CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER

Vol. LII. No. 1.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL, OMAHA, NEBR., OCTOBER 15, 1937

FIVE CENTS

James Haugh In Command Of R.O.T.C.

Sergeant Wyatt Serves As Military Instructor: Olson, Miller Majors

By Harry Otis and Bruce Macalister The final dress parade of the 1937 cadet camp, held at the Nebraska National Guard camp, June 9, marked the end of forty-five years of the cadet regiment at Central. This vear the accustomed blue-gray is replaced by the khaki colored uniforms of a junior R.O.T.C. unit.

The promotions made last year are effective under the new system. James Haugh commands the regiment, holding the position of cadet Head Librarian lieutenant colonel; Orville Olson and Stanton Miller command the two battalions. George Wales is regimental adjutant.

Major W. A. Mead has general supervision of the R.O.T.C. units in Omaha and Council Bluffs High schools, while L. O. Wyatt retains the position of sergeant instructor in Central.

The primary purpose of the junior R.O.T.C. is to instill in the youth of America discipline, loyalty, pride, promptness, spirit, and initiative. Contrary to many reports, drill is not compulsory in secondary schools; however, it is compulsory in all land grant colleges. Promotions will be made on the basis of examinations. These tests will be both written and practical.

The military department has arranged its schedule so that it will not interfere with the other activities of the cadets. This year they will drill during school, second to sixth hours inclusive, instead of after school.

The freshmen may drill without credit as the government is only interested in sophomores through seniors. Two freshman companies take the place formerly occupied by F company. "inere companies form a

Robert Stelzer. Following are the promotions, as announced last June:

Lieutenant colonel: James Haugh. Majors: Orville Olson, Stanton Miller. Captains: George Wales, Charles Nestor, Robert Wilson, George Dyball, Lee Seemann, Herbert Osborne, Nor-man Helgren, Dwight Brigham, How-ard Humphreys, Walter Anderson, Rob-ert Stelzer, Bruce Macalister, Robert Buchanan, Loy Brown. First lieutenants: Eugene Rose, ert Stehanan, Buchanan, First lieutenants: Eugene Rose, Howard Turner, Harry Otis, George Tobias, Robert Martin, George Whit-ney, Leslie Johnson, Don Osborn, Bill Griffin.

James C. Haugh

Shields Resigns After 22 Years Mrs. Stewart Is Head; Mrs. Blanchard, Miss Weymuller Assistants

Coming as a complete surprise to the students and the faculty of Central High school, Miss Zora Shields, head of the library since 1915, resigned her position early in the summer. She was graduated from Central, and taught Latin and English here previous to the time she became head librarian.

Mrs. Hazel Stewart is in charge of the library with Mrs. Catherine Blanchard and Miss Margaret Weymuller, a graduate of Central, as assistants.

Miss Jessie Towne, dean of girls, she used opinions of friends. This says of Miss Shields, "No one could article took about five hours to write. be more wonderfully equipped in The magazine's letter of acceptance, knowledge and education, no one together with their check, now in the third battalion under acting Major could be more desirous to be of service than Miss Shields. We shall miss her more than we can tell."

> "I think it would be difficult to find anyone with a more cultural background than Miss Shields. She kept the library from being merely a much I appreciated her help in the choice of books on history, art, and Announce Dates

Girls' Hearts Pine For New Uniforms

Boots, boots, boots — no, this is not Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, but merely what Central halls are full of. The place is be-ginning to look like a riding acad-emy as the officers of the new R.O.T.C. unit proudly clump up and down the halls in their boots. From the sophisticated senior to the frivolous freshman, the gals gasp in wide-mouthed ad-miration, and who wouldn't! For, from the tops of their overseas caps to the darn in their socks. the officers are super-elegant with khaki shirts, Sam Brown belts, and neutral colored breeches. Yes indeed!

And if you are still not tired of looking, gaze on the all-khaki uni-forms of the long-suffering privates and corporals, and the other hard workers. Really neat! Three cheers for the R.O.T.C. unit and throw in a yea-bo for the officers' boots.

Magazine Pays Cash Award for Feature Elaine Brown '38 Has Short Story Accepted

Ten dollars, enclosed in a letter of acceptance instead of the common rejection slip, was the payment Elaine Brown '38 received for her first magazine article, "My Mother and I," which will be published soon in the Parent's Magazine. Although this manuscript, written last summer, is her first to be printed, Elaine has been writing for several years for amusement.

Last year Elaine took a course in creative writing, English IX, under Miss Sara Vore Taylor, English department head. In that class Elaine said she received many ideas that have helped her in composition, and that her interest in writing was increased.

During the summer Elaine continued writing, taking for a subj her unusually close friendship w her mother. For additional mater bank, is now one of Elaine's pet possessions, she says, and although she has no definite plans for future writing, Elaine agrees with her parents that she will try more writing soon.

Register Goes Streamline; Howard Turner, Harold Slosburg Head Staff as Co-Editors

Name Jim McDonald As Business Manager

H. Cohen Sports Editor; Otis, Macalister Make-up

Harold W. Slosburg '38 and Howard Turner '38 share the position of editor on the "streamlined" new Central High Register for the first semester of 1937-38. Sam "Bud" Wintroub, also '38, takes over the duties of news editor.

Slosburg, editor-in-chief, has been elected to Junior Honor society three years and holds membership in Quill and Scroll. He is a member of the French club, Central Committee. Central High Players, Red Cross club, and Press club; in addition he has participated in track and wrestling.

Turner's activities, besides that of managing editor, include treasurer of the Press club, vice-president of the Math club. two years on the Junior Honor society, Quill and Scroll, first lieutenant adjutant in the R. O. T. C., and make-up editor of the Register last semester.

Mary Wyrick '38 will be assistant news editor and Omaha World-Herald correspondent.

Management of the business department is in the hands of Jim Mc-Donald '38 and his assistant, Philip Ford '38, while Frances Osoff, also '38, has charge of the advertising department with Lois Barish, Dorothy Chait, Marjorie Gould, and Genevieve Stein as advertising solicitors. Students who will do make-up work on the paper are Harry Otis, Elizabeth Morris, Effie Lorraine Stockman, Bruce Macalister, Dick Selby, and Mary Jane Kopperud.

Haskell Cohen '38 was announced horts editor by Mrs. Anne Lane orters are Joe manandm, Donald Beck, Bill Pangle, and Henry Patton. Girls' sports are handled by Jean Dustin, Jean Meredith, and Phyllis Willard.

Norman Rose Myers and Barbara Beerman are copyreaders, and the proofreaders are Martha Harrison and Mary Fran Hassler. Exchange editors are Aris De Wald and Gertrude Wolf. The Register staff secretary is Marjorie Gould. Ray Low managers.

The following Journalism II stu-

Harold W. Slosburg

Howard G. Turner

Central students will be glad to learn that the delay in the opening of school in no way affects the regular vacations. The four weeks lost because of the infantile paralysis epi- the final touches to the ultra-modern demic is being made up by adding appearance. and Rod Overholt are the circulation three minutes to each of the eight periods, and by having one extra week in the spring, which extends the closing date of school from June Third Lunch Reduces

Ultra-Modern With Use of New Type

Greater Readability and Better Display Is Goal

The Register goes streamline! From the nameplate down, the paper is now as modern as tomorrow!

In the last few years most newspapers have completely altered their appearance, and the goal these newspapers have constantly held before them in undertaking these changes is a greater readability combined with a more attractive display of news.

The Register, never lagging, has adopted its new dress with this goal before it.

The first move in streamlining was to discard Century type which for years has been used in headlines. It is replaced by modern type, the latest word in heads. Because of the simplicity of this new type, much more can be said in a head, and what is said can be much more easily read.

The new heads also drop the confusing little "jim" dashes that used to appear between decks and after each head, replacing them with more white space, and thus facilitating reading. Feature heads, formerly set in Goudy italic, are now set in streamline Kabel italic. And to carry out the program of modernism, the first paragraph of each story is set without indentation.

The paper is now printed on cream tinted newsprint, which scientists agree is the easiest color on which to read type. This replaces the old blue-white tint formerly used.

The old four rule dateline has been superseded by a more modern one of two rules, and the cramped type has been thrown out and replaced by white space further opening up the paper. The ears which cluttered up the top of the page have been discarded.

And as a crowning, or rather uncrowning gesture, the antiquated old English nameplate was scrapped, and a new one of clear, clean Kabel takes its place at the top of the page, finishing the remodeling, and giving

ney, Leslie Johnson, Don Osborn, Bill Bunce. Second lieutenants: Bob Burns, John Catlin, Tom Uren, Phillip Ford, Rodney Overholt, Richard Selby, Jim Childe, (Continued on Page 3, Column 3)

Assistant Principal Fred Hill remarked, "The library as well as the school will certainly miss her."

Eight Instructors Added to Central Faculty; Teachers Include Three Former Graduates

include three Central graduates, two head of the commercial department, teachers returning from leaves of has returned from an extended leave absence, and three newcomers to the of absence of nine years and has restaff.

Miss Elly Jacobsen '29, new biology teacher in 340, comes back to Central from the University of Rochester in New York, where, for the past year, she has been working for a doctor of philosophy degree in zoology and assisting a professor. Previous to this, Miss Jacobsen received a bachelor of science and a master of arts degree from the University of Nebraska. Miss Jacobsen has also taught at Doane college in Crete, Nebraska.

Webster Porter '27 is now teaching Spanish, Latin, and French here. He taught the past few years at the Florida Military academy and was a substitute here in 1929. Mr. Porter is in charge of the modern language library which will consist of French, Spanish, and German books presented to the school by outsiders.

Miss Margaret Weymuller '25, assistant librarian, is a graduate of Barnard college and of the Columbia University Library school. For the past eight years she has been a librarian at Barnard college.

Mrs. Harriet Harris of the comleave of absence with her husband on she is glad to be back to work.

Additions to the faculty of this fall, Miss Marguerette Burke, former turned to teach part of the day.

J. J. Guenther, instructor of chem istry, came to Central High school from Omaha Technical High school after teaching there fifteen years. Mr. Guenther attended Dakota Wesleyan Guenther attended Dakota Wesleyan university as an undergraduate and Spiritual Singers Will he received master's degrees from the University of Chicago, University of Minnesota, University of Nebraska, and Creighton university. At Stockton, Illinois, Mr. Guenther held the principalship in the high school for one year, and he taught chemistry and public speaking for three years in the high school of Holdrege, Nebraska, before coming to Omaha. Mr. Guenther lectures in chemistry, psychology, and social problems at

A new member of Central's faculty is Mrs. Florence Roush, former teacher at Dundee Grade school. She taught some of our prominent seniors their eighth grade arithmetic and the Nebraska Methodist hospital.

grammar, and is now teaching clothing and home problems to many of her former pupils.

Miss Evelyn Krotz, new foods and home making teacher in Room 38, has taught in the night school in mercial department spent her year's Nelson, Nebraska, and for the last two years has been with the Iowaremarked that she enjoyed being just in the home economics department. a plain housewife and working in her Miss Krotz has also served as assistflower garden, but she admits that ant foods director at Raymond Hall rhythmm, rythum, rhtyms, rthym. offer the subject. One-half credit is sales are: first prize, five dollars; in Lincoln.

Vacations

The Nebraska State Teachers' convention will be held in Omaha on October 28-29, with Thanksgiving recess, November 25-26. Christmas vacation will cover the two weeks from Friday, December 17, to Monday, January 3. It has been tentatively decided that the closing date of the first semester will be set ahead approximately two weeks. This, however, will not change the dates of spring vacation which are from Fri-

Present Concert Nov.19

Oscar Seagle, soloist and director of the Oscar Seagle Singers, will present his world famous concert of Negro spirituals November 19 in the uditorium.

Six singers, including Shirley Sinclair, mezzo-soprano, Donald Johnston, tenor, and Sam Selman, baritone, all nationally known artists, make up the present group.

Such musical celebrities as John Boles of motion pictures and Tommy Thomas of radio have been members of the group.

Spelling of 'Rhythm' Proves Difficult to Gym Students

According to the various spellings Mr. Skillstad said. "Only teachers submitted on the program cards in who have taken the course in first the girls' gym, Central has plenty of aid under a qualified instructor are a fruit farm in eastern Oregon. She Nebraska Light and Home company rhythm - rythme, rythm, rhthym, allowed to teach." rhythum, rhythem, rhythym, rhy-thmn, rythems, rythym, rythums, rythim, and rythem.

dents are reporters: Walter Anderson, Mary Lou Ball, June Bliss, Elaine Brown, Gwen Carson, Betty Jeanne Clarke, Harry Goodbinder, Amelia Hartman, Alice Ann Hascall, Mary Jane Kopperud, Elaine Lagman, Bruce Macalister, Robert Martin, Frances Morris, Dorothy Myers, Mary McCarthy, Donna Neely, Harry Otis, Evelyn Paeper, Irving Rosenbaum, Miriam Rubnitz, Anabel Shotwell, Betty Sloboth, Arlene Soloman,

The new eighth period was not added to make up lost time, but to assist the new ROTC, unit. This city schools have been announced.

3 to June 10.

Virginia Stuht, Marion Westering Fall Play Is 'Seven

John Knudsen '38, president of the Central High Players, called the first the study hall for twenty minutes of meeting of the year last Thursday. were introduced, roll was called and the financial status read. Miss Frances McChesney, sponsor of the club, announced that "Seven served more quickly, and the lunch Keys to Baldpate" had been chosen for the fall play.

Mass Meeting Boosts Sale of S. A. Tickets; Prizes for Salesmen Range from $1 to $5

With Dave Noble, former Nebraska | prize, two dollars; and twenty-eight football star, Coach Allie R. Morri- other prizes of one dollar each. Anyson, Coach Knapple, and Lt. Col. one wishing to compete may check splints, to use artificial respiration, James Haugh as speakers, an all- out tickets from O. J. Franklin, school mass meeting was held last school treasurer, Room 20.

Friday morning to boost the Student Association ticket sales.

Ray Low, circulation manager of the Register, acted as master of ceremonies. The R.O.T.C. band, Mrs. Irene Jensen, and four cheer leaders brought yells and applause from the crowd.

This year the Register staff and football team are salesmen. Cash very pleased to have Central High prizes to be offered for the largest second prize, three dollars; third extra period enables the boys to drill A new lunch period, third lunch, has during the day instead of before or been added to the program of the after school. The new calendar for day for Central High school. Third Central has not been completed as lunch was formed to lessen the yet, but the vacation dates for all crowds in the lunch rooms. This was made possible by the longer hours necessary for the establishment of the new R.O.T.C. unit.

Lines in Cafeteria

The north side of the building has first lunch at the end of fourth hour; all the study halls have second lunch; and the south side of the building has third lunch. Students who have a fifth hour study attend the period, then go to lunch. After After the officers for the ensuing year lunch the students return to their study hall for the remaining twenty minutes of the period.

> With three lunches, students are rooms are not as overcrowded as they were last year.

A paid-up ticket costs $2.25; a booklet, seventy-five cents with payments of ten cents a week for twenty weeks. For this amount, one may receive the following:

6 football games$	3.50
10 basketball games	5.00
Opera ticket	.50
Road Show ticket	.50
Discount on O-Book	.50
Discount on C.H. Players' play	.15
24 issues of the Register	1.20
Total	11.35

office Friday afternoon. He explained that students are taught to tie bandages, to make and to know when to call an ambulance or a doctor. Besides having written examinations, the pupils are required to apply the various treatments. "The instructor must use our textbooks and teach only our methods,"

Mr. Skillstad stated that he was given to those taking the course.

Jayne Williams, and Al Wilson. day, April 8, to Monday, April 18. The usual Memorial Day vacation First Aid Offered Keys to Baldpate' will be on May 30. As New Subject

> The study of first aid, under the auspices of the Omaha Red Cross, is a new subject offered at Central High this year. Miss Marion Treat, health and education instructor, teaches the course, offered in place of swimming. "Students who take this course > and pass all the requirements are definitely qualified to give first aid under any circumstances," stated George P. Skillstad, director of life saving and first aid for the Omaha Red Cross, when interviewed in his

Page Two

CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER

Friday, October 15, 1987

CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER Founded 1874

Published Every Friday by the Journalism Classes, Central High School, Omaha, Nebraska

T111- 1 01 1 4	** *** ***
Editor-in-Chief
Managing Editor
News Editor
Sports Editor	Haskell Coher
Assistants	Joe Kirshenbaun Donald Beck
Girls' Sports	{ Jean Dustin Phyllis Willard Jean Meredith (Harry Otis
Make-Up Editors	Bruce Macalister
Copy Readers	Norma Rose Myers Barbara Beerman
Proof Readers	Martha Harrison Mary Fran Hassler
DEDODTEDA	N 11 N 11 - COURT 1974 1974 1975

REPORTERS

Walter Anderson, Mary Lou Ball, June Bliss, Elaine Brown, Gwen Carson, Betty Jeanne Clarke, Harry Good-binder, Amelia Hartman, Alice Ann Hascall, Mary Jane Kopperud, Elaine Lagman, Robert Martin, Frances Mor-ris, Dorothy Myers, Mary McCarthy, Donna Neely, Harry Otis, Evelyn Paeper, Irving Rosenbaum, Miriam Rubnitz, Anabel Shotwell, Betty Sloboth, Arelen Solomon, Virginia Stuht, Marion Westering, Jayne Williams, Al Wilson Business Managar Business Manager.. Philip Frances Osoff Lois Barish Dorothy Chait Marjorie Gould Genevieve Stein Ray Low Assistants. Circulation Manager ..Rod Overholt Assistant Exchange Managers. Gertrude Wolf Aris De Wald World-Herald Correspondent. .. Mary Wyrick Staff Secretary. Marjorie Gould Business Adviser O. J. Franklin General Adviser Anne Savidge Art Adviser Mary L. Angood Joseph G. Masters, Principal of Central High School Entered as second-class matter, Nov. 15, 1918, at the post-office in Omaha, Nebraska, under the act of March 3, 1875 Vol. LII Friday, October 15, 1937 No. 1

EDITORIAL

Almost invariably the editorial in the first issue of a paper strikes an optimistic note: so it is in this instance; but only a few writers have foreseen futures for their readers as promising as the possibilities Central students have this year.

Always important is the proper mental attitude toward a task. After the postponement of the opening of schools, students were never more anxious to take up their studies again. Many students now realize that gaining an education is a pleasure as well as an advantage, are going to school, and liking it!

As if the delay in the opening of schools were not enough of a change, an R.O.T.C. unit has been installed, bringing with it the eight hour day. Indeed a blessing for the cadets, and also giving students more time to prepare assignments during school hours, and consequently, more leisure time. Although heard frequently for a short time, adverse criticism of the new system is now stifled by the general praise.

In keeping with the vogue, the Register had its face lifted. New type and the most modern arrangement of headlines facilitate reading and put the school's paper into competition for

As a civil service officer and an eminent authority on the heroic age of Norway and Iceland, Richard's father, Gilbert Tebben, appears to be a mild little man, somewhat puzzled by his two children, Margaret and Richard, and often consoles himself by repeating his favorite quotation, "Thought the harder, Heart the bolder. Mood the more as our Might lessens."

Mrs. Tebben is characterized as a good-hearted soul who has combined the task of raising children with writing instructive but uninteresting books on economics. Her anxiety over the washing, and her continuous explanations of what there will be for dinner are but a few of the many things which make her son so intolerant.

The arrival of six of the nine Dean children, with their beautiful mother and good-natured father, revolutionizes the entire Tebben family. Margaret Tebben falls in love with Lawrence Dean, while Richard becomes infatuated with the alluring Mrs. Dean. During all this, the entire community is bustling with activity in preparation for the Greek play "Hippolytus," being produced by Mr. Dean's enterprising sister, Mrs. Palmer.

Modestine, the mule, and her small cart form the Tebbens' only means of transportation, and also provide much amusement for the reader. The whimsical conversations between Modestine and Gunnar, the cat, are extremely refreshing and delightful.

This book, although very easy reading, has more to it than the general run of light fiction. Its characterizations are excellent, and throughout the story, the atmosphere of a small English town is never lost for a moment.

Arlene Solomon

Central Stars ★ Orville A. Olson, Jr.

At-ten-shun! Sa-lute! Orville A. (Arthur) Olson jr., major of the first battalion. (Notice the shining boots and spotless breeches. Orville says he is just breaking in this uniform and does not know if he likes it better than last year's or not. "I think I look better in this one, though." Who questions?)

Juicy Fruit gum and Baby Ruth bars are favorites with the star of this week in what "teachers don't allow." Tooth powder rather than tooth paste, and brownettes rather than others are among his "bests."

He wears bright socks, but likes conservative ties, "but I bought a pretty flowered tie the other day; so you really can't print that." Blue - soothing sky blue is the major's color. Maybe that is the reason that Minnesota lakes and California beaches are his ideal vacationing spots!

Orville dances, only when he is in the mood, to rather slow music. "Am I in Love" or "Did the Moon Get in My Eyes" are THE songs in his estimation.

His girl must be a brownette, rather small, wear good perfume (not too much), and not be too modern. "Modern girls — this will probably get me in dutch - are too - well too frivolous." The rest of the girls are rather un-Fortune-ate, aren't they, Ginny? The thing that worries our handsome officer (aside from the usual worries that come with giving the 100 Expenditures Halloween Frolic) is how he is going to dance boots and spurs at the ball. His me ent time, is neople that, and mim where he tied h horse. It looks as though Orville has reached his goal at Central as he has admired "big shots - or high officers in the regiment -- especially Fuchs and McCotter."

"Whatever I decide to be, I want to be a success at it," was Orville's reply to a question concerning the future; "perhaps I'll be an engineer." We are all with you, fellow; just stick it out. Make yourself as important to the world as you are to Central. Battalion dismissed.

L!_L L.A

Alumni Students Excel in Many College Activities

Katherine Rivett Stands Eighth Among Freshmen

At Carnegie Institute

Alumni of Central High are taking an active part in the activities of the schools which they are now attending. Several have made records in scholarship, Katherine Rivett '36 stands eighth in the freshman honor list of the Carnegie Institute of Technology for the second semester of the year 1936-37. George Morton, Gertrude Rainey, and Mary Wilkinson, all '37, ranked among the twenty highest in a freshman English examination given to 273 freshmen at Grinnell college.

Charles Sevick '31 has been awarded the Susan Linn Sage fellowship at Cornell university and is nov studying for his Ph.D. degree there. For the past two years he has been awarded scholarships in philosophy at the University of Wisconsin where he received his master's degree last year.

In music and dramatics Central is also represented. William Barr '36 has become a member of the choir at Princeton university where he is a freshman. Bill has sung for several years in the Hill Choir of Hill school at Pottstown, Pa., from which he graduated last year. William Burton '36 and Lystra Thomsen '35 have been elected to membership in Grinnell Players, an organization of students active in dramatics.

Margaret Wiese '36 was elected student representative from Harker Hall to the Student Government association at MacMurray college where she is a sophomore. Margaret and Marian Harriss, also '36, are members of the Theta Sigma social sorority at MacMurray college.

Omaha's Per-Pupil ops Still Lower available per pupil in Omaha is only $63.06.

Omaha has even less for education than Lincoln with $76.16 per pupil. Mitchell, a small town in South Dakota, a very hard-hit state, has $112.69 per pupil. Where does Oma-side, and an election will be held. will have 144 members, an increase ha place? How is Omaha preparing Rod Bliss, this year's new sponsor, over last year. her future leaders, who are the

of man has been won. First it was the right of an education; then it was the right to vote and to hold public office. Women all over the world have been striving to outwit men by stepping into their jobs and by trespassing over spots where never before has woman been allowed.

And now another victory that will be recorded on the pages of Central's own history book --- we women for the first time will know how it feels to occupy the boys' "bachelor" lockers on the first floor! Due to the adoption of the R.O.T.C., it is no longer necessary for the boys to possess the handiest lockers; drill periods are performed during school. Book room clerks like the change, for "girls with weak hearts have often asked for the first floor." The girls who have changed their "homes" from the second floor to the first floor think it's quite "OK," while the boys are still just "getting used to it."

"I don't like to speak against my sex," confessed Miss Sara Vore Taylor, head of the English department, "but since the boys have taken over the girls' lockers in front of my room, it has been a great deal quieter."

School Clubs Begin Activities

Masters Talks to Joint Lininger-Spanish Group

Inviting all students interested in joining either club to come, the Lininger Travel and Spanish clubs held gals; it has a very full skirt just their first meeting of the year in Room 235 Tuesday afternoon. Mary Jane Kopperud, president of Lininger Travel, introduced Principal J. G. Masters, who talked on interesting cities of the southwest and Indian arts and crafts.

Several colorful rugs and bowls, some of the many southwest tribes, were displayed.

New officers of the Spanish club are: president, Lawrence Klein; vice president, Esther Fox; and secretarytreasurer, Dorothy Wheeler.

New officers of the Lininger Travel club are: president, Mary Jane Kop-Throughout the United States-the nerud; vice president, Shirley Hoffaverage annual bill for the education man; secreary, Mary Noble; treasof each pupil is $96.18. The income urer, Alice Ann Hascall; and sergeants at arms, Della Kopperud and Frances Fuhrer.

On Tuesday, October 19, the Central Hi-Y will hold its first meeting at the Y.M.C.A., at 6 o'clock. Don Os-

Pleated Skirts, Velvet Formals Are New Styles

> Angora Sweaters With Matching Silk Scarfs Predominate at Central

If you want to start fall with a bank we suggest that you dress in the ne clothes that will make your very sp cial "S. P." fall. It seems that every one has had the latest fall things g to his head. Take for example the new "beanies." These little hats an very smart in pastel suedes to mate cashmere sweaters. If you are reall interested in seeing these duds you might glance in the direction of Betty Mae Klopp, who monickered the little hats "beanies."

To be an all 'round smoothie, you must have an all 'round pleated skirt. These are very attractive in either solid or plaid colors. You probably want to know about the lates: coiffures, so "hair" goes. You won't have to "page boys," if you wear your hair in this new style. Create some entirely different way of fixing your hair. You'll be surprised at the change it makes. Another one of the new jarrying notes to an interesting costume is the introduction of the bright silk scarfs anointed profusely with the names of different colleges.

You people had better be dusting off your old velvet formal for this winter or else beat it right down to the store and get one of the new velvet formals 'cause they're sweeping New York dry with praise. The lov waistline is particularly good on tal dripping with furbelows.

S

of

be

Hi

Th

pha

the the d

en

Sot

No

ЯUI

ng

And now for some snoop shots of people's duds: Jane Birk's black spectator pumps . . . Peggy Piper's green angora sweater . . . Jayne William's rose cashmere sweater . . .

Betty Condon's matching shell bracelets and necklace . . . Suzy Howard's showing the different arts used by green wool dress . . . Rita Barnhart's Cartwright "String-Saver dress" . . Anne Weaver's aqua skirt and sweat-

> Don't forget, we'll be seeing you, so look your best!

Both Orchestras and Choir Plan Activities

There will be more melody in Central this year.

The instrumental department boasts a new junior orchestra, girls' borne, last year's president, will pre- band, and freshman band. The choir top honors. The Register is now as modern as the most streamlined professional paper; however, appearance is not the only essential stressed. Reporters are striving for greater accuracy and a wider coverage of the school news.

Much time was spent thinking over nameplates. Behind the old name-plate is much worth-while tradition and some inefficiencies: tradition will linger on; however, reminders of lackings are not needed. Therefore, the new name-plate can be thought of as the symbol of the school's new ideals of leadership and enjoyment of studies.

Each department of the Register has changed: editorials will no longer attempt to convince pupils to follow a course when advantages and disadvantages are obvious. Adhering to this policy, nothing will be said to induce readers to purchase Student Association tickets. Everyone knows the value of the tickets, and a person not owning one will have an exceptional reason.

Editorial campaigning brings results. This year, when the occasion arises, editorials will fight for needed improvements; however, the Register will not launch a new campaign every week just to criticize something. Abiding by this rule, there will be no howling for longer lunch periods: experimenting, the editor found plenty of time to chat after eating leisurely a meal bought in the cafeteria.

A news story, although containing all vital facts, sometimes does not help a person in forming his opinion of a subject. An editorial, reasoning through all phases of a question, often aids a reader in making up his mind whether he agrees with the writer's arguments or not. The reader should look to the editorial, not for the correct judgment of a situation, but for assistance in taking a stand.

AUGUST FOLLY

Angela Thirkell's latest book, By Angela Thirkell August Folly, is a simple tale of the life of two complex families --- the intellectual Tebbens and the wealthy Deans. The story is laid in the little village of Worsted, some sixty miles west of London.

Richard Tebben, the outstanding character of the story, is a rather boring young man who loves his parents, but somehow cannot tolerate their peculiar mannerisms.

nign nat dear high hat:

gardenias to susie howard, the new prom girl . . speaking of gardenias, orville olson's are grown in his own back yard . . . too bad ray and stelzer had to postpone their dance - ray looks very sad . . . bob king seems to be "buzzin' right along" with his new girl from minnesota . . . must be something in the old saying --- "one in a million is lucky in love" . . . apparently junie bliss has captured our new bob (burns) dempster who comes from arkansas . . . imagine mary jean mccarthy's embarrassment when she was recognized by one of the mothers as "oh, yes, bobbie martin's little girl" . . . wonder how long mrs. shotwell is going to accompany anabel when she sings with that orchestra — big time, eh anabel? . . . on again, off again — in one evening — are mary helen north and bud knowles - what is it, a game? . all the fellows are praying for rain on the hayrack ride tomorrow nite - reason: it will be covered over with tarpaulin (maybe there'll not only be "whispers in the dark," but "strangers in the dark") . . . "remember me?" was the greeting bud rohde gave anne weaver at the dance last fri. - does she? . . . st. johns took a toll of central's romeos (?) this semester raggy rydman, jim welsh, art storz, and a few others . . bobbe randall has collected quite a few hearts from around here and, yet, her heart is in texas maybe they use the morse coad?

we'll be back next week . . . we hope . . . hope . hope. . . . abijah gooch

On the Magazine Rack "College football today

GRIDIRON GREED is one of the last great By Paul Gallico November, Cosmopolitan strongholds of old-fashioned American hypocrisy." states Paul Gallico. All you believers in the old time honesty of college football will have your very high minded ideas knocked into a cocked hat when you read Paul Gallico's article, "Gridiron Greed" in the November Cosmopolitan. The famous sports writer digs out the dirtiest dirt and doesn't pull his punches. "Scholarships" to football heroes - majoring in the art of playing football, with no holds barred, and the art of fooling the public, which isn't such a great art. Great stadiums are built with borrowed money which must be paid for by winning teams, even if those winning "amateurs" are always semi-professionals. The whole farce of giving all for old Alma Mammy is the lost cause and dragging in the filthy lucre is the spot for the hero.

school children of today?

In the last ten years Omaha's income has dropped and the number of pupils has increased. Taking the 1926-27 income as 100 per cent, the income in 1936-37 had dropped to 75.93. Taking the 1926-27 number in the schools as 100, the number in 1936-37 had increased 53.57 in the high schools. Where Omaha in 1936-37 had $63.06 per pupil for education, in 1922-23 Omaha had $119.90 per pupil.

The Christian Science Monitor says "Education, as the basis of a citizenry capable of carrying on a democratic form of government, was one of the visions of the founders of the United States. Compulsory education is one of the glories of the American idea. Without it, democracy in any real sense of the word could not be hoped for.

"Someone has said that the great peril to democracy is indifference. If might be added that the great peril to the schools as essential supports of democracy is likewise indifference. If Mr. and Mrs. American Citizen are on the job in making come true the American dream of a higher and truer standard of living, they are equally on the job 'saving the schools.' The two are inseparable."

Age-18 Weight-138

Height-Five feet, five inches Eyes-Brown Hair-Brown

Favorite song-"The Moon Got in My Eyes"

Fitting song-"All You Wanta Do Is Dance"

Main Diversion-Dancing Hobby-Driving his blue roadster Activity-Central High Players Bad habit-Not wearing neckties Nickname-"Shorty"

Ambition-To be a business magnate the last ten years.

will lead a discussion on golf.

tractive new system of operation for favor of the girls' band. The string this year it was announced at the players, reticent at first, promised to first meeting of the fall term last join if someone would teach them Thursday. The club will become a how to play wind instruments. The Junior Alliance with all the priv- bands are expected to build up the ileges of the local Alliance Francais. senior orchestra, Henry Cox, direc-

Instead of holding the customary monthly meetings, the members will attend movies, luncheons, and lectivity credit is received for attendbe called for the discussion of important business.

Any student who has taken or is now taking French can secure a membership by buying the dollar Alliance membership ticket and by getor a faculty member.

There will be a special French club library and, as last year, the choir under the direction of Mr. August Borglum and Miss Bozell, will sing.

The first meeting of the Central High Motor club will be held Wednesday, morning, October 20, at 8:15 a.m., in the auditorium. Principal J. G. Masters will introduce Rabbi David Goldstein who will give an address on types of safety in motor driving.

For their annual fall play, the Central High Players will present "The Seven Keys to Baldpate" on November 12. Tryouts for the play were held the first part of this week.

An exciting mystery drama, "The Seven Keys to Baldpate," will be staged under the direction of Miss Frances McChesney. With a rather small cast of nine boys and four girls, there will be a good chance for some splendid acting.

All of the parts, with the exception of the romantic leads, are character parts. Written in 1913 by George M. Cohen, this play has appeared on the legitimate stage many times and has been filmed twice in Monday the girls of the senior or-Le Cercle Francais will adopt an at- chestra raised their hands high in tor, disclosed.

The first public appearance of the choir will be Friday, October 29. Untures sponsored by the Alliance. Ac- der the direction of Mrs. Carol M. Pitts, they will sing "Glory Laud ance at these functions. Meetings will and Honor" and "From Grief to Glory," a suite of four numbers written for the choir by F. Melius Christiansen, director of the famous

St. Olaf choir.

Central graduates who are continuing their music this year include ting an indorsement of an active club Charles Boyden, a member of one of Central's first choirs, who is tenor soloist of the Trinity Episcopal cathedral in Newark, N. J. Donald Reisser and Lydia Pohl, recent members of the choir, are members of the Noble Cain choir, broadcasting on the Contented Hour over WOW. Marjory Barnett is in the choir. Marian Johnson, cellist, broadcasts every Tuesday night in the Peru orchestra over KMA and last Tuesday she was soloist. Abram Dansky is studying piano at the Curtis Institute at Philadelphia under a scholarship.

New Books

Babson: If Inflation Comes, What You Can Do About It Bell: Men of Mathematics

Brawley: Negro Genius

A new appraisal of the achievement of the American Negro in literature and the fine arts.

Gorman: The Scottish Queen, Mary of Scotland

Hogben: Mathematics for the Million Maule: Men Wanted New opportunities and what they demand Millis: Viewed Without Alarm

Europe today. Pitkin: The Chance of a Lifetime

Marching orders for the lost generation.

Sheldon: Nebraska, Old and New History, Stories, Folklore

Friday, October 15, 1937

CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER

Page Three

irst Assignment EFFIE LORRAINE STOCKMAN FAILS IN NTERVIEW! WHAT WILL HAPPEN?

Well, here I am a full-fledged re-porter! Now to go into Room 149 and act as if I'd been a reporter all my life, when confidentially, it was only yesterday that I grad-uated from the ranks of copy-gal. With my hand on the door of the Register office, I gulp a few times, then swing into the room, assuming a self-confident air that I imagine all reporters should have. I begin to industriously a recent issue of LIFE. study thinking no one will see me if my head is buried in so large a magazine.

Over the click-clack of typewriters and the hum of voices comes the booming voice of the news editor. "Stockman, anyone seen Stockman?" he yells.

By some manner or means, I manage to murmur meekly, "Here and at the same time rise I am.' on my suddenly unstable legs and, with the aid of nearby tables and chairs, make my way to the edi-

"Here's your assignment," he barks. Sitting down at my desk 1 glance at the assignment which reads, "Interview Miss Zora Shields on her retirement." I either have to give up right now or make a stab at it. I know that I have to question her, but what will I sav?

Quarter to five that evening: I have finally thought of a few things to ask Miss Shields. (I'm sure, though, I won't have the courage to ask them when the time arrives.) Here comes the janitor and, besides, I can't stay here all night so I trudge to the street car line in a drizzling rain and, finding I can't ride for a nickel, I

Squad Clears Halls;

Urges Fans to Cheer

traffic squad composed of members the student body as officers has een organized at North Central High school in Spokane, Washington.

At a recent football game between adium and Lincoln High schools, acoma, Washington, at least 25 per ent of the Stadium students refused open up and really make any

Is this going to happen at the outh-Central game this afternoon?

o! We (that is, those who have urchased their S. A. tickets) are go-

Logan Hotel Beauty Shop

1808 DODGE

g to yell until we're hoarse.

HA. 5200

as cleared the halls by 8:15.

regretfully drop my dime in the box and brood on the unfairness of fate.

Reaching home, I give the tele-phone operator Miss Shields' number and desperately try to keep my teeth from chattering.

"H-hel-lo, Miss Shields?" 'Yes.'

"This is Effie Lorraine Stockman from . . .'

"Who?" "Effie Lorraine Stockman from the Register staff at Central High school, and I would like to interview you for our next issue of the paper." (Whee, I got it all out!)

"I'm very sorry, but I'm not anxious to be interviewed." "B-b-b-ut M-m-miss Shi-e-e-lds,

I've g-g-got to have m-m-my ass-ignment!!!" "Well, in that case, you might call up tomorrow and maybe I can see you then."

I feel some better, but through my mind keeps pounding . . . What will Mrs. Savidge say? . . . What will the news editor say?

. . . What will the editor-in-chief say? . . if I don't get the story! But by the next day she has definitely decided not to give me the interview. Every new angle of approach meets the same results. She doesn't want to be interviewed.

"I'm finished," I sigh; "I'm all through!"... Disgraced on my first assignment!!! So now I'm on my way out of Room 149 and to-morrow I'll probably again join the ranks of a copy-gal!

Menu

Monday: Soup, meat loaf, stuffed green peppers, mashed potatoes, buttered carrots, creamed jello, chocolate pudding, cin-rutabagas, butter green beans, salads, sandwiches, baked custard, apricot whip, chocolate cake, date bars, orange bread, fruit cocktail.

mato sauce, spare ribs and dressing, O'Brien potatoes, rice with cheese, buttered cabbage, creamed corn, spiced peach, salads, sandwiches, cornstarch pudding, grapefruit, apple pie, pumpkin pie, date nut bread, cookies.

tatoes, macaroni and cheese, buttered green beans, spinach

Jim Haugh Heads R.O.T.C. Unit

Orville Olson, Stanton Miller Lead Battalions

(Continued from Page 1)

George Alevezos, Dorsey King, Peter Broad, Bill Pangle, Walter Taylor, Eu-gene Marsh, John Kuppinger, John Chamberlin, Jack Larsen, Ray Cleven-ger, Joe Standeven, Howard Rosen-burn

ger, Joe Standeven, Howard Rosen-blum. Master sergeants: Don Werner, Phil-blum. Master sergeants: Don Werner, Phil-lip Eyer. First sergeants: Warren Johnson, Clark Ashton, James Duffy, Bob Daugherty, Ernie Weekes, Tom Grimes, Conrad Young. Staff sergeants: Dick Peters, Jack Fagan, Webster Hayward, Jack Nim-mo, Arthur Jetter. Sergeants: Louis Rodwell, Sam Car-roll, Milton Peterson, Charles Robin-son, Jim Ralston, Bill Stuht, Morris Schapiro, Jack Hassler, Fred Allerdyce, Richard Thomas, Eugene Harris. Bob Martin, Alfred Pommerink, Rich-ard Krimlofsky, Harold Bremers, Joe Raznick, Spencer Porter, Louis Sey-bold, Chris Alevezos, Dominic San Fil-ippo, H. M. Sinclair, William LeMar. Bob Byrne, Phillip Bernstein, Dick Hall, David Carson, Joe Williams, Mal-colm Dow, Robert King, Harold Wies-man, Dallas Madison, Joe Baker, Craig Christenson, Robert Kyenild. Haskell Cohen, John Cain, Bill Mc-Intyre, Jack Chuda, Grove Johnson, Robert Finkley, Paul Crounse, Eugene Perry, Bob Clow, Cass Bean, William Carey, Paul Neafus, Tom Kizer. Melvin Tannenbaum. Don Anderson, Jim Clapper, Robert

Don Anderson, Jim Clapper, Robert Rimmerman, Frank Twiss, Homer Rog-ers, Harold Newman.

Question Box

WHAT IS YOUR PET PEEVE? Joy Greenberg, H. R. 312: A dumb reshman. (Who does she mean?)

Dick Putt, H. R. 218: A fellow that dresses sloppy in school. Lawrence Klein, H. R. 212: A beautiful blond with blond eyes.

Jean Ott, H. R. Gym: People who always ask, "Why?"

Betty Jane Thompson, H. R. 319: Anonymous telephone calls with no ultimate purpose.

Phyllis Gates, H. R. 10: Short fellows.

Ernest Thompsen, H. R. 312: Calkers in moving picture theaters. Paula Colmont, H. R. 239: Scratching fingernails on the blackust women in general.

ing cellophane.

and egg, salads, sandwiches, jello, fruit cocktail, date pud-ding, marble cake, butternut cookies, French twists.

at the

CENTRAL CLUB

Orchestra Presidents

This year's presidents of the orchestra are Alice Ledyard, left, of the junior orchestra, and Mary Wyrick, right, of the senior. They are the first girl presidents in over ten years. Other officers of the senior orchestra are: Dwight Brigham, Ray Clevenger, and Helen Hornstein, vice presidents, and Alice Ledyard, secretary.

Math Club President Plans for Year's Work

George Wales, president of Central High's Mathematics society, outlined for the old and new members the purpose of making a bigger and better Math club for the coming year at a meeting held in 215 last Tuesday. Norman Helgren, treasurer, gave the financial report, and Leslie Johnson, program chairman, told something of the club's entertainment. Other officers, who were elected last

Gould Drug Co.

- Are Nor

Try Our Foundanton, Mary .

· tim

FREE PARKING SPACE

50th and Dodge Wa. 0602

Programsscriptions

Sundries

year, were introduced.

Candies

Charles Yohe, James Joyce, Charles Harrison, Bill Randall, Bernice Robinson, Ann Vogel, and Peggy Piper, sponsored by Mrs. Irene Jensen, left Thursday for the tenth annual convention of the Federation of Student Councils of the Middle States being held at St. Joseph, Mo., today and tomorrow.

Convenient Terms Arranged

Telephone Atlantic 5112

MALASHOCK'S

Diamond Specialists and Jewelers

Since 1894

303 SOUTH 16TH STREET

Delegates Will Attend

St. Joseph Convention

Upperclass Girls Play Volleyball Hold After Schol Games;

Invite All Girls to Gome

Volleyball, one of the most popular of after school sports, was started for upperclassmen Wednesday. Freshman volleyball will begin Monday. Any girl interested is urged to come out for volleyball after school whether or not she is a member or the G.A.A. or in a gym class.

Sergeant Wyatt will be able to spare some time from his R.O.T.C. duties to organize the girls' rifle team about November 1. As this particular sport is growing more popular, the girls are anxious to get started.

In the first and third hour rhythm classes, tap is studied on Monday and Wednesday, while on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, modern, folk, and social dancing are taught. For the beginner these classes are filled with fun for those who have a sense of humor. The modern dances, especially, take lots of control to keep from falling over while one tries a difficult turn, a graceful hop or slide.

Girls passing the junior life saving test last spring were: Eleanor White '37, Dorothy Burton, Doris Dailard, Annette Lahr, Eileen Mc-Namara, Helen Plechos, Josephine Plechos, Winifred Hammelef, Jerry Yechout, Lou Ann Shaefer, Norma Jean Talkington, Ruth Vaska, and Janet Zimmerman, all '40.

FOUNTAIN PENS!

Every student needs a good Fountain Pen! Choose yours from the Pen Specialist, Ted.

Pens $1.00 up

SPECIAL . . .

Large package of Engraved Central High School stationery worth $1.00, only 29c.

GET YOURS TODAY

TED'S PEN SHOP on 16th St. at Farnam

for the arms lor

led spring, Ed.

Saturday, October 16 — CARLOS MOLINA

presents

direct from the Stevens Hotel in Chicago peas, salads, sandwiches, grape nut pudding, baked apples, fruit namon rolls, ice-box cookies, peach cake. Tuesday: Broth, creamed chicken scuit, mashed potatoes, baked baked noodles, scalloped egg plant, buttered peas and car-rots, salads, jello, maple mousse, cornstarch pudding, cocoanut cake, fig-filled cookies, apple delights. board.

Wednesday: Soup, wiener and buns, baked liver, hashed brown potatoes, baked beans, mashed Thursday: Soup, meat balls in to-

Friday: Soup, meat pie, baked po-

WEST FARNAM

Their duty is to see that everyone This might be a good way to reeve Coach Morrison's worries about he girl's keeping the fellows at eir lockers too long after school.

Bruce Macalister, H. R. 29: Oh,

Dorothy Borton, H. R. 145: Crink-

Saturday, October 23 — JAN GARBER Milbatrick's Smart Scholars salute Louise Milligan AND Perry Brown ... because those two able designers of younger girls' clothes have such a wonderful realization of the clever tricks and gay trimming girls want for their important dates. Sizes 11 to 17. 17.95 to 29.95 Bright Wool School Frocks Cleverly styled and trimmed. 7.95 Juniors' Winter Coats Self and fur trimmed. . 19.95 up Junior Section - Second Floor

Page Four

CENTRAL HIGH REGISTER

Friday, October 15, 1937

CPORTS Eagles Open Grid Season With Packers Today Purples Start With New Coach; TATIC Getting to Work

The opening whistle has just been blown; here comes the kickoff - the game is on! Another year has started, and once again we of the sports staff are going to bring you the athletic news and features of Central High, completely, accurately, and entertainingly reported.

for contributions of an editorial nature for this column. You know the old saving. "Two heads are better than one." We would appreciate suggestions, so bring all your kicks to yours truly.

corn and candied apples, the throng- versity of Illinois. ing stadiums, the cheering crowds, triumphant victory marches. Yes, the most colorful of all athletic spectacles is here again.

We wish to take this opportunity assistant coach, on behalf of the entire school, and we feel sure that everyone joins us in wishing Mr. Morrison and Mr. Knapple the best of luck in the coming grid campaign.

The nomination for the "last one out of the locker room" goes unanimously to Billy Pangle, the mighty mite of the Purple backfield. Billy may be slow in the locker room, but once on the field (or Leavenworth street) he turns in to a fast, tricky, and elusive runner with speed to spare.

"Mimi" Campagna, all-state wrestling champ and other things, is working out nightly with all grapplers not engaged in football. Anyone interested can see "Mimi" in 415 after school.

Don't forget the game this afternoon with South at Tech field. It's the first stepping stone on the road and help the team win. S. A. tickets HUSKY Squad Raises will admit (no stamps needed).

All good things come to an end and this column is no exception. We'll be seein' you next week with more last minute flashes. So long.

L. W. Buising Assists

Morrison to Coach Eagles

Teams With Knapple to Replace 'Chick' Justice; Will Instruct Wrestlers

Central's new coach, Allie Roy Morinvitation to all youse guys and gals rison, who has been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Charles M. Justice, promises to put a winning team on the field for "dear ole" Central.

Morrison, who is to be co-football coach with Frank Y. Knapple, also teaches physical instruction and is to be the wrestling coach. Wrestling is King Football reigns again! The nothing new to Morrison as he made crisp autumn afternoons, the pop- three letters in that sport at the Uni-

> Knapple is no stranger to the Eagle gridders; from the time he came to the Hilltop in 1924, and up until the present time, he has been an asset to the athletic teams of this school.

In 1928 Morrison, a sophomore at to welcome Allie Morrison, the new the University of Illinois, was on Uncle Sam's Olympic wrestling team. He was one of the most outstanding "Chick' Justice Joins After he graduated in 1930, he coached football and wrestling for two years at Pennsylvania State col> lege. Later he went to Sterling, Illinois, where he was the head mentor in football and wrestling. He coached there for two years before accepting the coaching job at Doane college, where he acted as head of the football and wrestling departments.

In 1935 he left his coaching duties to work for a motor car concern. Last year, before he was appointed co-coach of the Purples, he taught physical instruction in the Omaha public school system.

Although practice has been going on for only two weeks, and even though he is new to the school, Morrison has stepped into the grid picture and is making a success.

Freshman Prospects

THE FROSH SCHEDULE Oct. 26-Benson; there Nov. 2-Tech; Fontenelle Nov. 9-South: Fontenelle Nov. 17-North; Fontenelle

Though this year's turnout for fresh-

Coach Allie Roy Morrison

Girls' Sports

New Hampshire Staff Central Mentor Resigns To Coach College Line By Joe Kirshenbaum

Leaving a splendid record behind, Charles "Chick" Justice, former head football coach, resigned his post on the Hilltop, to accept a position tral is a member of the Nebraska as instructor of physical education and athletics at the University of New Hampshire.

He will also assist his former teammate, George Henry Sauer, Nebraska All-American fullback, the newly an pesident, Mary Brauner; secretary, pointed football coach.

All-American function, the pointed football coach. Justice, a graduine officer sity of Nebrois from Cambridge three has is from Cambridge three has is from the assist. three w he is from Cambridge the ball of. In that year he assist-the ball of Knapple when the Purples In 1935 Justice was appointed head Jean Meredith; IV hour - Mildred football coach and his team placed second in the final city standings, having lost only two games during the season.

Last year the Eagles again finished Max Godden Wins in second, losing only one game for the city championship to Tech, by the score of 13 to 12.

While at Central, Justice assisted man football is smaller than that of "Papa" Schmidt with the track team Max Godden was crowned intercity est golfers ever to attend this school. past years, Frosh Coach Barnhill's and instructed in physical education. high school chess champion last June All Central joins to acknowledge the hopes are high. He expects to have In the three years he coached fresh- when he defeated Elsasser of Creigh- fine capabilities of this extraordinary

A meeting was held Thursday after school to explain the organization of the Girls' Athletic association to prospective members. Freshmen are especially invited to join the G.A.A. for sports and sociability. Hikes and parties are a part of the activities during the year. Members are also urged to keep training rules and to come out for after school sports to earn the school letters. Since Cen-State League Athletic association, it is possible for the members to earn not been able to play golf for two two state letters. The G.A.A. offer 5 for this year are: nnesident, Wanda Lawson; vice Nellor; sergeants at arms, Luana Squad leaders in Miss Marian Treat's gym classes have been chosen as follows: II hour - Anna Sgroi, won the city football championship. Mary Sinclair, Ellen Rosselle, and Born and Carol Bruce.

City Chess Tourney

Only Five Lettermen Will Return

Backfield Is Fast; Line Should Be Rangy, Heavy With Reserve Strength

With a rangy, powerful, line, and a small but very fast backfield, Coaches Allie Morrison and F. Y. Knapple and the Central squad enter the 1937 away for a long open field run. The football race. The Purples play their first game this afternoon against South at Tech field. The winner will

Jim Haugh Plays In Tournament Central Golfer Late Entry in U. S. Amateur Jim Haugh, Central High golfer, won

the right to compete in the National Amateur Golf tourney held at the Alderwood Country club in Portland, Oregon, last August.

Jimmy learned of his admission in dramatic fashion. In the qualifying round in Omaha he finished sixth. Since only the first five were to qualify Jim thought he had lost out. Because there were so many defaults among the eastern players, the admissions committee raised the Omaha quota to seven qualifying Haugh.

weeks because of a sprained wrist suffered while taking part in the crack squad drill. He did not have his clubs with him as he had not expected to play.

He had to make a hurried trip to Portland where his clubs were rushed to him by plane. Jim went into the opening round without having practiced. After getting off to a bad start he came back to card an eighty-two which was good enough to pass him into the second qualifying round. Haugh, the youngest entrant in the tourney, fell by the wayside when he scored an eighty-nine the second day.

Jim has been playing golf since he was eight years old. As a freshman he made the Eagle golf team. He has been improving steadily and now as a senior is probably one of the great-be installed as the early season favorite to win the city championship.

Central's strength is all "potential," with only five veterans slated to start. The backfield will be of the speedy, shifty type, with any one of the backs capable of breaking punting is likely to be weak as Bane and Hurt, last year's punters, have graduated. The main attack will probably be on the ground, because the coaches have not, as yet, been able to locate a dependable passer.

Coach Morrison's biggest job is to find a quarterback to replace Dick Gordon, who has not returned to school. Either Bill Pangle, who lettered at halfback for two seasons, or Louie Wells, flashy sophomore, will probably start at this post. Ernie Weeks, steller halfback for two years, is a sure starter at one of the halves, while Jim Hall, Howard Humphreys, Orville Olsen, and Byron Winston are engaging in a dog fight for the other post.

Leo Minarek, 170 pound senior, seems to have the inside track on the fullback post, although Frank Hronek and Bob Hefflinger are making determined bids for a starting job. The line should be heavy, but will be inexperienced. Jim Griffith and Howard Westering seem almost sure starters at end. Nuncio Pomodaro, leads the tackle candidates, with Phil Wilson, Jack Nelson, and Howard Shonberger all looking very good. Jim, who was visiting relatives in With so many candidates for each Berkeley, California, was notified by position, the reserves should be quite strong.

> Dick Sundberg is a cinch at one guard, while Howard Scott and Tony Inserra are contesting for the other. Jack Fagan, Leslie Johnson, and Lee Seeman all seem about equal at the center post, but Fagan will probably get the nod because of his experience.

The probable starting lineup: Ends: Griffith and Westering Tackles: Pomidoro and Wilson or Shonberger Guards: Sundberg and Scott Center: Fagan Quarterback: Pangle Halfback: Weeks and Hall Fullback: Minarek

CENTRAL'S 1937

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE Oct. 15-South at Tech field Oct. 23-Tech at Tech field Oct. 29-Abe Lincoln (there) Nov. 5-North at Tech field Nov. 12-Lincoln (there) Nov. 19-Benson at Benson Nov.25-Fremont at Fremont

