Crack Squad, Battalion Assignments Announced

Precision marching and intricate uniforms plus the familiar cracking rifles, sparkling helmets and rhythmic cadence featured the opening of the 1953-54 Crack Squad season.

This select unit, under the command of Cadet Master Sergeants Richard Frank and Richard Gilinsky, completed its rostrum with the addition of 12 sophomore and junior members.

New members on the squad include Bollinger, Gene Carlson, Gene Boff, John Goldner, Robert Hall, Harrow, Dave Herzog, Robert Mas, Bill Roark, Mike Thompson, Watkins and Eugene Zweiback. The return of last year's members, Robert Burke, Robert Forrest, Robert Alan, Alan Levine and Phil Schrag will be of assistance.

Crack Squad members will perform on such occasions as the Military Road Show and other request performances.

The first temporary ROTC battalion staff appointments have been announced by Master Sergeant Darrel Miller.

Present battalion commander is Gene Holmes, while the position of executive officer is filled by Laure Hoagland; adjutant officer is Marvin, intelligence officer, Richard Gilinsky; plans and training officer, Richard Frank; supply officer, Bert Kully.

Outstanding the battalion staff are Ronald Nemer, personnel officer; Campbell, ordnance officer; Ron Brodkey, range officer, and Henplock, assistant plans and training officer.

English Class Takes Survey

Clark's English V classes have completed a survey on teen-age problems and will compile these statistics in a form.

The project was started three weeks ago and began with the students making their own list of questions. Individual questionnaires were distributed to committees picked from the class, who divided the questions into groups pertaining to one subject.

The various questions were in turn distributed to committees who decided which were the best. These problems were then mimeographed and distributed to the class, who distributed them among their friends.

The following are typical of the questions and answers from the survey.

Do all high school students receive an allowance?	96	16
Is midnight too late to be in from a school affair?	19	77
Are teen-age drivers a menace to the community?	32	65
Is 3:30 a.m. too late for a 16-year-old to get home?	48	54

Science-Math Members Own Liquid Oxygen

Rubber shattered, mercury became lead and tobacco burned like ashes at the Science-Math club meeting November 4. As Fred Nelson demonstrated liquid oxygen, he explained that these things occur as a result of the oxygen's reaching 350 degrees Fahrenheit combined with the same cold temperature of the materials.

Twelve Books to Library

A gift of 12 new books has been added to Central's library by the John Whitney foundation.

The gift was made in appreciation of Frank M. Rice's participation in the Fellowship at Yale and Columbia universities during the 1952-53 session, and the co-operation of Central's faculty in carrying out the Fellowship program.

Central Senior Tells of Life in Germany

"I lived in East Prussia until just before the Russians took over that section, and then my family moved to western Germany," related Benno Treu, a new Central senior.

He went on to tell of the many differences between America, which Europeans visualized as the land of prosperity, and Germany. For instance, during 1945-1948, following the end of the war, Germany was extremely poverty stricken.

Although he himself was fortunate to have fairly good living conditions, many of his countrymen went without adequate clothing, and some were forced to satisfy their hunger by eating out of garbage cans. It was at this time that they received much aid from Western powers, especially the U. S. and Denmark. In 1948 the currency changed from the inflated Reichsmark to the stable Deutsche mark, and gradually conditions began to improve.

In explaining the difference between the American and German school system, he said, "There the school day was from 7:30 until 1:00, and the school year extended from April to April. One month was allowed for summer vacation and a few days for special holidays."

A student could major in either mathematics or language. Benno chose the latter and was thus required to take English, French, German and Latin in addition to science, mathematics and history. The student stayed in the same room the entire day, and the teachers moved from class to class.

Social life in Germany is much more restricted than in America. A teenager does not usually begin dating until he is 16 or 18; because under that age he must be off the streets by 9:00. A boy picked up his girl at 8 o'clock; and, as he had no car, they would either go for a long walk or walk to a movie. They would return home promptly by 11 o'clock, for the parents were very strict with their children.

"The German girls dress about the same as American girls; however, they wear very little make-up. But something about that American girl—she really knows how to attract a man!" said Benno.

A year and a half ago Benno's relatives in Kansas persuaded the Treu family to come to the United States. Arrangements were made, and they soon were aboard the ship. They landed in New Orleans and then lived in Kansas until last summer when they moved to Omaha.

Benno feels that America is "Very good," and he knows he will enjoy living in the country which he always considered "the land of the free, and the home of the brave."

Anne Hruska Takes First at Convention

Six hundred Nebraska high school journalists attended the twenty-second annual Nebraska High School Press association convention at the University of Nebraska November 6-7.

In the convention contests Central High students captured awards in proofreading, copyreading and editing, sports writing, current events and editorial writing.

Winners of the contests were Anne Marie Hruska in proofreading, first place; Suzanne Richards, copyreading and editing, second place; Marvin Lincoln, sports writing, David Young, current events and Nora Brown, editorial writing, all third place. Each winner received a certificate at the awards luncheon Saturday.

Students also attended panel discussions and clinics on various journalistic problems. Adviser Mrs. Beth Crabbe and Nora Brown were featured on a panel discussing the editorial page. Nancy Jo Erickson and Kay Stephenson were members of panels which discussed judges' standards of yearbooks and writing copy and captions for yearbooks.

Friday night a banquet and variety show followed by a dance were held on the university campus.

Instrumentalists Play at Several Functions

The instrumental department has worked on several projects this month, according to director Noyes Bartholomew.

A string quartet consisting of Lora Franklin, Patricia Brown, Carol McBride and Dorothy Lane entertained at Central's Open House November 11. The band played several marches in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas Balloon parade November 14.

First appearance of the dance band will be Saturday night at the NCO's "Sound Off."

A clarinet quartet consisting of Larry Schwartz, Larry Swanson, Kay Jorgensen and Ernest Vincentini is preparing for its performance on the TV show "Window on Learning" in the near future.

JRC Group Witness Blood Demonstration

Junior Red Cross Intercity council met at Central Wednesday afternoon. An educational demonstration of an actual blood donation was the main feature of the program and was given by the Volunteer Service and the Regional Blood center. Principal J. Arthur Nelson welcomed the 90 members who attended.

All Central students were asked to join Red Cross through their homerooms this past week. Today is your last chance to contribute as much as you wish. The money goes into Central's Junior Red Cross treasury from which funds are drawn for the TB ward at County hospital, Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets for needy families and gifts for a convalescent child.

"But I've already given to the Community Chest," wails Mr. Average Student. However, Red Cross is an organization not included in Community Chest; this is its individual drive.

Books, Relics, Prize Pictures Displayed

The first floor showcase has been the scene of many interesting exhibits the past few weeks.

In commemoration of Book Week November 15-21 the librarians arranged a display which featured such new books as Eisenhower by John Gunther, Microbes of Merit by Otto Ralm and Catching by Malcolm Child. Small book marks like those given to many students were also in the display.

History students exhibited numerous relics in honor of Armistice day. They included a letter to Howard Wilson's father from war correspondent Foster May, when the latter looted Adolf Hitler's offices in Berlin; Tom Gepson's collection of Omaha newspapers pertinent to World War I, and a flag collection belonging to Misses Margaret Weymuller and Irma Costello.

The prize winning pictures in the Eighth Annual National High School Photographic contest were also exhibited recently. The pictures were of scenes, activities, animals and people of all ages. The contest offered $4,000 in cash prizes.

Choir to Offer 'Desert Song' December 10-12

"Ho, bold men of Morocco..." will resound within Central when the a cappella choir presents Sigmund Romberg's "Desert Song" December 10, 11 and 12, directed by Mrs. Elsie Howe Swanson with Richard Peterson doing the dramatic coaching.

Gary Salman, Nancy Tompkins and Park Ames will be cast as the three romantic leads. Gary will play the dual role of the Red Shadow, "Robin Hood," leader of the Riff band, and Pierre Birabeau.

Nancy, as the vivacious French girl Margot Bonvalet, leaves a convent to seek love and adventure in Morocco with her fiancé, Captain Paul Fontaine, portrayed by Park.

Student Control Polices Hallways

Members of student control will continue to serve as policemen for the halls this year during the lunch hour.

"The hall patrol," as it is more popularly known, is under the sponsorship of Robert Harris on third floor; Andrew Nelsen, second floor, and Jim Karabatsos, first floor.

Assisting Mr. Harris are Chuck Tyson, Jim Maxfield, Judy Mullens, Karen Anderson, Sharyn Heldt, Verna Mae Stamps, Peggy Hellner and David Hoffman.

Mr. Nelsen's helpers on second are Barbara Hyland, Barbara Holdredge, Jo Wells, Ann Samson, Shala Andrews, Carol Day, Janice Anderson and Nancy Reed.

Student control on the first floor is made up of Steve Rosenblatt, Bob Hall, Dennis (Moon) Mullins, Stuart Westphal, Lyle Lawson, Gary Akromis, Dick Serpan, Tony Caniglia, Frank Moberg and Ray Gallagher.

Assemblies Feature Symphony, Safety

Obviously impressed at the warm appreciation shown them by Central's student body, the Iowa State College Symphony Orchestra gave a 65-minute concert at the November 16 activities assembly.

Some of the selections the symphony orchestra played were the first movement of Brahms Symphony in D and the Emperor Waltz by Johannes Strauss.

Iza Niemack, violin concert mistress, soloed in Concerto for Violin No. 1 in G Minor by Max Bruch. As an encore the orchestra played The Waltzing Cat by Leroy Andersen.

There's magic in the words "safety first," Sergeant Carl Pike, a traveling safety magician, demonstrated this at an activity program November 13.

A member of the sheriff's force in Kent county, Michigan, Sergeant Pike is on a tour sponsored by the American Trucking association with the Omaha Safety council as co-sponsor in Nebraska.

At the shout of "safety first" he can make water flow, objects disappear, and umbrellas change shape. However, Sergeant Pike mixed humor and magic with some serious suggestions. He stressed the importance of setting a good example for younger drivers and told of a tragic case on which he worked.

Sergeant Pike's itinerary in the interest of safety is taking him to 30 states this school year.

Football Squad Receives Letters at Team Banquet

Last night the Central footballers and their fathers were honored at the annual football banquet in Central's cafeteria. Also attending were this year's cheerleaders.

Duane Perry served as toastmaster. Fred D. Moshier was main speaker while Gene Haman spoke on behalf of the team. Also speaking were Principal J. Arthur Nelson, who welcomed the players, and Coach Smagacz, who congratulated the squad for such a successful season. The following participants received varsity letters at the banquet:

- | | |

| Jack Woodall | Norm Hudgins |
| Terry Moshier | John Radicia |
| John Radicia | Nate Goldston |
| Red Thomas | George Herrin |
| Gary Akromis | Alan Rosen |
| Gifford Tomkins | Tony Caniglia |
| Gary Ruck | Bernie Turkel |

Smagaczmen Elect Haman as Captain

When it came time for the gridders to pick their season's honorary team captain, the boys saw almost eye-to-eye on their choice, Gene Haman.

Gene, a 180-pound-six-footer, shone on the football this year and sparked the team to its best season since 1944. His outstanding offensive game and stalwart defensive work placed him in the World-Herald's and Register Sport Staff's all-city team. Gene is also a strong competitor for an all-state berth.

"Husky Huey," as he is called by his teammates, has previously received a letter for basketball and will be on both the basketball and baseball squads during this season. Gene proved his versatility and popularity by becoming O-Club president. He has been a homeroom representative and has taken part in ROTC and Latin club programs.

Survey Indicates Knee Vulnerable

The knee is the most frequently injured part of the body in high school football, followed in order by the leg, ankle, shoulder, arm!

This and other facts were revealed in a survey of high school football injuries recently completed in 204 Nebraska schools, including 6,380 players. The purpose of this survey is to help answer the standing debate as to whether the element of danger in this body-contact game exceeds the benefits received.

Other findings include such facts as four out of every 10 boys attending the 204 schools surveyed play football. One out of every 10 playing football is injured during the season with six-man football having the fewest injuries per game than 11-man football.

Injuries are most numerous during the fifth game of the season, lowest in the first game.

Because October is the heavy injury month, it has been recommended that "every football schedule" have one open date in the month of October.

Another suggestion is that special training should be given backfield men to teach each boy how to fall safely and how to protect himself when being tackled.

Marksmen Named

Under the direction of Coach Master Sergeant Darrel W. Miller and team Captain Ronald Brodkey, 17 marksmen have been chosen for Central's 953-54 rifle squad.

Returning members include Brodkey, Bob Weigel, Park Ames and Lawrence Hoagland. New marksmen are the following: Payson Adams, Tom Erickson, Sam Marvin, Howard Wilson, Gary Campbell, Dale Graham, Pat Kuncel, Richard Einstein, Ted Vahl, John Watts, Terry Pierce, Dick Fueller and Don Pickard.

The crew this year has a reputation to uphold, for the 1952-53 team won the intercity championship and captured first place in three of five individual honors. Brodkey is the only rifleman who was on last year's high five.

Central will meet its toughest competitor, North, in the first match of the season. North, with several returning lettermen, is favored to win first place in the city.

Stars of the Week . . .

Coaches Earn Award for Great Season

MENTORS SMAGACZ AND KARABATSOS . . . coached team to a highly successful season.

Logical choices for stars of the week are the men behind the football scene, Coaches Frank Smagacz and Jim Karabatsos. These men led a team, which was not seeded in pre-season, to the Eagles best record since 1944.

The team finished in third place in the Intercity league and were ranked sixth in state competition. For guiding the team to such a ranking, the coaches deserve a great deal of credit.

Coach Smagacz brought to Central in 1950 a new era in Central High football.

After a poor season in '52 the Eagles came back this year with a fine showing when they were not thought to have a chance.

Coach Karabatsos arrived on the Central scene in 1951. After coaching the reserves to a high ranking his first two years, Jim was placed on the varsity staff to assist Smagacz.

Recap of 1953

Five Wins, Three Losses Best Since '44

The best football team to represent the Hilltop school in nine years recently capped a highly successful gridiron year with a 5-3 record.

Central 14—Lincoln 13

Eagle gridders roared off to an early start in their 14-13 squeeze past last year's state champ, Lincoln Central.

An early TD, set up by a fumble, pushed the favored Lincoln crew in front by a 6-0 margin. The decisive extra-point try failed and eventually accounted for the defeat.

Coming on strong after halftime deliberation, Gene Haman passed to Red Thomas from the Central 49-yard stripe to the Red and Black 11. Two plays later, the husky fullback crashed over from the four. A Norm Hudgins-Gary Ruck aerial pushed the Eagles into a 7-6 lead.

End Ruck's recovered fumble paved the way for Lyle Lawson's jaunt into the end zone from seven yards out. The fleet halfback also added the game-winning extra point. The Links futilely scored their final touchdown as the gun sounded.

Central 7—Benson 16

Eagle hopes felt a dull thud as a last quarter surge handed the Benson Bunnies their first inter-city triumph September 18 on the Benson field.

Returning from the surprising road trip, the Purples had another upset in the making over a highly-touted Green and White eleven. But the Hare opponents moved into top gear with only six minutes of play remaining to overcome a 7-3 Eagle edge.

That's when Benson's fullback went to work. Big Don Raschke led a 72-yard sustained drive to put the Bunnies on top 9-7. After an intercepted pass set up the final Hare tally, Jerry Rigg skirted right end for 42 yards on the last play of the contest to make the final score read 16-7.

Central 0—Prep 27

The whole Eagle wall fell through as a second-half drive withered the Centralites to a humiliating Creighton whitewash 27-0.

Launching a potent air assault, the undefeated Blue and Whites capitalized on an intercepted lateral and a blocked punt to give them a strong 13-0 score as the third quarter ended.

Football Season

by Larry Epstein

The driving back scooted right end for 16 yards to produce the TD. Terry Moshier plunged over for the extra point.

Central 7—Tech 6

Renewing a gridiron tangle as old as the names of the two schools, the Hilltoppers stopped a wavering Maroon team by the closest of margins October 16.

Norm Hudgins' thrilling 36-yard journey and the all-important Haman-Thomas extra-point strike with only 13 minutes and 57 seconds played did the trick.

The Cuming street eleven punched back in the waning moments of the first half with an aerial TD but could not produce the tying extra point.

Central 19—Abe Lincoln 6

Notching their fourth straight triumph in six inter-city starts, the hustling Hilltoppers pulled one of the biggest upsets of the season by knocking off once-beaten Abraham Lincoln in the October 23 clash at Kirn field in Council Bluffs.

Coach Smagacz's pig-skinners pierced Lynx territory three times in the third and fourth stanzas to garner their fourth straight win over AL since Smagacz took the helm as Eagle mentor in 1950.

Hudgins, Haman, Ruck, Lawson and Moshier all figured in the Eagle attack, with Haman scoring two markers and Ruck one.

Central 6—North 7

Keyed up for the final football match and already owning the best Eagle record since 1944, the Central spoilers met the North High Vikings in a duel for the second place spot October 28 at Benson.

Last year's football rulers, showing improvement from earlier faults, were ready for the Eagle challenge. The result was a 7-6 reversal of what the Hilltopper eleven had imposed on Tech two weeks before.

The Vikes didn't waste any time. A trick lateral gave them a TD in the first period with little more than three minutes played.

But the Eagles retaliated in previous fashion and marched 63 yards in 11 plays to scratch pay dirt. Hudgins flipped to pint-sized Jerry Hunter for the score. A pass for extra point failed, and the margin stayed unchanged for the following three quarters.

Another football season has slipped by and another All-Intercity team has been selected by your sports staff.

Creighton Prep, the inter-city champions, placed four men on the mythical eleven. North, Tech and Central each have two players on the first squad while Benson has one representative.

Central is represented on the first team by versatile backfielder Gene Haman and durable lineman Bernie Turkel.

Gene led the Eagle crew offensively and excelled defensively—576 total yards and 39 tackles. Bernie also was a double-duty griddler

On the second crew, the Eagles have back Terry Moshier and elusive end Red Thomas. Terry was Central's most outstanding defensive player—72 tackles—and also gained valuable yardage on offense. Red excelled in pass-catching. His receiving set-up scored many Eagle touchdowns.

Rounding out the backfield of the top inter-city team are Prepsters Bob Varley and Mike Dugan and Tech High Maroon Jack Hansen. Bob and Mike led their Creighton Prep aggregation to an undefeated season.

At the important end positions are Benson Bunnie Stu Howerter and Prepster Tom Wharton. These two lads played an unforgettable part in their high school's gridiron schedule.

Assisting Centralite Bernie Turkel at the tackle spot is 200 pound Bill Tomcykowski of Prep.

On either side of all-intercity center Ray Best of North is teammate Bob McIntyre and Tech's guard Herbie Davis.

Girls' Sports . . . Frosh Yellers Chosen

Nine freshman cheerleaders chosen November 2 are Jane Adams, Sharon Bauer, Virginia Brager, Arlene Dergan, Laurie Frank, Evelyn Levey, Karen Richards and Lou Vogel. They will cheer during freshman basketball season.

Joan Kretschmer and Sue Ann Tappan won the senior girls' badminton tournament. Other winners were Sharon Heldt and Janet Talty in the junior tournament, Barbara Adams and Sally Scheer in the sophomore division and Helen Clark and Dorothy Doane, freshman division.

Sandra White Speaks to Central High Players

Miss Sandra (Solomon) White '47 was the speaker at Central High Players meeting last Tuesday. Sandra told the Players of her experiences in Hollywood since her graduation from Central.

She has had screen tests with most of the major film companies and was considered for the leading role in "From Here to Eternity." She has also appeared several times in television plays and has done commercial advertisements for various TV sponsors.

Sandra's advice to Hollywood aspirants was "... keep plugging, it's wonderful! There are a lot of heartaches involved in making your way to the top, but it's worth it!"

Sandra revealed that her most embarrassing experience while in the public eye was the loss of her formal crinoline slip when she was arriving at the Academy Awards banquet.

Nora Brown Honored

Nora Brown became the fourth Central senior to be named Teen of the Week by the World-Herald's Youth Activities director Al Frisbie.

Although Nora maintains a straight "1" average, scholastic honors were not the only reasons for her receiving the award, for her extra-curricular activities include being featured editor of the Register and president of Central High Players.

One of Central's three delegates to Girls' State, Nora was elected supreme court justice and named as one of Nebraska's two alternates to Girls' Nation.

Police Talk to Knights

At the last meeting of the Road Knights Sergeant Bob Loftus of the Omaha police department gave a talk on safety and traffic outlooks.

The boys discussed safety attitudes and the use of a drag strip.
