.....	LG
Goldstein	.....	C
Douglas	.....	RG
Buell	.....	RT
Scanlon	.....	RE
Binkley	.....	QB
Loder	.....	RH
Carlsen	.....	LF
Eagleston	.....	F

McCann to Continue As Captain of Game Until System Settled

Mr. Hill and Scotty Take Charge In Absence of Coach Knapple; McCann Proves Able General

The captain for this week's game will be, according to Mr. Fred Hill and Coach Johnny Scott, the same as last week's. Mr. Hill and Scotty took charge in the absence of Coach Knapple the first of this week.

The original plans at the beginning of the season called for a captain of each game and not one for the entire season as has been the former system here at Central, but because of the absence of Knapple this week the plans finally settled on were not disclosed.

Jack McCann is, therefore, captain of the Josie game tomorrow and judging from his work in the previous tilt, the team is mighty lucky to have such an able general. Jack stood up to the expectations and played a bang-up game at end. He was out for all of the many passes thrown, but since their incompleteness was usually due to either the rushing of the passer or to the failure of the line to block out the rushers no blame may be laid upon any one person. Jack will be counted upon to snag a good many passes in this game, judging from practice work so far. Offensive plays in which the end is practically the most important man have also been part of this week's drills and Jack will be tested again for the real stuff.

Mainstay Down to 255
Lawrence, Kan. (ABS)—One of the mainstays in the Haskell Institute football line this year will be Fred Miles, 255-pound Osage Indian. Last year Miles weighed 348 pounds, but this weight handicapped him. Now, according to the Indian Leader, Haskell's newspaper, he is trained down to a mere shadow of his former self.

Purple Gridsters Play North Squad To Scoreless Tie

Although outdone nine to four, Central High battled North to a scoreless tie last Friday afternoon on the Tech High field. The Vikings, seeking to retaliate for last year's humiliating defeat, clearly were superior to the Eagles, but they lacked the scoring punch to put over a touchdown.

North received the opening kickoff and went crashing down the field on a series of hidden ball maneuvers and powerhouse plays. On the five yard stripe, however, the Central team rallied desperately and took the ball on downs. Loder, standing in back of his own goal line, got off a beautiful sixty-five yard punt to remove the bewildered Purples from danger.

Binkley's Runs Outstanding
Condon, fullback, was taken out in the first quarter with a broken bone in his ankle. He will be lost to the team for a few weeks. Quarterback Binkley kept the stands in an uproar with his electrifying runs of fifteen to twenty-five yards around right end. However Binkley made a fumble on his own ten-yard line that nearly cost Central the game. North recovered and advanced the ball within a few feet of the goal as the half ended.

Central showed more power in the second half and appeared to lose some of their stage fright, though several times they fought back the onslaught of the goal hungry Norsemen within the very shadow of their goal posts. Loder, half, and Binkley were easily outstanding in Central's backfield.

Quinn Shows Promise on Line
Douglas and Ferraro, tackles, were the mainstays of the heavy Purple line. McCann, game captain, played a bangup game at left end. Wiig, Altsuler, Riekes, and Howell, all on the injured list, did their little bit by cheering from the bench. Quinn, a newcomer, also stood out on the line.

The day was a bit too warm for football, but the mild weather brought out a cheering, spirited crowd. Approximately 1,200 Central fans and about 700 North roots turned out to witness the contest.

Girl Sports Class Hears Net Champ

Jack Ringwalt Speaks on Fundamentals of Tennis as Feature of Girls' Athletic Association

The sports classes, a new feature of the girls' athletic department this year, had Jack Ringwalt, one time city tennis champ and a Central alumnus, explain the fundamentals of tennis to them last Friday.

Comparing tennis to a cross between baseball and dancing, he stressed two main points necessary in playing the game. They were keeping your eye on the ball and correct footwork. After each demonstration he had the girls try their skill individually while he criticized and advised improvements on their strokes.

Considering serving one of the minor points of the game he did not stress any particular serve advising the girls to use the serve that was most natural for them. However, he showed some effective serves used by some of the "big shots" of tennis.

Due to Mr. L. N. Bexten's help the classes now enjoy the benefit of a laid out tennis court and standard net in Room 425. Plus the tennis improvements golf equipment for putting, pitching, and driving has been contrived, for the teaching of this sport. Golf will be featured later in the season.

Four Girls in Golf Meet

Central High has entered four girls in the Girls' Inter-City Golf tournament which takes place the last of this week. Those entered are Betty Nolan '35, Charlotte Reynolds '33, Marjorie Fales '33, and Colleen Masters '32, all of whom were outstanding last spring in Central's girl golf tournament.

First Game Injurious To Knapplemen—Five Men Nurse Wounds

'Fighting Irish' Rulers Over Ten Nationalities

AFTER MEETING WITH wise-cracks and discouragements galore, Harry Altsuler has finally compiled a list of the nationalities represented on this year's football squad. So, now, girls, you can tell whether your big moment is a Swede, German, Scotchman, or what have you.

Many of the fellows had to be almost maltreated into confessing their nationalities, but anyway here are the players and the origins to which they lay claim. Those dating back to Palestine or of Jewish decent are Altsuler, Weiner, Goldstein, and Korney. Italians are Rossetto and Ferraro, while Quinn, Connolly, Scanlon, McCann, and Binkley boast of Irish blood. McCleneghan, Douglas, and Blackburn are Scotch, and Levine and Carlsen Swedish. Loder and Eagleston trace their ancestry to England, while Kasal claims Bohemia and Hessler Holland.

The lone wolves are Birge and Phillips. Birge is an American and Pemberton a Negro. This makes a total of ten nationalities for twenty-two men, or two men for each represented clan, but as the reader can easily see the Irish have it, that is the majority, and if you see the football team wearing green jerseys one of these days you will realize that the rule by majority has gone into effect because of the Irish influence.

RESERVES EVEN SCORES ON NORTH

Ragged Playing Marks Seconds' Game as Polars Attempt to Take Lead by Heady Playing Bexten Uses Many Groups

Playing a ragged game of ball, the reserves were, in the opinion of their coach, mighty lucky to duplicate North's score in their encounter last Thursday. The count stood at 7-7 when the final whistle blew.

North scored early in the game and kept way ahead of the Bextenmen through the entire game. Long runs, short passes, a little deception, and heady playing, accounted for Norsemen's advantage. Their team was made up of a large number of last year's men and consequently held a still greater lead over the newly-formed Eagles.

Coach Bexten used almost every possible combination in an effort to find the lone touchdown that the squad made. Bill Carnazzo, a former and future wrestler, was responsible for the tally. Line bucks, sidestepping, and real head work on his part pushed the pigskin across the line and also accounted for the extra point. Reynolds, dusky end, broke loose but after almost traversing the length of the field was slowed up by the agony of a recent ankle injury and was then easily downed by a Norse player.

This Thursday the seconds were scheduled to play the Prepsters and in an effort to win the game, drills on passing, blocking, and recovering fumbles were featured the first of the week. Several errors and frequent misunderstandings about certain rules were explained to men before practice on Monday. "After the ball has rolled ten yards on a kick-off it is anybody's ball," said the Skipper, "and if the kickoff rolls ten yards and over the goal line recover it and it is a touchdown." The Skipper also pointed out several things that have arisen in games that he has been refereeing during his spare time.

The class teams, a new feature on the football squad, were abandoned for a while and most likely will be started again as soon as the fundamentals which have been taking the practice time are down pat.

CLASS TEAMS NEW ON FOOTBALL FIELD UNCOVER MATERIAL

Three Groups Represent Sophomores, Junior, Senior Years; Seniors Easily Down Juniors Because of Weight, Strength

Future Games Uncarded

Class teams, formed for the purpose of enabling every person out for the reserves, a chance to play, and at the same time, uncovering material that would have been neglected by the usual method of practice, have been working strenuously with Coach Skipper Bexten during the last two weeks. There are three teams with substitutes for each formed at the present.

Those that are on the strongest and heaviest of the three teams, the seniors, are John Williams, Dan Wagstaffe, De Ver Sholes, Tjark Riddle, Ben Rimerman, Hudson Rose, Walley Peterson, Paul Ebner, Marty DiGiorgio, Bob Davis, Bill Carnazzo, Dick Brown, and Jim Harris.

On the junior group there is also a fine bunch of heavy and promising men. They are Harry Stickler, Everett Stimmel, Joe Swinarski, Jim Musselman, Bill Long, Leonard Kurtz, Bob Hughes, Henry Hoff, Israel Hornstein, Bob Houston, Roy Haney, Frank Greer, Chandler Derby, Jim Craddock, Sidney Chait, Bill Best, Bob Braun, and Roger Aulbaugh.

Carruth Wagner, Vincent Doyle, Streeter Turner, Stephen Taylor, Nathan Scott, Louis Soskin, and Leonard Selner are among the last year's frosh.

Others on this season's sophomores are Alfred Reynolds, Paul Reichstadt, George Payne, Bob Nieman, Conrad Masters, Joe Mattes, Bob McClurg, Joe Mazzeri, Dick Lohse, Norman Huseby, Donald Hansen, Herbert Garner, Leo Frame, Bill Brookman, Louis Bexten jr., George Baker, Ross Allison, and Jesse Allen.

In the first game of the league, the seniors met the juniors and easily took them for a trampling, but judging from work exhibited by the sophomores and the juniors in recent practice sessions, the seniors will have a tough time from now on against either of the teams.

School Sympathizes with Knapple on Mother's Death

Everyone in the school feels deeply in sympathy with Coach F. Y. Knapple for the loss of his mother, Sunday. She was a pioneer resident of Lexington, Nebr. Coach Knapple left Sunday for the funeral services which were held on Tuesday, and returning yesterday to resume his duties at school. During his absence the first part of the week, assistant coach John Scott took charge of the first team and Mr. D. Chesneau substituted in Coach Knapple's classes.

Wednesday night the team scrimmaged against Creighton Prep under the lights at the University field. Both teams showed much stronger offense than they have exhibited in previous work.

GRID GLINTS

Connolly must have something else besides football on his mind. While baking his sprained leg in 12-A last week, his pants caught on fire.

Skipper Bexten, after second team men recover a first team fumble, "You fellows have to wake up. There were only seven on that ball." We wonder where the other four could have been.

Coach Scott gave the first and second teams a "light" scrimmage Monday, according to himself, but immediately after this they were all asking when Knapple would be back.

There is talk of starting up a Crutch club in football home room. Condon, Ogilvie, and Wiig all boast a pair of crutches. One nice thing about it is they can now use the elevator without being punished.

Whoever started the argument over, "which way does the football field at Elmwood park run?" should hand their names in to Miss Ryan. She is in need of good debaters.

"Little Blue" Howell wishes to request all of his feminine admirers to abstain from screaming. It seems that the screams of the sweet young things sound so much like the ref's whistle, that Howell can't tell one from the other.

Bob Levine wishes everybody would pronounce his name correctly. It seems that some have been calling him Le-vine, others L'veen, and other Eleven, when his real name is Bob.

It certainly is unfortunate that we did not lose to North last week. Rabbi Korney had made a vow to let his beard grow for the rest of the season if we lost. From the length of it last Friday he would have been eligible for the House of David in another week.

Volleyball Tourney Starts First Play

Nolan's Frosh Trim Sophomores 21-18, 21-15 — Junior - Senior Team Downs Bane's Freshmen

The Freshman and Junior-Senior teams emerged victors of the first round of the girls' volley ball tournament played in the girls' gyms, Tuesday.

With decisive scores the freshman team headed by Betty Nolan thrashed the Sophomores 21 to 18 and 21 to 15. Margaret Saxton, the Sophomore's captain, scored brilliantly but was unable to stop the onslaught of Betty Nolan, Nancy Jane Chadwell, and other hard servers.

The Junior-Seniors with an exceptional good team similarly beat the other Freshman team captained by Helen Bane who with Bernice Sexton did outstanding playing for the freshmen, but were unable to stop the continuous volleys of the upperclassmen.

Frosh Score Win As North Proves Weak At Tackles

Victory came into the freshman camp as they downed their first opponent of the season, North. The score was 6 to 0 when the frosh finished the tussle on the Dewey lot Wednesday.

Due principally to the determined spirit that was carried throughout the game and also to the able coaching of Uncle Gilbert, the frosh found the North men not as tough as was expected. The tackles were found to be the weak point and it was through this position that the touchdown was made. Rosenbaum, a tall, lanky but yet not so light player, carried the ball over for the mark.

The best player was, in the mind of the coach, James Baer, but during his fine playing his wrist was broken and he will therefore be out for the remainder of the season. It is pretty hard luck after getting off to such a good start, but there is great hopes that he will be seen in action next year on a higher squad. Seeman and Gesman were the next best performers on the line. Seeman played the end opposite Baer and Gesman the pivot post.

BEXTEN RANKED FIRST CLASS REF

Third of Central Coaches to Be Made Award in State Athletic Association; Schmidt, Knapple, Others 'A' Men at School

Louis N. Bexten, assistant coach, has just received an emblem from the Nebraska State Athletic association designating his rank as that of a first class official of athletic contests. Bexten is the third Central coach to be awarded this honor, as Knapple and "Papa" Schmidt each have one in their possession. Each year the association rates the officials according to their efficiency during the previous season. The only other coaches in the city to be rated in the first class are L. R. Graf of Creighton university, "Eddie" Hickey of Creighton Prep, J. W. Jackson of North, and C. E. White of Tech. Sergeant S. B. Moore, Central's military instructor from the U. S. Army, was rated as a second class official although he refereed only one game last season.

SCOTT RUNS TEAM THROUGH LENGTHY DRILLS ON PASSES

Eighteen Players Mustered to Form Signal Squad Tuesday; Eagleston, Douglas, Quinn, And Others Yet in Good Shape

Loder Practices Punting
Badly crippled by injuries suffered in the North game and from scrimmages, the Purples Tuesday indulged in a listless practice with Assistant Coach Johnny Scott sending them through their paces.

Scott mustered a first team and sent it through a light signal drill. Only eighteen or nineteen players, of whom five nursed tender spots, appeared for the drill. Condon, hurt in the North game and now forced to navigate on crutches, will be lost to the Purples for a couple of weeks. Goldstein, center, was hurt during the third quarter of the game, but played till early in the fourth quarter, when he was unable to continue.

Loder, flashy halfback, contented himself with punting because of a stiff neck, sending the ball far down the field in high, lazy spirals. Howell was back in uniform, and Altsuler, with his broken finger in a steel cast, came out for the signal drill. Scanlon, wearing a brace on his knee, went through the plays easily enough, but was far from being up to his usual form.

Wiig's ankle, hurt early in the season, suddenly developed into such a painful injury that he was forced to resort to the use of crutches. Riekes and his trick knee may be out for the season. Central will put forth a battered array against the next two teams on the schedule, but Eagleston, Douglas, Quinn, and several others are still in good shape and will put up a good, hard scrap. However, another such disastrous game as the one against North would force Knapple to recruit new players from the second team.
