Central's Faculty Increases by Six

This year's Central High faculty has six additional members.

New to the language department is Miss Cordelia Alderson, who teaches beginning and advanced Latin. Miss Alderson taught Latin and Greek at Dana college and the University of Nebraska, where she earned her bachelor of art and master's degrees. She has done a great deal of post graduate work at the University of Chicago and received a scholarship to study Greek for a year at Bryn Mawr. She also won the Semple scholarship to Rome, where she studied the classics at the American Academy for six weeks. Miss Alderson was the first to receive this honor.

Harris and Smagacz Coaches

Two of the new additions to Central are experienced coaches. Robert Harris, of the social studies department, was formerly coach at Malvern, Iowa, and later, high school principal. Frank Smagacz has a double role to play, for he is not only the football coach at Central this year, but also a math teacher. He earned his degree at Midland college and most recently taught at the Tekamah, Nebraska, high school.

Also new to the mathematics department is Warren Huff, but he is new to the teaching profession as well as to Central High. Mr. Huff has a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering which he earned at the University of Nebraska.

The music department has a new member this year, too. She is Mrs. Avonell Janasik, piano accompanist. This is not a new occupation to Mrs. Janasik, however, for she accompanied the University of Omaha choir for two years under the direction of Richard Duncan.

English Teacher Transfers

Central's new English teacher, Mrs. Anna Mae Kuhn, has taught in Omaha for three years, but was previously a member of the Kansas City school system. She received her bachelor of arts degree at the University of Kansas and is studying for her master's degree at the present time.

In addition to the six new members at Central this year, a seventh and more familiar person has returned after a leave of absence. She is Mrs. Amy Sutton, teacher of English and dramatics. Mrs. Sutton has already begun the production of this year's fall play, "Mother Is a Freshman."

Teacher Undaunted by Injury

Miss Lane and Jo Ann White

An errand in the attic ended disastrously for Miss Helen Lane several weeks ago.

While putting away some summer clothing, Miss Lane tripped on the attic stairs and cracked the bones in both of her wrists, but she hasn't let this bother her. Despite her injuries she has not missed a single day of school and has managed to carry on three good-sized biology classes every day.

Dundee Leads List; Sends 71 Freshmen

Exactly 399 freshmen, new to the customs and traditions of Central High school, have come from 44 grade schools and from Europe and Canada this year.

Dundee leads the list of grade schools by enrolling 71 of its graduates at Central. Beals comes in second with 37 pupils, while Washington takes a close third with 35. Fourth place in donating talent to our student body is Henry Yates school which sent 18 people, followed by Jackson and Columbian with 17. Sixteen of Field Club's pupils enrolled at Central, 13 from Central Grade, 11 from Saunders, and 7 from Windsor.

Bancroft sent 10 graduates; Lake, 8; Herbert Kennedy, Long, Park, Lincoln, Castelar, and Franklin, 6; Oakdale, and Train, 4; and Kellum, Mason, St. Paul's Lutheran, Comenius, Rosehill, Tech Junior High, Lothrop, Underwood, Webster, and Cross Lutheran, 2.

There may be some lonely freshmen wandering the halls, for single graduates were sent from St. Peters, Highland, Miller Park, Holy Family, Clifton Hill, Hope Lutheran, Zion Lutheran, St. Adalberts, Saratoga, Monmouth Park, Druid Hill, Corrigan, and Notre Dame Academy.

Central Students Spend Summer Vacationing in Foreign Countries

Shops in Paris, celebrities on the Riviera, carnivals in Kiel, and riots in Brussels—oh, the excitement of a vacation in Europe! Joan and Jane Beber '51 and Mary Sue Lundt '51 saw it all this summer. These Central High seniors traveled for two months and visited a total of eleven countries.

"And we met so many celebrities!" Joanie and Janie can well say this, for on the Queen Elizabeth Shirley Mae France, the channel swimmer, occupied the stateroom directly across the hall from them. Also on the ship was a former Centralite, Miss Mary "Scampy" Quigley '49.

One of the highlights of the girls' trip was a two hour visit with Pablo Picasso, the famous modern painter. The Bebers met Picasso on the French Riviera. During their two hours together, he showed them his private studios, many of the little shops which line the streets, and then introduced them to his family. When time came to say "adieu," he gave them gifts and kissed their hands!

During their nine day stay in Paris, the two delighted in shopping on the Champs de Elysee or sitting in a charming sidewalk cafe while watching the Paris night life stream by.

"You should have seen this quaint little place in Holland," says Janie, of Marken, one of the most unusual places they visited. "It's a little fishing island, and they still wear baggy pants, and wooden shoes there. Both the little boys and girls wear skirts and long hair until they are seven years old."

Joan and Jane, accompanied by their parents, visited France, Italy, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Germany, England, Holland, and Belgium.

A. Nelsen Attends Council

Five hundred teachers from 43 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and the Canal Zone, attending the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics at the University of Wisconsin, heard discussions on how to improve methods of teaching mathematics.

The conference, attended by Andrew Nelsen, head of Central's math department, was held at Madison, Wisconsin, from August 21-24.

Mr. Nelsen spoke at one meeting on the subject, "Mathematics for the Neglected Student."

The problem of trisecting a triangle was also discussed, but, not too surprisingly, no solution was found.

Mary Sue spent two weeks of her two months trip in Germany. While in that country, she met nearly all of her known relatives and visited Miss Frauke Rehbehn, a German girl with whom she has corresponded for several years.

"The most wonderful part of all was seeing the Passion Play in Oberammergau. It took some time to get used to seeing men with long hair, short pants, and high socks. Over 500 players take part in the play, and all of them are from this one little town," said Susie.

Susie had her biggest scare en route from Copenhagen, Denmark, to Kiel, Germany, when she lost a suitcase and did not get it back for five days. Her biggest surprise was to hear the travel guide in Innsbruck, Austria, speak American slang! He had been an interpreter for U. S. troops, and had won a scholarship and studied in the United States for a year.

Mary Sue, arriving in Brussels on the same day that Leopold did, got in on quite a bit of excitement. From a bus window, she saw the King entering his official residence. That afternoon there was a commotion outside her hotel window, and, upon investigation, she discovered a riot in protest of the King's return; so she had a box seat while viewing the excitement.

Mary Sue, accompanied by her father and sister, who was a student teacher at Central last semester, visited Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France, and Belgium.

Room 220 Remodeled For Projection Room

This year the Visual Education department of Central High school is setting up a new projection room in Mrs. Bernice Engle's room—220. The room, although 317 will still be used, is being remodeled for the purpose of showing movies and will be considered the main projection room of the school when it is finished.

Central now has three projectors which will be used in the Visual Education department. One projector will be used by the science department, one will be used by the history department, and the third will be used by the rest of the school. A three-way record player was purchased for the foreign language and English classes.

There are twenty-one boys in the visual education classes this semester, and as soon as they have been trained to run the movie machines themselves, they will start classes for the teachers.

CHALK TALK

By Gary Fuller

School has started. Football has begun. Students sometimes wonder, When's the last time we won?

This may be the thought of many students at Central, but this is the year that the losing streak should stop. One reason the setbacks should end is that we have an experienced coach in Frank Smagacz. Another is that there are eleven lettermen returning to the Eagle squad.

Leading the list is Center Mel Hansen, who received honorable mention last year on the all-Intercity team.

Jack Lee, although seeing only limited action in the Lincoln game, is one of the finest competitors in all sports who has ever put on a purple and white uniform.

Bassie Johnson and Joe Prucka, two aggressive senior boys, are expected to lead the light but fast line. Two junior guards, Leonard Rosen and Tom Porsel, both weighing over 200 pounds, also will be tough to stop.

Jack Taylor, Arnold Whitner, and Emmett Dennis, three speed merchants, will undoubtedly pick up a lot of yardage this season.

"Spirit" is a word that means the will to win. In the recent years, coupled with the loss of the first game is a corresponding loss of school spirit. Even though the Eagles lost the game to a highly favored Lincoln High team, the student body should be out to cheer for the team tonight. Knowing that the school has confidence in them, the team will try their utmost to win.

Congratulations to Sidles and Tom Murphy for their wonderful job of winning a share of the championship in American Legion baseball this summer.

Sirles, Hansen On City Squad

Although Central could do no better than a tie for third in the Intercity league last spring, there are two good reasons why that situation will change with the coming of the 1950 baseball season. Those reasons are Don Sirles and Mel Hansen.

Sirles, a junior, and Hansen, a senior this year, were named to last year's All-Intercity team. Both boys reached their peak last spring, climaxing drives that began when they were freshmen.

Mel Hansen started his career in the spring of 1949 when he broke into the Eagles' starting line-up as an outfielder. Mel stuck in that position and last year added to his sparkling fielding, a batting average of .400.

Despite his slight build (5' 7", 140 pounds), Don Sirles has played an iron man role in his two previous seasons with the Eagles. In his first year Don's talents were confined strictly to catching but last semester he was forced to do his share of the mound chores as well. He made the All-City team as an all around utility player.

GAA Sponsors Tennis Tourney

The sports-minded girls of Central are starting off this year with a bang!

Over forty girls have already signed as entrants in the tennis tournament, and even more girls are expected to participate. There are divisions for beginners, intermediates, and advanced players. From this tournament, a squad will be picked to compete in the spring matches with other high school tennis teams.

After school 135 girls are expected to take part in the sports of badminton and field hockey. Girls do not have to be in gym classes or be members of the G.A.A. to take part in either of the sports. Any girl interested is welcome to play.

This year's cheer leaders—Sandra Brown, Jean Fraser, Kay Carter, Mary Ann Naggs, Cynthia Nelson, Carol Nygaard, Carol Tietgen, and Pat Vogel—have been meeting at eight every morning and at 3:10 after school to get practice for the football games. They were seen leading the cheers at the pep assembly last Friday when Frank Smagacz, Central's new grid coach, was introduced.

Eagles Face Intercity Test

Central Team Seeks Initial Gridiron Victory; Game Rated Toss-Up

Tonight the Central High Eagles will swoop down on Benson stadium to tangle with the Benson Bunnies.

Every year, no matter who the favorite is, the game is usually a toss-up. This year's Bunnie team lacks experience although they do have some "old reliables."

Topping this list is a senior all-city prospect, George Mink. Mink is a 6' 1" end who has lettered in three major sports at Benson.

Eddie Skar is another important cog in the Benson machine. He is a rangy 6' 4 1/2", 197 pound defensive tackle and offensive fullback. Eddie Bauer, Tom Mitchell, Billy Campbell, and Buster McCoun, a sophomore, are the other top backfield prospects.

Three other lettermen along with Mink on the line will be Allan Dinzole, tackle; Irwin Harding, guard; and Herb Meissner at center. Meissner is a strong, hard playing boy who has switched from guard to center. Other senior linemen are Don Warner, Alvin Kohler, John Haury, Rich Longacre, and Joe Baldwin. Other boys showing promise are Joe Hanna, Roger Linwall, Carl Lofsult, Elwood Mink, and Roger Olson.

Question Box

Question of the week—Why will Central's football team win games this year?

Bill Burke '51—"The law of averages, you know."

Connie Platt '53—"If I know Smagacz, they better."

Sam Anzalone '50—"Will they?"

Bernice Wintroub '51—"Because it's better that way."

Jo Ann Doyle '51—"How could they lose with such a cute coach?"

Smagacz Faces Difficult Position

Central's Hopes High That Slump Will End

The job of pulling Central High school out of the football doldrums, which have kept them in the second division of Intercity league play for the last five seasons, will fall squarely on the shoulders of the Eagles' new coach, Frank Smagacz.

Smagacz, who left Tekamah High school to accept the Omaha post, succeeds Norman Sorensen, Eagle mentor for the past ten years. Sorensen will continue to coach the wrestling teams.

The athletic life of Frank Smagacz has not been confined to his coaching days at Tekamah. While attending Columbus High school, he starred on a state championship basketball team and a football team which ranked with the greatest in Columbus history.

After graduating from Columbus with highest athletic honors, Smagacz entered Midland college at Fremont. In four years at Midland he earned four varsity letters each in football and basketball and two in track.

Smagacz, whose athletic achievements had received considerable attention, decided to turn to professional baseball. In 1939 he signed with the St. Louis Cardinals to play for the Class C Duluth Dukes. Smagacz caught for Duluth for only one season before retiring from organized baseball to accept a coaching job at Arlington High school. After two years at Arlington, Smagacz moved over to Tekamah.

In 1942 Uncle Sam interrupted his coaching career and he entered the Navy. As a lieutenant J.G., Smagacz was stationed at Ft. Pierce, Fla., where he played on a football team which captured the All-Service crown.

Links' Second Half Rally Halts Eagle Bid, 25-12

JACK LEWIS gets away a hurried punt from deep in his own territory.

Fast Lincoln Team Erases 12-6 Lead; Hansen, Prucka Star

The 1950 edition of the Central High football team, although showing a lot of spirit, went down to defeat Friday night. The light Eagle eleven lost a 25-12 decision to Lincoln High at Benson Stadium in Coach Frank Smagacz's Class A gridiron debut.

The Purples played the first half as if they were out to win the state title, but after intermission, their line was worn down and outcharged by a Lincoln forward wall that was both heavier and stronger in reserves.

Fumble Sets Up Eagle TD

Lincoln received the opening kick-off and on the third play from scrimmage, Don Scanlon scored his first high school touchdown on a double reverse that carried for 55 yards. Central roared back later in the first quarter when Joe Prucka recovered a fumble on the Lincoln 28. Smashes into the line by Jack Taylor, Roderick Washington, and Emmett Dennis carried the ball to the one yard line. Taylor slanted off left guard for the score.

Early in the second period with the ball on their own 48, fourth down, one-half yard to go, Lincoln elected to run and failed. Central took over the ball and drove the remaining 52 yards to tally, with Washington driving to pay dirt.

Blocked Punt Turns Tide

The turning point of the game came in the third quarter. Nelson broke through the Central line and blocked Lewis' punt on the eleven. Becker, a tackle, then scooped up the ball and raced into the end zone. After this play, Central slowed down and Lincoln countered twice more on runs by Nelson and King.

Even though they lost the game the Eagle team showed a lot of promise and hustle. Offensive standouts were Washington, Taylor, and Dennis, with Jack Lewis also turning in a credible performance in place of injured Jack Lee. Mel Hansen, Bassie Johnson, Joe Prucka, and Tom Porsel sparked the line play.

Sidles Share Flag; Hughes Second as Indians Top Loop

Central's entry in the American Legion Junior Baseball league, Sidles, grabbed a one-half share of the championship laurels during the hectic summer season's play.

Winners in nine games out of the fifteen they played, the Sidles aggregation finished in a tie for the top with Murphys, both teams winding up with an average of .600 for the season.

In compiling this enviable record, the Central crew beat every team in the league twice, excluding Metz, the cellar occupants, who had a strange hex on the Bastille boys all season, taking two out of three games from them.

Clutch Hitting Keeps Team High

Season batting averages, as of July 30, close to the end of the season, showed Sidles as the top batter with an average of .344, followed by Sam Anzalone with .320, and Bob Mancuso in the third spot with .293. Team batting stood at .232, and team fielding was down to .918. Although neither of the team marks were too high, the boys came through in the clutch, and their tight-spot work was more than enough for the tie for the flag.

Entering the area tourney at Omaha's Municipal Stadium, the Sidles lads faced Deckers in the first game, and lost. One game down in the double elimination tournament, they took the second and third games from Murphys and Miller Pontiac, but lost to Deckers again in the fourth game and were eliminated.

First Championship in Years

Tom Murphy coached the squad, which took its first championship in a number of years.

The final season record, all games including various tournaments, was fourteen wins, seven losses, and one tie.

Central's second team, graduates of Midget ball, slipped from the lead they held for two-thirds of the season, and had to settle for the second place honors in the city's National league. The Hughes boys, after sweeping through their early games, tired as the summer wore on and relinquished the flag.

Indians Cop League Flag

The real stars of the summer, however, were the Indians, Central's midget league team, which copped their league flag by waltzing through the opposition to the tune of 13 victories in 14 games.

The Indians, who have compiled the amazing record of 33 wins in a row over a three year period, earned the right to go to the state tourney at Wayne, by winning the city title. Here they whipped a tough Fairbury nine in their first game, 3-2. Advancing to the semifinals, the Redskins were finally stopped, and were eliminated from the tourney. The Omaha Monarchs, beaten earlier by the Indians, took the state crown.

JACK TAYLOR, MEL HANSEN, and JACK LEE hold key to Central's grid hopes.
