462 Student Council Delegates Form Convention Friendship Circle

by Natchi Matsunami

After many weeks of careful preparation the 9th Annual convention of the Nebraska Association of Student Councils came to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne by all of the delegates in a friendship circle.

Of the 60 member schools in Nebraska, 42 schools were represented with 420 delegates and sponsors.

Renewing Acquaintances

Friday night a dance began the two days of renewing old acquaintances met at the last convention held in McCook and meeting new friends. This was planned by Connie Svolopoulos, Linda Larsen and Steve Olson. Many balloons decorated our spacious gym and the dance band under the direction of Bill McGinn provided the music. During the dance Natchi Matsunami registered all of the delegates.

Registration

Saturday registration under the supervision of Natchi Matsunami with Mary Lou Spry, Stella Stergois, Donna Mueller, Gael Dorsey, and Cindy Wardle assisting again was held for the students who arrived that morning. The check room was in the hands of Dick Gash, Bob Shamblen, Ronnie Misaki, Terry Foster, Russ Mullens and Dick Harrow.

Bob Gallamore, NASC president from Fairbury, called to order the first general session. The National Anthem and the presentation of colors were made by the Central High Color Guard. Charles Dickerson led the Pledge of Allegiance and Dick Ahlstrand made the invocation. A greeting was then made by Dr. Harry Burke, Superintendent of Omaha Public schools followed by a response by Bob Gallamore. Bob then introduced the candidates for state offices. He introduced Dr. Milo Bail, president of Omaha University who was the keynote speaker. Dr. Bail chose as a topic for his speech "Individuals Determine the Path."

At 10:25 the delegates went to their individual discussion groups. Students from the various Omaha student councils were chosen as discussion group leaders. Topics for the discussion groups were based on problems confronting student councils in Presiding at the second general session was Sharon Witt, NASC vicepresident, who introduced the candidates for state offices. The candidates then gave their campaign speeches.

Drama, TV Star Inga Swenson Stages 'Come Back' to CHS

Inga signs autographs for Carol Zuroske, Suzi Wolfson and Frances Silver

Does the shine of footlights attract you? Inga Swenson '50 who is now a professional actress suggests that only those who are very good actors should enter the field of drama.

Inga visited the speech class recently on her way back to New York after having a screen test in Hollywood. She has appeared in Playhouse 90 and summer stock and will soon begin Shaw's "Arms and the Man." She says her favorite role was Ophelia in "Hamlet." Her favorite plays are those of Shakespeare, and she performs often in Stratford.

She likes the stage better than TV and has not appeared in movies. She stated, "Television is much more intimate, and there aren't half as many worries; but I still prefer the stage."

While at Central, Inga appeared in many school plays. Now she is married, has a little boy and says that her career on stage doesn't interfere with a normal and happy family life.

"If you do want to enter drama, go to college first (she attended Northwestern); seventeen is too young and the business is too hard to enter

Sweepstakes Cup

For the second consecutive year, Central has captured the journalism sweepstakes trophy presented by the Nebraska High School Press Association at Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 7-8.

First place winners of individual contests were Judy Cohen, proofreading; Steve Fisk, sports writing; Sharon Kay Johnson, advertising; Toni Kaplan, editorial writing; Rozanne Siporin, yearbook copyreading. A second place award went to Marc Samuelson for current events; third place winners were Barbara Adler, journalistic terms; Betty Erman, copyreading and editing; Alice Kurz, newswriting; Juan McAlister, photography.

Approximately 750 journalism students from Nebraska high schools attended the two-day convention which had activities centered on the University of Nebraska campus. The general program offered panel discussions and lectures which pertained to various fields of journalism. Lynda Brayman, Betty Erman, Bob Fellman, Alice Kurz and Nancy Lindell were on a panel which discussed "Have You Gathered the Latest?"

Central Opens Door To Parents, Visitors

Central, along with four other high schools in Omaha, opened its doors for the parents' inspection at the annual "Open House, Nov. 12. The purpose of Open House each year is to acquaint parents with their child's teachers and to see the building.

Many of the rooms had displays illustrating the subject taught in that particular class. For example, if you had happened to enter an English room you might have seen a display of books recommended for reading in that course. In a social studies room you might have gotten a glimpse of other lands in the form of maps. pictures and clippings. Upon entering the Chemistry lab, you would have been confronted with a ghastly odor and many hustling students, busying themselves with the preparation of oxygen.

The interest of the parents, developed when they have the opportunity to meet the teacher and see the school, stimulates the feeling of the teacher and the student as a participant in class.

Choir, Orchestra, Crew Prepare To Present 'Brigadoon,' Dec. 11-13

Rehearsals are well under way for visitors. Lerner and Loewe's "Brigadoon," to be presented by the a capella choir under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Howe Jensen on Dec. 11-13.

Mrs. Jensen is directing all the vocal music and is responsible for the entire production.

Mr. Norman Kirschbaum is coaching the dramatics, designing all the sets and the stage properties and making preparations for the show's elaborate costumes.

The instrumental music which accompanies the choir throughout the opera is under the direction of Mr. Jess Sutton.

"Brigadoon" is the beautiful, romantic, yet dynamic story of an imaginary, enchanted village in the Scottish Highlands that comes to life as it was years ago once every one hundred years.

A wide variety of vocal and dramatic parts can be found in Brigadoon's cast of characters. Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas are two hunters from New York who stumble on Brigadoon by accident. Understanding Fiona MacLaren finds herself very much attracted to Tommy, while vivacious Meg Brockie keeps her roving eye on Jeff.

Mr. Lundie, the town schoolmaster, is the person who explains the strange enchantment of Brigadoon to the Central debaters have been setting a fast pace in the race for honors between schools, both in Nebraska and out-state.

Mo. Valley Tourney

The Boys' Missouri Valley tournament was attended by nine high schools at North High, Nov. 13-15. Two Central teams, Sam Bleicher-Dave Weddle and Stan Greenfield-Justin Lewis, were participants.

Other past debate activities include the Lincoln Northeast Beginners' tournament, held last spring, and attended by Eagles Dave Weddle, Larry Kohn and Dave Hoffman. Central has also been proud winner of the last two big beginners' tournaments in the state.

Dec. 4-5, Centralites will again journey to the two-day Lincoln Northeast tournament. The teams of Dale Pearson-John MacLaughlin and Ed Sidman-Larry Kohn will try for honors in debate, while individual events will include Dave Weddle in extemporaneous speaking and radionewscasting and Ed Sidman in oratory.

Another trip will take Stan Greenfield-Justin Lewis and one other team to debate on Central's behalf in Independence, Mo., Dec. 13-14.

More Girls Than Boys

Mr. Johnson, who coaches one of Central's largest debate squads in a long time, stated that this year's debate enrollment includes more girls than boys. Also, with such a large number of fine debaters, he said, it is difficult to select from among them.

Among future plans for the debate team are several trips to Hasting, Grand Island, Kearney and Lincoln in Nebraska. Out-state travels include visits to Independence, Mo., Sioux City, Iowa, and Sioux Falls, S. D., or Northfield Minn Centralites interested in debate may want to find out about the American Legion Oratorical contest, open to all, in the early part of the second semester. Mr. Johnson should be contacted for further information.

'Come Ye Thankful'

Edwin Arlington Robinson once wrote, "Two kinds of gratitude: the sudden kind we feel for what we take, the larger kind for what we give.' Gratitude is a word which we often associate with Thanksgiving. During this meaningful holiday, Americans cease their everyday activities and give thanks for their blessings. Thanksgiving should be a day not only for speaking words of gratitude, but also a day for measuring what we have done for

As has often been said, it is more blessed to give than to receive. Have we simply been grateful for shelter, food and clothing; or have we helped people who are in want of these necessities? Have we simply acknowledged and made use of the educational opportunities in the United States; or have we encouraged learning, contributed knowledge to society and taught what we know to others? Have we simply enjoyed the freedom and privileges which belong to American citizens; or have we helped to safeguard the laws of our country and promote the welfare of its people? Have we simply reaped the benefits of health, peace, family and success; or have we worked for the improvement of mankind and the happiness of others? Thanksgiving is a day on which we should weigh our receipts against our expenditures, our benefits against our contributions. May we find that the scales balance perfectly; or better yet, may we discover that the kindness which we pay unto others outweighs that which we receive unto our-

For the Record

Two weeks ago the members of the Register staff went to Lincoln to attend the state journalism convention. Most of the staff attained high individual honors, and we were presented the sweepstakes award for greatest journalistic skill of any Nebraska high school paper staff.

We returned with pride in the achievements made in the name of Central High. But we were not greeted with appreciation for the honors we had earned. With the exception of sweet congratulatory notes from three of our faculty members, there was little mention of the distinction we brought the school.

We were greeted with complaints as to the mistakes in the last issue of the Register. The comments were continued throughout the week.

Although there is no place for errors in a newspaper, we are all human beings. The pages are made up downtown where two hungry Register staff members read page proofs during their lunch time. If the typesetter makes further errors in the process of correcting earlier ones, we have no control anymore.

Why must we always capitalize someone else's mistakes when a word of appreciation may accomplish so much more?

Start Studying Early

One of the most important and abused phases of education is applied study. The importance of studying has various categories, each of equal strength. Without good study habits, one cannot easily absorb the knowledge presented to him and in turn, cannot acquire the grades he is capable of attaining. By the time a college career looms closeahead, it is too late to learn how to study. It is due to poor study habits and not a lack of brains that many students are kept out of universities.

Rationalization is the main downfall in the student of today. Remarks such as these are often uttered before an exam when studying should replace idleness: "If I don't know it now, I'll never know it!", "Mr. Jones never gives a fair exam so why study?", "As long as I can pass the exam, why shouldn't I have some relaxation watching T.V.?

If a student has a true desire to learn, he will study. But-these cases are far too few for comfort. Although applied study seems secondary to other school activities, it can never be replaced. Studying is a major part of life. No matter what one's age may be, studying is the key to acquired intelli-

The moral of this poem As you will plainly see, Is that girls are really frugal; Or at least they try to be.

Now Jennifer has a rotter date. "He's just BAD NEWS," says she. "No sweat, I'll just wear what I've got;

He means not a thing to me."

Her mother can't believe her ears, Surely daughter can't be changing! But little does the woman know That there will be some rearranging.

"Oh, hamburgers, malts and curlycues, too!"

Jenny cries, in grave despair, "I've gained about 11 odd pounds, And I haven't a thing I can wear!"

So to the shoping center they go (Their budget heads for the drain) 'Cuz Jennifer must have something to

Oh, how will her mother stay sane?

The dress is bought and home to change And, of course, after much ado

Jennifer's ready; her date picks her up Mom's so glad the day's finally through.

The moral of this poem Has plainly been portrayed When a girl says, "I'll wear what I've got, Mother should be afraid!!!"!!

All honors and no mischief would make Terry a dull character. It has never been said that Edward Terence Foster is a dull character. This summer after a nice, Sunday drive to Okoboji, Terry discovered he could find no sleeping accommodations that fit his modest budget of fifty cents a week for entertainment. Terrible Terence and his cohorts spent the night in the Milford cemetery with tombstones for pillows. Aching muscles,

Next year, Effervescent Edward plans to be studying civil engineering at MIT or Cornell. It is a long, tough course, but if Terry follows the pattern he set for himself in high school, he can't help but be a success.

Cartoon by Jim Forrest What a bargain! Two "Sound Off" tickets for a dollar.

Here we are, launched into a new hase of the athletic year, the season f winter sports. We've come a long vay this year, but we've got a lot harder row to hoe if we plan to apture the All-Sports Trophy for the econd year in a row.

Last week, we paid tribute to the graduating senior who played their last game for the Eagle eleven. In that column I neglected to mention some of the underclassmen who stood out on Central's grid crew this fall. Roger Sayers really chopped up the league this season as he garnered a berth on the World-Herald All-Intercity team. Furthermore, he led the league in scoring with a total of 68 points.

Gale Sayers was another Eagle who really came through in the final games of the season. Vernon Breakfield provided plenty of thrills for the Central crowds in the Benson and AL routs. The two hard-hitting linemen, Milton Meadows and Rod Moore improved as the season progressed and turned in many fine performances.

Basketball in Spotlight

Now, on to the winter season. Basketball prospects look fairly bright this year and there seems to be every indication of a highly successful season ahead. In fact the way the team and league are shaping up, we may be able to advance to the State tourney again. Some familiar faces will undoubtedly be back in the cageball

John Nared, the big gun of the team last year behind Phil Barth, is back and should provide the scoring punch for the Central five. Last year. John made the Inter-city team for the Council Bluffs paper as well as the All Class AA team at the State tournament in Lincoln.

Another one of last year's early starters is also back for the '58-'59 season. Jim Hall, one of the starters for the first half of the last season, should provide the spark and fight among the senior members of the

Bruce Hunter, rounds out the roster of the seniors back from last season. In addition to this list, John Palmer, a transfer student from Wichita, will certainly be an asset to the team and could possibly break into the starting Another almost sure starter will be Steve Scholder, the firey junior who sparked Central's reserves last season. All in all, the basketball season this year could be one that will equal last year's excellent record.

Wrestling Also

Wrestling could go either way this season. Central will field a largely inexperienced group of matmen, and too much should not be expected. However, one cannot altogether discount the power of Norm Sorensen's perennial winners. Charlie Whitner and Andre McWilliams will definitely be the grapplers to watch this year.

There isn't much more that I have to say right now except to repeat what I said earlier in the season: "This could be the year."

Ed Clark Musters Central's Aquamen For Third Season

Central High school, together with the YMCA facilities, are once again putting forth a swimming team to do battle in Inter-city competition for the third straight year.

This year the aquamen are out to re-capture the Inter-city crown, which CHS acquired last year. To do this they are now going through their preseason warm-ups under the coaching of Mr. Ed Clark. This training includes practice in distance swimming, entry and turns in the water, and co-ordinating the swimmers stroking and kicking to gain the maximum efficiency and speed. The swimming team is forced to train in at the YMCA because no swimming facilities are available at Central.

The team's first meet is with Creighton Prep, Dec. 12. Also among the aquamen's schedule are teams from Lincoln Northeast, Lincoln Southeast, Omaha Tech and Benson. By the way this will be the first year Benson has entered a team into com-

The football team finished their official duties by electing two season captains, four representatives for the Shrine All-Star team and an all-opponent team.

Charles Dickerson and Bruce Hunter lead the balloting for the past season's captains. Charles Dickerson was the team's quarterback and a defensive spark plug. Bruce Hunter was an offensive standout and a defensive back.

The four nominations for the Shrine All-Star game will be announced by the Shrine Nominating Committee.

One word describes Coach Norman Sorenson's 1958-59 wrestling crew: "inexperience." Only three lettermen are returning and consequently many positions will be manned by freshman and sophomore grapplers.

Heading the varsity roster are veterans Dick Bottorff, Charlie Whitner, and Andre McWilliams. Bottorff, a 95-pounder, will have competition from Victor Kimsey and Ernest Sledge in a weight division which looks particularly strong this year. Whitner has nailed down the 127-pound bracket and judging from his last year's form, should go through the season undefeated. McWilliams is wrestling in the 145 division and should also emerge all-victorious.

Phillip Tinnin and Chuck Ginsburg, 103; Terry Showell, 120; Leonard West, 133; Alvin Gilmore and Milton Meadows, 165; and Jim Brown, heavyweight; are other probable varsity wrestlers.

The grapplers chief competition this year is expected to come from North and South, who have many experienced wrestlers returning. Inexperience will be working against the matmen during the early part of the season, but they are sure to improve with each match. Coach Sorenson stated that if the strength could be developed in three more weight divisions, the Eagle matmen could become definite title contenders.

The first chance to see the varsity in action will come on the first week of December when they will participate in the North High Invitational Tournament.

The South High Invitational Tournament to be held tomorrow will afford the Freshman-Sophomore squad their first competition of the year. Mr. Sorenson emphasizes the fact that there still is room on this team and he urges any prospective grapplers to try out.

Andrews' Frosh Fly By McMillan 13-0; Second in Inter-city

Coach George Andrews and his high-stepping freshman football team ended their 1958 season on a winning note as they trounced a sturdy Mc-Millan Junior High team 13-0 on Wednesday, Nov. 5.

Melvin Wade and Gail Carey provided the two Eagle tallies as the team sped by the stunned McMillan eleven. Carey started the Eagle scoring by picking up a McMillan fumble and going all the way for the six pointer. Next, Wade broke loose for a 60 yard gallop to hit pay-dirt ending the Eagle scoring for the season.

The win found the Eagles finishing the season in second place behind the mighty South High Packers, who went through the season undefeated. The final freshman record was 5 wins and 2 losses

Coach Andrews had high praise for the following players: Gail Carey, Lonnie Hancock, James Brown, Henry Peters, Lee Brentlinger, Larry Gant, Jim Dempsey, Gary Lammers, Pon Buresh, Harold Smith, Terry Butkus, Allen Ross, and Marvin Rodgers. Many of these, he felt, may make the step up to the varsity team next

With the football season completed, Central sports fans will now transfer their interest and enthusiasm to the fast approaching basketball season.

The task of equaling last year's record performance will not be an easy one, but Coach Marquiss will again try to put a winning team on

John Nared, a two-year letter winner and the only returning varsity starter, will be an invaluable asset to this year's team. At the close of last season, he was placed on the All Class AA team at the State tourney and voted All-City by the Council Bluffs Non Pareil.

New Cager Transfers

Another probable varsity starter is 6'2" Jim Hall. Jim was the sixth man on the team last year and is bound to wrack up many points for the

A pleasant surprise may be in store for Central fans when they first see John Palmer in action. Palmer transferred from Wichita, Kansas this year and may be the deciding factor in a close Eagle race.

Next, comes Bruce Hunter, who played on both varsity and reserve teams last year. Also vying with Bruce for the other starting positions will be senior Joe Sweeney and juniors Steve Scholder, Joe Belitz, John Engstrom and Walter Graves.

Central will again suffer from a lack of height; but as in the past years, team hustle and school spirit will help make up for it.

Rough Competition

Coach Marquiss feels that the toughest opposition will come from South and Thomas Jefferson. Both of these schools had good reserve teams and should be watched care-

Come out and see the Eagles play basketball. They will be a team you can be proud of all season.

Seniors! Are You Sick? Get Your Cards In Now!

"Seniors are urged to get their physical examination and dental check-up cards in soon," Nurse Marie Dwyer said.

A health program in the Omaha schools requires the students to turn in these reports before kindergarten, high school and graduation.

One purpose of such a program is acquiring a habit of seeing the doctor or dentist regularly. Mrs. Dwyer added, "A healthy body produces good work."

There is still time to make appointments. These cards are needed for an accurate report of a student's medical history.

Centralites Garner Dartmouth Award

Central was presented a plaque by Dartmouth College in recognition of the achievements of four alumni: Albert Olson, Marvin Freedman, Ray Thompson and Larry Zacharia.

Their combined grade average during the freshman year was one of the ten highest among high school delegations represented at Dartmouth.

CHS alumnus Richard Walker, representing Dartmouth, introduced Frank Logan, assistant director of admissions, who presented the plaque to Principal J. Arthur Nelson.

Mr. Nelson said, "This award belongs to our proficient CHS faculty.

It's Time For Breakfast

Brains, beauty and brawn they're all associated with a good breakfast, according to doctors, nutritionists and athletic directors. Brains, because every boy or girl in school needs energy and good nutrition to study and learn; beauty, because proper eating can help provide a healthy, glowing appearance; and brawn, because a good breakfast supplies from one-fourth to one-third of daily protein and calorie requirements essential to physical fitness.

is an ideal breakfast menu for teen-agers: fruit or juice, a serving of cereal, three slices of toast, two eggs and two cups of cocoa. The U. S. Navy recently found that many service aviators involved in "unexplained air accidents" consistently skipped or skimped breakfast. The Navy recommended to its aviators that they eat a complete breakfast including toast and jam, two eggs, breakfast meat, cereal, two. glasses of milk, juice or fruit and Authorities say the following coffee with cream and sugar.

Students Should Use Discretion In Selecting A Suitable College

A college education involves a great deal of time and money; therefore, a person's choice of school deserves careful planning and not a hasty decision. The most obvious place to look for information about colleges is in the morning circular. Nearly everyday there are representatives of various colleges visiting Central. A senior wishing to find out about a particular school should take the opportunity to talk with its representative.

The circular also contains announcements which are valuable to seniors who want information about scholarship opportunities. Schools offering scholarships are generally interested only in the upper one-fourth of the class; but often there are limitless opportunities for those interested in such specialized fields as music, art and science.

For more detailed information about schools, one should consult the library, where there is a large supply of books and catalogs from all colleges in which Central seniors have expressed an interest. A very helpful book for prospective college students is the American College Counselor and Guide by Benjamin Fine.

If a student feels he needs more personal guidance, he may consult Mr. Nelson for assistance in selecting a college.

This is the last year of high school for the seniors!

This year they must decide what they plan to do after graduation. Some students intend to go to work, and others plan to continue their education.

Many who are planning to attend college, have already selected and applied to the colleges of their choice. However, quite a few of the seniors have not yet made a decision because they have many unanswered questions on the subject of college.

The gals who care Dress with a flair.

To Webster this means uniqueness, distinction, an expression of one's own personality.

To Omahans, flair means Kilpatrick's.

No caterer to the masses this store-and who wants to see herself coming and going in every class at school and on every street corner downtown?

There's just no denying it-our clothing budgets have their limitations-right? Okay, then isn't it intelligent to make every dollar reap extra dividends in accomplishing that "smart, younk Look" for which we strive? Let's start seeing the real you - the one with the personality glittering through.

Flair is mainly a matter of taste -never the "blind buying of a herd of sheep in a bargain basement!" Make those dollars count.

Student Council

Lunch was served in the cafeteria. Members of the Iuncheon committee, Connie Svoloupos, Trudy Erwin and Judy Swanson, provided the delegates with lunch. Space rockets were used as table decorations.

After the luncheon the delegates attended a talent show in the auditorium. Linda Larsen was responsible for getting different acts from the five Omaha high schools.

At 2:10 Bob Gallamore presided over the third general session. Nancy Richards then read the minutes of the 1957 convention. Treasurer Ane Nielson from Lincoln High read the treasurer's report. "Citizenship in Action", a film about student councils, was then shown to the delegates. Our closing speaker Rev. Swanson of Augustana Lutheran church chose as his topic "Too Many People, Not Enough Citizens." Charles Dickerson announced the results of the election reporting as follows: Tim Newens, Omaha Benson, President; Steve Takechi, Omaha Tech, Vice-President; Sue Sautter, McCook, Treasurer. Mr. Planteen installed the new officers and Tim Newens, the new president, gave the benediction.

The theme, "Student Council-Guided Missile to Success," was carried out superbly by Nancy Brodkey and Susie Irvine in the decorations; Bill Abernathy, Lyla Owen, and Charlie Dickerson arranged the elections; Pete Bartling was responsible for the programs; plans for housing and transportations were made by Linda Larsen, Steve Olson and Connie Svoloupos. Thanks go to sponsors Mrs. Jean Skinner and Mr. J. J. Planteen for giving their help in making the convention a success.

Advanced Physics classes, studying atomic energy, are using a scaler-ratemeter, loaned to Mr. Arnold Edmiston, chemistry instructor, by the Atomic Energy Commission through the University of Wyoming.

In addition to this instrument a Wilson Cloud Chamber was constructed and demonstrated by senior John Nelson. This device is a model of the piece of equipment which won Dr. C. T. R. Wilson the Nobel Prize for Physics in 1927.

Recurrent Fall Viruses Now Detected!

Are You Sick, Sick, Sick?

By Dr. Uno I. Tellem

When fall rolls around, certain maladies seem to strike many people. After many years of hard and tedious work, a cure has been found for Sweaterphobia, a highly contagious disease. It is really very easy to recognize. Some symptoms are 1. a sagging wardrobe, 2. an open-eyed stare when going by a sweater counter, 3. a lagging feeling and 4. a glare in the light bulb of your mind.

For this disease you can't take a pill. You must go down to the Junior Colony or the Campus Shop and see the Pat Boone sweaters. For girls they are of a shaggy material by "Miss Gotham" for $5.98, and for boys they are in charcolors by "McGregor" for $8.95.

On the third floor Junior Colony there is a wall full of sweaters from which to chose. Take, for instance, a Minklam sweater by "Darlene." It is a three-quarter length sleeve pulloyer with a buttoned tab down the front for only $10.98. And in the fourth floor Campus Shop there's a brand new bulkie sweater by "Catalina". It can have a collar or V-neck. It comes only in red with grey and white stripes on the lower part of the sleeve and the bottom of the sweater-$15.95.

It's All in Your Mind!

Sissy blouses are back again. They're prettier than ever. So you say you get shaky when you see all those ruffles? Tell your mother they're not hard to iron. Many are made of drip-dry material. They come in overblouse, blouson, and tuck-in styles from $4.98 to $7.98.

Bermudees are really hot-with a fever? There are at least a dozen different designs and plaids to choose from. They run only $5.98 and are really sharp.

ere Pa

Pleated skirts are in again. These are stitched down from the top and come in solid colors only. In pale blue, green, pink, and navy, they are only $8.98 and go really well with blazers-at $14.98.

Prescribed: an outfit by "Modern Jr." Is multi-pastel-striped. Bolero top buttons down back and is trimmed in fringe all the way around - $8.98. Straight skirt ($12.98) and full ($17.98) also trimmed in fringe. Cool man? Yeh, the fever's gone down!

Cold-blooded Reptilia? See how one thing can lead another. Girls have alligator bags and shoes. The guys couldn't be outdone though; they now have Alligator coats. Really "cutely" ones are in the Campus Shop. They come in irridescent steel blue, wine and brown and are only $28.95. Really sharp, guys!

Collegiate much or you say you've always idolized Robin Hood? Tyrolean hats are just the thing for you guys. You know what they are-with a feather on the side. They come in canvas or corduroy for $1.95. Wol ones will be coming in soon.

Well, kiddies, these goodies aren't "Just Make-believe" because "Once You Try Them, You'll Never Let Them Go!" There'll be no reason to "Hang Down Your Head . . ." cuz these are too sharp to pass up. ("Yes, Yea and a Yea Yes") So hop into your Rambler or Cadillac and hurry down to Brandeis!

All in favor of making a drag strip from Central to Brandeis mark here and turn into room 149. Accompanying it must be a 5000 word essay on "Why?" or "What?"

bye-bye
