

Colleens Present Style Show For Freshman Party

Central High Players Have Play At First Regular Meeting Of New Semester

The Central Colleens were joined by the Home Economics club in presenting their freshman party in the form of a style show in Room 425 last Thursday. The show was presented through the courtesy of Goldstein-Chapman and Thomas Brady of that company acted as master of ceremonies. Members of both clubs who served as models were Elizabeth Smith, Nellie Tribulato, both '35, Helen Marie Kincaide, Vira Deal, and Ann Patrice Prime, all '37, and Elizabeth Morris '38.

At the Central High Players meeting in Room 140 a front directed by Ernest Tullis was chosen to be entered in the Road Show. A play, "Mice," under the direction of Virginette Olson '35 was presented. Characters in the play were Violet De Vane, Barbara Rosewater, and Bernetta Gee, all '35; and Warren Schrempf, Mary Lou Cornick, Eleanor Sawtell, and Lois Burnett, all '36.

Lysle Abbott '36 spoke on the graft in the days of Cicero at the February meeting of the Latin club in Room 240. Bonnie Young '36 told of the building materials and the rent during the times of Cicero.

Phyllis Beerman '38 and Richard Smith '37 were elected sergeants-at-arms.

Tryouts for the French play were held at a joint meeting of Le Cercle Francais and the Gentleman's French club Tuesday in 235. Both clubs will have their pictures in the O-Book.

Roy Severenson '36 was elected president of the Spanish club at the meeting Tuesday in Room 335. Other officers elected were Marion Strauss, vice president; Pauline Schwartz, secretary; Dale Peterson, treasurer, all '36, and Elinor Marsh '36 and Albert Friedman '37, sergeants-at-arms.

Talented Freshman's Water Color On Exhibition at Joslyn Memorial

By MARJORIE HOUSER
Among our most prominent freshmen is Marguerite Dvorak, a very talented art pupil of the late Thomas Kimball. At present her work in water colors, "The Building of the Nation," is on exhibition at the Joslyn Memorial.

Marguerite is extremely attractive and has a charming personality. Her eyes sparkled with animation as each question was put to her. The questions were entirely unnecessary as she talked informally and interestingly.

"I started art at Mason school under Miss Pickens, the art director. On her recommendation Mr. Kimball accepted me as a pupil. My work in grade school was principally with figures, but under the influence of Mr. Kimball I became interested in water colors. He possessed the talent and perception to be able to explain just where one's mistakes were and to help in their correction. The art class went on jaunts to various parks to secure subjects. Most of the pupils were painting for a hobby, very few for commercial reasons. The president of the class is a prominent doctor here in Omaha. At the present time I am painting a landscape for a client."

Mrs. Jensen Weeps Passionately, Aiding O-Book Supporters

"I was wrong," sobbed Mrs. Jensen. "I was wrong. But I'll make up for it; I'll buy an O-Book." The climax of the trial had arrived. Prosecuting Attorney Sullivan, touched to the heart by the witness' tears, offered her his shoulder.

Right then and there Miss O-Book won the case, hands down. Mr. A. Student Milder, and all the other non-supporters of the O-Book whom he represented, lost their sales resistance.

Counsel for the defense, Ernest Tullis, admitted he was foiled, too. "This has squelched me," he said, weeping his way off the stage to buy an O-Book.

It looks like a big victory all around—for the Central annual and everyone but the papas and mamas who will have to fork over the wherewithal to make good O-Book pledges.

Miss Ada Ewing is teaching a class in commercial law which has been introduced this semester.

Commercial Dept. Increases in Size Since Its Start

Two Teachers Added to Faculty To Meet Need for Extra Type Curriculum

The commercial department, particularly the type section, has been steadily increasing in size since its start about 30 years ago. Now it is the second largest in the school.

The first typewriting class, according to the records, was taught by Miss Mae Welsh the second semester of 1903-04. This semester six teachers are teaching type every hour including two 7:56 classes.

The demand for more type classes has become so great in the last few years that two teachers were added to the faculty to teach that subject, Mrs. Grace Knott in 1929, and Miss Gertrude Knie this semester.

The total enrollment of the commercial department for the semester ending in June, 1934, was 929. Last semester it was 1,013 with 541 of that number taking type, and this semester it is 1,223 of which 679 are in typewriting classes.

The curriculum includes personal typing, a class formed last September and offered to upperclassmen only. This class teaches the students how to use the keyboard; then they may apply their knowledge to whatever work they wish, principally themes, business letters, and other types of office work.

According to Mrs. Edna Dana, head of the commercial department, the depression accounts for the recent marked increase in enrollment. More students now have to search for jobs after graduating and also many who wish to go to college now have to work their way through by doing office work.

"The majority of the students enrolled in the commercial departments are taking business subjects along with their regular college prep course," Mrs. Dana explained. "Fewer people are now going through high school carrying college prep work only. Then, too, students planning to go to business colleges take some type and shorthand in their senior year preliminary to enrolling at these schools."

possible will be done to make the production a success.

Fonda is under contract for four years with Walter Wayne, an independent who produces through Paramount. The contract calls for two pictures each summer. Fonda plans to return to New York each year for the winter season. He believes he will be a much bigger asset to the movies if he keeps up his contact with the stage.

Try Mr. A. Student For Libelling O-Book Mock Trial Is Publicity Stunt to Promote O-Book Sales

Marvin Sullivan suggested that pictures of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes be used in the book to act as an incentive to underclassmen to buy O-Books.

"If each senior will persuade five obstinate underclassmen to buy O-Books, our work is at an end," said Albert Lustgarten.

A list of seniors to represent each of the three home rooms in O-Book sales was decided upon at a recent cabinet meeting of the class officers.

William Wood from the department of public relations at Grinnell, Iowa, spoke Thursday to seniors in the auditorium, on "How Young People May Prepare to Meet World Problems in Times of Depression." The material for his talk he gathered during studies at Harvard.

William King and Helen Wilkes have been chosen representatives for the Register by Mrs. Jensen.

COLUMBUS INVADES CENTRAL TOMORROW EVENING

DISCOVERERS TO PRESENT STRONG DEFENSIVE TEAM

Knapplemen Strive to Break 5 Game Losing Streak Saturday

BROCK HIGH SCORER

Invaders from outstate will challenge Coach Knapple's crew of basketballers tomorrow night when Columbus' powerful squad will battle Central in the Eagles' gym.

Two years ago Columbus won the state title and during the entire season's play they lost only one contest, and that was an upset loss to Central by one point.

Comparative scores indicate a Central victory, for when Columbus journeyed to Lincoln, the Capitol Citizens walloped them soundly, 21 to 8, while Central took the Lincolnites into camp by the score of 21 to 19.

Columbus will present a high scorer in Charles Brock who plays either forward or center. Low scores dominate the record of Columbus and they are reputed to have one of the finest defensive teams in the state.

Knapple intends to start his regular lineup against the Discoverers in hopes that the losing streak which has now reached five will be overcome by this veteran combination.

MATMEN WHIP PREP

Bonecrushers Smother Bluejays in Walkaway, 33 to 5

Central's Purple and White bonecrushers gained a lopsided 33-5 victory over Coach Tony Sesto's Creighton Prep grapplers last Tuesday on the Central mat.

The Young Bluejays won but one match, the 155-pound bout going to them by the fall route. The Purples won all of the other nine matches on the program, three by falls and six by decisions.

Roy Reynolds, substituting for "Jolly" Rogers, who was ill, won the 135-pound match by pinning Shryja of Prep in 3:35.

"Dutch" Reichstadt won a nip and tuck bout from Ojile in the heavy-weight class by taking the decision after two overtime periods.

Following is the summary of the match: 85-pound Class—Kirachenbaum (C) decisioned Polito (CP).

Coach "Skip" Bexten's grapplers dropped a close dual match to the Tech matmen 19-17 last Friday.

Reserves Trip Tech Seconds In Easy Game

The Central second team defeated the Technical reserves 33-15 in the preliminary to the first team game last Friday.

Dan Donham led the Purple seconds in scoring with seven field goals and one free throw.

The game was characterized by the numerous setup shots the Purples made. Time after time the Barnhill men had men open underneath the basket for sure baskets.

Tonight after school the Central seconds meet the reserves of North at the Central gym.

Schmidt Gives Early Call for Tracksters

Hoping to repeat last year's victory in the intercity track meet, many stars and hopefuls of last year's squad are working out daily under the guidance of Coach "Papa" Schmidt.

George Seemann is expected to develop a good shot putting form, while Sam Venziano strives to raise himself a few more inches over the pole vault.

Coach "Papa" Schmidt held a meeting Wednesday after school for new men and all others interested in track.

CAGE TOURNAMENT AT BLUEJAY GYM

State Regional Meet to Be Held On March 7-9; Eddie Hickey in Charge

Regional basketball tournament for Omaha high schools will be held at the Creighton university gymnasium with Eddie Hickey, Bluejay football coach, in charge.

Thirteen of these Class A tournaments will be held throughout the entire state. The winners will then go to the state finals at the University of Nebraska coliseum from March 13-16.

All Omaha teams including Central have entered their names for the regional contests. Creighton Prep is expected to be one of the teams selected for the finals.

It is expected that eight teams will be assigned to the Omaha district, the list including Central, Tech, Benson, South, North, and three from nearby small towns.

Kinnick Leads City Scorers; Horacek In Fourth Place

Nile Kinnick, Benson flash, continued to be top man in the intercity scorers when he made ten points against Fremont.

Ed Horacek was the only member of his team that was able to find a place for himself among the high scorers of the city.

Goldenusky, South forward, led the Missouri Valley scorers even though his season score was lower than most of the other high scorers.

Girls' Sport Department

This week we feature a member of the athletic Chadwell family, Nancy Jane. Nancy is one of the few girls who has come out for volleyball, hockey, and baseball every season.

Mrs. Meier gave a pep talk to the girls' basketball teams that had the quality and promoted the same results as the famous pep talks of Chick Justice.

Because so many girls find it too strenuous to continue to come out for basketball once a week, Mrs. Meier has had to eliminate two of the teams from the tournament league.

SPORTS CALENDAR

Playoff For City Champ Next Week

Central and Benson to Vie for Runnerup Title; Prep and South for City Top

The intercity playoffs are to be held next Friday, February 22, at the Creighton gym, between Creighton Prep and South for the intercity championship and probably Benson and Central for the runnerup title.

Benson will have a chance to tie Creighton for the North District championship if they beat the prepsters tonight. If the Bensonites win, a playoff game will have to be held February 21 at Tech.

The price for these games will be 25 cents for holders of S. A. tickets, and 50 cents general admission.

City Competition Closes

After finishing their intercity competition with the best record ever set by a South team for many years, the Packer basketballers traveled to Nebraska City to smear the outstate team 30 to 16.

All city teams will complete their season next week with at least one game except Tech and South.

Tech to Play Lincoln

South, Central, and Abraham Lincoln, have finished their Missouri Valley competition while the remaining game in the conference will have only a slight bearing on the present standings of the league.

North was handed a 21-34 defeat by Creighton in a game that gave Creighton Prep its fourth Interstate championship in the last four years.

TECHSTERS HAVE HOT NIGHT AFTER SERIES OF LOSSES

Roy Waybright Leads Central's Arch Enemy to Victory with 21 Points

SCORE CLOSE AT HALF

A rejuvenated Technical High basketball five beat the pupils of Coach F. Y. Knapple last Friday in the Central gym by the score of 42-26.

The Purple offense clicked in the second period when Gesman and Horacek found their eyes to slice a Tech lead from 19-5 to 25-19 at halftime.

Waybright dropped in nine field goals and three gift tosses for a total of 21 points. Several of his shots were nothing short of miraculous.

A humorous feature of the game occurred late in the game when Stone, sub for Waybright, got mixed on his directions and donated Central a basket.

Horacek High Scorer

This basket and a one-handed goal by Horacek were the only fielders made by the Purples in the second half.

The defeat ruined any chances that the Purples had of winning the Missouri Valley conference title.

Box score: TECH (42) vs CENTRAL (26) with player statistics.

Frosh Basketball Edge Out Fremont Yearlings 19 to 18

Keeping a squad of twenty-four players, Coach Chick Justice has developed a freshman basketball team that is nearly unbeatable.

Two Starting Lineups

The freshmen were beaten in their first game of the season by the Benson freshmen 32 to 6.

Four Games Left

The freshmen have but four more games left on their schedule as two others with Portsmouth were postponed on account of an epidemic in that school.
