Elaine Holmstrom, Katherine Rivett, and Mary Frances Marconit Lead List

IRLS OUTCLASS BOYS

Three girls, Elaine Holmstrom and Mary Frances Marconit, both '34, and Katherine Rivett '36 head the mid-term honor roll, with 6 A's each. The girls greatly outnumbered the boys, taking 176 out of the 250 places. This number is one of the largest made in many years. Grades were recorded with Miss Elsie Fisher.

5 1/2 A's
Girls: Jane Hart and Harriette

5 A's

Winston Airy to Speak at South High Banquet

The newspaper staffs of all the Omaha high schools will be guests of the high school at a banquet to be given Thursday, December 7. Winston Airy '35 will represent Central High at the speakers' program. His subject will be "Special Holiday Advertising Layouts." Plans are being made to have Dr. L. V. Jacks, head of the classic department of Creighton university, as guest speaker.

Each year different schools of the city are hosts to the high school journalists. Last year, Benson High had the honor of the banquet.

John Alden Helps Pal; Wins His Gal

HISTORY tells us that John Alden had a heavy crush on a gal named Priscilla, a cute little trick if there ever was one. Johnny wasn't so bad himself, but he didn't rate with the women. Poor fellow, he spent all his lonely evenings reading books on how to be masterful, but everybody else had the fun.

It seems that Miles Standish, a good pal of his, had fallen for Priscilla too. He broke down and told John all about it. Miles wasn't much for looks, but he was a swell soldier and some he-man. "Listen, Alden, would you do a guy a favor," he pleaded. "I'm pretty sweet on this woman, so you ask her if I can have a date Friday night. Your line is much better than mine. Are you my pal or not?"

Poor John Alden! Downhearted as he was, he decided not to go back on his chum. Men have got to stick together anyway. John called on the gal. "Miles wants a date. He's a good guy, and you'll like him," blushed he.

"Why don't you give me a break yourself, Johnny?" quoth she. "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy," John whooped. "Why didn't I start using Ducky-Wucky Soap sooner?"

American History Contest Winners Named in Class

Students' Themes on Declaration of Independence as Compared to NRA Are Basis of Vie

Norman Ogilvie, Stanley Potter, Vance Senter, and Don Carman, all '34, won the contest which Miss Mary Parker conducted recently in her two American History I classes. Students wrote themes expressing their opinions as to how the principles of government stated in the Declaration of Independence compared with those stated in the National Recovery program.

According to Potter, "The Declaration of Independence might be compared to the NRA as a declaration of political freedom compared with a declaration of industrial freedom."

Carman said, "The purpose of the government is to secure life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. Several recovery acts provide for these rights. The PWA board's purpose is to advance loans to construct improvements that will be for the happiness and safety of the people."

"The founders of the Declaration," declared Senter, "said that the power of the government depended upon the consent of the governed. When President Roosevelt planned the NRA, he said that the success of the act depended upon the consent and cooperation of the people and that its failure would be wholly due to lack of backing."

"The principle reason for the Declaration is specifically stated that the rights of man as an individual had been impaired. The progress and development of our country toward a truly cooperative standing among the people of our nation is shown by the NRA," stated Ogilvie.

Give Comedy Before Meeting of Colleens

"Dropping a Hint," a comedy, was presented by Bertha Slutsky '34 and Violet Devaney '35 before a meeting of the Central Colleens last Thursday in Room 425. Mrs. A. W. Graham, mother of Dorothy Graham, program chairman of the club, played three piano solos.

Group singing, directed by Miss Elizabeth Kiewit, one of the sponsors of the club, and accompanied on the piano by Frances Ann Christina '37, was another feature of the program.

Following the program, Henrietta Nilsson '34, president of the club, announced that the Colleen meetings will be held on Thursdays so as not to conflict with other activities.

The Colleen's annual Christmas party will be held in the form of a candle-light tea this year.

Dorothy Graham '34 was elected president and Kathryn Kavan '34 was chosen service chairman at a recent meeting of the inter-club council of all city Girl Reserves.

Shades of Old Romans Come To Life Here

74 Attend as Latin Club Holds Annual Banquet in Central Cafeteria

ROMAN GARB PREVAILS

By MARY JANE CHRISTOPHER
"Down with Marius!" shouted Sulla. Octavia's theme song was "Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" sung to Mark Anthony. Such was the scene at the annual Latin club banquet last Saturday evening in the Central High school cafeteria. Seventy-four people attended including several alumni.

Members of the club appeared as famous characters from Roman history. The president, Margaret Hultman '34, introduced the guests who in turn gave a quotation or a fact about the characters they portrayed. Thirteen guests from Brownell Hall attended in typical Roman garb. Several members of the faculty were present including Mrs. Bessie Rathbun, Mrs. Bernice Engle, and Miss Jane Fulton of the Latin department, Principal J. G. Masters, Miss Jessie Towne, and Miss Ellen Rooney, formerly a teacher at Central.

A sketch of the life of Horace and a quotation of two odes from his works, in English and Latin, were given by Miss Towne. According to the custom at Roman banquets, Betty Gerke '35 danced, accompanied by Dorothy Hennings, also '35.

A Latin version of the "Three Little Pigs" was acted by William Hennings, Harry Patterson, Harry Burrell, and Charles Harris, all '36, accompanied by Abraham Dansky, also '36, at the piano. Calvin Bosin '35, William Williams '34, and John Schoessler '36 took parts in a pantomime, the sacking of Rome by the Gauls. The cast of another pantomime, the assassination of Caesar, included Abraham Dansky, William Petersen, James Laferla, and Lysle Abbott, all '36, and Richard Smith '37.

An interesting feature of the program was the piano selections played by Robert Johnson '31. Johnson, who won a scholarship in music last year, studied under Boguslawski in Chicago. He played two works by Chopin and two modern compositions by a modern composer.

The expression department aided the club by drilling the casts of the pantomimes. The art department gave the club the linoleum block used in printing the programs. The cafeteria was decorated with the help of the Orpheum theatre who supplied eight foot screens and the Brandeis store which contributed several small screens and a silver Roman eagle.

Tech, Thomas Jefferson 1st on Debate Schedule

Omaha High Schools Meet in Missouri Valley League

Thomas Jefferson and Technical High schools are the first two Central opponents in the Missouri Valley debate tournament, according to the schedule which has just been made out by the coaches. The first debate with Thomas Jefferson will be held December 6, and the Tech debate is scheduled for the following week.

The plan for this year's tournament is to have a round robin, with each school having the choice of entering teams in any or all of three divisions; the boys', the girls', and the mixed. The schools in the league are Fremont, Benson, Tech, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, North, South, Creighton, and Central.

Exhibit Sewing Samples In Clothing Laboratory

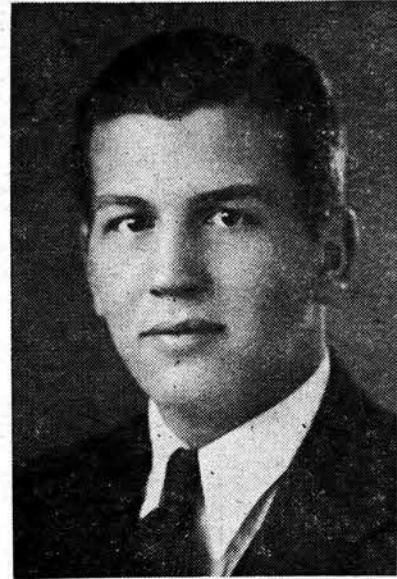

An exhibit of various samples of sewing craft is now on display in Miss Chloe Stockard's clothing laboratory. The exhibit was sent to Miss Stockard to use for a certain number of days before she sends it on to other schools in the United States. Sent out by the J. and P. Coats Spool Thread company, it illustrates each type of simple and fancy sewing done with different kinds of thread. Crocheted scarfs, a collar and cuff set, an embroidered handbag, doilies, and intricate hems, seamings, and neck finishes are among the articles for inspection.

Clatworthy Explodes Popular Belief Of Extreme Lawlessness in Mexico

Shows Colored Slides of Picturesque Mexico and United States

By MAURICE TATELMAN
Editor's Note.—The following news story was awarded first place in a competitive news writing contest conducted Tuesday in the Journalism I classes. Harry Cooper and Bill Gray, both '34, and Bill Horn '35 won honorable mention.

Mr. F. J. Clatworthy, nationally known color photographer, showed and explained color slides of Mexico in the Central High school auditorium Monday morning to holders of Student Association tickets. These pictures are believed to be the largest and most beautiful collection of its kind in the United States.

Mr. Clatworthy told his audience a little about Mexico before showing the slides. He also explained the method of taking and developing natural color pictures. According to Mr. Clatworthy the slides are not painted, but are photographed in the original colors by a special process.

Forum to Open Its Fifth Season

To Present Subjects of Vital Current Importance and Interest for Discussion

The fifth season of the Community Forum, which will be held at the Jewish Community Center, will open December 4. The purpose of the Community Forum is to present subjects of vital current importance and to encourage open discussion following an authoritative lecture. In the past few seasons the Forum has brought to Omaha such prominent speakers as Margaret Sanger, Norman Hapgood, Clarence Darrow, and Dr. Clarence True Wilson.

The lectures that the Forum will present this season are open to all. Single tickets sell for $1, or a season ticket can be purchased for $3.

Beginning December 4, a series of five lectures will be given, one each month for the next consecutive four months. On Monday evening, December 4, Dorothy Thompson, present wife of the famous writer, Sinclair Lewis, will speak on the present German situation. On Monday evening, January 8, Norman Thomas, the leader of the American Socialist party, will talk.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, will lecture on Wednesday evening, February 14. On Wednesday evening, March 14, Oswald Garrison Villard, famous editor of the Nation, is scheduled to speak. The last of this series of lectures will be given by Maurice Samuel, novelist, publicist, and traveler.

The Omaha World-Herald says of the Community Forum: "The Community Forum has made a contribution to Omaha's mental life. In standing up staunchly for freedom of discussion, it has attracted to itself a group of thoughtful men and women who are willing to test their opinions with searching criticism. It has stimulated interest along lines of practical importance."

The a cappella choir gave a half-hour program over KOIL last Wednesday night and also presented a welcoming concert for General Hugh S. Johnson at the city auditorium.

Opera Nears Finish; Name Minor Parts

Farber, Bliss, Jones, Bock, Eldridge, Morse, Sheehan, Lerner Take Other Parts

NO RESERVED SEATS

By ESTHER STEIN
Both teachers and pupils of the entire music department are working diligently to have the opera "The Mascot" in good condition for dress rehearsal December 12. The presentation of the opera will be on December 14, 15, and 16.

Mrs. Carol Pitts and Mrs. Elsie Swanson are co-directors with Mrs. Irene Jensen as assistant. Lillian Chadacoff is accompanist.

The first act was completed Saturday, and Act II, both lines and chorus action, was finished Wednesday. Third act rehearsal began Wednesday, and the entire opera will be completed on Friday, December 8, which will leave approximately a week and a half to routine and finish the opera satisfactorily before its presentation.

The title role is taken by Mary Jane France '35, who portrays Bettina, the mascot, who is able to bring good luck to her master, Lorenzo. The other feminine lead is taken by Margaret Fry '34, who plays Fiametta, daughter of Lorenzo, who is weary of the luxurious life of a princess.

Bednar Has Comic Lead

Bryce Bednar '34 will play the comic lead as Lorenzo XVII, who provides much of the amusement in the show. Kermit Hansen '35 will play Pippo, and Bob Butts '34 will play Frederic, Prince of Pisa, which are both romantic leads.

Francis Hesler '34 will play a very important part, the second comedy lead, which is Rocco, a farmer, on whose grounds the vintage feast takes place. Four special pages chosen Monday are: Lois Farber, Jane Eldridge, and Dolly Bliss, all '34, and Mary Louise Jones '35, Rebekah Morse '35 will take the part of Francesca, a peasant girl. Other minor parts which have been named are: physician, Norman Bock '34; Francis, a peasant, Bob Sheehan '35, and Paolo, another peasant, Morris Lerner '34.

After the process of elimination Willard Dergan and John Money, both '34, are left for the part of the sergeant, and William Hennings and Richard Hedges, both '36, are the drummers.

Glee Clubs in First Act

The senior glee clubs will play the first act, a scene of a vintage feast, where the entire countryside has gathered, attired in their Sunday best. Their costumes will be quaint and colorful. In the second act, the a cappella choir will appear in the silks and satins of the court nobles in the palace of the Prince of Piombino.

One of the high spots of the opera comes in the opening of the third act with the music of the victorious soldiers of Prince Frederic's army, and the chorus of refugees disguised as wandering gypsies headed by Rocco and Lorenzo. The comedy song of this act is "The Orange-Outang Song." The act ends happily with the marriage of Bettina and Pippo.

The technical staff that has so far been selected for the opera are as follows: stage crew; Bob Hall '36, Charles Clark, Joe Mattes, George Yeoman, and Margaret Andersen, all '34, and Bill Best P. G. Make-up mistresses are: Beverly Brehm, Mary Helen Gerye, both '34, and Eileen Andersen '35.

All students holding S. A. tickets are urged to turn in their stubs for

Miss Elliott's Pupils Make Fine Projects

Livermore, Rosen, Bickel, Moore, Vance, Weinstein Do Good Work

Projects made recently by seniors in Miss Mary Elliott's American History I classes are being displayed on the bulletin board in her room. The projects were made for one day's assignment. Several are halls of fame for the revolutionary war.

One project by Harry Livermore '34 has been given to the project room. On the first page, inside of a scroll drawn on the paper, are listed 10 outstanding names of the revolution. Reasons for choosing these names are given on the second sheet.

Edward Rosen '34 selected an All-American team of 1782. Franklin was chosen as the left end because "he played a swell game on the outside." John Jay, right guard, "possessed a great knack of breaking up opponent's plays," according to Rosen.

Betty Bickel, Frances Bergman, Mary Laura Vance, and Jean Stone, all '34, also made halls of fame. Frances listed the names of the men on the stripes of an American flag. Inside the flag were given the achievements of the men. Jean made a booklet, and Betty listed the names on pillars drawn on the paper.

Cartoons were drawn by Beverly Weaver, Robert Moore, and Sam Weinstein, all '34. Beverly's cartoon pictured a chorus representing England singing, "I guess we'll have to change our plans." Uncle Sam is shown putting on a new suit in Moore's cartoon. Weinstein represented France throwing a life-saver to a drowning Uncle Sam.

Senior Class to Give Show "Little Women"

In order to raise money, the January senior class will sell tickets for the moving picture, "Little Women," to be given next week at the Brandeis theatre. Tickets may be purchased from any January senior, and are good Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday. A commission is received by the class for each ticket sold. Patronize the senior class!

Recently elected officers are Morris Loder, president; Marjorie Clark, vice-president; Helen Forbes, secretary; John Moore, treasurer; Vivian Neble and C. T. Richmond, sergeants at arms.

SUPPORT YOUR SCHOOL

NOW THAT the football season is about over and the basketball season is approaching, the interest of the students will be transferred to new projects and new enterprises.

Anyone who attends any of these activities would be greatly surprised at the small group of students that are there. The students do not even provide enough support for the swimming team to continue its maintenance.

Give all Central's representatives a fair trial. Turn out at the next contest of whatever kind it may be, and see if you don't enjoy yourself.

BROWSING DAY

HOW MANY students know exactly what browsing day means? How many of you are acquainted with its rules and advantages? Every Friday and on the last day before vacations one may register in the library for the express purpose of reading anything he likes.

However, do not think that there are no library rules in force just because it is browsing day. There is still to be no talking nor communication with a fellow student.

THE TIME AND THE PLACE

IT IS too bad that we have to act the part of a preacher all the time. We don't enjoy it any more than you do. However, it is too often necessary that we do so.

All assemblies, such as that held last Monday, are for educational and entertaining purposes. They are made possible at a great cost and a lot of trouble.

There is a time and place for everything. At pep meetings, cheer all you can. Because any amount of yelling is permitted and welcomed then, the students fail to yell.

Central Stars

Thus far, we have utterly neglected the fair sex of the student body, at least so far as naming one of them a glowing example of the ideal Centralite.

There are many who are deserving of this honor, but one of the most outstanding is Mary Laura Vance. She was recently named one of the four Central representatives in the Young Citizen's contest.

Her ability and popularity is illustrated in this remark of Miss Maybel Burns, her mathematics teacher and friend since she was a freshman.

Foothills of Parnassus

SOPHISTICATED SONNETS

I wonder could a man look fiekler Than that well known Harry Stickler? He wears his cap in Chevallier style And gives the gals that Stickler smile.

Kermit Hansen and Mary Jane France Manufacture stage romance; Caresses they're not miming In fact, they're quite convincing.

Betty Kitchen's small in size With great big brown wondering eyes; She talks in a voice quite low And always very, very slow.

All the women long to get Dark'n Handsome Max Barnett. Maxie, you are doing fine; Why don't you come up sometime? (Provided Eldridge-doesn't hear about it.)

Joslyn Memorial

A feature of paramount interest to American history students is the exhibition of paintings by John Ross Key at the Joslyn Memorial. They feature locations of utmost importance in the early history of our country.

A sincere and inborn patriotism must have inspired these paintings by John Ross Key, for he is the descendant of a renowned old family. His great grandfather was George Hay, the United States district attorney who tried Aaron Burr for treason.

Letters to the Editor

Dearest Editor: Many of us like to read continued interesting stories. Couldn't you possibly run one in the Register? We have many pupils in the high school who can write good stories.

Let's have some serials with cowboys 'n shootin' 'n everything!

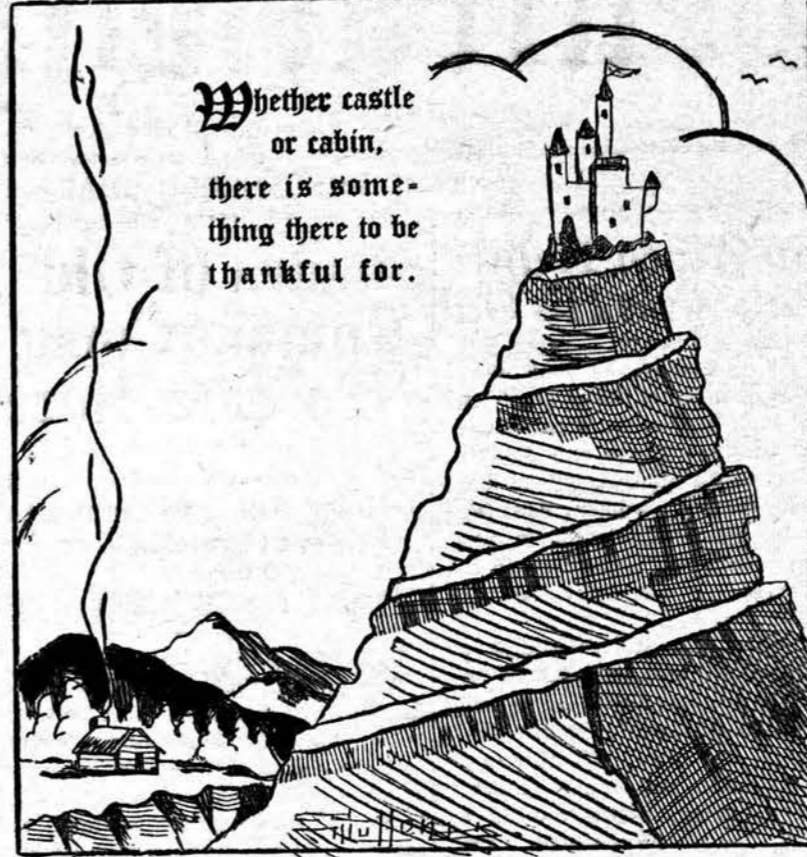

Why doesn't the Register print the life stories of some famous actors and comedians? I am sure it would be interesting to all students.

The private lives of certain Centralites would be even funnier!

I am a careful and conscientious worker. The school from which I transferred to this one did not have the system of mid-semester and semester examinations. Recently when the talk of initiation into this mystery came up, I was greatly disturbed.

I didn't know that such students as you existed. Come into the Register office, brother, and let me shake your hand!

THE SAGE OF CENTRAL SAYS - Love is a delicacy not relished when cold. Mysteries include love, women, and hash. A fool and his "honey" are soon parted.

Proper Handling Shown For Visiting Relatives

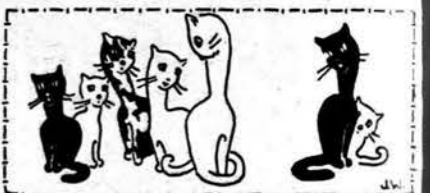

WHAT with Thanksgiving coming on, most of us need a few pointers on handling visiting relatives. If you have no relations, you'll have to cope with Papa and Mamma's old college friends.

In the first place, Aunt Letty will expect you to be able to ask the blessing at dinner. I hope you will not be thrown into the position of Claire Rubendall.

Uncle Adolphe will be jovial if you beg him to relate how he scored nine successive touchdowns for Alma Mater in the good old days when football was football.

After the turkey feast, you'll probably take the folks to the movies. Aunt Letty will want to see "Little Women"; Uncle Adolphe, "College Humor"; Grandpa, "She Done Him Wrong"; and little cousin Ferdy, "Tarzan the Fearless."

KATTY KORNER

Miss Kibler: Is there anything that you can do better than anyone else? Dick Christensen: Yes, read my own writing.

Imagine Thede Backstrom's embarrassment when his English teacher found him placing a tack in each seat in the room before the class came in.

And wasn't Florence Hagedorn mortified when she answered the door bell with her "naturally curly hair" done up in papers and found her big moment standing there?

Miss Griffin: Oh, dear, Monday is such an awful day. All the students have too many dates over the weekend, and now they won't pay any attention to lessons.

Claire Rubendall: Oh, well, you know lots of people do put the heat before the course.

Carl Wolfe: Say, Bob, do you know the difference between a sight and a vision?

Bob Crosby: I'll bite, what is it? Carl: Well, my girl's a vision and yours is a sight.

Frances Waidley: Are you letting your hair grow? Jane Eyre: I can't stop it.

Harold Civin: What makes a balloon go up?

Melvin Rosenberg: The same thing that makes you talk so much.

Lowell Haas '31, former band captain at Central, was one of two students admitted this fall into the Barbury Coast orchestra, official orchestra of Dartmouth college.

Rollin A. Jefferson '19 is medical director of the Milwaukee mental hygiene council. He has charge of clinics in various hospitals in the city and gives lectures on child life and psychology.

Dawson P. Adams '29 was affiliated with an outstanding Los Angeles advertising agency and is now working on the Globe Mills account.

Pauline Rosenberg, a graduate of 1912 and a former Central High teacher, has been in Palestine where she translated into English and French all important papers and news.

C. Lowell Harris '30, a senior at Harvard, has been recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic society. He was also awarded the Charles Wyman scholarship for advanced students in history.

Hold Clean-Up Campaign Hunt Parking Space Students Send Pleas Change School Periods

Students of Englewood High in Chicago have just completed a campaign to clean up both their district and their school and keep it clean in the future.

A little energy in the right place would brighten Central's halls and classrooms. Students are far too careless about scraps of paper and other waste.

Poly High, Riverside, Cal., is hunting for a place to park the automobiles used by its faculty and students.

Parking space for its automobiles is one of Central's pressing problems. Every day the west side is crowded and cars are parked on the Joslyn Memorial side in space which should be reserved for visitors to the memorial.

Roosevelt and Morgan Park High schools in Chicago are asking their students to write letters to men with political influence in an endeavor to keep their schools open.

Centralites should rejoice that Omaha schools are still in session. It is true that classes are overcrowded and teachers overburdened, but the schools are still running and there is no immediate prospect of serious trouble.

The Lewis and Clark High school in Spokane, Wash., has changed from seven periods of 45 minutes in length to six of one hour in duration. The result is increased quiet during school hours, less time wasted, and more efficiency in operation.

Such a plan applied to Central would bring results beyond a teacher's wildest dreams—if the six periods were cut to a half hour or less.

See 3 Ring Circus In Biology Room

CENTRAL'S biology rooms are a three ring circus these days, with white rats, tropical fish, tadpoles, and snakes performing spectacular feats for bystanders.

A garter snake donated by James Sevik '34 and a blue racer presented by Albert Youngstrom '36 slink around in Room 340. The garter snake, only six inches long and the thickness of a large nail, wishes he were attractive looking and less puny.

A "Bill" club is the newest creation of Central High school, Aberdeen, S. D. The club is sponsored by the journalism class and there is only one requirement; your name must be Bill.

Maybe some of our parents would enjoy such a club, but in such case from whence cometh our allowances?

At the Union High school of Las Cruces, N. M., cheer leaders for the year are elected directly by the student body.

Perhaps if our cheerleaders were elected by the students they would be more successful in squeezing a little noise out of Central students at football games and mass meetings.

Everyone must learn to live and live to learn, so every junior at the Gallatin County High school, Bozeman, Mont., must learn to dance for the annual junior prom.

Cambridge Debaters Use Brilliant Arguments But Lose to Creighton

On their first visit to the United States, Alastair Sharp and Michael Barkway, representing Cambridge university, England, in a debate with Creighton university Monday night at Technical High school, made a tremendous hit with their audience.

The young men, who have just graduated from Cambridge, arrived in New York October 28. They have participated in several debates since their arrival, and have provided the audience with a rare treat with their very pronounced English accent, their sharp wit, and their marvelous speaking ability.

Barkway is president of the British universities' League of Nations society, and he is also a participant in the activities of the Union society. Sharp is an athlete, and he was also champion of the Tory cause in the Union. Although the decision went to the negative, Creighton, who was represented by James J. Gleason and George Springborg, the many debate enthusiasts present showed a great deal of interest in the Cambridge speeches.

The Englishmen were, at times, very caustic, but they showed themselves to possess a fine sense of humor. They also exhibited the typical English disgust of American advertising.

The debate was on the question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt the Essential Features of the English System of Radio Control and Operation." It may also be added that the home team possessed plenty of debate talent and that they proved equal to the task of beating two speakers of probably as fine a quality as can be found.

Ramblings

Dolly Bliss '34 sang a solo during the Sunday morning services at Westminster Presbyterian church.

Evelyn Dansky '35 was elected president of the post confirmation class of the Conservative Synagogue Sunday school at their last meeting.

Frances Gordon '34 sprained her ankle and Mary Heagey '35 was badly bruised last week when the car which Frances was driving collided with another automobile at Saddle Creek boulevard and Farnam street.

The Western Union gave a demonstration of the uses of the telegraph last Tuesday in Miss Angeline Tauchen's Business Training II class.

Helen McFarland '37 was the leader of the Tuxis meeting at Westminster Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The leader next week will be Margaret McCullough '36.

Dorothy and Minnie Tuchman, '34 and '36 respectively, returned to school Monday after a week's absence due to their father's death.

Because of a concussion of the brain received in an automobile accident, Florence Liggett '36 was absent from school all last week.

Miss Pearl Rockfellow, who was absent three days last week because of a fire in her home, was replaced by Miss Natalie Gunlock, a princess at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball this fall.

Morris Loder '34, president of the January senior class, was presented with a gavel last week by Miss Jessie Towne.

Phyllis Hopkins '34 led the devotional period of the young people's service at the First Central Congregational church last Sunday evening.

Several student activities were omitted from last week's Register. They are the following: 5 points, Loquax staff, Spanish paper staff, and rifle team; 3 points, engineers and tumblers; 2 points, Road Show act and a cappella; 1 point, O-Club.

Bugle Notes From 117

This issue th' ol' bugle starts out with a burp, 'n' plays roll-call! The stock-show is jus' another happening, but the ushers 'n' wot-not will have to make up for lost dates! So, I hereby submit a list of eligible men, gals!

GEORGE SEEMAN—Hemay be an end (in football), but what a choice beginning he'd make!

DAVE LIVERMORE—You're Wright—he has been angled for—and caught. You don' need to even clip the coupon!

GEORGE EDGERLY—Broad and brawny and big and beautiful. A lovely man. In football parlance, he'd be called a "fair catch."

BILL BROOKMAN—Here's the pause that refreshes. He still favors 57 varieties (Heintze), but those hair and them eye'll produce triple jitters even in a blizzard.

WELLS WETHERELL—He's Indoe now.

HARRY LIVERMORE—Withdrawn from circulation. There's somethings he Kohn do, and still others that he Kohn't do.

BOB ROGERS—Children cry for 'im! Likes trees, especially fur (fir) only when it's worn by a Newbranch.

FRANK SEARS—A Monday-Tuesday-Wednesday smile advertisement. Never see him with a smile not on his face. But for a "jolly-boy" grin, set him up alongside of Dot Lindquist!

HARRY STICKLER—A widower, so to speak. Still in mourning. Loyal to the departed (Rockford college). However, an excellent catch. Try a flying tackle.

DICK CLARKE—Blonde and viking. A man among wimmin. Mild and gently insinuating voice. Give him a doughnut and you got him.

GEORGE HOLCOMB—Shh—call him "Apollo, my adorable hero." Will he succumb? How should I know? Quit calling me names.

GEORGE PAYNE—Right now, with his leg in a sling from being a stellar in feetsball, he might look like a rheumatism advertisement. But—a genuine "man-of-my-dreams." Sweet and lovable disposition, affectionate nature, 'n' ain't left behind by a long shot when it comes to wit. A five-star final.

MARVIN CRAWFORD—Free-lancing, as far as it's known, but still hankerin' to the sound of Sleighbells (Slabaugh).

EDDIE ADAMS—Full of cute lil' sayings, the favorite being, "Oh, Margaret!" He's always had good recommendations, and still has 'em, gals.

BOB BONEKEMPER—He satisfies. What more could be said? Never hard up for dates, so get your bids in early.

Thus endeth the list of eligibles. Ah—men!

LINCOLN GRIDSTERS DEFEAT KNAPPLEMEN, 33-0

PLOCK COUNTERS FOUR TOUCHDOWNS WITH LONG RUNS

Amen Runs 39 Yards for Fifth Touchdown; Kulper Kicks 3 Extra Points; Capitol Citizens Outdown Central, 13 to 7

Payne Injured

Spirit and fight bowed to experience and power last Saturday as Central's gridsters went down, 33-0, before the Scarlet and Black of Lincoln in a fuss in which Marvin Plock of Lincoln stole the whole show. Late in the first quarter, Korney's punt was blocked and recovered by Lincoln on Central's 27-yard line. Two first downs placed the ball on the six-yard mark. On the second play in the next quarter, a wide end run by Plock accounted for the first touchdown. The try-for-point failed. A sustained 60-yard drive by the Ballermen was climaxed with a 24-yard pass from Kulper to Plock for another touchdown. Kulper converted the extra point. Plock scored the third Lincoln tally with a 67-yard run. The Lincoln fullback place-kicked the extra point.

After a series of punts Lincoln possessed the ball on Central's 40-yard line. On the second play, Amen, stellar Link half, took things in his own hands and galloped away for a 39-yard run for another six-point bite in a well executed spinner. Kulper's kick was good, making the score 27-0. The quarter ended soon after.

The fourth period was purely a defensive game for Lincoln, even though the Ballermen did score a touchdown. Substitutions came thick and fast, and Central pushed the subs back for so many yards that the Lincoln coach had to hurry to get the regulars back to hold Central from scoring. Plock, a minute after he had returned in the game again, caught an Oglivie pass on the Ballermen's 24-yard line, and raced like a departed soul 73 yards for a touchdown. The kick was no good.

The game held several heartbreaking features for Central. Payne once got away for 28 yards to what looked like a certain touchdown before he was tackled from behind by a Lincoln player. Again Seeman got loose on a 40-yard dash to a score, but was called back, Central being off side.

The Capitol city club showed its superiority in first downs outnumbering Central 13 to 7. They also gained nearly 3 yards to the Purples' 1. Robertson, Oglivie, Korney, and Gesman were the standouts for Central while Plock, Amen, Kulper, and Mills starred for the Ballermen.

Lineups:

Twenty-one Freshmen Get Numerals for Grid Season

Twenty-one freshmen gridsters will receive numerals for the 1933 football season. Following is the list of those who will receive their numerals: Ray and Clyde Ketelsen, Albert King, Junior Johns, Leonard Muskin, Donald McCotter, David Weiner, Leonard Rosen, Ray Cutchall, Forrest Bell, Harry Bane, John Taylor, James Hall, Jack Moran, Joe Hornstein, Edward Clark, Jimmy Gurciullo, Al Truscott, Tony Caniglia, Paul Griffith, and Harry Spiegall.

RESERVES LOSE LAST GAME OF SEASON TO FREMONT

Bellevue Upsets Eagle Basketeers In Practice Game

The Central High cagers scrimmaged the Bellevue High school basketball team Wednesday night in the gym, the out-staters coming out on the best end of a 42-26 score. It was the first time this season that the Purples have met opposition from another school since they started practice two weeks ago.

The Bellevue quintet's success was due to good teamwork and their passing. Many of Central's passes were intercepted. However, Bellevue has been practicing for the last month.

Clark and Horacek started at forwards, Davidson at center, and Kline and Elliot at guards. Clark and Elliot showed up particularly well, Clark doing most of the point getting.

Several players will report when the grid season is finished. Korney, Robertson, Brookman, Stoetzel, and Gesman are among these.

Coach Barnhill is back in charge and is whipping the team into shape fast.

Kennedy's Hockey Team Triumphs Over Keeley's

After two smashing attempts to score, the Kennedy offensives broke through the Keeley line of defense and netted a goal on a three foot undercut stroke, which won the game for them and defeated the Keeley team, 1-0, in the girls' hockey game last Monday.

This undercut play is a most difficult one to block, since it has to be stopped by using the hands or by throwing the body between the ball and the goal.

The Chadwell-Keeley-W. Andersen combination dribbled and passed the ball within inches of the goal, but all attempts to score were blocked by the goalie, and the back field offensives.

SENIOR VOLLEY TEAM WINS

The senior girls' volleyball team rallied from their recent losses, and defeated the sophomores 21-3 and 21-15 a week ago Thursday while the freshmen were beaten by the juniors, 21-12, 12-21, and 22-20.

Frank's placed serves were a direct challenge to the senior team who fought to keep the ball in motion. Sprague scored against the sophs when they lost out on the returns. Rosen served and returned against the juniors with the ease and accuracy of a seasoned player.

Central Loquax Receives Praise

Loquax, Central's Latin paper, is receiving mention throughout this section of the country. It has had favorable write-ups in many local newspapers and in some national magazines.

Because of the write-up that appeared recently in The Classical Journal, requests have come in to Mrs. Engle from many parts of the country for copies of the Loquax. These people want to see this "fine example of hard work and excellent business management." They feel that they can learn something of value from it.

FOUR OPPONENTS WIN, THREE LOSE IN PAST WEEK-END

Technical Shuts Out St. Joseph, 7-0; North, Fremont, and Abe Lincoln also Victors; Benson and South Defeated

Passes Beat Packers

Four of Central's opponents this year on the gridiron won their games last week-end, while three of them had to take the short end of the scores. Tech, North, Fremont, and A. L. were the victors, and Benson, South, and St. Joe were the losers.

Tech beat St. Joe Central, 7 to 0, in a rally late in the fourth quarter. A long run and a penalty which put the ball on the one-yard line gave the Maroons the break that enabled them to score the only marker of the game. The Omahans outyarded the Missourians 178 yards to 80 yards.

The North High Vikings put the Benson Bunnies over their knees and administered an 18 to 6 spanking. After the Norsemen's first score Bob Otte took the ball for an 80-yard jaunt to take the ball over standing up and tying the score. North cut loose in the final quarter to win the game.

A passing attack by Sioux City Central proved too much for the South High Packers as they were beaten by an 18 to 0 score. The Southerners began the game with a spirited attack that lasted until the end of the first half. From then on it was all Sioux City.

Abraham Lincoln gave all the spectators their money's worth when they beat Red Oak 7 to 0 by a 10-yard pass plus a 50-yard run for the only score of the game, and incidentally it was the only time either team got inside the other's 15-yard line.

The powerful Fremont eleven scored another victory with a decisive win over Schuyler, 31 to 0. Fremont made the game interesting with long runs of from 40 to 60 yards by means of their own and Schuyler's passes.

Because of the increase in the number of students and the amount of work to be done, Miss Autumn Davies, head of the Social Science department, has made several changes in her civics course. Miss Davies has prepared a new type of assignment sheet which gives the assignment more elaborately and so saves considerable time in class. Miss Davies has replaced the colored tests with new ones which cover twice as much material as those previously given. Printed reading lists are handed in to the teacher as each topic is completed. The students find this new method aids them greatly in their library study.

Around Central

Varied programs were presented in the Boule meetings last Friday. In the first hour European History I class the group led by Ernest Burt '37 was voted best. Jim Allis '36, and Charles Spencer, Davis Wagner, and Craig Miller, all '37, stated facts about well known characters, and the class guessed the names of the characters. James Cosmas '37, the archon, gave the history of the Athenian boule.

Betty Byrne and Gayle Tate, both '37, in the third hour European History I class gave talks on the Greek house and theatre, illustrating their talks with colored charts. In the third hour European History III class Betty Beeson '35 led the winning group. She directed a play showing the difference between home life at the beginning of the industrial revolution and now. Bill Fry and Marjorie Underwood, both '35, and Mary Burden '36 took part.

In the seventh hour European History III class Gus Pulos '35, Eugene Chinn and Bill Carland, both '36, presented a dialogue between Frederick the Great of Prussia and Voltaire.

Thirteen names were omitted from the record making list of Central High students for grades of 98, 99, and 100 per cent in mid-term examinations.

Those whose names failed to get in last week are: Chemistry I, 100 Vance Senter, 98 Frank Goos, Bill Gray, Ronald Reuben, and Sam Weinstein; Alg. II, 100 Haskell Morris and Reba Dulin; Fr. III, 98 Mary Allen; Eng. I, 98 Dolores McWilliams; Eng. IV, 98 James Field; Eng. V, 98 James Lefler; Solid Geom., 99 Louis Semina and 98 Harold Zelinsky.

Additional high exam grades are as follows: English III, Muriel Frank and Abraham Dansky received 99 and Jean Pepper received 98. In English II, Albert Friedman and Sarah Resnick received 98.

Because of their outstanding work in art during the first nine weeks of school, eight of Miss Mary Angood's pupils have been appointed to the art honor roll.

They are as follows: Special design work, Charlotte Buettenback '34; Art II, Mary Ellen Dickerson '35; senior art, Charlotte Buettenback; Art III, Helen Fuller, Mary Louise Votova, both '36, and Ethelyn Kulakofsky '35; costume design, Charlotte Buettenback and Ethel Cole '34; advanced art, Selma Berkowitz '34, Charlotte Buettenback, and Jane Gaughran '35.

Hapless Freshmen Handle Calf Brains At G. A. A. Outing

The burning logs of the cheery campfire snap and crackle beneath the stars. A group of tired smiling youngsters lounge around it, talking in low voices or crooning the latest song hits. Their noses are smudged with dirt, their shining eyes smart from the curling smoke rising from the fire, and their cheeks are whipped to a rosy red by the wind and from close contact with the roaring flames.

Such was the picture seen at the end of the G. A. A. outing held on the Kuehl farm near Father Flanagan's last Saturday. The hapless freshmen were informally initiated, and to start their day of torture they were blindfolded and had to feed one another a blackened marshmallow or a soft over-ripe banana which they smeared over each other's face. They were then marched cold-bloodedly down the "avenue of palms", and forced to handle calf brains, under the impression that they were angle worms.

A shaggy Shetland pony stubbornly refused to become friends and turned its head toward home carrying its luckless rider with it. Margery Noe fell off when she tried to turn it back, and Lucille Keeley walked half way back pulling the pony after her when it trotted off with her.

The fresh open air and strenuous exercise whetted appetites; charred weiners and burnt marshmallows were eaten ravenously and washed down with hot chocolate and fresh milk.

Girl Scouts Hold Hike

Signalling and outdoor cooking were the main activities of a hike taken by the Star Girl Scout troop of Central, Saturday morning. The girls hiked from the end of the Dundee carline to the site of the local day camp.

At the meeting of the troop held last Thursday in Room 331, plans for a Thanksgiving basket and plans for the Christmas dinner party were discussed.

The girls are dressing dolls for the Christmas toy shop, and some are making stuffed animals and dolls. The members of the troop are working together at each meeting to prepare themselves for the minstrel proficiency badge test.

Mrs. Fern Redenbaugh, a former Central student, is captain of the troop.

TIGERS OUTPLAY PURPLES TO WIN CONTEST, 19 TO 6

Outstater Returns Kickoff 70 Yards for First Score; Eagles Pass for Touchdown; Laterals Make Deciding Points

Fremont Undefeated

Although they had the distinction of being the first team to score upon the Tigers, Central's seconds dropped their final game of the season a week ago Wednesday to an undefeated Fremont team, 19 to 6.

The reserves were doomed from the start when Whitmore, sensational back, took the kickoff and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Baker plunged over for the extra point. Central received the second kickoff, but was unable to get anywhere.

A few plays later Fremont made a 60-yard concentrated drive up the field, Baker scoring on a plunge from the three-yard line. The try for point failed. The Tigers found the Purple line too tough and had to resort to end runs and passes for their gains.

In the second quarter Brown, Central's ace, punted a beautiful kick out on the enemy's five-yard line. A poor kickback and a 15-yard penalty set up the pins for Central's only score. Just as the gun went off for the half, Catania heaved Brown a perfect pass, and he scampered over the goal line untouched. Brown's end run for point was stopped.

In the third quarter neither team was able to score, but as the last canto began, Fremont put on the pressure. Trick plays, forward and lateral passes, made the third touchdown for the outstaters. Booth, heavy fullback, took a lateral around end and ran 25 yards for the score.

It was the first game in which the Purples were outplayed and gave them a season's record of two wins, three losses, and a tie. This was much better than Coach Bexten expected. Moody and Backstrom stood out in Central's line while Brown and Bartos, game captain, stood out in the backfield.

Sam Wolk '35 was absent Monday and Tuesday of this week because of the death of his sister, Celia, who died Sunday from a rare malady which puzzled doctors for approximately six months.
